Let's talk it over . . .

YOUR National Director has just returned from another Zone Meeting. This one included the Pennsylvania and New Jersey chapters and was held at Bethlehem, Pa., with the Psi Chapter acting as host. The four Pennsylvania chapters and the two New Jersey chapters were represented by at least two delegates each, and, in some instances, more. In every way the meeting was an inspiration to those present and worthwhile to the Fraternity as a whole. I have never seen a group of undergraduates take hold and really dig down into the meat of the situation as they did there. They were inspired and encouraged by the presence of Brother J. C. Olwine, President of the Chi Phi Club of New York, Brother Phillip W. Raup, Secretary of the Chi Phi Club of New York, Brother Donald Crosby, President of the Mu Chapter House Association, Brothers Walter V. Knopp and Charles L. Scharfe, Jr., of the Mu Chapter, and a large group of Psi Alumni. They really added a great deal to this meeting. The meeting was presided over by the Alpha of the Psi Chapter, Brother G. W. Wallwork, and the minutes were kept by Brother J. F. Metz, Gamma of the Chapter. The National Director takes this opportunity to thank them both for the excellent jobs they did.

While on this trip your National Director visited the Delta Chapter at Rutgers University and, as usual, came away feeling that the Chapter was in fine shape there. I was unfortunate in arriving there on a night when both Brother George R. Morrison and Brother Samuel C. Schenck were unable to be present. I missed them both very much but, all in all, the meeting at Delta was a fine meeting. The next stop was with the Rho Chapter at Easton, Pa., and, as usual, your National Director was received with much hospitality by the Rho Alumni. Brother Joe Bell and Mrs. Bell were most kind to me. The meeting at the chapter house was well attended by the Alumni and all of the undergraduates. It was a meeting to inspire any Chi Phi. I had an opportunity to meet with the officers after the meeting at the chapter house, and many worthwhile things were discussed. The night before the Zone Meeting at the Psi house in Bethlehem, I met with the undergraduate chapter and the Council Representative, Brother Jack Conneen, and the Chapter Adviser, Brother Martin S. Kleckner. The general topics of discussion that night were scholarship and alumni activity. I think the Chapter received much benefit from the meeting, and I know the National Director did. I then went to the Zeta Chapter at Lancaster, where one of the finest chapters in the Fraternity is located. Enthusiasm of members, their hard work, and their leadership are perfect. I have never seen a finer pledge class in all of my experience. Every member of the Fraternity should be proud of this Chapter. They have a goal ahead of them. They are planning to celebrate their 100th anniversary in 1954 and the Fraternity is planning to hold a Congress in the vicinity of Lancaster at that time. The Alpha Delta Chapter was also on my itinerary and, as usual, they have a fine chapter. Several of their Alumni were present at our meeting and it proved to be a most inspiring evening. All in all, you Alumni would be very proud of all of your undergraduate chapters.

Elsewhere in this issue of THE CHAKETT you will find a detailed report on the Congress which is to be held in New York on Sept. 6, 7, and 8, at the Essex House. We are particularly interested in having a large number of ex-Grand Officers present at this Congress. They are a great inspiration to the Fraternity and the Congress is being planned with this in mind.

Our Scholarship Director, Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, has been most active lately. He has edited a Scholarship Bulletin and sent it to each Chapter and to the Dean of Men and the President of each institution in which we have an undergraduate chapter. You will find that our undergraduates are more conscious of scholarship than ever before, and Chi Phi owes Dr. Hunter a great debt of gratitude.

The petition of The Chakett Club to become an active chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity is in the hands of each of the undergraduate chapters and will be voted on at the New York Congress. The Chakett Club has recently initiated six new men at the Alpha-Tau Chapter. The reports coming back from the various chapters who have already voted on The Chakett Club have been unanimously in favor of admitting them as an active chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

Elsewhere in this edition of THE CHAKETT, you will find that Brother Benham, the Grand Alpha of the Fraternity, has announced his Council for the years 1951 to 1953. You will notice that the Council remains the same with the exception of the Grand Eta, Brother Charles T. Winship having retired under orders from his physician. The Fraternity as a whole, the Council and, particularly, the National Director will miss Brother Winship. He has been one of the active leaders of this Fraternity for the last 19 years and has rendered invaluable service to your Fraternity. He will be succeeded by a past Grand Alpha of the Fraternity, Brother Hugh M. Dorsey.

RESPONSIBILITY for Chi Phi for the next biennium rests with the trusted officers whose pictures are shown on this page. Except for Brother Dorsey all men have served with Grand Alpha Benham for the past two years. Brother Dorsey replaces Charles T. Winship whom ill health prevented from accepting reappointment. Chi Phi's gratitude for long service goes to him as he leaves this Council. Hugh Dorsey needs no introduction. He has served Chi Phi long, having been Executive Secretary, Editor of CHAKETT, prior to becoming Grand Alpha. Detailed introductions of other Council members were made in April, 1949, at the time of their first appointment by Grand Alpha Benham.

A Great Chi Phi

THOMAS WHIPPLE CONNALLY

JULY 30, 1881, was a great day for the Chi Phi Fraternity and for Emory University. On that day Thomas Whipple Connally was born. The son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Connally, he was reared in Atlanta and received his early education at Hunter's School for Boys. He entered old Emory College at Oxford, Georgia, and was graduated with the Class of 1902. After his graduation from Emory College, he attended the University of Georgia Law School, receiving his LL.B. Degree in 1904. His law course was further pursued at Yale University, from which he was graduated in 1905.

Brother Connally was initiated into the Chi Phi Fraternity on September 20, 1898. He was a member of the Gamma, Eta, and Omicron Chapters. He served as Grand Zeta of the Fraternity from 1903 until 1906 and was chairman of the Zone Committee in 1922. He was president of the Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Association in 1925-1926, and he edited the year books for the Fraternity in 1904 and 1905. He was a delegate to 12 consecutive Congresses from 1900 to 1911, inclusive, and attended many others. In 1908 he was assistant editor of the Chi Phi Register, which is better known to us as the Thompson Register, and in 1915 he served in the same capacity in the production of the Stokes Register.

The Eta Trust Association, the Gamma Trust Association, and the Omega Trust Association were each founded by Brother Connally, and stand today as monuments to his business ability and his love for Chi Phi.

Brother Connally was offered any office in the Fraternity that he would accept, but he declined to accept anything except a working job such as that of the Grand Zeta.

He was a member of D.V.S. Senior Society at Emory College, the Sphinx Club at the University of Georgia, and Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity at Yale. He was made permanent president of the Class of 1902 at Emory College, and was also permanent president of the Class of 1904 at the University of Georgia.

Brother Connally was a very strong link in a chain of Chi Phis. His Chi Phi relatives include:

Gov. Joseph M. Brown '72 of the old Lambda Chapter at Oglethorpe University.

Silas Newton Connally '77 of the Gamma Chapter

Luther Zeigler Rosser, Sr., '78 of the Gamma Chapter

Elijah Alexander Brown '79 of the old Lambda Chapter at Oglethorpe University and Eta Chapter at University of Georgia.

George Marion Brown '84 of the Eta Chapter

Joseph Emerson Boston '88 of the Eta Chapter

Dan Connally Lyle '90 of the Eta Chapter

John H. Boston, Jr., '91 of the Eta Chapter

Captain Joe Brown Connally '96 of both the Gamma and Eta Chapters

Hiram Warner Martin '02 of the Gamma Chapter

Luther Zeigler Rosser '08 of the Omega, Gamma, Eta, Theta Delta, and Alpha-Mu Chapters

Joseph Emerson Brown '11 of the Eta Chapter

Charles McDonald Brown '17 of the Eta Chapter

George Marion Brown, Jr., '17 of the Omega Chapter

Elijah Alexander Brown, Jr., '19 of the Eta Chapter

William Shellman Boston '20 of the Eta Chapter

Joseph Brown McLeod '24 of the Alpha-Alpha Chapter

Marcus Johnson Brown '26 of the Omega Chapter

Joseph Emerson Boston, Jr., '26 of the Omega Chapter

William Howell Shelton '48 of the Gamma Chapter

Thomas Whipple Connally, Jr., '49 of the Omicron Chapter

No reference to Tom Connally would be adequate and complete without reference to his love for Emory University and the work that he did for that school. He was the last president of the Alumni Association of old Emory College and the third president of the Alumni Association of Emory University. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of Emory University. There recently appeared in the Emory Alumnus an article entitled, "Tom Connally's Monument," and in that article this paragraph appears: "The graduates' register was produced almost entirely through the efforts and energy of Thomas W. Connally '02, an Atlanta businessman, who all but devoted his life to the service of Emory and to his Fraternity, Chi Phi. If loyalty could be weighed, he doubtless would be found to be Emory's most loyal alumnus of all time." In another story in the same issue is this paragraph: "More than any other one person, Tom Connally was responsible for the reorganization of alumni activities on a University-wide basis. He had a genius for friendship, boundless energy, and an infectious enthusiasm that spread to all who had the good fortune to be his associates. The Emory University Alumni Association would not have been possible without the cooperation of thousands of persons, and really hard work by hundreds of alumni, but it still remains a monument to the spirit of Tom Connally."

The beautiful chapter house, built on the campus at Emory University by the Alumni and friends of the Gamma Chapter, is further evidence of the deep love and affection that Chi Phis everywhere had for Tom Connally. The house is called Tom Connally Hall. The Office of the Council of the Chi Phi Fraternity is located in the Connally Building, which is owned by Brother Connally's family and which was managed by him for many years. He was secretary and treasurer of the Connally Realty Company, which owns the building.

On April 13, 1925, Brother Connally was married to Miss Dorothy Copeland, of Auburn, N. Y. They had two lovely children—Miss Sallie Patricia Connally and Thomas Whipple Connally, Jr., now a student at Yale University and a member of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

His untimely death on December 30, 1927, was a great loss to the Chi Phi Fraternity and to all who knew him. Whenever those of us who knew Tom Connally hear his name mentioned, we feel as if we should stand with our heads uncovered.

Middle Atlantic Conference held on February 24

by John F. Metz, Gamma of Psi

THE week end of February 24 saw the Psi Chapter act as host to a conference of the Middle Atlantic Chapters. The week end got under way Friday evening. Judge L. Z. Rosser gave an interesting informal talk to our Chapter on scholarship and alumni relations. Representatives from the other Chapters began to arrive and the evening was concluded with a stag party.

The discussion period started Saturday morning with Alpha Wallwork of Psi acting as chairman. The following men were present: Zeta—Mike Christy, Alpha; Mickey Maguire, Beta; Herman Van Gelderen, Delta; Rho—Dick Wolfenden, Alpha; George McCrae, Delta; Delta—Dave Warren; Alpha Delta—Ed Carpenter, Alpha; Dick Brown, Delta; J. Kauffman, Zeta; Mu—Leigh Lydecker, Jr., Alpha; Gerrit Lydecker, Beta; Bill McAneny, Delta; Frank O'Callaghan, Zeta; Bill Talbert; Phil Bowdre, Jr.; Psi—Gealy Wallwork, Alpha; Bob Gill, Beta; Bill Epple, Delta. Senior Brothers present included the following: Judge L. Z. Rosser, National Director; Phillip W. Raup, Secretary of New York Chi Phi Club; Donald Crosby, President of Mu Alumni Association; Walter V. Knopp, Mu Alumni; Charles L. Scharfe, Mu Alumni; J. C. Olwine, Psi Alumni Association.

The first topic of discussion was scholarship. Pledge scholarship was considered of prime importance in establishing a strong foundation for future achievement. In the field of improved pledge scholarship, the system of Big Brothers was mentioned. Under this system each pledge is assigned to a brother of steady character and good fraternity spirit to guide him in his work. Also suggested was a system under which each pledge must submit, every so often, a written report from each of his professors to the Chapter. The report is to contain a statement of the man's progress and indications of possible weaknesses in his work. Judge Rosser suggested that scholarship be discussed in chapter meetings to discover possible means of improving the scholastic standing of the entire Chapter. He also suggested that the scholastic chairman remain in close contact with the university dean to discuss methods of improvement.

Campus, Public, and Alumni Relations were the next topics of discussion and many excellent ideas were brought forth. Among these were exchange dinners with other fraternities and faculty after-dinner speakers to conduct discussions on current topics of interest. Civic and charitable work were suggested to improve public relations and the closer association with parents was discussed. Letters to the parents of new pledges informing them of the ideals and goals of the Fraternity was considered an excellent idea by all present. The question of alumni relations enjoyed considerable discussion. It was agreed that a closer understanding between undergraduates and Alumni was of prime importance in establishing good relations. The prompt acknowledgment of letters from Alumni, particularly those recommending men for pledging, was considered a big step in the right direction. Such things as alumni dinners, newsletters to the Alumni, etc., were discussed as excellent indications of the chapters' interest in their Senior Brothers.

The Ritual was the next topic on the agenda. The initiation ceremony was discussed and it was agreed that initiating each new brother separately allowed the man to feel the real value of the ceremony. In the discussion of initiation, Judge Rosser made a suggestion that the pledge master continue to work with the new brothers in the instruction of The Unwritten Law. Judge Rosser answered many questions concerning The Ritual and refreshed our memory on The Fraternity Lore.

The important topic of house management was considered next. The operation of the chapter kitchen held the spotlight and plans including cooperative buying, frozen food lockers, and purchase of quantities of meat and produce were discussed. The question of delinquent bills was raised and it was agreed that it was the duty of the chapter officers to see that these were collected. Along the lines of finance, Judge Rosser suggested that the Delta make a financial report at each chapter meeting to inform the chapter of its financial condition.

The final, but one of the most important topics of discussion, was chapter operation under war mobilization. Judge Rosser emphasized the need for each chapter to pledge as many good men as possible to allow for the possible slack in enrollment under mobilization. All those present agreed that this proposal was necessary in view of the present situation.

The meeting was adjourned by Alpha Wallwork. Afterwards Judge Rosser commented on the success of the meeting. A buffet dinner was served after which all retired to the chapter recreation room for a fine party.

We, of Psi, wish to thank all the delegates for their interest and cooperation

Psi chapter house was the meeting place for the Middle Atlantic Conference in making this meeting possible. We sincerely hope that all will agree with us in claiming the meeting a success and we look forward to other meetings of this type in the future.

Guy Levy-Depas and to other members of the Chapter who have died in combat, an error was made in the names of the men so honored. Names of Willard Wroath Roberts '37 and William Hexamer Rodgers '42 should have appeared in place of William Hexamer Roberts '42.

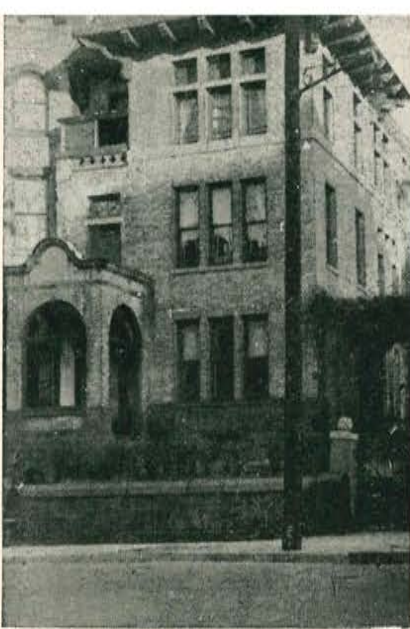

Omaha Lawyer Dies

BROTHER JOSEPH B. FRADENBURG, Alpha Theta Chi '01, passed on to his reward on June 14, 1950. He was born on Aug. 1, 1880, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1901. He was active in Tangier Temple of the Shrine in Omaha, and was respected as a capable Referee in Bankruptcy among the local profession. He was a strong booster for the Alpha Theta Chi Chapter of Chi Phi.

His wife, Ferne, also an attorney, will continue the practice of law at the same address. She has affiliated herself with the Don J. MacMurray Co. They solicit farm loans and real estate mortgages of the larger amounts. Her office is 904 City National Bank Bldg., Omaha. To her goes the sympathy of the Fraternity.

LT. COLONEL JOSEPH L. WINECOFF, Eta '35, U. S. Marine Corps, is stationed in Portland, Ore.

Mu chapter house is at 801 Hudson St., Hoboken, N. J.

Mu at Stevens is

THIS summer many of you will find yourselves journeying to the annual Chi Phi Congress in New York City. Since Mu is the Host Chapter every man here, from senior brothers to the newest pledge, wishes to extend to you the most sincere invitation to visit us at Mu. We assure you that we intend to do everything possible to make your stay in the big city a pleasant and a memorable experience. Although we are not situated in New York itself, Stevens Tech is barely a whoop and a holler away across the Hudson, as you know, in Hoboken. We'd like you to know something about Mu and Stevens of which we're rather proud. We realize that neither is particularly well known throughout the country—so here's our story.

The college, Stevens Institute of Technology, was founded in 1870 by one of New Jersey's more prominent citizens: Colonel John Stevens, inventor and "Father of American Railroads." Stevens is a small, general engineering school teaching some 900 students just now and, rumor to the contrary, does possess a campus of about 30 acres in extent on the Hudson shore line. We don't wish to seem boastful but we think our college is a tough school. (Stevens normally graduates only 58% of any Freshman Class.) Mu came into being in 1883, the second of the 10 national fraternities now at Stevens. Our chapter house was located in Hoboken proper until 1914, when our present humble structure was purchased on the fringe of the campus.

During the last war the house was virtually abandoned when the Navy took over Stevens to train Engineering officers and Mu suffered greatly from vandalism and neglect. It is only within the past two years that the house has regained a semblance of its former comfort.

With the help of our generous Alumni and many blistered Brothers, we've managed to improve the house to the extent of these repairs and improvements: a new oil furnace, a complete roofing job, new copper water system and plumbing arrangements, the construction of recreation and party rooms in our once barren basement as well as the complete refurnishment of all first floor appointments. Alumni Adviser, has done excellent service for Mu in his capacity as coordinator between Alumni and actives. This recital may not sound very impressive to many Chi Phis, but we are a bit proud of it, you see, because we did most of it with our own hands.

We would like to extend our public appreciation to the Mu Mothers' Club for all the help they have given in our campaign to improve the house. The ladies have been unstinting of time and labor in assisting us with the annual Parents-Faculty Tea, not to mention the aid, both financial and physical, they provided for our living room and library furnishings. Their advice and help is worth more to Mu than we can adequately tell.

Yet all our days haven't been devoted to maintaining a roof over our heads. We try to carry on the activities that make a chapter successful and of value to its members and their college. During this past school year, our activities are perhaps typical of this attempt. Last December, the Chi Phi Club of New York had a dinner and Mu was well represented with its delegation of Alumni and undergraduates. We represented 25% of the attendance at that fine affair.

Mu has managed to retire the Activities Trophy of the Stevens IFC by capturing it each year since its founding three years ago. This Trophy is awarded on the basis of percentage participation by a fraternity chapter in the college-recognized sports, publications, honor societies, and clubs. It is true that with a class week of 32 hours per student, we find it a little difficult to strike a balance between curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Most of us seem to have a touch of the wanderlust or perhaps it's just the prospect of being tied down in the Armed Forces; in any event, we've recently been traveling. During Christmas vacation Gerrit Lydecker drove Brothers McAneny, Sernatinger, and Talbert down to visit Frank O'Callaghan in Louisville, Ky. The men returned with such glowing tales of good times to be had that the O'Callaghans are preparing for a mass migration of Chi Phis, come summer. The rest of the boys were not to be shaded, so 15 of us went to Miami for nine days between terms. We had intended to take our time and visit some of the Southern Chapters on the way back, but we enjoyed the beaches to such an extent that we stayed in Miami until the last minute and raced back for the first classes of the spring term. However, we did meet Jerry Simmons, President of the Chi Phi Club of Miami, through an alumnus of Mu, Jean Buhler. The Chi Phi Club is thinking of starting a chapter at Miami University, which to our way of thinking is a fine idea and we wish to advise the Miamians of all our support in this project.

On Feb. 27 all the officers with the exception of the Gamma and Epsilon attended a Zone Meeting at Psi. Although invited for the whole week end, we unfortunately could make it only for Saturday afternoon. It was our first experience at a Zone Meeting and we never realized how many helpful ideas could be picked up. Psi certainly did itself proud with the buffet dinner and party and we'd like to thank the Chapter for its hospitality. While we're still on the subject, Mu has volunteered to be the host for the party and outing with Psi, Delta, Rho, Zeta, and Alpha Delta, this year. It will be about the middle of April and, although Hoboken is no bargain anytime of the year, it's at its best in the spring. We hope to have a big turnout.

Despite many adverse conditions we did well during rushing this term. First of all the Freshman Class was but half its normal size and only 40% of the men joined fraternities. Thanks to Judge Rosser we had an idea that rushing would be every man for himself, so to speak, and fortunately we pledged 10 men during closed rushing and expect to pledge about five more men before June. To Roonie Smith, Bill Talbert, and Phil Bowdre, our rushing committee, goes a big bouquet for all their able work.

See you all at the Congress!

Congress Plans

REGISTRATION for the 1951 Chi Phi Congress at the Essex House, New York City, will begin on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 5, at 3:30. You will find the registration booth conveniently located in the hotel. That night there will be a stag smoker for all delegates and Alumni so that they will have ample opportunity to get acquainted before business sessions start the following morning.

Thursday morning, Sept. 6, the first meeting will be called to order at 10:00 o'clock. There will be a second meeting during the afternoon. Thursday night there will be a combination dinner and dance. There will be no formal banquet this year, leaving time open for delegates and visitors to sightsee in New York. The Thursday night festivities will take place at Essex House.

Friday morning, Sept. 7, the third business session will take place, with round-table discussions filling the afternoon. You may plan your own entertainment for Friday night. The Mu Chapter at Stevens which is host to the New York Congress, will probably help you with Friday night plans, if you need it. Saturday morning, Sept. 8, the final business meeting will be held and Congress will adjourn about 12:00 noon.

The Mu Chapter will present the Candlelight Ceremony. New York Alumni are particularly urged to attend the evening affairs and the Candlelight Ceremony. The Congress program is being planned with past Grand Officers as well as present ones in mind. The past Officers who have attended other Congresses have been a great inspiration and they are urged to make plans to attend this important event.

Delegates and visitors should bear in mind that all reservations must be made through the Reservations Clerk at the Essex House. Only the hotel can give you room data and assignments. Do not write to anyone else concerning reservations.

Sympathy

THE sympathy of the Council and of Chi Phi Fraternity is extended to John Oliver, Grand Delta, whose wife died on Feb. 17.

Atlantans will remember Mrs. Oliver for her love of flowers and her skill as a daffodil grower. Her contemporaries in the world of horticulture and her friends contributed toward a new sweepstake trophy awarded for the first time during the annual narcissus show in Atlanta on Mar. 21-22. The perpetual trophy is known as the Georgia Briggs Oliver memorial. Mrs. Oliver had brought many blossoms to shows and had been a sweepstake winner in the past.

DEAR BROTHER BENHAM:

Just a week or so ago it was our pleasure to have Judge Rosser make his annual visit to the Chapter at Lafayette College.

For too long a time we have just let these visits slide by without any acknowledgment to the Fraternity. We want you to know that the Lafayette undergraduates and alumni officers are very appreciative of the fine work and counsel that come to us through Judge Rosser. His own background, personal integrity, and wide experience are combined with a very human approach to the problems of our Fraternity.

Please make arrangements to have him live to be a hundred . . . with a visit to Rho every year.

Fraternally yours,
JOSEPH E. BELL

DEAR BROTHER BELL:

Your letter to me telling me of your approval of the work which Judge Rosser is doing for the Chi Phi Fraternity is a very fine tribute to him, and to our Fraternity.

It is the sort of sentiment which many of us feel is richly earned, but do not take the time to set on paper ourselves. We have been very fortunate to enlist the energies and talents of Judge Rosser and believe that he has done a very outstanding job for our Fraternity.

I am planning to have your letter published in THE CHI PHI CHAKETT and wish to assure you again that we appreciate the sentiments expressed in your most kind letter.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
EUGENE T. BENHAM

Editor's Note: In submitting copies of this correspondence to the Editor, Grand Alpha Benham wrote: It is my thought that this letter should be published in THE CHI PHI CHAKETT. I feel that all members of the Fraternity will be pleased to know the esteem in which you are held by the agencies with which you are closely associated, both in the college administrations and in the interfraternity contacts. It is, therefore, my desire that this be used as soon as possible.

Grand Alpha Invades New York

by G. H. Fischer, General Chairman

WITHOUT fear or trepidation our "Thirsty" Benham came—saw—and conquered, the Chi Phi Club of New York on January 15.

Being of quiet mien, he infiltrated the portals of Squadron A Armory under the very eye of Brother (Lt. Col.) "Monty" Robbins, the Executive Officer, thence to the spacious dining hall, and "dug in" at a table that appeared to his trained eye to be the one most likely to be served first!

You folks in Atlanta may call our Grand Alpha "Thirsty," but a first hand eye witness reports him to have an exceptionally lusty appetite for onion soup, rare roast beef, apple pie with cheese, and coffee. What could be the cause? A long trip? The New York City air? No, we think it was a reflection of the good cheer and friendly spirit pervading the Annual Meeting and Dinner of the Chi Phi Club of New York. We were all most happy to meet and welcome him personally.

Over one hundred members from coast to coast chapters attended the Dinner. "Marty" Scott, Omicron '25, was chairman of the Entertainment Committee. He and Colonel Robbins, Omicron '31, cooked up a good deal for the Club. The melodious strains of an accordion pervaded the hall, smoke and pentup "hot air" notwithstanding. Brother Kelvin Keech, Zeta '13, of radio and T-V renown, was a grand hit in his capacity of MC—never a dull moment, never ruffled, happy and right at home. Brother Bill Pfeiffer, Eta Delta '19, exhorted the Brothers to promote, by everyday action and cooperation, a better America to combat insidious communism. From there on it was also a real privilege to hear the words of wisdom and experience coming from Brother Stanwood Menkin, Xi '90, and Brother C. B. Hill, Omicron '93.

No end of credit can be given to Brother Walter Sorg for his tireless efforts which brought so many of us together. Special commendation is due Brother "Don" Crosby, Mu '29, whose efforts nearly turned the dinner into a "Stevens Tech" reunion. Attendance Committee members, too many to list here, did a splendid job. For every occasion that requires work, there are always unsung heroes. Getting the "gang" out is no small effort.

The Committee for Nominations presented a slate of officers for the year 1951 and members of the Board of Governors for the term 1951-1954. Officers unanimously elected were: President, John C. Olwine, Psi '25; 1st Vice President, Omar Elder, Gamma '40; 2nd Vice President, Martin L. Scott, Omicron '25; Treasurer, Walter Sorg, Theta '45; Secretary, P. W. Raup, Sigma '20; Board of Governors for the Class of '54: Tallman Ladd, Xi '20; William T. Pfeiffer, Eta Delta '19; Harold W. Ray, Delta '23; Oswald M. Campbell, Rho '41. The Nominating Committee consisted of: Gunther H. Fischer, Omicron '27, Chairman; Donald Crosby, Mu '29; George Deisher, Zeta '28; William C. Bullock, Omicron '26.

Another Chi Phi get-together is scheduled for early this spring. Let's all get on the bandwagon and make it bigger and better than ever. Chi Phi friendships must not stop at graduation; they should be augmented in after years with the full-hearted cooperation of you—and you—and especially YOU.

LAMBDA

Raymond R. Hails, Jr. '46 is now stationed at MacDill Field in Florida. He spent the last two years at Ladd Field in Fairbanks, Alaska.

THERE is a date which always stands out in my memory. It is September 18, 1893, the day I became a Chi Phi. It was at night, however, as I have good cause to remember. I went over to Athens, Ga., with the pin of another fraternity in my pocket. One of the most persuasive talkers of my acquaintance had convinced me that I should join his Greekletter outfit, despite the fact that most of my friends were Chi Phis, or were pledged to Chi Phi, and Chi Phi was then, as always, particularly strong in my home town of Atlanta.

But I was saved by one of the best Chi Phis who ever lived, Judge W. H. (Billy) Pope, Eta '89, a distinguished jurist, and a friend of long standing. After his impressive summing up of the case, although it was late at night, I awoke my friend of the other crowd, who promptly, and most gentlemanly, released me from my pledge. I don't know what would have happened if he had refused to do so. It was a memorable date for me, that September 18, and I have never ceased to be thankful that it culminated as it did.

My four years as an active member of the Eta Chapter formed one of the happiest periods of my life. With an enrollment at the University of Georgia of less than three hundred students, there were eight fraternities, and small chapters prevailed. We usually numbered 18 or 20, but once when we reached 28 members, it was thought that we had grown too big, and should reduce. Our Brothers were among the most prominent and popular men in college, and congeniality in the Chapter reigned supreme. There was no chapter house until the year after I graduated. We met in rooms over a store on Clayton Street.

I worked hard in the Chapter, as Delta, and in other capacities, but never was a success as a "rusher." One summer I advanced so far as to take a 20-mile trip out of town to visit a boy who was considered good material for Chi Phi. After succeeding in pledging him, when he came to Athens, the older men of the Chapter turned him down because they did not like the kind of socks he wore. What would they do today? This fellow joined another fraternity and turned out to be one of the most important men in college, and later became a leading lawyer and judge of the State. I guess this is an old story.

Chi Phi has always meant a great deal to me, and I have tried to serve it as I could. The very words "Chi Phi" give a thrill matched by few other words. Several brothers inaugurated me into active work for the Fraternity. Among these were Wyndham Stokes, Psi '88; Ivy L. Lee, Gamma '97; and Tom Connally, Gamma '02. Another Chi Phi who inspired me and taught me the early history of the Order was Charles F. Rice, Eta '87. I never knew any member who loved Chi Phi as he did. I believe he would have almost died for it. It was his only interest in life, outside of his family and his business.

Too much cannot be said about the loyal devotion and efficient activities of Brother Tom Connally, who was initiated by the Gamma Chapter and later became affiliated with Eta and Omicron. From Yale he brought the idea of the Alumni Trust Association, and established such valuable organizations at Eta, Gamma, and Omega. No Chi Phi in the State of Georgia ever gave more of his time, thought, and energy to the Fraternity than this beloved and lamented Brother.

The unselfish services rendered by many other Brothers of my day should be mentioned in this connection, but one stands out conspicuously—Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, well known to his intimates as "Stogie" and "Zeke." No member has meant more to the Fraternity than he. His generosity and wise counsels mark him as one of our immortals.

The present Atlanta Alumni Association was founded in 1902 and has been a going concern ever since. One Chi Phi Register mentions an alumni society in Atlanta in 1882, but its record is lost. The programs of the annual meetings of the present Association differ very much today from those 45 years ago. Then the idea was a "banquet," with eloquent orators taking part, of which there were very many. They would toast the Past, the Present, and the Future, and above all the ladies. Now the members of the fair sex are with us. There are no speeches nor reports; the evening is turned over to a dinner dance. At all events the prime objects are accomplished, in renewing our pledge to Chi Phi, and in having the members of different Chapters learn to know one another better.

I was a member of the Committee on the Register for the years 1900, 1908, and 1915, and Grand Zeta from 1907 to 1910. Winship Nunnally, Frank R. Mitchell, Calhoun, and Connally also served as Grand Zeta during this period. The most extensive work done was in writing the "History of Eta of Chi Phi for Its First Fifty Years," published in 1917. The numerous photographs are especially interesting and valuable. In 1967 Eta can celebrate its one hundredth anniversary when a second volume should WINTER quarter at the University of North Carolina was marked by one of the most spectacular and highly successful week ends ever experienced by Alpha-Alpha Chapter. The Chapter's annual "Pledge Week End" was held at the house from Friday, Feb. 23, through Sunday, Feb. 25, and the spirit and participation were phenomenal.

Alpha-Alpha

A formal banquet at 7:00 o'clock Friday evening opened the festivities. Guest speaker of the evening was Brother Roy Armstrong, Chapter Adviser and Dean of Admissions at the University. Also present as welcome guests were the following Brothers: J. Maryon Saunders, Council Representative and University Alumni Secretary, and Mrs. Saunders; Henry P. Brandis, Dean of the University Law School, and Mrs. Brandis; Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Jonas; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Foushee; Capt. and Mrs. George C. Westervelt; and Dr. J. M. Steadman. Mrs. Armstrong came with Brother Armstrong, and we had as an honored visitor, Mrs. Stewart Bird of Atlanta, who is married to a Chi Phi and has two sons who are Chi Phis. Her husband's father was also a Chi Phi.

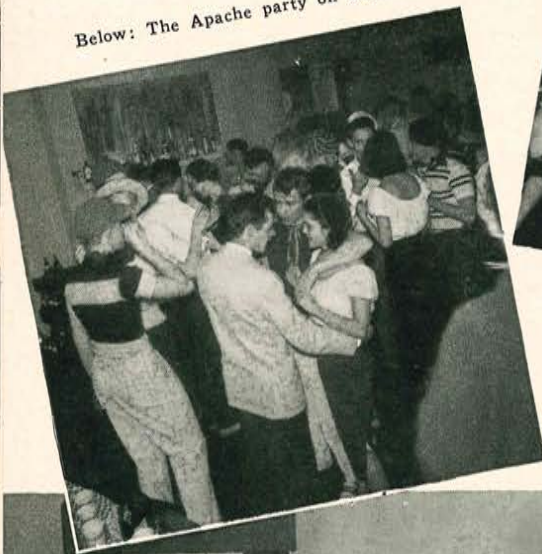

A formal house dance was held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. At intermission, as is the annual custom, pledges were formally introduced to weekend guests. As his name was announced, each pledge entered with his date and took his position. The completion of introductions resulted in the formation of a large, animate outline of our pin.

Amid this impressive gathering, the "Chi Phi Girl" was crowned with a garland of roses, and her court recognized. Alpha-Alpha's "Chi Phi Girl of 1951" is Anne Lewis of Myrtle Beach, S. C. And just as radiant as the Queen was her court—Anita Petersen of Charlotte, Jean Harris of Durham, Mary Black of Southern Pines, and Ruth Kiser of Spencer.

Celebrates Pledge Week End

by Jesse L. Poindexter, Zeta

At 11 a.m., Saturday, "brunch" was served and the celebration went its merry way. Representatives from every fraternity on campus dropped by from 3 to 6 to toast the occasion. The supply being ample they stayed for buffet supper. A combo sparked the gaiety of the afternoon assembly, and jam sessions sprang up in both living rooms, the card room, and on the porch.

An "Apache" party was held at the house on Saturday night. The main living room was decorated to resemble a French cellar cafe, and brothers, pledges and their dates came dressed in appropriate costume. At intermission the pledges gave a skit entitled, "A Tender Interlude," or "The Odds Go Down."

Late Sunday afternoon the house gradually began to empty, as cars left for Woman's College, Queens, Salem, Meredith, Duke, St. Mary's, Hollins, and other schools. We looked with misgivings upon their departure, but consoled ourselves with the knowledge that they would return again soon.

Attention Alumni

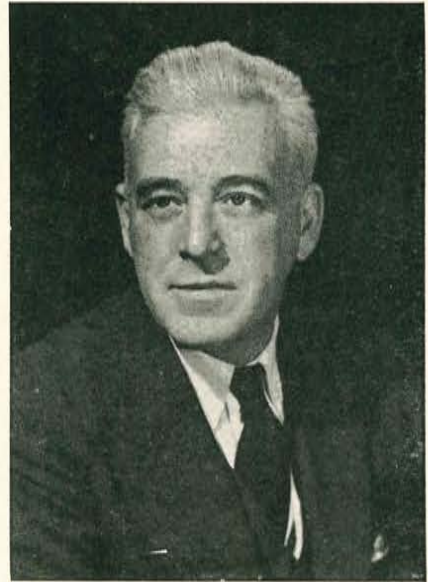

How must the Chi Phi Fraternity plan to adjust its operations to the uncertain days ahead?

This is a question, we are certain, that is uppermost in your mind in these troubled days. The thinking of the Council may be of interest to you. It is admittedly slanted to our particular situation and a product of our experience with the mobilization of human resources in World War II. We sincerely trust that our thoughts herein outlined are proven unrealistic, unwarranted, and unjustified by the course of subsequent events. We feel, however, that all of us would be remiss in our duties should we fail to provide in our planning for certain contingencies—possible in the present situation.

All Chapters must be prepared to face the eventuality of a greatly reduced enrollment in colleges and universities. This is already manifest in the inroads on student populations by the recall to duty of reservists and the growing numbers of students who are enlisting prior to a call from selective service. Some of our Chapters are even now viewing untenanted space in their houses with considerable misgivings. A study of the various proposals for national legislation contemplating, as some do, the induction of all men aged 18 for some form of national service, military or non-military, further points up the seriousness of what we may be called upon to face.

We have urged, and are still urging, an immediate and all-out effort to increase the number of pledges. The Chapter should, by weight of numbers alone, be assured of a nucleus of returning members for the fall of 1951. Some colleges and universities are working out plans for securing non-member tenants for houses with existing vacancies, when pledging efforts will not suffice.

In terms of a worsening situation and for the longer pull, Active Chapters and Alumni Groups should be alert to the possibility for conversion of the chapter premises to other use. First, if the schools again house Army training units (about which we can only guess), every effort should be made to maintain the chapter premises at a high level of desirability. Selection for such use and the rental figure paid were both largely conditioned by this factor in our last experience. Secondly, there is the possibility that the chapters might consider the housing of women students. Here again the physical condition of the premises is important, and thought should be given to the necessity for supervision

Kennedy Memorialized

JEROME B. KENNEDY, Rho '22, New York City lawyer, died on Oct. 19 in St. Joseph's Hospital at Paterson, N. J. He lived at 290 Prospect St., Ridgewood, N. J.

Brother Kennedy was born in Hudson County, was graduated from Lafayette College, and obtained his law degree from Fordham University. He formerly was president of the Ridgewood Democratic Club and of the Northwest Bergen Democratic Organization. He was the party's candidate for state assemblyman in 1928.

Surviving are a brother, Thomas C. Kennedy, and six sisters, Mrs. Theodosia Williams, Mrs. Lucille Gage, Mrs. Margaret Goettling and the Misses Kathryn, Florence and Ethel Kennedy.

In recognition of Brother Kennedy's work in the original New York Chi Phi Club, the reorganized group, and in Chi Phi Fraternity, nationally, the Board of Governors of the New York Chi Phi Club has authorized the contribution of $50.00 to the Chi Phi Educational Trust Fund to be known as the Jerome B. Kennedy Memorial Fund.

which will satisfy the universities' more exacting requirements for the housing of women students.

Above all, each Chapter is being urged to give its best thought to future planning. The responsibility for implementing this planning should be clearly centered on those individuals or groups of individuals who will be ready and empowered to act, if need arises. It seems inescapable that the Alumni Group must participate in these deliberations and this responsibility. Rest assured that the National Office is eager to be of whatever assistance we can possibly give.

Heads Southern California Club

THE new president of the Chi Phi Club of Southern California is one of those busy men who can find time to widen his interests and who chooses to use his time for the benefit of the Fraternity. Harold Wertz Underhill, Sigma '13, was a charter member of his Chapter at the University of Illinois, being initiated on May 17, 1912. He served as Zeta during his Senior year.

Graduating in architecture from the Engineering College, Brother Underhill had served his apprenticeship with medium class architects' firms in Sioux City, Iowa (he was born in Onawa, Iowa, a small town near Sioux City where he graduated from grade and high schools), in Urbana and Champaign, Ill., and in Kansas City, Mo. He was chief draftsman for E. S. Hall, Architect, and S. N. Crowen, Architect, in Chicago, doing work on metropolitan buildings, organizing forces, and being responsible for the work. From work with Crowen, he went to Kansas City in September, 1914, and headed Underhill and Dean, Architects and Engineers. The business which covered the building of schools, a power house, a library, industrial buildings, and residences came to an end with the outbreak of war in 1917.

Through the spring of 1919 during the war years Brother Underhill worked on Signal Corps construction at Langley Field, for the Merchant Shipbuilding Co. in Springfield, Mass., for the Virginia Shipbuilding Co. in Alexandria, Va., and for the Shipping Board in Mobile, Ala.

War over, he became a construction executive with the Sinclair Refining Co. in Chicago and for J. L. Kesner as general superintendent of buildings and employes. In October, 1921, he returned to Kansas City as president of the H. W. Underhill Construction Co. Between Oct. 1, 1921, and June 1, 1936, when he resigned and sold his stock in the company, 236 contracts aggregating $11,740,000 were completed for high schools, factories, hotels, state buildings, federal post offices, in Missouri, Oklahoma, Iowa, Texas, Kansas, Colorado, Louisiana, New York City.

After heading the Terminix Co. of Southern California from 1936-1943, serving as assistant project manager for the Contractors Pacific Naval Air Bases at Port Hueneme, and being president of the Commercial Chemical Co. of Los Angeles from September, 1943, to November, 1945, Brother Underhill returned to the independent practice of architecture in Los Angeles. His work covers a general practice of industrial, commercial, and residential architecture.

Brother Underhill's address is 4958 Valleyridge Ave., Los Angeles 43. His wife is the former Lorraine Warren of St. Louis.

be forthcoming telling of the second fifty years.

One of the outstanding events in fraternity life with which I happened to be connected was the founding of the Omega Chapter of Chi Phi at the Georgia Institute of Technology. The matter of representation at this important institution had been discussed for several years. Success finally was accomplished in 1904 with the appointment of a committee consisting of "Major" Mitchell, Eta '98, Chairman; Frank K. Boland, Eta '97; and Phinzy Calhoun, Eta '00, representing the Alumni; and Thomas W. Connally, Gamma '02; Winship Nunnally, Gamma '04; and Robert S. Parker, Gamma '05, representing the active membership of Eta and Gamma Chapters. Connally and Nunnally had also affiliated with the Eta Chapter. The charter members of Omega were Lucius G. Baird '05, Jesse H. Draper '07, Howard E. Parker '07, Lindsley D. Beach '08, William G. Dessau '08, Luther Z. Rosser, Jr., '08, and Meldrim Thomson '08. All were initiated by Eta except Baird, who joined the Fraternity at Gamma. The story of the beginning of the Omega Chapter is told in an article by Major Mitchell in the Year Book for 1904.

At the Congress of the Fraternity in Philadelphia in 1917, during World War I, I was deprived of a distinction ever to be regretted. It was to be the presiding Alpha. The Commanding Officer of the school at the University of Pennsylvania which I was attending in the medical service refused to allow me to accept the coveted position. I was permitted to attend the annual banquet, and recall that no alcoholic drinks could be served to men in uniform.

"Bound by Ties of Love"

by The Rev. George D. Clark, Grand Beta

IT was almost 25 years ago that I left my last fraternity meeting as a Senior in college, with the Brothers of the Chapter singing the grand old songs: "Gather Brothers of Chi Phi" and "Farewell, Farewell, dearest Brother." There were tears in the eyes of the Seniors that night. The scene was not unique. It would be repeated about the same time in probably every active Chapter. It had been an annual event at Phi Chapter for years. But, it was a unique experience for each one of the Seniors—it happens only once in the life of a Chi Phi, this parting in "such sweet sorrow." I still remember the scene—the black gowns, the light from the candles and the tapers, the shadows on the walls, the atmosphere of reverent fellowship, the measured steps of marching men, the handclasps of farewell, the new officers and remaining Chapter members standing in solemn dignity, the ebony altar with its insignia of furnishings, and the final extinguishing of the individual tapers as each departed for the last time. But most of all, I remember the personal reaction to the occasion: the tears, the lump in the throat, and the shaking legs and wet hands, outer signs of inner emotion.

Sentimentalism? Perhaps, but that is usually short-lived. Youthful emotionalism? Perhaps, but the youth has now reached middle age and the emotion still persists. No, it is more than sentiment and emotion. These will not fulfill the meaning of "fraternally, eternally." Something much deeper is required; something that can bind men together in lasting fellowship. Love? Yes, if the word is rightly understood. Let us examine the past in order to better understand the present.

Our Candle Ceremony gives us a brief account of the history of student fraternities and the founding of Chi Phi. Here, we learn that student fraternities were in existence in Europe in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, having been formed primarily as student fellowships, upholding the freedom necessary in the search for true knowledge. There must have been clashes with both the state and the Church, for history discloses that both state and Church established controls in the field of study during periods when each was sufficiently powerful to exert these controls. These student fraternities undoubtedly planted and nurtured the seed of Freedom in the pursuit of knowledge—freedom from controls by either State or Church. But this very concept of Freedom must have come from the Church, for the idea of Freedom, and the dignity and worth of the individual, came from the Gospel of Jesus Christ and has been realistically defended only where His Gospel is freely preached and loyally followed. Modern history now discloses that college fraternities can exist only where the Church is free and strong. The name Chi Phi, then, has great significance—the initials X and Φ traditionally signifying the Greek words Christou Philoi or Friends of Christ. Without Him and without His Church (His Friends), there would have been no fraternities, nor would there be any in existence today. Hitler Germany proved this; so does Soviet Russia.

The Candle Ceremony also reminds us how much our own Fraternity depends upon the Christian Gospel for its existence and continuing growth. The members are exhorted to search for Truth, Honesty, and Personal Purity. The following quotations from the New Testament are used to support the exhortations: "And ye shall know the Truth; and the Truth shall make you free"; "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God"; "Let us walk honestly as in the day"; and "Recompense no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men."

As is usually the case in the use of quotations to prove particular points of view the original setting and full context of the quotation is lost. For instance, the Gospel of St. John reads: "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on Him, if ye continue in My word, then are ye My disciples indeed; and then ye shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free." The Truth is promised only to those who believe on Him, continue in His word (follow His teachings), and become His disciples (learn from Him). The sermon on the Mount (containing the Beatitudes) ends with this observation: ". . . when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine: For He taught them as one having authority." He is the authority for all Truth and Purity. The last of the quotations (concerning honesty and evil) are from St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans (Chapters 12 and 13) and his exhortation is climaxed with the statement: "But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lust thereof." It was St. Paul's conviction, from the experience of his life, that he could not live in accordance with the high ideals of Jesus, such as walking honestly and refraining from doing evil to them that did evil to him, without a real devotion to the Master. Whenever he was successful in his task, he would exclaim: "It is not I, but Christ who dwelleth in me." And this has been the experience of Christians throughout the centuries.

Jesus of Nazareth, whom most Christians worship as Lord and Saviour, is not only the source of Freedom, but also the source of the power and inspiration necessary to maintain it. Both come from fellowship with Him through His Church. The words, Christou Philoi, imply this fellowship. It would seem most fitting, then, for every member of the Chi Phi Fraternity to recognize this responsibility.

Love? What is it? Why sing: "We are bound by ties of love"? Well, it sounds good; it makes us feel good; but more important, it brings out an inner response from the depths of the heart, which seems rather natural and familiar to most of us. And so it should be. For we are all products of the Christian tradition. We were born within an atmosphere of Christian Love. It is a part of us and we are part of it, and we respond to its presence, even in the words of a song. Those who preceded us, and the majority of those now living, are inculcated with the Master's two great commandments: "Thou shalt love thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, on these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets." Because so many people have sought to follow these commandments for so many years, Christian Love remains the basis for the Brotherhood within fraternities. Unfortunately, the Christian Love which propels fraternities, impels too few of the members. This is a real challenge and responsibility to members of Chi Phi, because it was founded by Christians and its traditions are Christian.

Now that the value and worth of college fraternities is being questioned, it is most important for fraternity men, and especially undergraduates, to re-examine the extent of their loyalty and devotion to the one they call Lord and Master. If He is the Source of Brotherhood, and He is, then He can surely provide the ways and means for its continuation and expansion. And He does, but it requires a little more devotion and loyalty. For instance, does your Chapter repeat the prescribed prayers in an attitude of worship? Do you use the Candle Ceremony often? Is your Beta elected because he can throw a forward pass or pitch a good curve, or because he is a good Christian? If you eat in the house, do you say "Grace" before meals? What are you as a group, and as individuals, doing about the Church? Are you attending at all? That is the one place you can learn about Christian Love and the Christian way of life (and irrespective of whether you happen to like the minister or not). It is time to build up more spiritual capital. You will find it in the Church.

This is being written when the Korean situation looks pretty dark (January) and when young men of college age are being drafted into the army to fight under the banner of Freedom. Nations, including our own, have yet to learn that Freedom is won primarily on the battle ground of ideas rather than through the forces of armed might. Unfortunately, however, armed conflict is sometimes necessary in order to insure a fair battle of ideas. But the final victory of Freedom is won in the hearts and minds of men. Here again, college fraternities are capable of making a unique contribution. Fraternity men who have been nurtured in a Brotherhood of mutual love and respect in the Christian tradition have the potential capacity of leadership in a free Brotherhood of Nations. It is a shame that fraternity leaders have failed to stress the importance of their inheritance and the ultimate value of their system in shaping the future destiny of human Freedom. The ritual of the Princeton Order of Chi Phi "embodied the age-old search for civil and religious truth and freedom, and was a protest against the tyranny of Church and State." The Candle Ceremony which calls this to our attention, quotes from the Master's Sermon on the Mount: "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, . . ." The sentence as recorded in St. Matthew (Chapter 5, Verse 16) actually continues with the phrase "and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

It is all rather simple: the light of the Brotherhood of Chi Phi, through the greater loyalty and devotion of its members, could light the way of all men to Freedom and Peace, and glorify the Father whose Son taught us the true way. We have a glorious heritage, but also a golden opportunity. There is much to remember and much to think about, when we sing: "We are bound by ties of love, eternally, fraternally."

U T Chapter?

DEAR JUDGE ROSSER:

The September, 1950, CHAKETT reached me here at the University of Tennessee about a month ago and I want you and the other Grand Officers to know that I thoroughly enjoyed it. As we all know, it is the material link that holds many of us together. My hat goes off again to those that make the CHI PHI CHAKETT possible.

At the present time I am doing graduate work in economics at the University of Tennessee. I am wondering if we have any good Brothers here in school or Brothers who live in or about Knoxville? If we do, I would like to have a list of their names as I want to look them up.

Of course, the number of chapters the Chi Phi Fraternity has has been held down for several reasons. Finances represent one of those reasons. At the University here, the fraternities are scattered all over the school district. There is no fraternity area as at the University of Alabama. I would like to see Chi Phi on the campus here. We did have a chapter at Vanderbilt, but it went inactive many years ago. I don't know if any talk or thought has been given to the establishment of a chapter here, but I would like to see one on the campus. We owe it to the fellows to offer them a chance to become affiliated with the best fraternity there is . . . Chi Phi.

I had the pleasure of returning to the Univ. of Ala. for their Homecoming a couple of weeks ago and, as a result I got to spend some time at the Chi Phi Fraternity. As would be expected, the Brothers were wonderful. Their spirit high. I had the pleasure of meeting some of the Brothers who had graduated when I did and seeing them, along with the Brothers now holding the name Chi Phi high, made me realize more than ever that a good Fraternity like Chi Phi has something very definite to offer. It is a friendship or tie that only Chi Phi Brothers can understand. As I told the Brothers at Tau in a "thank you" letter, men going through 'Bama don't know what they have missed unless they have had a chance to belong to Chi Phi.

Fraternally,

Edits Book

JOHN S. BECK, Mu '16, is one of the editors of the book entitled, Creating Christian Cells, published by The Evangel. Chad Walsh in his book review for Presbyterian Life has this to say: "Creating Christian Cells is a set of case studies of what is becoming one of the most hopeful Christian movements. Everywhere I go I hear of Christian 'cells' springing up. They seem to arise when three or four people, often of different churches, decide to meet regularly for meditation, prayer, and discussion of personal and social problems. When the membership gets beyond ten or twelve the cell usually splits in two, like a biological cell, and thus the movement spreads.

"The cell is the missing link between Sunday church services, which of necessity are general in nature, and the private religious life of the individual. Such groups are coming into being in the most unlikely places, and generating new religious vitality . . ."—Stevens Indicator.

Transit Chairman

JACKSON P. DICK, Eta '08, vice president and Atlanta division manager of the Georgia Power Co., was recently elected chairman of the board of the Atlanta Transit Co. He has been connected with the Georgia Power Co. since 1919, when he joined the power company as purchasing agent. He has been manager of the Atlanta division since 1931 and has been vice president since 1940.

A former state commander of the American Legion and state chairman of

Look-alikes are Rep. Hoke Smith, Eta '41, left, of Fulton County, Ga., and Atlanta attorney, C. Baxter Jones, Jr., Gamma '40. The two were in the Georgia House of Representatives on business when the picture was taken. Brother Jones is Atlanta's "Young Man of the Year," chosen by the Junior Jaycees. His record showed him to be a young people's teacher in the First Presbyterian Church, a graduate law teacher at Atlanta University, chairman of the commission against the county unit amendment, and a worker in behalf of the juvenile court bill the March of Dimes committee, Mr. Dick is recognized as one of Georgia's civic leaders.—Georgia Alumni Record.

GA. TECH ALUMNUS
Robert Donald Harvey, Omega '20, is general manager of the Lindale Division, Pepperell Manufacturing Co., Lindale, Ga.

Board Member

Two of Georgia's outstanding industrialists, Harlee Branch, Jr., and Robert Donald Harvey, Omega '20, have been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Georgia Tech Research Institute, as announced by William E. Mitchell, board chairman.

Mr. Harvey, general manager of the Lindale Division of Pepperell Manufacturing Co., is a native of Rome, Ga. He was graduated from the Georgia Institute of Technology in 1920 with a degree in Textile engineering. He joined the Massachusetts Cotton Mills (now the Pepperell Manufacturing Company) in Lindale, Ga. In 1926, he became assistant superintendent, in 1930 superintendent, in 1934 assistant general manager, and in 1937 general manager.

He is a director of the Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association, chairman of the Lindale Board of Education, trustee of Darlington School, former member of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, member of the Regional Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts of America, past chairman of the Textile Operating Executives of Georgia, and past president of the Cotton Manufacturers Association of Georgia.

The Georgia Tech Research Institute, a non-profit corporation, is one of the largest research organizations in the South. It serves to implement the utilization of Georgia Tech research facilities by those industries, associations, government agencies, individuals or others who may require them in the search for new or better products, the development of technical processes, or the prosecution of fundamental research.—Georgia Tech Alumnus.

Best Scholars

DOES fraternity membership interfere with scholarship? Emory Greekletter men by their deeds returned their customary thunderous "No!" to this perennial question during the 1949-50 academic year.

Figures released last Fall show that 15 out of 16 campus fraternities topped the all-school average for the year, as did the two independent campus organizations, the Campus Club and the Emory Independent Students' Association.

The all-fraternity average for the school year was 8.891 as against the all-school mark of 8.567.

Leading the pack, with a 9.209 score, was Alpha Epsilon Pi. Other organizations bettering both all-school and all-fraternity averages were, in this order: Sigma Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Campus Club, and Chi Phi.

Falling between the all-fraternity and all-school scores, in this order, were: Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, EISA, Sigma Nu, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Pi, Epsilon Delta, Beta Theta Pi, and Star and Crescent. The only chapter to drop below the all-school mark was Delta Tau Delta.—Emory Alumnus.

Easier Schedule

IN the Engineering College, Prof. C. E. Rowe, Nu '00, who has passed his 70th birthday, has been placed on modified service. Professor Rowe has been relieved of his duties as Assistant Dean of the College of Engineering, and he now has half-time duties in the Drawing Department.

Professor Rowe attended the University of Texas in 1898 and received his B.S. in Civil Engineering in 1900 from the University of Colorado. In 1902, he was awarded his master's degree in engineering from the Colorado School of Mines. Rowe is a former native of Round Rock, and has been on the faculty of the College of Engineering since 1905.

He became the Assistant Dean of the College of Engineering in 1944. He holds memberships in the American Society for Engineering Education, TBII, and is listed in Who's Who in Engineering.

Professor Rowe has taught at the University of Colorado, the School of Military Aeronautics in Austin, and the School for Radio Mechanics, also in Austin. He has had professional business experience as a draftsman and designer for several large American industrial companies.

Rowe has written textbooks on drawing and geometry, articles for professional journals, and delivered lectures and papers to learned societies.

Much of the equipment used by the University of Texas' Department of Drawing was designed by Professor Rowe. He redrew the University Seal as it is used today; and he conceived, designed, and built with the aid of student mechanics, an extensive set of original models for teaching the basic conceptions of engineering drawing and descriptive geometry. These are recognized by the teaching profession as being the outstanding set of models in America.—University of Texas Alcalde.

Two beloved and outstanding clergymen, Dr. Franklin Nutting Parker, Alpha-Pi '87, and Rev. James Clyde Adams '07-'26G were voted honorary degrees by Emory University's Board of Trustees at its annual meeting on Oct. 24. The degrees probably will be conferred at next June's commencement.

To Dr. Parker, former Dean of Emory's School of Theology and now Dean Emeritus and Professor Emeritus of Systematic Theology, will go the doctor of humane letters.

Now 83 years old, Dr. Parker has been connected with Emory since 1915, when he came to the year-old School of Theology as a member of its faculty. Elevated to the deanship in 1919, he retained that office for 18 years, until 1937. He retired in 1941, but since that time has regularly taught classes in the theological school and carried on a wide variety of other activities.

A native of New Orleans, Dean Parker was educated at Centenary College and at Tulane and Vanderbilt Universities. From 1886 to 1910 he held a succession of Methodist pastorates in Louisiana and served as presiding elder of the Baton Rouge and New Orleans Districts. For four years, 1911-15, before coming to Emory, he was professor of Biblical literature at Trinity College (now Duke University).

One of Dr. Parker's chief distinctions is that he has declined to accept high offices such as few men have ever been offered. Tendered the Chancellorship of Emory University in February, 1920, when the late Bishop Warren Akin Candler '75-'78H-'88H-'97H-'35H sought to resign from that position, he would agree only to serve as acting Chancellor for a brief time. In 1918 and again in 1922 he was elected a Bishop by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but in each case he refused to accept this usually coveted honor.

The Dean Emeritus holds honorary doctor of divinity degrees from Centenary and Trinity.—Emory Alumnus.

New Watchdog

EDGAR SHELTON, JR., Nu '44, director of University forensics, has been called to Washington to serve with Senator Lyndon Johnson's "Watchdog Committee" on the war effort.

Mr. Shelton was granted an emergency leave of absence from the faculty by President T. S. Painter. He begins his duties immediately as a committee trouble shooter.

Formerly called the sub-committee on preparedness of the Armed Forces Committee, Senator Johnson's group has the same job as the Truman Committee of World War II—watching for kinks in the war effort. Senator Johnson, a UT ex-student, has just been named Democratic floor "whip" for the new Congress.

Mr. Shelton is state executive director of the Atlantic Union Committee.

As head debate coach and then director of forensics for three years, Mr. Shelton's debaters have won two national debate championships.

University speakers won over 85 per cent of all inter-collegiate events in which they competed, placing first, second, or third in every tournament.

They have taken part in more than 500 speech contests with college speakers from 48 states, Canada, England, Mexico, and India.

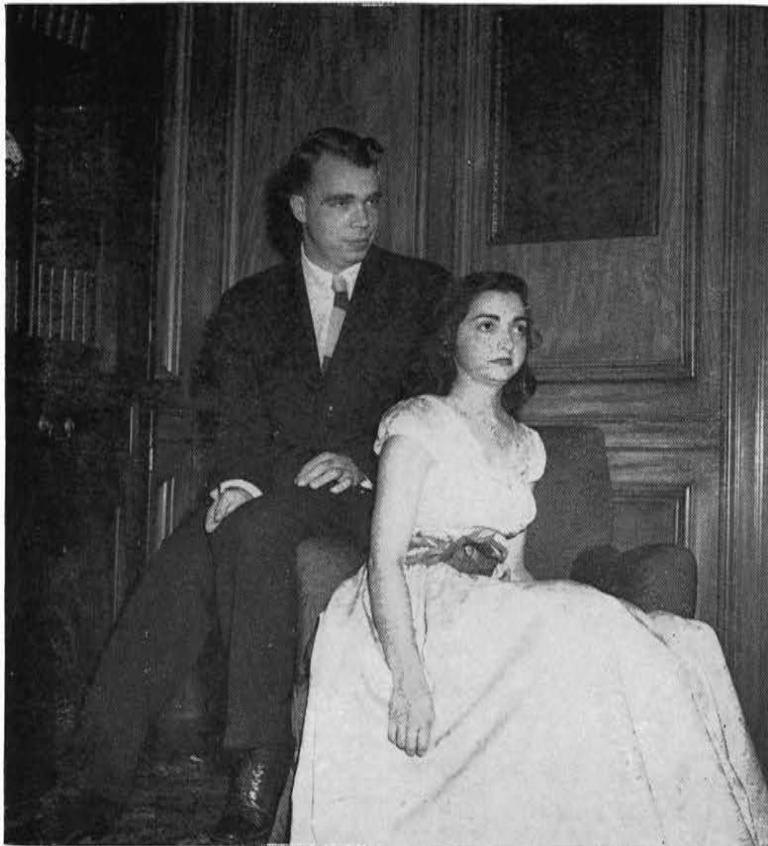

Mr. Shelton was an instructor of speech at the University, director of the University Speakers' Bureau, and supervisor of the "On the Spot" radio program. He is also a practicing attorney.

He received his bachelor's degree at Texas in international law and relations in 1942. After the war he received his master's degree in government and his law degree in 1947 from Texas.

As an undergraduate at the University, Mr. Shelton organized the Pre-Law Society and served as president of that society, the Alcaides, and Pi Sigma Alpha, political science fraternity. He was a member of Delta Sigma Rho and Athenaeum, as well as Chi Phi Fraternity.—Daily Texan.

Hotelmen's Head

JOHN F. NOBLE, Gamma Delta '20, owner of the Normandy Hotel in Minneapolis, has assumed his duties as president of the Minnesota Hotel Association. He was elected at the annual meeting to succeed Dwight Chappell of the Hotel Winona, Winona, Minn.—Minneapolis Star.

Producer Dies

DWIGHT DEERE WIMAN, Omicron '18, died in Columbia Memorial Hospital on Jan. 20. Producer of 56 plays on Broadway, Brother Wiman died with a hit on the boards. "Country Girl" by Clifford Odets is the current sellout. The revivals of "Romeo and Juliet" with Olivia DeHavilland and of "Green Pastures" opened in Detroit and Boston, respectively, in February.

Amateur theatricals at Yale, a try at the family business, Deere & Co., of Moline, Ill., and a brief time with the Film Guild preceded Brother Wiman's career as a producer. In 1924 he went into partnership with William A. Brady, Jr. Their first four plays were either failures or "artistic successes" only. Then they produced Sherwood's "Road to Rome" with Jane Cowl in the lead. It played for 429 performances. In 1930 the men dissolved their partnership and Brother Wiman branched out into musicals with Tom Weatherly. Their first "Little Show" with Fred Allen, Clifton Webb, and Libby Holman, ran 321 times. With "The Vinegar Tree" in 1931, Mr. Wiman and the author, Paul Osborn, teamed up. In 1938 this pair presented "On Borrowed Time" and that year, "Morning's at Seven" was Mr. Wiman's first solo. Because of his independent wealth Mr. Wiman did not always have to produce financial successes. He brought "The Big Knife" into New York because it brought Odets back to Broadway from the movies. Weill's "Street Scene" did not do well out of New York, but he brought it to Broadway against odds to become a milestone.

In 1942 Brother Wiman became Entertainment Director for the Red Cross in the United Kingdom. After the war, his first big success was the musical version of "Street Scene," the Elmer Rice play using the Weill music. His interest in ballet led him to associate with Lucia Chase and Oliver Smith in the Ballet Theatre.

Pallbearers at his funeral in St. James Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, were Richard Rodgers, Robert Sherwood, Lawrence Langner, Joshua Logan, Marc Connelly, and Ward Morehouse, among others. Stars of "Country Girl," Uta Hagen and Paul Kelly, and its author were in attendance.

Alpha Appreciates Kitchin's Work

DAN C. ELKIN, JR.
Alpha
University of Virginia

THE spring semester at Virginia witnessed the election of Alpha's fourth Alpha within the year. Brother Dan C. Elkin, a transfer from Gamma, succeeded John W. Harris at the post. He was preceded by Bill Kitchin, who became acting Alpha after George Hogan was injured so seriously in an automobile accident. In this latest election Calvin Childress was appointed Beta, Dick Taylor, Gamma, Bob Young, Delta, Derek Orth, Epsilon, and Jim Talbot, Zeta.

Spring rushing is hard upon us. Due to the present world situation a rush period is being conducted, first-year men being pledged this semester and initiated early in the fall semester of next year. Billy Bob Mellen has swung into his duties as rush chairman and anticipates a good group of men. As always, we welcome recommendation of promising new men from all our Alumni. I might mention while speaking of Alumni that we have lately enjoyed visits from J. B. Jackson '48, who is now on the staff of The Richmond News-Leader, and Allan Hopkins '46. Brother Hopkins, an architect in Baltimore, has a 3-year-old son, Speed Hopkins, who one day may become a Chi Phi.

From time to time every house has an outstanding brother who makes an outstanding contribution to the Chapter. In the past few years at Alpha this has been indisputably Bill Kitchin. Three years ago Brother Kitchin initiated a plan to incorporate a kitchen and dining room in the house. Doing much of the work himself, even some of the actual construction, he completed the conversion of two rooms, and in the spring of 1949 opened the dining room. The dining room rapidly rose to the top of the several dining rooms at the University, and under his capable guidance, has been so ever since. In February Brother Kitchin accepted a position in Louisville, Ky., spending his last two weeks here instructing Tom Mullen and Jim Talbot in the intricacies of running a kitchen. Alpha will long be indebted to Brother Kitchin.

The next major event on the Alpha agenda is the annual Easter Party which Alpha organized several years ago, in conjunction with KΣ and The Serpentine Club, the other two houses on The Quadrangle. This traditional Easter affair, held out of doors in The Quadrangle on the Sunday afternoon of Easter Week End, is sponsored by the latest pledge class each year.

In closing Alpha wishes to report the loss of Brothers Holland Graveley, Dill Dillingham, Jim Lea, Bo Wilson, and its last Alpha, John Harris, who unfortunately, had to leave the University because of illness. Graduation and military service claimed the others.—JAMES R. TALBOT, JR.

EVIDENTLY the new environment has agreed with the brothers at Beta, since the Chapter's scholastic, social, athletic, and extracurricular activity records are quite commendable. The highlight of the Beta social calendar, the annual Bohemian Ball, is in the making. The theme is still being debated, but there is an overall agreement among the Brothers on the date, April 14.

As usual, intramural sports were actively supported and participated in by the Chapter under the leadership of Bob Damon and Fred Fead. An excellent athletic potential was uncovered in the form of the incoming freshmen and, consequently high hopes are being expressed for next year's teams. Several of the Brothers have once again placed on varsity teams at Tech. Al Fonda may be seen rowing on the Charles, Bob Damon churning the waters of the pool, and Hugh Robertson wrestling his opponent to the mat. The freshmen have also shown an avid interest in sports. Brother Richards has worked his way up to Number 1 position on the freshman squash team, in addition to playing on both the freshman soccer and lacrosse teams. Our fleet-footed Aussie brother, Ian Williams, shows great promise in both the 440-yard dash and cross-country runs. Bill Hartrick may be seen on the Charles river every afternoon working hard to acquire Brother Fonda's prowess as a crew man.

Members also found their way to responsible positions in the activities on campus. Brother Seeley's constant interest and work on The Technique staff was culminated by his being elected editor-in-chief. The same may be said for Al Fonda's interest and consequent election as commodore of the Boat Club. John Thomas served as director of Tech Show until his departure to Practice School. Chi Phi was also well represented in military affairs at Tech with Chris Rust being chosen Colonel of the ROTC group and Byron Burch being elected captain of Scabbard and Blade. Both Chris Rust and John Thomas were also elected to the honorary societies of TBII and KKΣ.

New officers for the spring term are Fred B. Fead, Alpha; William J. Peet, Beta; William M. Cox, Gamma; Robert H. Damon, Delta; Theodore M. Parson, Epsilon; and Kenneth King, Jr., Zeta.

Formal initiation of the pledge class took place on Feb. 11. Whitman Albin Richards, Newton Center; William Willoughby, II, Greensboro, Ala.; James Walter Anthony Astrue, San Francisco, Cal.; Harry George Basil Faulkner, Stockholm, Sweden; John Lawrence Allen, Summit, N. J.; Robert Harold Hartman, Williamsport, Pa.; Robert Edward Badenhop, Baltimore, Md.; Richard Lawton Koehler, Evansville, Ind.; William Lee Hartrick, Lakewood, Ohio; Ian Murray Williams, North Adelaide, South Australia.

Despite such an impressive array of initiates, Beta finds it mandatory to conduct an informal spring rushing program in order to fill the new house completely. Rushing chairman, Bill Peet, is hard at work and is quite optimistic about the possibility of having a pledge class this spring.—KENNETH KING, JR.

Gamma Plans to Build Terrace

MORTON GOOD, Alpha
Emory University

GAMMA started off this winter quarter very nicely by pledging two more men, Billy Johns and Moncrief Jordan, Atlanta.

Now we are improving the house. The basement is being cleaned and rebuilt into a large playroom. We are hoping to have this project finished sometime in the spring quarter. Just outside of the living room we are planning on a large terrace where we will be able to have our dances when spring rolls around.

Our biggest social event of the past quarter was our Winter Formal held in the beautiful Dinkler Room of the Hotel Ansley. The music was furnished by a very fine band, Dean Hudson's. Most of the credit for this successful party goes to our past Social Chairman, Harry Gilham. Our new Sponsor, Libba Worley, was presented at this dance. Cliff Clark was presented a key chain gavel in token of appreciation for the work that he did for the Chapter while he was Alpha. Our two main parties of the quarter will be a house party at Camp Rutledge sometime in April and the big campus-wide Dooley's Frolics in May.

As for athletics, Gamma is still one of the top fraternities on the campus. In soccer we were second on the campus while in basketball we placed third.

Since Christmas only one of our brothers has received a call to that holy state of matrimony—Joe Good, but soon Dick Hamner will be following Brother Good's fatal steps.—HENRY T. KILLINGSWORTH.

Delta Boasts High Scholarship

JOHN HANDLEY
Alpha
Rutgers University

THE results of our scholastic industry here at Delta have been most gratifying. Four brothers (two of them potential Phi Jakes) made honor grades, and a good percentage of the other brothers hovered near the "B" average mark. Most noteworthy of all, 13 of the 15 pledges attained the scholastic averages needed to become initiated. We feel that we can be truly proud of our scholarship record this year.

Shortly after exam period ended, the second annual Greek Week was held at Rutgers. Every fraternity on campus took part in the activities, which included the following: a blood typing campaign, a pledge basketball tournament, College Orientation Day, a variety show with skits from the various houses for the benefit of charity, formal initiation of pledges in each campus chapter, and an interfraternity banquet to wind up the week's proceedings.

College Orientation Day was held at Rutgers for outstanding high school seniors from all over New Jersey. Delta helped in guiding these men around campus and shared in having them for lunch. Before and after the meal the Brothers discussed with them various phases of college life and explained the purpose and function of fraternities.

On Feb. 17, 12 men exchanged their pledge pins for the official XΦ pin in the traditional and beautiful initiation ceremony: James Brooks, Salem; Harold Heins, Belle Meade; Fred Perkins, Pompton Falls; Charles Krause, Weehawken; Richard Wright, Kingston, Pa.; James Himonas, Tottenville, N. Y.; Walter Porter, St. Albans, N. Y.; Richard Kahler, New Brunswick; Horace

First semester waiters at Delta Chapter, Rutgers, were, back row, Dave Churchill and Bill Howard; front, Dick Olsson and Horace Greeley

Greeley, Union; Lloyd Griffiths, Phillipsburg; Robert Sheets, Paulsboro; and Peter Gebel, Brooklyn, N. Y. Prior to initiation the pledge class painted all the hallways, the kitchen, the living room foyer, the bannisters, and helped construct the new bar. These activities were carried out under our constructive "less hell, more work" informal initiation program.

A week after Greek Week was Junior Weekend at Rutgers, and the gender of the inhabitants of Pinehurst changed on Friday evening as the dates moved in and the Brothers moved out. A roast beef dinner, formal dance, and open house on Friday night was followed by a fun-filled Saturday afternoon at the farm of Brothers Hap and Biff Heins, the former, the father of Biff and in his college days a charter member of Gamma Delta Chapter at the University of Minnesota. The afternoon's activities included a weinie-marshmallow roast in front of a roaring fireplace followed by horseback riding along the old Delaware-Raritan Canal towpath. Saturday night saw a typical Delta house party in which "melodious" singing of traditional party songs took a prominent place. Sunday was, appropriately a day of rest. It was, altogether, a most enjoyable and memorable weekend.

Chi Phis were as usual prominent in almost every campus activity. Winter sports participants were set-shot artist Wally Porter and Jim Himonas in freshman basketball, Pete Gebel in freshman swimming, Jack Paulus in varsity swimming, Chuck Krause in freshman wrestling, Lou Trapp and Bob Quackenboss in varsity fencing, and Mal McVeigh in varsity hockey. Chi Phis are equally well represented in spring sports, particularly in lacrosse with All-American Mal McVeigh, Bill Howard, Rick Weiler, Al Cello, and John Mutch wielding potent sticks for the varsity and Dick Wright trying out for the freshman team. In addition Dick Gravatt appears to have the varsity catching job sewed up in baseball; Wally Porter, Dave Oganofski, and Lloyd Griffith are in line for freshman baseball positions; last year's freshman tennis captain, Bill Snedeker, will again be at the nets; and state 220 record-holder, Charley Hullfish, is burning up the cinders for the freshman track team.

Delta entered teams in all intramural sports but failed to achieve success in anything but bowling. The non-athletic extracurricular activities of the Deltans are almost too numerous to mention. Typical participants are Bill Howard, chief announcer of the campus radio station; Dave Churchill, harried managing editor of the campus literary publication; and Bill Snedeker, a valuable member of the renowned Rutgers University Glee Club.

Epsilonians Make House Repairs

BOBBY T. WOOD
Alpha
Hampden-Sydney College

DUE to the untiring efforts of Rush Chairman Blair Webb, Epsilon has once again pledged a fine group of men for the year 1950-51: Dave MacMichael, Leona, N. J.; Joe Gillespie, Tazewell; Beau Hughes, Danville; Jim Monroe, Norfolk; Milt Miller, Virginia Beach; and Ed Oogie, Richmond.

Led by House Manager John Shields, Epsilon members are busy making over the house in preparation for the annual Chi Phi Spring Parties. Numerous carpentry repairs have been made and several coats of paint have been applied. Negotiations are also under way for the acquiring of some new living room furniture which is badly needed.

Plans have been completed and the Brothers are eagerly looking forward to the annual Beach Party to be held at Virginia Beach the week of June 1-7.

The Chi Phi house seemed to be the center of campus activities during mid-winter. An excellent combo plus the added attraction of a floor show packed the house both nights of the week end.

Epsilon will be hard hit by graduation this spring. In addition to three Brothers who have already left for service, namely: Mischeaux Buchanan, Bill Rixey, and Rick Rosenlund, five seniors will leave: Alpha Bobby Wood, Gil Larus, Shep Russell, Blair Webb, and John Shields.

Epsilon extends its congratulations to Emerson Johnson who was named to the mythical Virginia All-State basketball squad. Johnson was captain and center on Hampden-Sydney's winning basketball quintet, and boasted a season's average of 24.4 points per game.

Easter holidays found Epsilon members scattering to numerous places to vacation. Bobby Wood, Ben Ogbourne, Eric Wall, and Walt Lindsay vacationed in Florida, while Pete Brittain, Randolph Minter, "Puck" Kiser, Bill Fitzgerald, and Joe Gillespie went to the Eastern Shore of Virginia. Austin Sydnor and Bruce James were the envy of all the Brothers. These two really vacationed by flying to the Bermudas.—O. RANDOLPH MINTER.

Zeta Pledges Record Group

MIKE G. CHRISTY
Alpha
Franklin & Marshall

HEADING the group of newly elected officers at Zeta is Mike Christy. As Beta we have Richard Maguire, while "Coke" Kohr now wields the Gamma's pen. Herman Van Geldern was entrusted with the finances, and Sam Cannon was elected Epsilon.

The Scholarship Committee, under the direction of Jim Regan, has done a fine job as is evidenced by the showing made by the Chapter during the first semester. Though Zeta dropped from third to fourth place among the fraternities on the campus, the chapter average has risen considerably above the preceding semester's average and placed well above the all-fraternity and non-fraternity averages. With new emphasis upon scholastic achievement, we are confident that this semester's average will be even better.

During the between-semester vacation another party was held in Montclair, N. J. This time in honor of Jim MacNaughton and Dorothy Deacon who became engaged. Best wishes to you both!

The new semester began with an always-hectic Rush Week. Under the able direction of Mike Christy, our rushing chairman, the Rush Week activities were well planned, and with the coöperation of the Brotherhood, it was

Mike Christy, rush chairman at Zeta, had a well-planned rush program for the Franklin & Marshall chapter. Note tags on rushees. More preferential cards were returned to Zeta than to any other group successful in every sense of the word. At F. & M. we have a rather unique system which provides that the freshmen, at the close of the week, submit "preferential cards" stating their choice of the two fraternities they would most like to join. The fraternities, in turn, use these cards in selecting their pledges. This year Zeta obtained more of these preferential cards than did any other fraternity on the campus. The group of men included: Frank Albright, Carl Bemiller, Dick Bigler, Carl Brothers, Gerald Burgholzer, John Carroll, Robert Eliot, Arthur Helf, John Hepler, John Jefferson, John Keehn, John Keener, Richard Knoll, Kenneth Kurtz, Samuel Litzenberg, Philip Long, Thomas McFalls, Charles Patterson, Thomas Phillips, Thomas Rigin, Richard Savage, Ernest Schwehm, John Wampler, and Donald West.—JOHN B. Eta House Has New Shrubbery

CHARLIE BARNWELL, Alpha
University of Georgia

IMPROVEMENTS are going right along here at Eta. We have a new stove for the kitchen ordered and hope to get a TV set soon. George McWhirter, Delta, reports that McKee Nunnally, President of Eta Trust Association, has told the Mothers' Club that the Eta Trust Association is planning to remortgage Eta's house so that we can remodel the interior, get new furniture, and pave the parking lot. We feel that remortgaging is necessary if we are to keep our house in good repair, since the price rise has made it impossible to operate the house and make improvements at the same time without resorting to exorbitant individual assessments on the members.

Along this line the Brothers and pledges have built a $300 serpentine booth around the wall of the basement, this, of course, necessitating an assessment. The Mothers' Club has planted boxwood in front of the house. This shrubbery was given by Mrs. Hugh Saussy, mother of Charles Saussy. The Mothers' Club also is going to put new draperies in the living room and dining room, with other improvements to come later. We are very grateful for the interest the mothers are taking in the Chapter.

Winter quarter is traditionally duller than the other quarters, but we haven't felt this this quarter because we have had several good parties and have made trips to the Stockcar Races at Daytona, Fla., and to the caves near Chattanooga, Tenn. Next quarter we are going to have a house party at St. Simon's Island. These trips are a lot of fun and add a great deal to fraternity spirit.

We have three new pledges: Carl Blair, Atlanta; Leslie Steele, Avondale Estates; and Gerald Young, Marietta.

We want to express our appreciation for Jane Jay, XΩ from Thomasville, Ga., who is our Sponsor. Jane has become an integral part of the Chapter. She always takes part in fraternity activities eagerly and is very well liked by everybody.

What the Brothers are doing: Don Walters had the leading rôle in Victor Herbert's operetta, "Naughty Marietta," presented here by the University's Music department. In supporting rôles were Max Lippitt, Madison Brower, Chenault Hailey, and Charlie Nunnally. Charlie Barnwell got pinned to Dianne Williams, ΠΒΦ, of Hapeville. Charlie Guyer is one of the most promising members of the University swimming team. The relay team which he is on broke two SEC records. Don Walters was initiated into Gridiron, one of the highest honors on campus. Jay Gardner was initiated into OΔK, and Scabbard and Blade.

We are going to start work shortly on the Interfraternity Sing, which, with all our musical talent, we stand a good chance to win. In athletics, we are going forward in bowling, basketball, and swimming. We could easily win the Governor's Trophy this year.

Our sympathy to Jack Espy, whose grandfather died, and Madison Brower, who lost his grandmother.

We always welcome the Alumni. We have excellent food, and when we get our new stove, it should be even better. We would certainly be glad to see the parents any time they can come.—TOMMY ROBERTS.

Theta Members Stay in ROTC

GERRY MANNING
Alpha
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

THE adoption of the quarter system by the Rensselaer administration enables Theta to make another selection of pledges. We have been on the semester system with only one entering Freshman Class per year. The quarter system will allow freshmen to enter four times a year, enabling us to enlarge our pledge class. Theta is now in the process of rushing freshmen who have entered RPI this past January. We would like to strengthen our membership so as to survive the present world situation. While doing this we still have in mind the high quality of men of XΦ and will continue to pledge men of this calibre. At present Theta has not lost any men through draft or enlistment. Our present pledge class is entirely made up of ROTC men who are, at present, draft-exempt. As for the Brothers, 80% are members of an ROTC unit and are fairly safe. Regarding everything at the present, Theta is in good shape.

This past week end found the campus and Theta participating in the annual "Snowflake Saturnalia." It seems the weather man didn't want to cooperate with us to provide snow for the usual winter week end. Action started Thursday when the Brothers and pledges began setting up the decorations under the leadership of Brother "Father" Brennan. Since we seemed headed for a snowless week end, Bill made the theme of the decorations a "Mardi Gras." Friday afternoon things got brighter as the girls began to arrive. Although the decorations were of a "Mardi Gras" nature, the apparel for the Friday night party was winter wear. At the height of the evening the announcement of the "Phi Chi Sweater Girl" was made. Our sincere congratulations to Peggy Quillan, escorted by Dick Semon. (Dick is our Delta. We were all under the impression the Chapter had a lot of money judging from the number of trips Brother Semon was making to the bank, but we came to find out that Peggy is a teller at the bank and Brother Semon wasn't sticking strictly to business.) Saturday afternoon found us at the Field House watching the hockey game between RPI and Amherst. Theta turned out in full to support Brothers Currier and Whitcomb who are first string center and defenseman on the varsity. Theta is very proud of the efforts of these two men, especially the fine defensive work of Brother Whitcomb. "Whit" not only plays the defense well, but also gets his share of goals being, at the present, the third high scorer for the team. His extra effort in this game may have been due to the presence of his "Putzy." To the sorrow of our Brothers at Phi, RPI won that game 7-5, Brothers Currier and Whitcomb having a hand in three of those goals. A buffet supper was waiting for the Brothers and their dates after the game. Before the dance, a formal open house was held at which members of the faculty were present. For the Brothers who got over to the campus to dance to the music of the Dartmouth Barbary Coast Serenaders, it was a terrific evening. The week end ended with a big Sunday dinner and informal party during the afternoon. Congratulations to Brother Brennan and especially Brother Stephany for making it a big success.

We are all eagerly waiting for March 17, that is the date set for the annual pledge party. From the showing the pledges have made to date, we are all sure of a fine party; they are really on the ball.—CHUCK GEORGE.

Iota Receives New Card Tables

TODD J. McMILLAN, Alpha
Ohio State University

THE graduation of our Alpha, Robert "Judge" Rawson, in March, called for the election of a new Alpha. The Chapter elected Todd J. McMillan to perform the various duties of this office. Richard Dillon was recently elected to the office of Delta which was left vacant by Brother Gribben. Steve Zenczak and Dick Gooch were also graduated in March. Brother Zenczak held the offices of Alpha and Beta, and Brother Gooch was a former Epsilon. We want to wish them all "Good Luck."

Mrs. Carrie Commerson, our house-mother, who is known to everyone as "Grandma" had her 77th birthday on March 3. At Sunday dinner "Grandma" was presented with a rocking chair, a gift from the Chapter. "Grandma" was given a huge 3-layer cake, with candles arranged in a 77 on it, which she cut and shared with the members. "Grandma" has been housemother for Iota Chapter 24 years.

Nu Chapter of AKΨ, national commerce professional fraternity, recently elected Frank Hutchison and Richard Bernsdorf as president and vice president, respectively. Brother Bernsdorf is our recent Sparks Award winner. John Gribben and Jim Lowery are also members, and recently pledged were Chuck Eckle, Russ Yeazel, and John Rutherford. Bob Wick is a member of ΔΔΣ, national advertising professional fraternity. Initiated in January to Arnold's Air Society for advanced Air ROTC students were John Gribben, Joe Vennitti, and Russ Yeazel.

Pledge Russ Andrew is the coach of OSU's lacrosse team this season. Chi Phis on the team will include Don Covert, Dick Bernsdorf, and Bill Weimer, and Pledges Dorsey Worthington and Brad Kiddle.

The Mothers' Club held a games' party at the house on Feb. 10. With part of the money taken in and money received from the collection of tax stamps, the Club bought 12 new card tables for the house.

Greek Week here at OSU was another big success this year with events like exchange dinners with sororities, a stunt night, open houses, meetings and talks, and the big dance on Saturday night to wind up the week. Woody Herman and his orchestra provided the music.

New initiates for the winter quarter numbered nine in all: Richard Davis, Charleston, W. Va.; Richard Dillon, Mansfield; David Dale, Troy; David DeVoe, Worthington; Richard McNally, Germantown; Joseph Zaenker, Cincinnati; and James White, Robert Johnson, and Robert Schmidt, all of Columbus.—THOMAS R. PLANKELL.

Kappa Members Spark IFC Work

ROBERT BARTH, Alpha
University of Wisconsin

RUSHING at the Kappa Chapter was of prime importance this semester. The Brothers all rushed diligently to secure 10 pledges. Ken Bradbury and Dick Loebel were in charge of the rushing functions and rushees were quite impressed by the entertainment and hospitality that was shown them. At the present time 14 eligible pledges are going through initiation ceremonies under the direction of Marshall Buss.

Lately many Chi Phis have brought recognition to the house for their campus activities. Darrel D. Tesch was selected for a post on the IFC Appointments Committee while Harry Mussman was elected to head the Rushing Committee and Skip Muth was selected as Chairman of the IFC Scholarship Committee. David Matson is in the All-Men's show, "Haresfoot," an annual campus production. Recently Brother Endres received the Kemper Knapp Scholarship for high scholarship in his undergraduate years.

At the present time the Chapter is very busy, presenting a skit for "Humorology," an all-campus humor show for the benefit of underprivileged children. John Vincent, Bert Bertelson, Bill Bodart, Bob Jobin, Jim Meyers, John Hovind, Don Wiesinger, and Skip Muth are all taking part in the production which is "Dora Frankie and 4-Gun Johnny," a takeoff on old-type Westerns. This year we are combining our talents with ΚΔ.

This semester we serenaded the sororities during rushing with our unique hill-billy group known as the "Chi Phi Officers' Club."

Athletically we have been more than holding our own in the interfraternity competition. We won first in our division in bowling, first in our division in badminton, and second in our division in basketball. The hockey team, headed by Chuck Clafin and Bob Schmidt, entered the Winter Carnival this year and went to the third round of play.

An informal sweater party was held and a "Military Brawl," a takeoff on the Military Ball which is a big social event here on campus, enjoyed quite a bit of success. The house was decorated with posters, signal flags, guns, and a pup tent in the living room. Marshall Buss and Bert Bertelson, our social chairmen, deserve a good deal of praise for their fine work in presenting parties. This year the annual "Esquire Party," sponsored by the Esquire Magazine and Chi Phi, is under the direction of Chuck Clafin. Elaborate plans have been made for this dance on April 7, with XΦ favors, orchestra, dance programs, and varied entertainment including dancers, imitators, a Ukelele Quartet, and singers. Soon after the Chi Phi Spring formal will get under way. Rumor speaks about an open house this spring.—SKIP MUTH.

Lambda's Mascot Wins Second Place

BARNABY F. SMITH
Alpha
University of California

Pledge John Roberts of Lambda entertains Cal students with his antics on skis. A former Marine, Roberts is now in the Air Force

COMPETING against some of the finest specimens of doghood that Cal could offer, Lambda's fabulous Chintz, faithful house mascot, recently took second place in the University's "Handsome Dog on Campus" contest. Chintz, who is generally recognized for intelligence due to his attendance of classes in all departments, "played dead" before several hundred spectators in the bitterly-contested event, knocking the underpinnings from under a huge St. Bernard to eke out the second place bracket. Lambda vigorously represents the Daily Californian's reference to Chintz as a "just plain dog."

Lambda's semi-annual pledge dance was held March 17 at the home of Alumni Brothers Teddy Van Voorhis and Howard Bailor. Their house, balanced atop one of Berkeley's highest hills, afforded a breath-taking view of California's Golden Gate, where pledges, Brothers, and their dates watched the setting sun before dinner. Later in the evening, a million lights from below, soft music, and refreshments made this a never-to-be-forgotten evening for Lambda.

Culminating the initiation of seven pledges at the beginning of the spring semester was a gay initiation banquet held at the Bell and Bow, Oakland's famous waterfront restaurant. Under the skippership of Alpha Barney Smith, himself a veteran yachtsman of the Honolulu races, Lambda toasted Initiates Boring, Hawkins, Good, Claussen, Durie, Lloyd, and McNear. Also present at the celebration were the Chapter's four new pledges: Gene Rizk, John Roberts, Ted Killeen, and John Dodson. Pledge Roberts, a former Marine, is noted for his comic acts on skis.

With Paul Woollomes and Chick Fraser awaiting orders to report to their Air Forces units, the ranks of Lambda continue to recede gradually. The Air Force, which has claimed Ed Bennett, Bill Viebrock, and John Roberts, seems to be the most popular branch. These three men have been in Texas and Georgia on active duty, having traded their campus clothes for the blue uniforms last semester.

Lambda sends its congratulations to Beta Chapter on the purchase of its beautiful new chapter house, and hopes to come to Boston soon to explore all five floors of the edifice.—HOWARD FINN.

Nu Raises Grade Average

SHIFLETT
Alpha
University of Texas

AFTER an inspiring rush week, in which we pledged nine out of the 10 boys bid, Nu Chapter is all set for a roaring season of spring parties and campus activities. This new pledge class includes: John Carr, Floresville; Ralph Carson, Houston; Rick Gile, Sarasota, Fla.; Bill Mabry, Dallas; Pat Powers, Carrizzo Springs; Mike Reid, Houston; Charles Smith, Rotan; Bob Tanner, Grand Prairie, and Walter Watson, Brownwood. Our many thanks to the Alumni who introduced to us several of the fine lads. Under the direction of the new pledge master, Willie Swenson, these boys will surely develop into fine members, capable of directing the future of Nu Chapter.

Seven of our pledges, having completed the traditional graveyard shift, were initiated into our Brotherhood in ceremonies at the chapter house on Feb. 23: Louis Schwartz, Uvalde; Hilmer Lassberg, Austin; Bill Cloyd, Houston; Albert Knaggs, Cotulla; Bob Matlock, Floresville; Bob Surles, Houston; and Lewis Sweet, Austin. Brother Lassberg is the fourth member of the Lassberg family to wear the pin. Three Brothers—Alex, Osbert, and Edmond—preceded Brother Hilmar in the Brotherhood, making a family rich in the traditions of Chi Phi. Brother Cloyd, for his enthusiasm and outstanding contributions to the Chapter as a pledge, received the Best Pledge Award.

Large scale plans and strategy are being made in an effort to capture first place honors this year in the major annual campus festivities. Our show is in the process of being written for the Varsity Carnival, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. Nu won third place last year in the Best Show Division, but this year we will be satisfied with nothing short of the First Place Cup to add to our trophy collection. Once again our show will be directed by Carl Mengden and "Buck" Wheat, to whom goes much of the credit for producing last year's success. "Squirrel" Surles and Phil Moss are writing the original song lyrics. Besides Varsity Carnival, the annual Round-Up Parade will be graced by an entry from Nu Chapter. We are especially anxious to have a winning float here because we have not had a winner since 1946, when we won the "Most Comical" award. Devane Clarke is ably directing the construction of this entry.

We were especially happy to learn that our scholastic average was up for last semester. For this, we owe our everlasting thanks to our very efficient Scholastic Chairman, Jerry Fulenwider. Brother Fulenwider is, perhaps, one of the most valuable men in our Chapter, for in his own sly way, he has encouraged us, and upon occasions, bullied us into studying. This has, of course, paid dividends in higher campus scholastic rating. Brother Fulenwider has been valuable to us in another way, also, because his interest in, and devotion to the Fraternity, has been inspiring to the whole Chapter.

Our current social life, under the direction of Devane Clarke, was highlighted this last month by a "Navy Party," at Jack & Helen's. The floor show and decorations both carried out the Navy motif. Now we just hope that the Navy doesn't wonder what happened to all their posters around town. The floor show presented by the Pledge Class was unsurpassed for originality and talent. "Buck" Wheat, who directed the show, really wowed them all with his rendition of "The Navy Gets the Gravy, But the Army Gets the Beans."

Nu Chapter is proud to be represented in campus politics these days. Tom Reid is now serving on the Student Assembly, as Arts and Science School representative. Besides this important position Brother Reid is a member of several committees, and is chairman of the "Steer Here" Committee, which is probably the most active committee on the campus. The "Steer Here" Committee is charged with the duty of inspecting local eateries, and either approving them, by giving them a "Steer Here" sign to hang in the window, or disapproving them, if their standards are not up to par. You can see by this that Brother Reid wields a great deal of power in this position, and has become a very popular man around the campus.

Intramural athletics so far this year have been somewhat of a disappointment to us. Although we fielded some of the better teams in the league in football, soccer, and basketball, we have only been able to attain an "almost" status in these leagues. With much of our fine softball team back again this year, and some very valuable new players, we hope to be able to leave our impression. We have a fine combination at the Battery, in Pledge Bob Tanner, catcher, who ranks among the top three men in individual scoring in University Intramurals, and Neil Caldwell, a highly respected pitcher in the fraternity league.—ROBERT W. GERRARD.

Xi Participates in Work Week

JOHN A.
McDONALD
Alpha
Cornell University

Xi held its semi-annual election of officers in January. John McDonald was unanimously reelected Alpha. Richard Groos, who previously was elected rushing chairman, was chosen for the Beta's position. Charles Metzler took over Dick Hagenauer's old office of Gamma, while Dick assumed the social chairman's duties. The house manager, steward, and Zeta were not changed, with Eli Manchester, Willys DeVoll, and Bill Lewing serving in the respective capacities. The Epsilon's job went to John McCarthy.

The Interfraternity Council at Cornell chose the week of Feb. 25 as Work Week with "Fraternalities and the Draft" as the theme. Officers' meetings and discussion groups were held during the week. Xi opened its house for a discussion group and an exchange dinner. The social highlight of the week was a Barton Hall dance.

The Chapter basketball team finished its season with a 5-4 record. No records were broken, but Xi showed its power by upsetting several of the leading teams. The Varsity consisted of Al Reynolds, Jay Cuff, Marv Anderson, Doc Kleckner, Marty Schiff, and Bill Lewing, with Doug Watson as coach.—WILLIAM LEWING.

Omicron Officers from Junior Class

EDWARD L. O'CONNOR, Alpha
Yale University

OMICRON enters the spring term under the leadership of Alpha Edward O'Connor and the first executive committee in many years to be comprised wholly of juniors. Placing the burden of leadership completely upon the Junior Class in the Chapter is one of the several steps that Omicron has taken to insure a maximum in continuity and experience in leadership for the unpredictable years to come. A thorough effort has been made through a rewriting of the by-laws to systematize and place in writing every aspect of the management of the Chapter. This should constitute another asset to good management and direction in the future.

The second term rush has been completed in noteworthy fashion by ushering 27 new pledges into the pledging period. This was accomplished despite the fact that the number of rushees was only half that of normal years.

In the athletic sphere, Chi Phi has made a notable contribution this year. Brother Cordes was elected captain of the soccer team, having led the Eastern Intercollegiate League in scoring and Yale to the league championship. Bill was ably assisted by Brothers Muller, Dietche, Steele, and Bonsal. Brothers Stuhldreher, Petee, McClure, Parham, and Callahan are playing their part in the certain prospect of another national championship swimming team. Tom Long, captain of the wrestling team, is leading his club through a somewhat rocky season. Brothers Barhoff, Cordes, and Muller have been asked to participate in that envious mixture of many drinks and a little sport, the Yale Rugby team, which as usual, will journey to Bermuda during spring vacation.

On the social scene, Omicron is again displaying foresight. As insurance against the rumored deletion of Derby Day from Yale's social calendar, the Activities and Dance Committees have conceived a list of functions for Junior Prom Weekend that would be a good workout for even Derby Day. The Prom Weekend should eliminate many of the tears that might otherwise be shed at the loss of Derby Day, one of our most beloved traditions.

Omicron applauds the election of Jim Tommaney to the presidency of the Yale Literary Magazine, Brother George Craighead to the chairmanship of the Banner, and Brother Verrill to the presidency of the Dramat.—JAMES C. BOYD.

Rho Prepares for Summer

RICHARD J. WOLFENDEN, Alpha
Lafayette College

NINE RHO pledges were initiated in ceremonies at the beginning of the semester. Following the Saturday afternoon initiations, a gala dinner party at the exclusive Northampton Country Club was held in honor of the new Brothers. As elections had preceded the initiation by several days, toasts included the outgoing and incoming officers as well as the new Brothers.

The following Brothers were elected as officers: Richard Wolfenden '52, Alpha; Charles Lytle '53, Beta; Richard Drvsdale '53, Gamma; George McCrea '52, Delta; William Aspell '52, Epsilon; and Harvey Whitten '52, Zeta. Brother Wolfenden is from Indiana, Pa., and is also editor of the school yearbook and treasurer of the Interfraternity Council. Brother Whitten was elected for his second term as Zeta and an editor of the chapter newspaper, The Rho News. Brother Culviner is also an editor.

The Chapter was very pleased to be host to Judge Luther Z. Rosser during his recent trek North. Alumnus Brother Bell entertained the Judge and several Brothers before dinner which was held at the chapter house. After dinner the Judge spoke briefly on the state of the Fraternity and various questions and problems were posed and discussed.

The Regional Meeting of New Jersey and Pennsylvania Chapters was attended by Brothers Wolfenden and McCrea from Rho. The meeting was reported as being successful and the visit of Brother Rosser was very much appreciated and enjoyed by all. Hope to see him back again soon, from down there below the Mason-Dixon line, you all.

A dinner and dance were also held in honor of the new Brothers late in February. Pre-dinner activities in the Green Room introduced a turkey dinner. The dance featured music by George Plath and his Gumbo Five. Spring has returned to Easton and Rho's thoughts lightly turn? An All-campus dance was held and deemed a fabulous success. The gardens behind the chapter house were newly clipped, the rose arbor painted and trimmed, and a lovely lawn party held late in March. The usual spring Interfraternity ball was a success as usual. A Faculty Tea was held on a Sunday afternoon.

At this time Rho must also wish God-speed to its graduating Brothers. Their companionship and support through the four years that we have known them, have been indispensable. We wish them the best of luck in their new occupations, largely the Army. A new rushing program has been instituted because of the large number of Brothers who will be absent for the fall semester. Those of us who will return look to another year of Rho leadership, with continued Alumni and chapter support. The recent Scholarship program under the Beta will continue its good work next year under the same setup as instituted this year. The house may be open this summer as a result of large summer attendance, so make it a point to drop by if your summer travels bring you this way.—F. HARVEY WHITTEN.

Sigma Improves Scholarship Place

ROBERT K. WAGNER
Alpha
University of Illinois

IN chapter elections. at the beginning of this semester, Bob Wagner was re-elected Alpha; Wright Catlow, Beta; Bill Collins, Gamma; Dick Matteson, Delta; Ned Beach, Epsilon, and Jack Fontana, Zeta. Since the election, however, Bill Collins has been called into the armed forces and Jim Thomas was elected to his position. Larry Spiller has been reelected an I-M manager of the Chapter and has seen to it that XΦs are entered in many of the I-M activities. Our basketball team is exceptionally strong this year, and we have high hopes for winning the highly contested first place trophy.

Four new pledges have joined the ranks at Sigma: Glenn Harcuss, Ross Pohlo, Dean Johnsos, and Paul Armstrong. Paul, by the way, was formerly a pledge at Xi Chapter before he transferred.

We have two big events coming up for the spring semester—our Spring Formal and the Spring Carnival. We are working with ΦM Sorority in Spring Carnival and, from the way things are shaping up, it looks like our show will be the biggest on the Midway.

Initiation time is rolling around again and five pledges have passed "hard trials" and stand ready to take part in the "great tribulations": John Hood, Len Miller, Tom O'Connell, Douglas Montague, and Jay Kennedy.

Boys who have returned this semester are Larry Johnson and Phil Winters who are again pursuing their undergraduate studies, and Fritz Foard who is doing grad work. Larry has become pinned to Laura Rich, a ΚΔ here.

With Sigma winning the third place award for improvement in fraternity scholarship last semester and considering the many social events which lie ahead of us, it looks like we have started off on another successful year.—JACK FONTANA.

Tau Creates New Office

BART E. SHEA
Alpha
University of Alabama

TAU started off the new semester with a big cellar party. When Mason Loy and Tommy Head got through with the decorations, the basement was crawling with atmosphere. Pledge Bernard Waldrup gave an intermission skit which brought the house down. The Chapter was faced with the seemingly impossible task of getting a piano into the basement. Two or three of the more ingenious Brothers solved the problem by knocking a hole in the inside wall. The music of Pepper Wilson, however, made the sacrifice of one basement wall worthwhile.

Tau accrued three new pledges at the beginning of the semester: Jack Garland, Norwalk, Conn.; Allan McDonald, Roanoke, and George Lillich, Birmingham. New officers for the spring semester are: Bart E. Shea, Alpha; Mason Loy, Beta; John Lavette, Gamma; Pep Johnston, Delta; Otis MacMahon, Epsilon; and John Scott, Zeta. The newly created position of house manager is ably filled by Jimmy Balderson.—JOHN B. SCOTT.

Phi Redecorates for Rushing

DAVID GALE CUMMINGS, Alpha
Amherst College

THE highlight of the winter season at Phi was what is considered one of the most successful winter dance week ends ever held at Amherst. The gala affair extended over the week end of Feb. 16-18, and included the Bowery Brawl, the Esquire Ball, and a milk punch party on Sunday. The Bowery Brawl, held Friday night, was provided with plenty of atmosphere, the guests entering through the boiler room, and the house decorated in the appropriate spirit. The floor was covered with sawdust, and the guests' costumes were planned to lend the fitting color and atmosphere of Bowery gaiety. The Esquire Ball was a lively informal dance with the decorations supplied by Esquire Magazine. The evening featured the selection of the Esquire Queen by a prominent Amherst citizen, formerly an officer in the state government. During the week end the Chapter was host to a large percentage of the student body, all of whom congratulated Social Chairmen Jim Jordan and Art Martin for producing one of the most outstanding winter week ends in many years. And to Brothers Jordan and Martin the Chapter gives a public vote of thanks for the work and time they put into making our party a rousing success.

At the present time the Brothers are busy redecorating the house for the coming freshman rushing period. The ceilings have been refinished and work is starting on the woodwork and paneling which are to be cleaned and waxed. New furniture has been purchased for the front hall, and there are a new table and chairs for the living room. Rushing starts formally in a few days and, by the time this issue has been released, the Chapter has high hopes of being able to boast of one of the most outstanding pledge delegations on this campus.

Congratulations are due Don Loos and Tom Nelson, who have just been elected to ΦBK ; Don in his senior year and Tom as a junior. We offer them our hearty congratulations and hope they keep up the good work.

The marriage of Stu Methven was one of the happy events of the past two months. He was married in February and the reception was held at the house. The Brothers were on hand to send the couple off on their honeymoon in proper style. They are back now and living in GI village. Joy has become a familiar and welcome member of the group that gathers at the house during the week ends.

Alpha Dave Cummings can feel proud that the Chapter is working together with unity and spirit.—CHRIS GREENE.

Chi Member Has Perfect Record

WILLIAM ZIEGLER

Dartmouth College

MUCH has happened here in Hanover since the last chapter letter was written. Our beautiful Memorial Library which was completed two years ago at no small cost to our generous Alumni now is graced by a very fitting plaque honoring the Chi Chapter men who gave their lives in both World Wars.

We're right in the middle of the snow season in the Northeast, and Chi Chapter has just participated in one of the finest Dartmouth Winter Carnivals on record. The 3-day affair was staged on Feb. 8-10, and left nothing to be desired in the way of good wholesome fun. Once again we played host to the men from Omicron at Yale who helped to make the week end a big success. Topping off the affair were two house dances, a Dixieland band concert, and the crowning of Chi Phi's own Carnival queen, Cynthia Ward, who will very soon be leaving for Hollywood. Surprise of the week end was the arrival of Georgia DeFee of Copacabana fame with her press agent as the date of Brother Welborn.

The former ping-pong room was completely altered in time for Carnival and now possesses a night club atmosphere with very comfortable wall seats on three sides and a merry-go-round counter on the other. "Pete" Jones '23 was kind enough to furnish the house with both new stair and upstairs hall carpets.

We were all proud to discover after the academic dust of last semester had settled that George Sherman had a perfect 4.0 average and that Brother Welborn had copped history honors as a Rufus Choate Scholar.

Big coming events include the interfraternity play contest with the Chi entry being the melodrama, "Curse You, Jack Dalton," directed by Brother Thielscher and casting Brothers Gochman and Sargent plus four local girls. The interfraternity hum soon follows with Dick MacDonald leading our own, and the annual Chi Apache Dance comes up in early May.

This present administration has given us very capable leadership in Brothers Ziegler, Birkenmeier, Wagner, Bell, and others. After six interrupted years of affiliation at Chi I find myself leaving a house which has made tremendous strides since reopening in the Spring of '46 and has made us all exceptionally proud to be members.—THOMAS SWARTZ.

Psi Looks Toward More Conferences

GEALY W. WALLWORK, Alpha
Lehigh University

PSI CHAPTER initiated the spring semester by holding a regional conference of the Middle Atlantic Chapters, comprised of Zeta, Mu, Delta, Rho, Alpha Delta, and Psi. A few of the topics discussed at the Conference were public and alumni relations, house management during mobilization, pledge training, and ritual. Many excellent ideas were exchanged between the representatives and we are hopeful that each chapter benefited by them. The Alpha, Delta, a third house office, and an alumni representative were requested to attend and fortunately a large percentage were able to come. Also attending the Conference was Judge L. Z. Rosser, National Director, who gave many helpful suggestions and answers to questions about the topics discussed. The Conference was a great success and Psi Chapter is looking forward to another one next year.

At the end of the fall semester Psi pledged 14 men: Bob Stemler, Charlie Thomas, and Tom Sheridan, Baltimore, Md.; Paul Steigerwald, Cleveland, Ohio; Ralph Fortney and Greg Barthold, Bethlehem; Bill McElwain, York; Steve Woodward, South Orange, N. J.; Bob Wagner, Wilmington, Del.; Ernie Schickedanz, Hillside, N. J.; Bill Seip, Allentown; Tom Walter, Tenafly, N. J.; Al Colyer, Westfield, N. J.; and Dan Daly, Sailorsville.

Bob Saxtan, chairman of the Social Committee, took it upon himself to renovate a storage room in the basement, so that a ping-pong table could be installed. He did a fine job in redecorating the room, and now table tennis is one of Psi's most popular pastimes. Psi recently purchased a piano for its "rec" room.

Last year Psi won the Interfraternity All-Sports Trophy and this year, aided by a strong bowling team and the return of the championship swimming team, we are making an earnest effort to retain the trophy. In the field of varsity athletics Psi will place men on teams of spring football, track, golf, lacrosse, and baseball.

During the past few months several brothers of Psi have visited numerous Chapters of the Fraternity. We wish to express our thanks for the warm hospitality received during our visits and would like to extend an invitation to all Chi Phis to visit us in Bethlehem.—L. H. LUND, JR.

Omega Becomes Intramural Champ

FRANK B. REDFIELD
Alpha
Georgia Institute of Technology

A 40-YARD pass in the waning seconds gave the Omegas a 7-0 victory over the Newman Club, independent league champions, and the title of school intramural champions. Omega previously won the interfraternity championship, as reported in the February issue of THE CHAKETT. The new trophy, by odd coincidence, is identical to the interfraternity trophy; and both trophies occupy impressive positions on the mantel in the living room and stand as a lasting tribute to a gallant team.

Omega has been very active in all phases of interfraternity competition. The basketball team wound up its season with a record of eight wins and four losses to finish in third place. Coached by Marshall Stone, the quintet lost two closely-fought contests to ΦΔΘ, which proved to be the deciding factor in determining the league championship. Bowling and wrestling were the other sports we engaged in. Although the Keglers fared none too well due mainly to the lack of participation in previous years, the wrestling squad has a good chance to bring home a championship.

We are pleased to announce that 15 of our pledges were initiated: Bobby Drake, Frank Bell, Billy Rentz, Jimmy Dreger, Drew Liddell, and Bob Randolph, Atlanta; Marshall Wellborn and Donald Harvey, Rome; George Baird and Wayland Lamar, Augusta; Charlie Groover, La Grange; Cecil Dunn, Moultrie; Ben Croker, Dallas; Sam McFadyen, Wilmington, N. C.; and Bob Carden, Richmond, Va.

Highlighting the social functions of the month was the famed pajama party on Feb. 17. Orchids to Brothers Story, Allen, Redfield, and Gill for their fine performances in the skit. The next bit of social activity will be the annual spring house party at Camp Rutledge on March 16-18. Chaperones will include Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Osgood and any other parents wishing to "get away" for a quiet week end.

The Mothers' Club which has aided us in every possible way this year, is planning a buffet supper for the fathers and working mothers of the Chapter. This plan is the first of its kind in several years, and a large turnout is anticipated. We here at Omega feel that parental interest and participation is a very important aspect of chapter life.

With the coming of spring, almost every week end a group of brothers, including "Thingamajig" Stevens, "Hard Luck" Currie, "Busty" Hodgson, and "Toothsome" Smith can be seen leaving for the seclusion of Lake Burton.

In a recent election, Dick Osgood was named rush chairman. This position takes on even more importance now since we must have new members to compensate for those going to the service. Many freshmen will enter Tech this summer, and we would certainly appreciate any recommendations for boys you know who plan to enter either this summer or next fall.—ED VAN WINKLE, JR.

Alpha-Mu Makes 1.725 Average

MASTELLER
Alpha
Duke University

THE Duke Chronicle recently released the scholarship averages of the 20 fraternities on campus. Chi Phi was third on the list with 1.725, nearly an over-all B average for the Brothers. Theta Chi led the list with 1.854, followed by ZBT with 1.750. The All-Men's average was 1.228. Alpha-Mu is proud of its scholarship standing at Duke as well as with the other Chi Phi chapters. We cannot attribute our high average to any single plan or program on the part of the scholarship committee. Rather, the scholarship responsibility is realized by all the Brothers, and each takes it upon himself to pull his own wagon.

Because of our limited budget, Alpha-Mu did not plan an extensive social calendar for the spring semester. We had our pledge banquet several weeks ago. We will have another social function in connection with Greek Week (beginning April 5), a stag party the next week end, and on April 21 our annual pre-dance party in connection with the Shoe 'n Slipper Club's presentation of Les Brown and his orchestra.

In June, Alpha-Mu will lose several Brothers through graduation: Blackburn, Masteller, Mauney, Rucks, and Van Skike. Also, we will lose Brother Hunter to the Army, and Brother Farmer to Medical School.

Guys and Gals Department: Brother Butler pinned Shirley Johnson of Atlanta, during spring vacation. Brother Murphy, Lancaster, Pa., is pinned to Jean Wilson. Our Alpha is engaged to Peggy Lane, Asheboro, and will be married there in the First Baptist Church on June 3.—RALPH BORNHEIM.

Alpha-Tau Pledges Are Freshmen

ROBERT BUNN
Alpha
University of Michigan

ALPHA-TAU of Michigan continued its active participation in Chi Phi when six members of The Chakett Club of Northwestern University were initiated the first week end of the spring semester here at Ann Arbor. The Alpha-Tau Chapter has been very interested in the progress of The Chakett Club and we wish these new Brothers—Bob Crawford, Gale Dettman, Bob Christopher, Jim Uthoff, Jim Zachary, and Bob Pugh—complete success in helping establish a new chapter at Northwestern.

Bob Bunn, the new Alpha of Alpha-Tau, has done an excellent job of managing the Chapter this semester, especially during these uncertain times. Bob succeeded Ed Grenkoski to the office of Alpha and we wish to acquaint our Brothers in the East with Ed. He dropped out of school this semester and signed to pitch for the New York Yankees. Ed worked out with the Yanks in Phoenix, Ariz., during spring practice and we hear he did quite well. We recently received a letter from Ed and he expressed hopes of being with Binghampton of the class "A" Eastern League this season. Ed was a second semester senior in Chemical Engineering and plans to be back next fall for his final semester to complete his course and be graduated before the 1952 baseball season opens. He led the Big Ten Conference in pitching during his junior year, the 1950 season, and, being a veteran, is given good chances to make the grade.

The Chapter expects to lose a great many Brothers this summer to the Armed Forces, but also expects to have our Chapter in full operation next year because of the large number of pledges, mostly freshmen, we acquired last fall and this semester. This semester, we again ranked among the best fraternities on the campus in rushing accomplishments. From one of the smallest groups of rushees in recent years, Chi Phi obtained eight pledges.

After a disastrous year in sports activities last year in which we placed 25th among the fraternities on campus, Alpha-Tau is happy to report that we are "back on our feet" with a solid sports program under the direction of Milt Goetz and now rank among the top 10 fraternities in the sports standings.

What was lacked athletically, however, Alpha-Tau made up socially. Neil Robertson as social chairman is continuing this Chapter's extensive social activity, taking the reins from Chuck Hamilton (U. S. Army) in a commendable fashion. He arranged an extensive social calendar for the spring semester with square, orchestra, barn, and record dances composing the bulk of our weekly parties. Also on the agenda are the Mothers' and Fathers' week ends, two week ends we are proud to have as part of our tradition in which all the Mothers and Fathers are invited down to Ann Arbor for a week end. They are given complete "run of the house," and an elaborate entertainment program is planned for them by the Brothers. The Mothers' House Party was instituted in 1931, and has been held annually ever since. The Fathers' week end was founded a few years ago quite successfully due to the great enthusiasm received from the Chi Phi Mothers for their party. We highly recommend this tradition to the other Chi Phi chapters.

The Alpha-Tau Chapter wishes to thank the Chi Phi Club of Detroit for the great party and good time they gave the Brothers this spring at their annual Alumni Dinner in Detroit.—DICK HELM-RICH.

Alpha-Chi Sees Trouble Ahead

HEISERMAN
Alpha
Ohio Wesleyan
University

ALPHA-CHI looks forward to the beginning of the 1951-52 school year with a definite feeling of apprehension. We are losing a sizable group of seniors; we shall probably lose a number of men to the draft as soon as school is out; and our pledge class is not up to normal size this year. All this, plus the fact that the University expects the number of men in next year's Freshman Class to be unusually small, means that we are going to be short of men. Various plans have been discussed at Wesleyan concerning the possibilities of regulating rushing next year so that the fraternities will become equalized or at least will get a definite and fair apportionment of men, but nothing has been decided definitely yet. In any case, it is imperative that we get as much aid as is possible from everyone in Chi Phi. If things are regulated so that we cannot get a large pledge class, at least we must take all steps possible to assure getting the best men available. A high-powered rushing program is more important this year than it has been for some years, and, as you all know, upon the success of the rush program depends the preservation of the life and vitality of any fraternity chapter.

Early in February we initiated seven men who have indeed supplied that spark of new spirit every fraternity hopes for in a class of new initiates.

Big things are under way around "The Oaks." At the time that this letter is being written, we are running three men in the current campus elections: Bud Brown for representative-at-large of the Student Body; Bob Spiller for Student Body treasurer, and Bill McDevitt for Sophomore Class president. Also in the fire are plans for the annual Alpha-Chi Spring Formal which takes place in May. If things go as planned, there will be no last minute rush in plans as is all too often the case. Wesley Harper was initiated into OAK, while Bob Spiller was elected to ΔΣΠ, national speech honorary.

Hewitt Heiserman was reelected to a second consecutive term as Alpha in January—a tribute to the really outstanding job that he did during the past term. Other officers elected were: Ralph Luchs, Beta; Bill Marshall, Gamma; Duane Anderson, Delta; and Winston Lora, Epsilon.

Again let us say that, with the co-operation of all who are Chi Phis, we may still solve the problems of rushing during the coming year. Lend us a hand, please.—JOHN E. STONE.

Alpha Delta Fares Well Currently

EDWIN B. CARPENTER
Alpha
Pennsylvania State College

DURING this semester the Chapter is under the leadership of the following officers: Edwin B. Carpenter, Alpha; James M. Jones, Beta; William J. Klisanin, Gamma; J. Richard Brown, Delta; William T. Figart, Epsilon; J. Richard Kauffman, Zeta. John J. Schulte is rushing chairman.

Although the present international situation has threatened the membership of many chapters, Alpha Delta was fortunate this semester in operating at full efficiency. The new pledge class, numbering 12, includes: Jim Spinneli, Bruce Kay, Dick McCartney, Sam Tippen, Mickey Kandra, Eugene Howard, Bill Hoffer, Jim Martin, Walt Wapple, Tom Farrel, and Dan Ferry. Two men, Sylvester Factor and Lynn McCaffrey, have been initiated into Brotherhood, and Richard Clark and Al Dame are to be initiated in the near future. In an effort to tie the pledges closer together, "Hell Week" was held during the third week of the semester. Once again the working and house repair portion was emphasized and many improvements were noted.

The social calendar so far has been limited to small weekend parties and entertainment of guest sororities. The AXΩs were entertained March 3 with square dancing, a variety of games, and refreshments. The pledge dance will be held on March 10 and, with warmer weather just around the corner, the yearly picnic at Black Moshanon State Park will accompany the College's spring dance, featuring Ray Anthony and his orchestra on April 7. To complete a full social calendar, a dinner dance is being planned for the month of May.

On the week end of Feb. 23, Alpha Delta was privileged to attend the Chi Phi Middle Atlantic Conference which brought together the officers of Rho, Zeta, Mu, Delta, Psi, and Alpha Delta Chapters at Lehigh University. The meeting, the first of its kind in this area, proved not only interesting but extremely helpful to those who attended. Judge L. Z. Rosser was present and was well pleased with the results achieved through discussions. Some topics covered included scholarship, alumni relationships, ritual and initiation, finances, house management, pledging, and pledge training. The Conference was instrumental not only in ironing out problems of the individual chapters, but served an even greater purpose of binding more closely together the ties of the different chapters present.

Because of unstable conditions in reference to man power, an intensive rushing program has been arranged. One of our most successful programs included an exchange dinner with ΘΧ and an informal after dinner talk by Bill Jeffry, head coach of the famous Penn State soccer team. In addition to several films of some of the current games, Bill gave helpful pointers about the game and told of his recent trip to the international soccer world series in South America. An added pleasure the same evening was the presence of Judge L. Z. Rosser, our National Director. The Judge found house affairs in good condition, but in a talk to the house members, he warned of the impending danger confronting all fraternities in securing a minimum number of men to operate their houses in the near future. Our situation looks favorable and we feel confident that we can meet this problem successfully. Much of the credit for solving this problem goes to our rushing chairman, John Schulte, and we are glad to take this opportunity to thank him for his efforts.—RICHARD KAUFFMAN.

Beta Delta Likes Alumni Dinner

DUANE L. CROSIER
Alpha
University of Washington

BROTHERS at Beta Delta have spent a busy but pleasant quarter in a series of social functions held to select five of the University of Washington's most beautiful coeds to represent us for the year 1951 as the Chi Phi Court of Honor. Under the able chairmanship of Brother Selvidge, who has just acquired a new khaki suit, our 4th annual Queen Contest was a terrific success. From 27 candidates representing both Greek and independent organizations on campus, five Princesses of the Court of Honor were selected at five Princess Dinners at which the girls were our guests. The five princesses were honored by the Chapter at an informal fireside at the house, a semi-formal reception, a tea at the beautiful new Student Union Building, and a luncheon and final dinner, both at the chapter house. Joanne Brown, ΑΦ, and her court of four princesses: DeLee Munson, ΧΩ; Jane Durland, Austin Hall; Nancy Smith, ΔΔΔ; and Jean Ross, ΚΑΘ, were installed at an impressive ceremony at the Coronation Ball held in Seattle's beautiful Rainbow Room on Feb. 3. Queen Joanne Brown received her crown of roses from Colleen White, Queen of the Chi Phi Court of Honor of 1950. Queen Joanne was presented with the following gifts by Alpha Duane Crosier: a Chi Phi Sweetheart Pin; a small personal trophy; a large perpetual trophy for her organization; a complete spring ensemble; a Coty cosmetic kit; three dozen roses; a colored photograph; dancing lessons; and a complete charm and modeling course. Although the contest requires a lot of time and effort, we at Beta Delta feel that we gain a great deal not only in campus prestige, but also in brotherhood spirit by working together on such a project. We sincerely hope that some of our Chapters will recognize the value of the contest and will ask for help in starting one. In addition to entertaining charming coeds in the Queen Contest, the Brothers have impressed many charming girls this quarter at exchanges with KKT, KAΘ, ΓΦΒ, and ZTA by presenting them with our traditional single rosebud corsages.

A new tradition has been established by our Alumni, which we feel will be very helpful in promoting Chi Phi spirit. Dick Taylor, Jerry Pendras, John Moran, Bob Kahler, and Dennis Rainey were the first group of new initiates to be honored by a number of our Alumni at a banquet at the College Club. Appropriate addresses by our Alumni welcoming them into our great Fraternity created a real feeling of brotherhood and awareness of their new responsibilities as members of Chi Phi.

Three new pledges have been selected by Beta Delta and are looking forward to initiation, with five others, the last week of March: Max Davis, a freshman majoring in engineering; Cal Bosch, a junior in journalism; and Doug Ossinger, a junior in business administration.

Brother Crosier was reelected Alpha in January; Brother Wanamaker, Beta; Brother Metheny, Gamma; Brother Kahler, Delta; and Brother Rainey, Epsilon. Brother Crosier, and the other officers are concentrating on the development of leadership among the younger men of the Chapter in order to prepare them to operate the Chapter and maintain its high standard and ideals even though the Chapter may be hit hard by the present international situation.—BON GOODFELLOW.

Gamma Delta Gives Hawaiian Party

JAMES P. PENN
Alpha
University of Minnesota

DESPITE the requirements of Uncle Sam's forces, we have had considerable success in increasing the chapter roll this quarter with the initiation of eight men. However, rushing is still the most important single activity of the Chapter.

Elections were held on Jan. 15. Jim Penn was elected Alpha to replace Fritz Frazier who graduates and enters service at the end of the winter quarter. Other officers elected were: John Vandercar, Beta; Arnie Vasenden, Gamma; Gordie MacNabb, Delta; Harry Solheim, Epsilon; and Fred Schutte, Zeta.

The winters here are not what could be considered tropical, so to get our minds off the ice and snow for awhile, an Hawaiian party was held at the chapter house on Jan. 27. The house was ornamented realistically with authentic Hawaiian decorations borrowed from a local airline. The Brothers were attired in aloha shirts and shorts, while their dates wore grass skirts, sarongs, or bathing suits. Not to be outdone by our Hawaiian shindig, although in a different tone, was our semi-formal Winter Dinner at the Commodore Hotel in St. Paul, Feb. 2. An Alumni dinner was held at the house on March 5. Present were some of our most distinguished Alumni. We are looking forward to our annual Orchid Formal which will take place again this year at the Minikahda Club, overlooking Lake Calhoun, and to our annual Founders' day dinner.—FRED SCHUTTE.

Delta Delta Sets Pledge Goal

CHARLES R. MANN, Alpha
UCLA

EIGHT pledges managed to endure the trials and tribulations of "Hell Week" with such good success that they were elevated from the pledge ranks to the active ranks of Chi Phi last semester: Ralph Broman, Ross Dodson, Lee Logan, Harry Kightlinger, Dick Nanula, Joe Polizzi, John Sugars, and Jerry Terreau. Special congratulations are in order for Ross Dodson who pinned ΣΚ's Ona Skinner. The pinning was celebrated with the traditional serenade for Ross and Ona.

New officers have been elected for this semester: Chuck Mann, Alpha; Ross Dodson, Beta; Harry Kightlinger, Delta; Joe Polizzi, Gamma; Lee Stegmiller, Epsilon; and Rod Mercado continues as Zeta.

Dan Eventov, rush chairman, and Dick Turnblade, pledge trainer, with the co-operation of the Delta Delta membership have recruited seven very promising pledges. Our goal for this semester is 15 pledges. At the rate we are now going, this goal should be reached very soon. Knowing how important it is to maintain a good looking house, the UCLA men are in the midst of a "house improvement" campaign. In a very short time, the house has installed new desks, tables, and wardrobe closets—all of which were built by the Delta Delta personnel. The newest acquisition in the house is a sheepskin (bearing the winning score of the UCLA vs. SC game) which was given to Delta Delta by the Eta Delta Chapter. This sheepskin gift was the result of a wager made between Eta Delta and Delta Delta at a pre-game party.

Besides the regular social events which are to take place this semester, Delta Delta has initiated a Parent-Alumni Tea; the UCLA Chapter, by request, has promised to repeat this event again during this semester.

Part of the work of this Chapter is to maintain records and contact with its Alumni. If you're an Alumnus of Delta Delta, please send us your address so that we can keep you up to date on our activities.

The scholarship program for last semester proved so successful that Chi Phi is now in the "Upper Ten" bracket scholastically. That's a jump of about 30 places from a year ago.—RODNEY M. MERCADO.

Epsilon Delta Dads Come for Week End

ELDON O. MERKLIN, Alpha
Oregon State College

WITH the beginning of winter term three new pledges moved into the house, Marvin Rossette and Ed Rolfness, both '54, and Buz Ditsworth '53. None of the pledges in the house last term made their grades. Starting the term out right we shifted our rushing program into high gear, pledging Jerry Kaluna '54 of Hawaii, and contacting many good men, five of whom we hope to pledge soon. There has also been another addition to the house, a 4-month-old cocker spaniel puppy mascot, which we fondly dubbed "Tiger." "Tiger" was given to the house by one of the married brothers.

As usual we entered the intramural sports program with a bang and emerged with a dull thud. Teams were entered in basketball, bowling, hand-ball, and table tennis.

Our basement party room is coming right along. Looking ahead to a rosy future we expect this room to be finished spring term and ready for use next fall. Our facilities will be greatly improved with the installation of some physical equipment, thus providing a place to let off some of our stored-up energy.

The fireside this term was attended by 15 men and their dates, not bad for a house of 23. For entertainment during intermission a movie of the Michigan State vs. Oregon State football game of the 1949 season was shown. To satisfy the women we also showed a short color-sound movie. The following week we had an exchange dinner with the AΘIIs. Eldon Merklin is engaged to an AΘII, and two other men are going over there quite regularly. This week end we are having our term house dance. The theme is "Pillow Slips," a pajama dance. We are having the dance this term since the Dean of Women is on the verge of outlawing pajama dances on the campus.

The week end of Feb. 16 was Dads' Week End on campus. We had 11 Dads visiting. They were treated to lunch and dinner and their sons took them to various activities held on the campus: a swim meet in which Dave Paine placed second in the 200-yard breaststroke, a wrestling match, and two basketball games.

Eta Delta Pledges Paint Three Rooms

JAMES A. SCHLEIMER, Alpha USC

THE new semester being only three weeks old, we at Eta Delta are nearing the end of the second official rush period of the school year. Due to the current national emergency the enrollment of men students at USC has fallen off greatly and to an even greater extent has the number of men joining fraternities been affected. With two weeks remaining in the official rushing period our pledge class already includes these six men: Perry Arnold, Ron Bradford, Jack Bailey, Bob Strickland, Keith Tibbets, and Dick Wooden.

At a formal initiation last February seven of last semester's pledges were welcomed into the Chapter: Dick Ball, Harry Christensen, Bob Clark, Ted Ducey, Dick Rex, Dick Sprenger, and John Van Dolah. Later in this same month C. Standlee Martin, a former member of Sigma Tau, one of the two local fraternities which merged to form Eta Delta of Chi Phi, was initiated at an initiation ceremony held at Roger Young Auditorium. This ceremony was attended by members of both the Eta Delta and Delta Delta Chapters as well as many Alumni.

Our bowling team won its third consecutive Interfraternity championship, winning a play-off against $\Phi\Sigma\K$ and $\tau\Delta\Phi$. The team was composed of Al Crawford, Hal Smith, Don Stone, Herb Suhr, and Jim Wright. In addition to bowling we have had a high degree of success in basketball and tennis, and, more recently, volley ball. As for social activities, last semester we held, in addition to our annual Winter Formal, many exchange parties. The calendar for the current semester which has been prepared by our new social chairman, Doug Tipton, includes a great many functions culminating in our annual Spring Formal.

Following a highly successful rummage sale held by our very active Mothers' Club, our living room furniture has been reupholstered and new draperies have been ordered. This newly-covered furniture harmonizes beautifully with the new paint in the living room. This room and two others were painted by the pledges during "Hell Week" in February. Also there has been recently added extensive woodwork remodelling for which we are greatly indebted to Bob Miles.

In an election held recently the following Brothers were elected to office: Jim Schleimer, Alpha; John Klug, Beta; Bob Beaudette, Gamma; Monte Catterlin, Delta; and Ted Ducey, Epsilon.—DON FOUTS.

Theta Delta Dines With Key Members

"NUMBER 1 in '51"—that's the motto of Theta Delta for the spring semester. Toward that goal our intramural teams are now engaged in a tight 3-cornered race with ZBT and $\tau\epsilon\Phi$ for first place. In January our veteran basketball quintet brought home the fourth basketball trophy in as many years. Alpha Jack Kimbrough and Hampton H. Stovall won berths on the all-campus first team. In February our keggers kept up the tradition by blasting a clean path to the league bowling championship, thus adding this year's third trophy to our growing collection. But this is just the beginning! Intramural Manager Blake McIlwain hopes to avenge last year's defeats in the finals of volley ball and water basketball and promises a strong showing in softball and golf.

The New Year has also brought some sad moments. Graduation ceremonies on Feb. 3 took two of our most outstanding Brothers: Robert Saults and Hampton H. Stovall. Also missing this semester are three members of the fall pledge class who were initiated prior to their departure for the armed services, William M. Haight, Orlando, and Harry B. Raulstone, Jr., Daytona Beach, were initiated on Jan. 14 and departed shortly thereafter—Brother Haight to the Navy and Brother Raulstone to the USAF. A special initiation was also held on Jan. 23 for Lyle P. McEwen, Jr., Miami, who is now also in the Navy.

An intensive rush program at the beginning of the second semester paid off with the addition of four excellent boys to our pledge class: Ned Nerry, St. Petersburg; John R. Hill, Jacksonville; William E. Mitchell, Boca Raton; and Herbie Sells, Miami. Pledge training this semester is under the capable direction of Darryl McCall, pledge master, and Jack Maxey, pledge dictator. The Chapter itself received six new brothers after the March 4 initiation of Julius Collins and John Clements, Avon Park;

Robert Burns, Orlando; Mac Henderson, Sarasota; Glen Sellers, Miami; and Frank Pound, Cocoa.

The spring social program has included guest speakers at the house, picnics, square dances, informal dances, and two all-campus functions: the ROTC Department's Military Ball featuring Tex Beneke on March 16-17, and the IFC's Spring Frolics on April 27-28. Bob Baker's gift of new curtains for the dining room has given a new and improved appearance to our Wednesday night candlelight dinners and may partially account (along with the arrival of spring) for the Brothers having more dates for these affairs.

A unique honor came to Theta Delta when we were privileged to have as our dinner guests on Feb. 28 two of the men who were instrumental in establishing this Chapter. I refer to James E. Chace of Phi, our Faculty Adviser, and Milton W. Brown of Alpha-Chi, who was Grand Beta of the Fraternity at the time Dr. Chace initiated correspondence between the Alpha Delta local (which was to become Theta Delta) and the Chi Phi Fraternity. Dr. Brown visited the Chapter in 1931 and became an honorary member of Theta Delta at its formal installation on Feb. 14-15, 1935. One of the prized possessions of the Chapter has been a beautiful landscape oil painting which Brother Brown presented to the Chapter. The reunion of the Chapter with these two key figures and the inspiring talk made by Brother Brown will long be remembered.—DOUG PRICE.

The Chakett Club Has Star Pledges

MAURER

THE major portion of the Chi Phi Colony's time during the past winter quarter was consumed with our petition to the Chi Phi Fraternity for admittance as a chartered chapter. In this work, the membership, both active and pledge, was very actively engaged. Subdivided into various committees, each of which was concerned with one particular section of the petition, the workers produced our petition with the utmost efficiency. Much gratitude is owed to Herb Rambos for his expert job of co-ordination and integration. In addition he handled all business angles. We are indeed proud of the resulting document.

We have, in the meantime, continued to hold numerous Club activities, on a regular basis. Every Thursday afternoon a song practice is held which serves a double duty. Not only does it aid in integrating the group by providing a regular meeting place for the members besides the regular Monday evening chapter meetings, but it also prepares us for the annual May Sing and contemplated serenades of several sororities. In addition, rush parties are held as often as possible in order to meet potential pledges. Being without a house, these parties are held at the homes of actives living in the vicinity of the campus. Recently the pledge class of 1950, composed of six men obtained during the week of formal rushing in the fall, was initiated by the Alpha-Tau Chapter. This pledge class is notable as the only class on campus to maintain a scholastic level over "C" and was the only one to have its complete roster initiated at one time. A dinner for the Committee on Expansion of the Chi Phi Fraternity was another of the highlights of the winter quarter.

Socially speaking, the Club regularly attends campus social functions as a group in addition to our own social affairs, which included a party for the Sigma Chapter on Nov. 25, on the evening following the Northwestern-Illinois game. Brother Hartel hosted at a New Year's Eve party at his home in Park Ridge. As a result, a goodly number of the Chi Phis were able to welcome in the New Year as a group. Our social future includes a formal to be held jointly with the ΘΔΧ chapter here at Northwestern.—WAYNE F. SIEWERT.

YOUR Balfour BADGE

A BEAUTIFUL SYMBOL OF FRIENDSHIP

Your pin is an emblem of fraternity—of lasting friendship and fellowship during your college days.

Fashioned of fine gold by the hands of Balfour craftsmen, your fraternity pin will always be a treasured symbol of your membership.

As your official jeweler, Balfour guarantees the highest quality, finest workmanship, and assures you of our sincere desire to please.

Official Chi Phi Flag

The official Chi Phi flag is made with large coat of arms in gold on a background divided equally with the left half blue and the right half red.

Cotton flags are designed for indoor use only. Wool bunting flags are used for all out-of-door flying. The recommended size for Chi Phi is 4'x6'.
