EXPANSION

is the most discussed topic in the Fraternity. Undergraduates and Alumni alike are very much in favor of it. But expansion is difficult without money and if CHI PHI wishes to expand you can greatly benefit this movement by paying your Chi Phi Alumni Dues. Those of you who wish to expand, please pay your Alumni Dues promptly.

Let's talk it over

IT is always difficult to write "Let's talk it over" for this issue of THE CHAKETT because it comes right after our Congress, which has been covered in detail in another article in this issue.

I want to take this opportunity to personally thank everyone connected with our recent Congress. All of the Grand Officers were present, and the two new members on the Council made a fine impression on the Fraternity. They are going to be a tower of strength. They are Brother James W. Moyer and Brother C. Moreland Thomas. It has been my pleasure and privilege to work with the other members of the Council for the last several years, and the Chi Phi Fraternity owes the entire Council a deep debt of gratitude for their devotion and forthright leadership. Your National Director also wishes to pay tribute to the undergraduate delegates who attended this Congress and the fine manner in which they approached all of the problems affecting the Fraternity.

At this Congress the Constitution was amended, and each Chapter has been officially notified of the change and sent a copy of the amendment. Your National Director is of the opinion that this amendment is going to be a big help to the Fraternity.

Your Grand Alpha has requested each of the zones in the Fraternity to conduct a Zone Meeting this year. Some of them have already set the time and place for holding these meetings. It will be the pleasure and privilege of the National Director to attend these meetings and visit each Chapter in the zone just prior to or just after the meeting. We hope each Chapter will take this matter seriously as the Council considers these meetings most important. The Chapters which have held Zone Meetings in the past have benefited greatly and all the delegates attending the meetings have carried away constructive ideas.

As most of the members of the Fraternity know, we initiated a very small number of men last year. The Council certainly hopes that this year you will initiate your normal quota of men, not overlooking any man on the campus who should be a Chi Phi. By the time you receive this magazine most of you will have completed your intensive rushing, but the Council feels that a year 'round program of rushing is essential to the wellbeing of every Chapter and we earnestly request that each Chapter conduct this sort of a program.

In the February issue of THE CHAKETT, you will find a story concerning a group at the University of Connecticut which has petitioned the Chi Phi Fraternity for a charter. This group uses the name of Beta Epsilon Rho, and your National Director and the Grand Alpha of the Fraternity have made a careful study of the group and unhesitatingly recommend it. Your Grand Alpha, Brother Gladfelter, is connected with the University of Connecticut and knows this local intimately. It was the privilege of your National Director to spend several days with this group last spring and he feels that the Fraternity would greatly benefit by having this local as a Chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

Last year every Chapter in the Fraternity was visited with the exception of three. I hope that this year the Chapters will have 100% visitations as I think the undergraduates want such visitations and I am convinced that it is beneficial to the Fraternity as a whole.

The question of expansion, of course, was discussed fully at Congress. As you know, we have a Commission on Expansion, appointed by the Grand Alpha. He is now in the midst of reorganizing this Commission, scattering its members so that the entire United States will have coverage on the Commission. Both he and the undergraduates feel that this will be a great help. A complete report will be made to each Chapter on this subject as soon as the Grand Alpha's plans can be affected. We want to assure the undergraduates that the Council is 100% in favor of expansion, and that we want and need the help of the undergraduates and the alumni groups.

A great deal has been said in this article about Congress, visitations, expansion, and the undergraduates, but never overlook the fact that the Alumni Groups, scattered throughout the United States in large cities where there are a good many Chi Phis, have remained active and interested, and that they are just as much Chi Phis as the undergraduates. They must be encouraged because whenever a Chapter is located close to an active Alumni Group we usually have a very fine Chapter. The National Director wants to visit these Alumni Groups at the same time he visits the Chapters whenever possible, and I would like for each Chapter and each Alumni Group to let me know when it would be most convenient to have a visit from me. If it is impossible for me to come at that time, I will try to arrange to have another member of the Council meet with you.

Each year our voluntary Chi Phi Alumni Dues have shown an increase. I have referred to this source of revenue many times as the life blood of the Fraternity. I still think that is correct. I hope every Chi Phi will be interested enough in his Fraternity to pay his Alumni Dues for the year 1956. What a grand and glorious year we would have if that was done. Our Chapters would prosper, our Alumni Groups would take more interest, our financial problems would be solved, and expansion could go forward without being handicapped by the lack of funds. Let me plead with you to take this request seriously and pay your Alumni Dues for 1956.

Respectfully submitted,

L. J. Rosser
National Director

1955 CONGRESS Sets Record

Mrs. Robert C. Tyler, wife of Bob Tyler, Iota '30, welcomed Grand Alpha Carl Gladfelter, left, William W. Jeckell, president of the Chi Phi Club of Columbus, and National Director Luther Z. Rosser to Congress at the Deshler-Hilton in September. Brother Gladfelter called the Fraternity "the most potent agency for shaping student life toward the achievement of the purpose of higher education"

IN 1935, at Richmond, Va., your National Director attended his first Congress in an official capacity as Grand Alpha of the Fraternity. He has attended every Congress since then and says unhesitatingly that the 1955 Congress at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Columbus, Ohio, is the best one he has ever attended so far as seriousness, devotion to duty, and the intelligent approach to all problems were concerned. This, of course, was a direct result of the fine group of delegates who attended this year's Congress.

Every member of the Council was present, including Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, the Scholarship Counselor. Under the leadership of Brother Carl J. Gladfelter, the Grand Alpha, the Council met on Wednesday morning, Sept. 7, and held a series of individual conferences with the delegates. This, in the opinion of the Council, was very helpful both to the Council and to the individual Chapters. Many problems were discussed at these informal conferences that could not have been discussed on the floor of the Congress, and much fine understanding grew out of these meetings. It is the intention of the Council to hold these conferences every year from now on. This series of meetings lasted until about 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, after which a meeting of the Council was held. This meeting lasted until about 5:30 P.M.

That night the Alpha-Chi Chapter put on a model initiation. When we use the word "model," it is used in its strictest sense. It was the type of initiation every Chapter should conduct every time a candidate is initiated. The Alpha-Chi Chapter did a very fine job, and we congratulate the members.

Immediately after the model initiation, the Chi Phi Club of Columbus entertained the delegates at a smoker. These smokers are traditional and are especially helpful because they enable everyone to get acquainted with everyone else. The smoker was held in the Hall of Mirrors.

The Congress convened the next morning, the first order of business being the election of the Epsilons of Congress. Brother Karl H. Leuffen, Zeta, and Brother Marshal E. O'Shields, Jr., Pi, were elected and did a magnificent job throughout the Congress. The Council takes this opportunity to congratulate them. Brother Russell L. Guin was elected Gamma of Congress and did his usual fine job. The Congress was then called upon to elect an Alpha of Congress and delegates made a wise choice in electing one of the most able Alphas who has ever presided over a Congress—Brother William W. Jeckell, Iota '34. He presided over the Congress, dispatching business with fairness, kindness, and great executive ability throughout the entire meeting. He also seemed to have a hand in everything else that went on during the three days the Congress was in session. Immediately after his election, he called on Brother Frank Loehnert, representing our hosts, to welcome the Brothers. Brother Loehnert's remarks were genuine and sincere. He outlined a most delightful program for the Congress, and his fine work throughout the Congress endeared him to all the Brothers. The balance of the morning session was taken up with routine matters such as the appointment of committees and the reports of the Grand Officers. The highlight of this session was the address of the Grand Alpha. He told in great detail of the work that has been done in the past year and of our hopes for the future. Everyone had the feeling that, under the able leadership of Brother Gladfelter, the Fraternity is in safe hands. He has the "know-how" and the vision that is so necessary.

The Zone Meetings and the various committee meetings were held on Thursday afternoon. That night our hosts, the Chi Phi Club of Columbus, arranged a most delightful stag dinner at the Maennerchor. Everyone had a wonderful time. The Council met again after the dinner that night and reviewed the work done by the Congress so far and made some plans for the future.

for Inspiration

Friday morning a great deal of routine business was disposed of. The examination in the written and the unwritten law was held under the leadership of Brother Gladfelter. Dr. Hunter, our Scholarship Counselor, made his report, awarding the scholarship plaque to the Psi Chapter at Lehigh University. We congratulate the Psi Chapter. The winning of this plaque is a great honor and represents a lot of hard work by all of the members of the Chapter. The Sparks Memorial Medals were awarded to the individual students from each Chapter having the highest grades during the year. A list of these Sparks Medal winners and their pictures appear elsewhere in this issue of THE CHAKETT. Congress unanimously reelected the Board of Governors of the Chi Phi Educational Trust at this session. Those reelected are Brothers Alfred H. Hutchison, Xi '09; L. Abbett Post, Mu '18; Eugene T. Benham, Iota '11; Theodore T. Miller, Beta '22; and Joseph A. Moore, Lambda '98.

The Friday afternoon session started with the question of some proposed amendments to the Con-

BE IT RESOLVED: That Article VI of the Constitution of the Chi Phi Fraternity be amended by striking and deleting therefrom Section 5 in its entirety and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

After you read the Congress story you will see that the success of the Congress was due to the undergraduate delegates. The names of these delegates and the Chapters they represent are hereby listed. The thanks of the whole Fraternity should go to this fine group of young men who demonstrated their leadership and devotion to the Fraternity by their constructive efforts at the 1955 Congress.

Acting on the inspiration of the man who leads the Institute today, it seems to me that you can pay him no greater tribute than to continue to support him in an even greater degree by the soliciting of funds to support this greater Case Institute of Technology now and into the future.

I urge you to become a task force to carry on the crusade to the industries of which you are a part and those with which you come in contact, soliciting contributions for the Institute's operating needs.

Your efforts will assure the operating income to pay for the outstanding kind of faculty that is needed to adequately meet the objectives of this growing Institute. The Problem of Expansion

by Carl H. Radfelter

FRATERNITIES in general and Chi Phi in particular have an obligation to review their policies as regards expansion in view of the impending large increase in college enrollments expected within the next few years.

For 20 years, if not longer, Chi Phi has stood by and watched the number of degree-granting institutions grow, and the college population soar, while its own chapter rolls remained about the same. This means that its relative position to all other fraternities has declined since the number of all fraternity chapters in existence has climbed steadily during this period at both the new as well as the old established schools.

One cannot help but wonder if we have not deprived a number of fine young men from being fraternity men, or is this not our responsibility? If the things that we feel a fraternity provides are beneficial and to be sought after, then why should they not be made available to the ever increasing number of men in universities and colleges? Had Chi Phi at least kept its relative position in relation to all men in school constant, we would have no reason to be critical of ourselves at this time.

The philosophy or attitude that lies behind this old pattern is in a sense immaterial to our thinking today.

Congress has made the Council increasingly aware of its interest in expansion. The Council has devoted considerable thought to the need for expansion and to facilitate a program of sane expansion has broadened the Expansion Committee under Victor Cullin by breaking the committee down on a regional basis, feeling that as opportunities present themselves, the zone committee men will be able to act more effectively, and, if necessary, quickly.

The problem of funds to facilitate chapter expansion has been a much discussed problem. The Council has finally reconciled itself to endeavor earnestly to increase the chapter roll by five to 10 chapters in the next 10 years, should good opportunities present themselves. Funds for this purpose are not available in any large amount out of present revenues. The Council had adopted a policy of waiting for the opportunities and then finding the funds. Some feel that more positive action would result if funds were raised to be used specifically for expansion purposes.

Regardless of the problems attendant on expansion, it is our feeling that most Alumni and undergraduate members will approve of the Council's decision to approach a problem which all fraternities must face in the next 10 years if we are going to continue to fulfill our chosen rôle on the college campus.

All Alumni will be interested in knowing that a local fraternity at the University of Connecticut petitioned Chi Phi in the spring of 1955. In accordance with the Constitution the various steps for affiliation are being met, and it appears as of this writing that this local will be installed in January or February of 1956. The Indiana University has requested Chi Phi to investigate the possibility of establishing a chapter. The Expansion Committee has the matter under consideration and would appreciate hearing from any Alumni interested in Indiana and its possibilities. Please contact Victor Cullin, Chairman of Commission on Expansion, c/o Chicago Title & Trust Co., 111 West Washington St., Chicago, Ill., or write the Chi Phi Office of Council.

IT is a great delight to me to be present at this dinner honoring President T. Keith Glennan. Both in my capacity as a trustee and in my capacity as an American business man, I want to be classed as a great admirer of Dr. Glennan.

Sometimes I feel that in the United States those men whose ideas and ideals, coupled with the capacity to bring about action implementing those ideas and ideals for the benefit of our country and our community, are not properly honored.

So I intend to take this opportunity, if any mere words can properly pay tribute, to commend to you, as I see him, the man, Keith Glennan. Here we have in one individual a man who made his mark and attained stature in our competitive enterprise system, a man who has renounced the wordly pot of gold to bring all his capabilities, that served him so well in business, into the field of education and into the pursuit of an ideal. From its very nature this pursuit

President T. Keith Glennan, Omicron '27, left, received congratulations on his leadership at Case Institute on May 19 when Alumni and trustees sponsored a testimonial dinner. Ray Livingstone is presenting $7,200,000 in pledges made in the Case Diamond Jubilee campaign.

(e) In the event any such petition favorably acted upon by the Council, the issuance of any charter pursuant thereto shall be deferred for a probationary period of ninety academic days thereafter, within which time it should be the responsibility of the National Director, through and with the assistance of such members of the fraternity as he may see fit to designate, to educate the members of the petitioning group in the traditions and history of the fraternity and to confirm their qualifications for membership in the fraternity.

(f) At the expiration of said probationary period, and upon the affirmative recommendation of the National Director that said group is, in his opinion, qualified for a charter as a chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity and that the individual members thereof who are not already members of the fraternity, merit and are qualified for, admission as a member of the fraternity, a charter may be issued by the Council of the fraternity to the members of said petitioning group and the members of said petitioning group may be initiated as members.

A Tribute to Dr. Glennan by WILLIAM S. RICHARDSON, President B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., in "The Case Alumnus" could bring him only limited monetary reward. He is much more interested in the inward satisfaction he would derive from building a greater institution dedicated to the preparation of men for the engineering profession, and the building of an institution that would strive to attain national and international stature.

And speaking of his career in business, I remind you that Dr. Glennan was not only operations manager and studio manager for Paramount Pictures in Hollywood from 1935 to 1941, and also studio manager for the Samuel Goldwyn Studios from 1941 to 1942, but that he was also an executive of General Aniline and Film Co. from 1945 to 1947.

I do not know just what his duties were at the Sam Goldwyn Studios, but I always suspected that he may have been the author of some of those famous Goldwynisms, such as the one where Sam, in a conference, is supposed to have said: "I'm willing to admit that I may not always be right—but I'm never wrong."

Our President may not always be right, but in all my contacts with Keith Glennan I have never known him to be wrong.

There is a gap in that chronicle that I cited which was filled by Dr. Glennan's service as director of the United States Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory at New London, Conn., from 1942 to 1945, a service of such great value to our Government that he was awarded the coveted Medal of Merit.

From the time that he was persuaded to undertake the presidency of Case in 1947, (interrupted only by the request of the President of the United States that he accept a great national honor as one of the members of the Atomic Energy Commission), he has pursued his course with great foresight and diligence. I have been told in circles far beyond this community of his great service to our country on that Atomic Energy Commission. All of us, I know, are cognizant of the tremendous burdens and tasks to which the Atomic Energy Commission is heir. It was a most challenging assignment to decide, with the other Commissioners, the course of the United States with respect to the program, policies, and procedures that would safeguard our national security as free people in the world in dealing with this awesome discovery of mankind. I doubt that any of us can comprehend the mental burden which such an assignment entailed, and the service which Keith Glennan rendered to all of us in his capacity as a Commissioner. For my part I should like to take this occasion, as an American citizen, to express my deep gratitude for the service rendered to me and to our country in this regard by Dr. Glennan.

Returning to Case from this tremendous task, the boundless energy of the man was directed toward the capital funds campaign for the building of a greater Case Institute of Technology. It was the spark within him that ignited this community, its industries, its people, and the Alumni to the contribution of a great amount of money to set in motion the construction programs for buildings and equipment, to lay the foundation for a greater Case Institute of Technology.

the manpower which gives it lift and strength. It is imperative that if Case is to rise in stature as a great institution of learning as visualized by this dauntless man that it be able to attract to its faculty and retain a most capable and learned group; a faculty who will gather unto themselves student disciples intent on partaking of the wisdom offered to them, later to go out into the highways and byways of industry and commerce, lending an ever greater luster to the Institute and to the man and to the men who paved the way for them.

I am sure that the faculty is also desirous that many of their students will qualify as teachers and leaders in the uncharted course of scientific research and in this fashion render continuing service to their fellow men.

Let me particularize a bit on this matter. I understand that Case has always had an excellent faculty but this does not mean that additional men of quality would not be welcome. In this instance I would suggest the importance of seeking out and bringing to our campus a few men of outstanding merit and reputation. Their presence would provide stimulus for the present faculty members and would further encourage the growth of full-time graduate study. The resulting enhancement of our reputation as an institution of highest quality in education and research would assist in bringing to our campus a large number of highly qualified candidates for the undergraduate school—the backbone of our educational operation. This is a cycle that is possible of accomplishment and the financial and other conditions necessary to its accomplishment must be provided.

Gathered in this room are many of the Alumni of Case. To them I say that your job is not yet finished. Acting on the inspiration of the man who leads the Institute today, it seems to me that you can pay him no greater tribute than to continue to support him in an even greater degree by the soliciting of funds to support this greater Case Institute of Technology now and into the future.

I urge you to become a task force to carry on the crusade to the industries of which you are a part and those with which you come in contact, soliciting contributions for the Institute's operating needs.

Your efforts will assure the operating income to pay for the outstanding kind of faculty that is needed to adequately meet the objectives of this growing Institute. Hope alone will not bring this about. Money is needed. You and I both know that the privately endowed institutions of learning are having a difficult time in keeping up with the cost of the great services that they perform. The profession of teaching must reward to the point of satisfaction the capable men that it hopes to attract, and I believe that it is our duty as Americans as well as Alumni to actively do something about it.

The privately endowed institutions in this country, arm-in-arm with the tax-supported institutions, face the competition of the Soviet Union's educational program. Russia claims to have 900 institutions of higher education, with enrollment, including polytechnical institutes and correspondence schools, of one and one-half million students in 1954.

Our country needs more and more and better engineers as it never needed them before to keep up with the dynamic growth of our country in competition with other nations of the world.

Estimates vary as to the exact amount of the shortage of engineers today, but there is no doubt that a great shortage exists. If the need for engineers, military and civilian, in 1955 is, as estimated by the Engineering Manpower Commission, between 45,000 and 70,000, the 23,000 or 24,000 engineering graduates this year will fall far short of meeting our nation's requirements.

If the report that 50,000 engineers will graduate in the Soviet Union this year is true, or even near true, our country faces a serious situation indeed.

Donald A. Quarles, assistant secretary of defense, (named Secretary of Air Force in August) has warned that "the critical shortage of engineers and scientists in America is potentially a greater threat to national security than are any weapons known to be in the arsenals of aggressor nations."

It is upon engineers such as Case develops that we must depend for the steady advances in technology that have increased our productivity, raised our living standards and made America a great country.

Our progress depends upon men, not just upon the machines these men develop. I have a distinct distaste for that word "automation" that is being tossed about so casually today. It carries unhappy connotations. Automation is not as automatic as the word implies. Generally what we consider to be automation is but the application of men's minds to improvements in our standards of living.

Machines are conceived by men. They are built by men, directed by men, operated by men, and utilized by men to better their lives.

It is the aim at Case to develop the kind of technically trained men who will be leaders in easing man's burdens and bettering his lot in life.

I am particularly happy to be associated with Case Institute of Technology, its fine leader, Dr. Glennan, and the other trustees who give so much of their time and effort in assisting to chart the future growth of Case. While it is an engineering school, and its prime objective is to prepare a man for life in one or more branches of the engineering profession, it also has introduced into its curriculum a program to develop the thought and consciousness that while we are preparing to be engineers we must also prepare to be good Americans.

That means that we must have a comprehension of what has made our country great—its basic and fundamental freedoms—and appreciation of the great worth of the competitive enterprise system to our industrial might so that when men leave its portals, they are prepared, not only to put their genius to work in the development of better standards of living, but also to perpetuate the tenets of freedom which we have inherited.

I have no doubt that as long as Case Institute has the tools and the faculty and maintains the ideals that I have mentioned, and with the continuing sparkling leadership of Dr. Keith Glennan that the objectives of a greater Case Institute of Technology, growing ever bigger and more effective in our country, will be achieved. You are fortunate indeed to have such a high caliber of executive leadership.

I consider it a privilege to have been allowed to pay my tribute on this occasion to Dr. Glennan and my high respect to the Alumni of Case Institute, both those present and future. By their deeds shall you know them.

FOLKS came to browse at the Cathedral Bookshop open house Tuesday. But they ended up buying shelves full of religious books and Christmas cards.

What's more, customers found the surroundings so pleasant and attractive, they even lingered to chat with the smiling volunteer clerks. They talked about everything from the revised standard Bible to Why Johnnie Can't Read.

The store, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip, moved recently from its small, cramped quarters into a shop in DeOvies Hall, designed especially for its purpose.

The church store was founded by the late Bishop John B. Walthour, Xi '26, who urged the auxiliary members to sponsor an Episcopal library. It was his dream to see one established which would serve the membership of the entire diocese. From the sale of good religious books and materials, he hoped to see a library emerge which would make such works readily available to all the clergy and laity.

"We only had $100 to start with," says Mrs. William McClain, bookstore chairman. "But members of St. Rhoda's chapter of the auxiliary who began this project have worked very hard to make this store possible.

"It has grown from its humble beginning into a business of many thousands of dollars. It has fulfilled its purpose beyond all expectations."

The library, with every conceivable book on religion, is called the John B. Walthour Memorial Library in honor of its founder. All of the late Bishop's books have been donated to the library by his wife.

The bookstore's shelves contain many beautifully illustrated volumes on religious art; a complete line of Episcopal prayer books and devotionals; an excellent selection of children's books on religious subjects, and also a fine array for teen-agers which, according to Mrs. McClain, are difficult to find.

Also notable among the interesting volumes is every phase of teaching material for ALL denominations.

The bookstore, in addition to serving the entire diocese—from Rome to Fort Valley—also sends books, cards, and religious gifts to customers as far away as Texas and Maine. All earnings go back into suitable books for the library.

The services are now so important that it ceases to be an exclusive project of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip. With its enlarged quarters, the aid of volunteers from other churches in the Atlanta area, will be enlisted. —MARGARET TURNER in Atlanta Constitution.

In Appreciation and Recognition

by JOHN A. HALLOCK, Alpha of Beta Delta

BROTHER SCOTTY LAUE, Beta Delta '23, was presented personally with the plaque he had been awarded at the 1955 Congress on Monday evening, Oct. 3, at a joint Alumni-Active dinner. It had been accepted in his behalf by the Beta Delta delegates at Columbus. Behind the Council's selection of Brother Laue as the most outstanding Chi Phi in the nation, is their knowledge of the great job done by him in bringing back to life the Beta Delta Chapter at the University of Washington. The inscription on the plaque reads "... in appreciation and recognition of services to his Fraternity." Let us turn back the pages of time and rebuild Beta Delta in such a manner that the word "services" will live again and so that we may give credit to a few of the many who worked with Brother Laue.

With the acquisition of a house late in 1953, Chi Phi at the University of Washington came again into being. Informal rushing was carried on, but without outstanding results until late in 1954 when a group of Korean veterans was contacted who were all interested in fraternal life and who desired to pledge and help build Beta Delta into a strong Chapter. During this time Daril Hahn was Alpha and to him fell the duty of pledge instruction to a class of 14. Twelve of this pledge class were initiated in the spring of 1955 with election of officers immediately following. With this nucleus living in the chapter house as a Fraternity, Beta Delta was able to pledge gradually through informal rushing for the balance of the year. Throughout this continuous growth the shadow of Brother Laue was always present in Beta Delta and very often he was present to guide and counsel the Chapter. The members of Beta Delta know how much work Brother Laue has put into the Fraternity and we were all overjoyed to hear that he had won the award as the outstanding Chi Phi. The future of Beta

Scotty Laue, Beta Delta '23, holds the rank of brigadier general in the Marine Corps. He retired on June 1, 1955

Delta is now in the hands of the active Chapter—hands that are willing to work and learn.

As we moved through the spring of 1955, numerous meetings were held between the Alumni and chapter officers to formulate plans for rush this fall and to produce new living quarters for the expanding group. After several leads that proved unsatisfactory, Scotty Laue, Carl Scheuch, and Lew Kelley heard of a house that would possibly be vacated in the summer. A delegation of actives composed of Daril Hahn, John Hallock, and Bob Follis visited the property to ascertain the feasibility of using it for a chapter house. The active group found the house entirely satisfactory and reported their findings to the Alumni officers. Brothers Laue, Scheuch, Kelley, and Berglund then made a complete survey of the property, contacted the owner, arranged for a conference with him, and leased the present chapter house at 4733 17th N.E. for two years.

During the summer vacation months the move was completed to the new house and the available members redecorated the main section of the house and prepared one section for a chapter room.

The members on hand at the beginning of the school year include the actives: John Hallock, Alpha; Bob Follis, Beta; Ray Marik, Gamma; Wally Gonser, Delta; Floyd

Bruce Berglund, right, looks on as John Hallock, Alpha of Beta Delta, presents Chi Phi's award for outstanding fraternity service to Brother Laue

Hodges, Epsilon; Daril Hahn, Zeta; Joe Mentor, Jim Bond, Ken Wise, Steve Overstreet, Wayne Ingalls, Don Daniels, Fred Johnson, Harlan Olson. Pledges from spring include Gordy Young, Roy Elford, and Ron Kerslake. At the end of rush season we had a pledge class of eight men, five of whom were new: John Pomeroy, Seattle; John Wolf, Packinack Lake, N. J.; John Freitag, Cathlamet; and Louis Mentor and Paul Vinning from Bremerton.

Informal rushing is being done to quite an extent as the members get back into their classes and make contacts. All are aware of the necessity of filling the house and are continually working to make this a reality. A considerable amount of attention is being focused by Beta Delta on attaining the scholastic and social position which it once enjoyed on the campus. Rules governing study and conduct have been set up and are enforced. Our social calendar includes many functions, both dances and exchanges, and is designed to get us "back on campus."

Ken Wise, Beta Delta '52, and his father, Bob, Beta Delta '21, were among Brothers who paid honor to Scotty Laue

Beta Delta is also continuing relations with other Chapters, starting with an invitation to Epsilon Delta at Oregon State College to make this Chapter their home during the OSC-Washington Football Game. Several of the Brothers from Epsilon Delta have professed the desire to visit and we have scheduled a dance for that night.

Homecoming comes Nov. 19, and we hope to see many new faces from the Alumni group at that time.

OMICRON

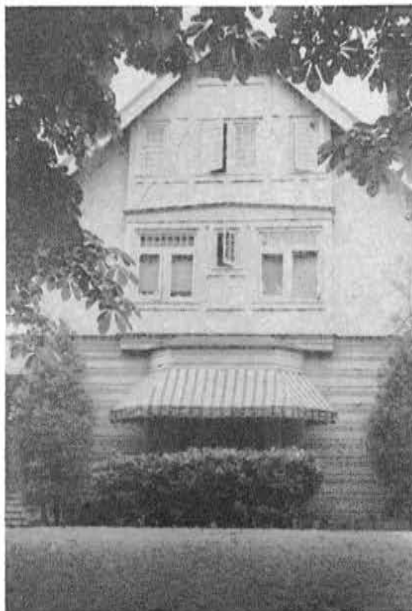

Brother and Mrs. Thomas W. Connally '49 announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Townsend, on Mar. 27.

Nu's House is on Drawing Board

AS previously reported, the campaign for a home for Nu ended last spring—successfully. Some of the men in the active Chapter right away were wondering if the house would be ready to occupy by the opening of school in the fall! Later they were wondering if it would be started by the opening of school. Now they realize that the planning and building of a chapter house takes time—lots of it.

The lot has been bought and is paid for in full. It has many virtues, and one fault. The Administration has ruled that freshmen may not have a car, effective this fall, and that neither freshmen nor sophomores may have a car beginning with the session of 1956-57. The lot is a long walk from the campus. But there ought not to be much trouble in arranging car pools for just about any hour of the day. The ΣN house is almost next door; KA is across the street; and ΔY is a little further along on plans for their house next door than we are. We just need to keep on amicable terms with the neighbors.

The lot is beautifully located on the bluff at the intersection of Leon and West 26th Streets. It fronts 120 feet on Leon and 60 feet on 26th. There is a permanently uninterrupted view to the west and the north. It offers a challenge to an architect, and the building committee believes that the firm of architects now planning the house is more than able to meet the challenge.

Beta Delta Chapter is housed in this comfortable house

The selection of an architect was no easy task. In the first place it seemed that every firm had someone who was either an in-law, the brother of a member, or a member of the Fraternity. There were a lot of possibilities of hurt feelings over any selection which might be made. W. G. Swenson arranged a series of conferences at his office between representatives of the building committee and of carefully selected firms. There was general agreement at the end that any one of the firms could do an outstanding job. It was probably more difficult to make a choice than if the conferences had not been held. Some days later, though, the committee met in Houston and did make a choice. The firm selected, Fehr and Granger of Austin, has a long record of outstanding work. It has just received an award for excellence of design of one of its buildings by a jury acting under the auspices of the state fair in Dallas. A strong recommendation in its favor was the fact that it was designing the ΔY house next door.

At the time of this writing Mr. Granger (incidentally he is the brother-in-law of Donald James, a Chi Phi from Beta Chapter), who is actively in charge of the project, is getting down the specifications preparatory to a session at the drawing board. The elevations and floor plans ought to be coming out soon, and the house will be ready by the opening of the next school year.

Three Beta Delta Judges Serve Seattle

BETA DELTA Chapter is very proud of the fact that 3 of its members are serving as Judges on the bench in Seattle where their work has been eminently satisfactory

Justice of the Peace William Hoar was born in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; he graduated from the University of Nebraska Law School in 1907, and was admitted to the bar the same year both in Nebraska and Washington. He has served on the bench for 35 years. During the first World War, he served as an officer in France for 22 months. He belongs to $\Phi\Delta\Phi$, law fraternity, the Eagles, York Right Masons and the Shrine, and Modern Woodmen of America.

Judge Frank D. James was born in Seattle, Wash., on the 25th day of November, 1907, and was graduated from the University of Washington Law School, had post-graduate study in Military Government and International Law at Princeton University, and was admitted to the bar in 1930. He has been a very active and popular member of many organizations. He is secretary of the Seattle Civic Unity Committee, Medina Children's Service director, director of the YMCA Adult Education School, life member of the Lions Club, a director of the College Club of Seattle, at one time Commodore of the Seattle Yacht Club, and a member of various other organizations, and church circles. In World War II, he served as lieutenant commander in the United States Navy, South Pacific Area, and with the military government in Korea. For a time he served as acting Municipal Judge before his appointment to the Superior Court of the State of Washington for King County. His work on the bench has been outstanding.

Judge George H. Revelle, Jr., was born in Seattle on March 28, 1913. He attended St. John's Military Academy at Delafield, Wis., graduated from the University of Washington Law School, and was admitted to the practice of law in 1936, following in the footsteps of his father who practiced law in Seattle for many years. He served in World War II in Sicily, Africa, and Italy, rising from lieutenant to lieutenant colonel in the infantry. He has been prominent in the civic life of the community. He was appointed by the Governor as chairman of the Washington State Board against Discrimination in Employment, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Civic Unity Committee, a member of the Board of Directors of the Northwest Branch of American Assn. of the United Nations, past president of the Young Men's Republican Club of King County, a member of the Seattle Junior Chamber of Commerce from 1936 to 1941, an officer of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Boy Scouts of America, Woodmen of the World, and numerous other organizations. He served for a time as Acting Municipal Judge and was appointed to the Superior Court Bench by the Governor which proved to be a very popular selection among the lawyers of Seattle, both for his unflinching courtesy to them and because of his ability as a Judge.

RUSHING BLUEPRINT FOR SUCCESS

by BILL MORGAN, Rush Chairman

Gamma Chapter, Emory University

THIS summer, in an effort to strengthen our Chi Phi rushing program in all parts of the State of Georgia, the Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Assn. agreed to finance a tour of the state in which representatives from the Chapters at Georgia Tech, the University of Georgia, and Emory would entertain rushees with the help of the Alumni in the various towns. Several preliminary meetings were held during the spring and early summer to schedule our itinerary and plan the parties for each town in which we would stop. We decided to visit Rome, LaGrange, Columbus, Albany, Waycross, Brunswick, Savannah, and Augusta. With advice from C. Baxter Jones, Jr., and other Atlanta Alumni, we contacted certain men in each of these towns and worked with them in organizing a party on the day that we would be there. After much communication by telephone, telegraph, and the U. S. mail, our plans were completed and our group left Atlanta on Aug. 19 bound for Rome, fortified by $200 from the Atlanta Alumni Assn. The active members on the tour were Bert Crane of the University of Georgia, Roy McCrorey of Georgia Tech, and Mickey Standard and me from Emory.

ROME PARTY

August 22, 1955

In Rome we entertained approximately 14 rushees from the Rome area which included the towns of Dalton, Carrollton, Bremen, and Cedartown. R. D. Harvey, Omega '21, gave us a barbecue at the American Legion Hall in Lindale. There were approximately 15 Chi Phi Alumni at this gathering, such as Dr. William Harbin, Dr. Tom Harbin, William Betts of Lindale, and Bernard Neal of Rome. This was one of our most successful parties. The rushees seemed to be top-notch boys and the Alumni group seemed to be very interested in any help they could give us later on during rush week. The following day we left Rome on our way to LaGrange and stopped in the towns of Newnan and Bremen on the way down and contacted several other rushees who were unable to attend either the party in Rome or the party in LaGrange.

LAGRANGE PARTY

August 23, 1955

Charles Allen, Gamma '30, arranged for us to have a party at Ida Cason Gardens near LaGrange and chartered Cleopatra's Barge for the occasion. We entertained approximately 25 boys who are planning to attend the three schools and the party was highly successful. There seem to be a great many boys who are Chi Phi material from this area coming to Georgia and Tech especially next year, and it is my hope that we will pledge several of them. At this party about 18 Brothers from the Emory and the University of Georgia Chapters came down and joined in the festivities. We departed the next morning for Columbus, where we had a party scheduled for that night.

COLUMBUS PARTY

August 24, 1955

The party in Columbus was held at the home of Mickey Standard's aunt. Several Chi Phi Alumni from Columbus dropped by during the evening to meet us and to meet the rushees. Among these were Dr. Earl Taylor, Lawrence Petri, and Forman Dismukes. We entertained approximately 10 rushees, most of whom were planning to attend Emory. These boys seemed to be from the leading families in Columbus and would be excellent material for the Emory Chapter.

ALBANY PARTY

August 25, 1955

Richard Harper, an active Brother from Georgia Tech, planned a party for us at Radium Springs. We had approximately seven boys for dinner, most of whom were planning to attend Georgia Tech and Emory. John King, one of the Gamma Brothers, brought two fine prospects from Cairo with him to this party. After dinner we took the boys back into Albany for the rest of the evening.

WAYCROSS PARTY

August 26, 1955

Under the leadership of John Shields, Gamma '30, a party was organized at the Waycross Golf Club. We met an excellent group of boys who are planning to attend Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Emory. Among the Alumni who were at this gathering were: Burwell Nolan, Dan Lott, Jr., and several others. The Alumni group in Waycross seems to be extremely interested in doing something about pledging some of the better boys from that area. I believe they will be of great help to us in the years to come. That evening we left Waycross and drove to St. Simons where we entertained two boys who are planning to attend Emory next year at dinner.

SAVANNAH PARTY

August 27, 1955

Our large group of Chi Phi Brothers in Savannah planned a party for us at the Savannah Yacht Club. Hot shrimp and cold beer were served to approximately 30 prospects, most of whom were planning to attend the three schools in Georgia. This was one of our most successful parties and there seem to be a great many boys who would be Chi Phi material from this area who are planning to attend the University of Georgia next year.

AUGUSTA PARTY

August 28, 1955

Dr. P. A. Mulherin and Dr. Thomas Goodwin planned a dinner party for us at the Augusta Country Club. Approximately 15 rushees, most of whom were planning to attend Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia, were present. About 10 of the Chi Phi Alumni in Augusta attended this gathering.

Summary

I believe that the tour this year was a great success and achieved its purpose. We met approximately 200 boys who were planning to attend one of the three schools and strengthened the Alumni interest in the various towns that we visited. I believe that this tour will give us a head-start on some of our rival fraternities on various campuses. Financially the tour was also successful—we came back with a small amount of change in our pockets. We were able to stay with Chi Phi Brothers and Alumni in most of the towns and also did not have to purchase many meals. The bulk of our expenses consisted merely of gasoline and oil costs.

There are however a few suggestions I should like to make for the group who plan the tour next year: (1) Start early in your planning. Try to get your parties planned by the early part of the summer. Try to invite the rushees at least two weeks before the time the party is scheduled. (2) Plan the itinerary so that there will be plenty of time to stop to see boys between the towns that you are visiting. On the tour this summer quite frequently we were pressed for time and were not able to see many boys that we would have liked to visit. (3) Send the Alumni in the towns where the parties are scheduled a complete list of all rushees from that area and let them weed out the less desirable ones. (4) I believe the tour next year should include a party in Macon and perhaps in Milledgeville. This year's tour did not include a party in the central part of the state and we missed many boys whom we would have liked to have seen. (5) I believe it would be advantageous if next year the tour could include a trip into northern Florida. There are many boys who attend Emory, Georgia Tech, and the University of Georgia

Chi Phi in Northwest is Growing

BETA DELTA'S Founders' Day banquet climaxed the very successful term of Alumnus President Scotty Laue. Scotty was instrumental in reestablishing the University of Washington Chapter, and with 14 active members and 11 pledges starting school this fall and an improved physical plant Beta Delta is here to stay. The new Alumni President Bruce Berglund was elected with the idea of organizing the younger Alumni. He was in the fraternity house four years and graduated from the University of Washington in 1951, from the School of Economics, only to utilize his talents for two years in the Army. He is presently a social worker with the Washington State Department of Public Assistance. Bruce is a bachelor.

The three new board members are Ken Ludwick '50, Lewis Oien '49, and Dave Metheney '51, who are all comparatively recent graduates. Ken was one of the members who reactivated the Chapter in 1946. He served in Korea between 1951 and 1954 as the commanding officer of a car company and returned to the University of Washington to get his teaching certificate. Dave also interrupted his schooling to help his Uncle in Korea, but has now returned to get his Master's in business. Lewis Oien entered the University of Washington in 1947. He is purchasing agent for Fiberglass Eng. & Supply. The seven remaining board members are: Bruce Berglund, Dick Smith, Lew Kelley, Weldon Beeler, Bob Nicholas, Jerry Youatt, Douglas McConahay, and Ewart S. Laue—ex-officio member of Board.

Bruce is the only native of Washington among the officers. He was born in Seattle on Aug. 15, 1928. He received his elementary education in the city and graduated from West Seattle High School. Dick Smith is vice president. He was born in Portland, Mich., on Nov. 30, 1906. His family moved to Washington and settled in the Puyallup Valley. He was valedictorian of his class in Sumner High School. He received a B.A. degree at the University of Washington in 1930. He is treasurer of the Seattle Gas Co. Married, he has one son. Lewis P. Kelley, secretary-treasurer, was born in Lawrence, Mass., on Nov. 29, 1899. He and his parents moved to Walla Walla in 1905 from Derry, N. H. He received his elementary and high school education in Walla Walla and then attended Oregon State College for two years. He received his degree in business at the University of Washington in 1925. He is state manager of the National Automobile and Casualty Insurance Co. He is married and has two children.

The Alumni Association meets once a month and publishes a quarterly news bulletin. There are social gatherings every other month. Don Dodge and Dave Metheney are obtaining up-to-date addresses of all Alumni in the Northwest and Bob Nicholas is in charge of contacting members for the monthly meetings and social events. Rosemary Oien, Wives' Club president, helps plan social events for the Alumni and active Chapter. She is presently helping the active Chapter with rushing parties.

Foundation Head

HENRY S. KINGMAN, Phi '15, was reelected president of the Minneapolis Foundation. Funds administered by the Foundation reached $3,219,046 on Mar. 31, the highest total in the 40-year history of the fund. Money is derived from bequests and gifts for charitable purposes. The Foundation disbursed $139,909 to local agencies during 1954.

Atlanta Alumni Review Rushing

THE fall, 1955, meeting of the Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Assn. was held on Sept. 22 at The Capital City Club in Atlanta. The attendance was average, some 40 to 50 Brothers being present. A great deal of interest was manifested both in the past rushing programs and in proposals for improvements and changes.

As the Brothers entered the meeting room mimeographed pamphlets were distributed, which summarized recent rushing efforts made during the summer months throughout the state. The meeting was duly called to order by Baxter Jones who presently delivered a most enlightening president's report, enthusiastically received by the membership.

A brief oral report was given by the representatives of the three active Chapters of Chi Phi in Georgia. The various problems confronting the individual Chapters were presented, discussed, and proposed solutions were offered, most of which called for increasing efforts and interest on the part of the Alumni, and especially for concerted efforts by Alumni groups. The report from Eta was given by Richard Trotter who recently graduated from the University of Georgia. Spokesman for Omega was Jim Robinson, III, Atlanta, and Gamma was represented by Jim White who recently returned from active duty with the U. S. Navy.

After dispensing with rushing matters Bob Troutman, Jr., as chairman of the Nominating Committee, was asked to reveal the committee's nominations for officers for the coming year. This committee is composed of Brothers Troutman, Bates Block, and Dick Simms, Jr. After a word of praise for the diligent service of the retiring administration consisting of Baxter Jones, president; Alex Smith, Jr., vice president; Henry Troutman, Jr., secretary; and Dick Simms, Jr., treasurer, Brother Troutman nominated the following officers for 1955-1956: president, Henry Troutman, Jr.; vice president, Dick Simms, Jr.; secretary, Charles F. Barnwell; and treasurer, John W. Grant, III. After a brief discussion the proposed officers were accepted unanimously.

The floor was opened for new business and a proposal for a new senior rushing committee was put forth. President-elect Troutman favored such a proposal and requested time to consider the appointment of such a committee.

After discussion of other details the meeting was closed. Most of the Brothers remained after the meeting for awhile to socialize.

Col. Doug Gardiner, Lambda '39, presently with the Atlanta General Depot, Conley, Ga., who is from Berkeley, Cal., visited the meeting.—CHARLES F. BARNWELL.

Chi Phis Sail on NROTC Summer Cruises

MORE than 1,300 midshipmen of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps from 52 colleges and universities were embarked in 13 ships of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet and left Norfolk July 18, to begin the third summer practice cruise for midshipmen in 1955. Other practice cruises departed Norfolk June 6 and July 11.

Commanded by Rear Admiral E. R. McLean, Jr., USN, Commander Cruiser Division Two, as Commander Midshipman Cruise "Charlie," the task force is made up of two cruisers, four destroyers, three destroyer escorts, and three high speed transport vessels.

Headed by the flagship USS "Roanoke," the task group underwent six weeks of intensive underway training. The practice cruises are the major operational training phase of undergraduate naval education. They provide sea experience to round out professional studies and to introduce midshipmen to life aboard a man-of-war, with the main characteristic—"learning by doing."

Each midshipman, integrated into the ship's battle organization, becomes a member of a closely coordinated team. In addition to his permanent battle station assignment, he is also assigned to various stations and watches under instruction, as he rotates through the three phases devoted to operations, engineering, and gunnery. The cruise affords actual junior officer training for the midshipmen first class who will be commissioned officers after graduation from college in June, 1956.

Other ships, in company with the cruiser "Roanoke" on the third 1955 cruise were the cruiser "Newport News," Destroyer Division 341, composed of the "Heerman," "Hazelwood," "C. J. Badger," and "Stockham," three destroyer escorts, the "J. D. Blackwood," "Greenwood," and "M. J. Manuel," and three high speed transport vessels, the "Burdo," "Carpellotti," and "Kleinsmith." The oiler "Pawcatuck" provided logistic support for the task group.

The training cruise was conducted in Western Atlantic and Caribbean waters. The following ports were visited: Colon, Panama, July 25-29; Havana, Cuba, Aug. 5-9 and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Aug. 18-22.

While in the Caribbean gunnery practice area, in the waters around the Navy's base at Guantanamo Bay, midshipmen received instruction and engaged in simulated anti-aircraft drills, battle problems, and shore bombardment exercises.

Midshipmen were typical American tourists during visits to Colon and Havana, and extensive recreation and sports activities were planned during the four days ashore at Guantanamo. Returning to Norfolk, they disembarked upon arrival, Aug. 26.

Top: J. L. Reese, Omega '55, and P. S. Kamm, Eta Delta '54, were on the "Blackwood;" J. D. Hallett, Alpha-Alpha '56, was on the "Burdo;" D. M. Orth, Theta '56, met C. B. Hughes Spalding:

WHEN I was asked by the editor to prepare this article, I asked quite a number of officers of the University and leading alumni this question: "Whom do you regard as the greatest living alumnus of the University, from the point of view of his fundamental service to the University?" The immediate reply has always been "Hughes Spalding." In this judgment I concur.

Any effort to relate in detail the numerous ways in which Spalding has been a wheel horse in the affairs of the University runs into the road block of space limitation. I have decided to devote my space to three of his most important services.

Reorganization of the Law School

The first, chronologically, was his leadership in the reorganization of the Law School in the late '20s. The movement began at the 1927 meeting of the Alumni Society. The then president of the Society, Judge William H. Barrett, had a resolution introduced, pledging the Society to raise funds for a commodious building for the school, upon certain conditions. These were that the Law School should be promptly reorganized, that its head should be a trained and experienced legal educator, that he should arrange the curriculum in a way to make the school eligible for rating as a first class law school. The Trustees of the University cooperated fully with the Alumni Society. They named a committee with Hughes Spalding as Chairman, and, among others, Harrison Jones. A subcommittee, called the Building Committee, was also appointed, with Harrison Jones as Chairman, and Spalding and the Dean of the Law School as the other two. Spalding's committee proceeded to take subscriptions, and at the 1929 meeting of the Society reported that $80,000 had been raised. The Society said that the conditions laid down at the 1927 meeting had been met. Soon thereafter H. N. Edmunds was made Dean, and Harmon Caldwell, Eta '19, and Alton Hosch full time professors. Both later became deans of the school.

The Building Committee selected the site for the building, it was completed and dedicated in the fall of 1932, and named the Harold Hirsch Hall. Spalding, recently appointed Chairman of the Board of Regents of the reorganized University system, presided at the meeting. Credit for the reorganization and for the handsome home of the Law School, therefore goes to Hughes Spalding, with a powerful assist from Harrison Jones.

Hughes Spalding, Eta '10, is the greatest living alumnus of the University of Georgia

Spalding as Chairman of the Board of Regents

If Spalding had done nothing more than serve as chairman of the Regents in the years when the University System was being organized, that would have sufficed to place him in our hall of fame. The first chairman, W. D. Anderson '91 held office only a few months and gave way to Spalding during 1932, the first year of the new regime. In the two short years before Spalding resigned in February, 1934, the Regents under his wise, courageous, and aggressive leadership, and the able cooperation of Philip Weltner, reorganized the entire Georgia system of state-supported higher institutions of learning. The 26 institutions that comprised the system were reduced to 18; the three institutions in Athens, the University proper, the College of Agriculture, and the State Teachers College, were integrated; all high school work was forbidden (except in the Negro Colleges); some schools and departments were abolished, some shifted from one institution to another in order to provide a more sensible division of labor. For example, all civil and electrical engineering at Athens was transferred to the Georgia Institute of Technology; the School of Commerce at Tech was transferred or rather added to that at the University; the School of Veterinary Medicine at the University was abolished. And, very important, the General Assembly was prevailed upon to make one appropriation to the Regents, authorizing them to distribute the money among the units as they thought fit.

The only major organizational change that the Regents were unable to effect was the integration of all work in agriculture—instruction, experimentation, and extension—under the control of the College of Agriculture as a part of the integrated University. During Spalding's second chairmanship, he had the satisfaction of seeing this important step taken

in "The Georgia
Alumni Record"

(in 1950). During Spalding's first chairmanship, the state and the nation were in the depths of the world's greatest depression. The Federal government, through the Public Works Administration and other organizations, made enormous grants to universities and colleges for building purposes. Spalding gave much of his time traveling to Washington negotiating for Federal money. When the grants were finally received, the University embarked on the first great building program in its history. This program was greatly assisted by the establishment of the University System Building Authority (for which Spalding was largely responsible) in 1949.

The University of Georgia Endowment

The third and last instance of Spalding's leadership that I shall mention was his activity in launching the University of Georgia Endowment. This Foundation was incorporated in December, 1937. Leaders in the enterprise were Dr. F. Phinizy Calhoun, Eta '00, Hughes Spalding, and Cam Dorsey. Spalding is now vice president of the corporation. The purposes of the Foundation are to see to it that the University gets and retains the highest type of faculty people; to encourage research among faculty members; to provide scholarships for graduate students; to enrich the university library by buying rare and costly materials. From a modest beginning of $4,500 in 1937, the fund has now grown to upwards of $1,000,000.

Stamps of Approval

In his undergraduate days the faculty elected Spalding to membership in $\Phi\beta\kappa$; his fellow students made him a member of the Sphinx, the highest honor that a student can win; the Alumni Society elected him as president. When he resigned the chairmanship of the Regents, the board adopted a set of resolutions, from which the following paragraph is taken:

"The Board of Regents is deeply indebted to Mr. Spalding for an infinite number of valuable contributions to the University System and the State of Georgia; for his leadership during periods when the operation of the University System required the vision, the understanding, and courage that he possessed so abundantly; for his successful efforts in securing for the System greatly increased appropriations for State funds; for his assistance in securing funds from private sources for many projects and undertakings within the System; for his determination to see enacted and carried into effect a law setting up a University System Building Authority which has made possible the greatest building program in the University System's history; for his untiring efforts to formulate policies that would eliminate all unnecessary duplication of effort among the institutions of the System and that would strengthen and improve the quality of the University System's entire educational program and make that program equal to the best in the country; for his leadership in reorganizing the agricultural work of the University System and in bringing about an effective coordination of agricultural teaching, research, and extension; for the able legal advice that he has so willingly and freely given on all matters involving questions of law affecting the University System; and for his rare combination of extraordinary ability and a desire to use that ability in public service with no thought of private gain or personal reward."

In other words, all of the organizations with which Spalding has been associated have placed upon him their stamp of approval. This general sense of his value extends to his religious affiliation. He is regarded as the leading Catholic in Georgia, a standing attested by the fact that he is a Privy Chamberlain Supernumerary of Sword and Cape to his Holiness, Pope Pius XII. Furthermore, in the civic affairs of Atlanta, Spalding is a leader. At the moment he is chairman of the board of trustees of the Fulton-DeKalb Hospital Authority. He is the head of one of the most important law firms in Georgia, four members of which have served as General Counsel for the Coca-Cola Co. In the business life of Atlanta, Spalding is a director of such important corporations as the Coca-Cola Co., Rich's, the Trust Company of Georgia, and the Habersham Mills.

I have just finished writing a history of the University of Georgia. In this work I have had to examine with great care the enormous volume of minutes of the Regents and the minutes of the Alumni Society. Spalding's name is always coming up as a leading actor. One wonders how he found the time and physical energy to devote so much of his life to matters far from his business efforts. He was twice obliged to resign his membership on the Regents because of the pressure of business obligations.

This is no obituary. I am not Marc Anthony. I come not to bury Spalding, but to praise him, and to record my deep sense of gratitude as an alumnus of the University for all that he has done. If Spalding were inclined to boast,

WALTER CRONKITE Learned of Unimportance

I WAS sitting at Toots Shor's with Walter Cronkite, Nu '37, the CBS news personality who began his career in Austin while attending the University of Texas, when one of Toots' waiters interrupted to lodge a complaint.

I listened acutely for this grass-roots comment, a surefire guide to almighty public opinion.

"How come you didn't give all the ball scores?" he demanded.

"Well, I gave a full report on Hurricane Diane and went into great length about the Peiping-American conference at Geneva."

"I know," the waiter answered patiently, "but how come you didn't give all the ball scores?"

Before Walter could reply, the head-waiter beckoned and the inquisitor left.

The man who's covered Moscow and Korea and the Coronation and the White House shook his head hopelessly.

"Twenty-two years in television," he grinned, "and this is how my fans repay me. And I do give all the ball scores."

"How do you mean 22 years?" I asked, startled.

"Sure," Walter replied. "I made my first telecast in 1933. Imitated a man playing two clarinets at once—at the television booth of the Chicago World's Fair."

Eighteen years later, he made his second TV appearance, as the CBS Washington correspondent. Between appearances, he kept busy.

Reared in Houston, Walter entered the University of Texas in 1933, majoring in political science. At the same time, he took a job with the Capitol Bureau of a Houston paper.

"I was learning so much more about political science by covering the capitol—and missing so many classes in doing so—that I decided to drop out of school.

"Fortunately, a lot of people took an interest in me and took up the slack in my education, in a not-so-formal way, of course. People like Vann Kennedy, who got me my first job. Vann's in town this week, by the way. He looked up another Austin protege of his, Ann Stringer, the fine war correspondent."

Walter next joined the United Press and when the war came, he was over there and stayed with it, landing in North

I think the event in his life of which he is proudest would be his marriage to Bolling Phinizy, of Athens. Truly she is one in a million. The couple have five children, all of whom are showing every sign of developing into useful citizens.

Africa and Normandy, parachuting with the 101st Airborne into Holland, viewing the surrender and the trials at Nuremberg. Then he went to Moscow.

"Things were a lot tighter behind the Curtain than they are now," he recalled, "but I did get up to Leningrad and we took one memorable cruise down the Volga.

"Without any official permission, my wife and I and two other couples got up one morning and decided to make the trip.

"After a particularly scenic voyage, we got off at Gorki and walked up to the hotel at the top of the hill.

"It was the emptiest hotel I ever saw. The whole staff, bell boys, waiters, maids, were lined up stiffly against the wall as we entered.

"I sauntered up to the desk and I thought, poked, 'Do you think you'll be able to find some rooms for us?'"

"And the lady at the desk smiled wearily and replied in all seriousness, 'Yes, I suppose so, but why didn't you let us know you were coming?'"

"The manager stopped us as we were going to dinner and offered to help with our travel arrangements.

"'Oh,' I said brightly, 'I think we'll take the boat to Stalingrad.'"

"'I'm very sorry,' she replied, 'but the steamer's all booked.'"

"'That's all right,' I said, 'we'll wait until tomorrow.'"

"'No, no,' she answered, 'the boats are filled for the rest of the season.'"

"I was beginning to catch on.

"'We'll take the train?'"

"She shook her head.

"'No?'"

"'No.' Then she smiled reassuringly.

"But I have been able to obtain accommodations for your party—back to Moscow. The plane leaves at six."

"We were on it."

Back from Europe and covering Washington, Walter was invited by CBS to go to Korea.

He sent back the big story on the Inchon landings, but a bigger story was breaking in the States that very day.

"My daughter Mary was born," he revealed. He and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, have another daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, 7, along with Mary, now 5.

Walter returned from Korea in time to turn in a widely-praised job on the political conventions of 1952.

Now he's a national figure, seen regularly on his newscasts and the extremely popular historical series, "You Are There."

He takes his success in stride, his accomplishments fail to impress him.

"If I was inclined to be otherwise," he said, "I was cured in 1948 when I raced halfway around the world from Moscow to be present at Nancy's birth—and found my presence was not required."—EARL WILSON in Austin Statesman.

ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, Chi Phis did

Chi Phis Prefer Intelligent Girls

GIRLS who try to look, act, and walk like Marilyn Monroe would be far more attractive if they would unbleach their hair, don conservative clothes, and try to make some intelligent conversation.

At least that's the opinion of a number of college boys who confided their conception of a "dream girl" Thursday as they signed up for "blind" dates.

The boys, all delegates to the Chi Phi Fraternity's national convention here, will take their dates to a dinner-dance at the Columbus Country Club at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The event is the climax of a meeting which has brought together fraternity brothers from 33 states.

The task of finding partners for the 60 bachelors has been undertaken by Mrs. Robert Tyler of 1811 Coventry Rd. and Mrs. John M. Moore of 1681 Westwood Ave. Through the aid of friends and sororities at Ohio State, they have come up with the phone numbers and heights of 60 girls who, in the words of Mrs. Moore, are "real cute and love to have a good time."

Although the delegates weren't asked for their preferences at the novel "date bureau" set up in the Deshler Hilton Hotel, they were quick to reveal the qualities they consider important in women.

"I don't want the dumb blonde, Marilyn Monroe type," declared Tim Johnston, 21, of Coral Gables, Fla. "The painted doll is not for me."

Johnston, a senior at Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., said he prefers girls who "have a neat appearance, who are intelligent, but not bookish, who are sensitive to the occasion, and who attend church for religious rather than social reasons."

Charles "Chuck" Hastings, 21, of Burlington, N. C., a senior at the University of North Carolina, said his idea of an ideal partner is a girl "who does not wear a lot of makeup" and is "wholesome looking," who has poise, personality, who is "interested in literature and history," and who would not object to or make light of his southern accent.

Hastings, who is five feet 10 inches tall, also would like a girl shorter than he is, because it's hard to dance with someone whom you have to look straight in the eye."

Robert W. Hibbert, 20, of Sheridan, Ore., who is 5-10, likes tall girls, however. The Oregon State junior also admitted that he might be enamored by a "red-headed girl who is quiet."

Bill Warwick, 21, of Wilmington, N. C., however, remarked that red heads leave him cold.

The University of North Carolina student is interested in partners who have

CHI PHIS MOVE!

Chi Phis really get around. You'll find them everywhere. But they do not always stay where they go. Since Jan. 1, there have been 2,576 changes in the address list for Chakett. Have you paid your Alumni Dues of $5 to help defray some of the expenses like this? Chi Phi is looking for 800 members who have never paid Dues to contribute theirs. Alumni Dues' total would be $20,000 if you would be the Special 800. How about it?

"a good personality," "well-rounded education," and are "cute."

A femme with light brown hair, who is attractive but not beautiful is the choice of Geoffrey England, 21, of Los Angeles, Cal., a senior at the University of Southern California. "She must be intelligent, have wide interests, and not be a prude," England commented.

Robert G. Wilson, 21, of Wooster, president of Iota Chapter, at Ohio State, the host chapter of the convention, said that he would go out with the Marilyn Monroe type "just once." He likes a good conversationalist, and a neat and trim girl who is "able to meet people well."

Joseph E. Murphy, 19, who goes to Emory University in his home town at Atlanta, Ga., said that he is hunting for a blue-eyed blonde who is "rich and has a convertible."

John W. Dougherty, 19, of Albany, N. Y., a Cornell University sophomore, is drawn to extroverts, but otherwise is not difficult to suit.

"Just so long as they're girls, I'm not too particular. I'm usually happy with all of them," he commented.

The convention closes after a 9 a.m. business session Saturday, and according to Mrs. Moore, if some of the delegates decide to extend their stay in Columbus after that time, "then we'll know our work was a complete success."—Columbus Journal.

Virginia Honor

PROF. RICHARD H. HENNEMAN, Epilon '29, professor of psychology at the University of Virginia, received the Raven Award at the Raven Society's annual spring banquet on April 13. Professor Henneman was the only faculty member thus honored this year. The presentation was made by President Colgate W. Darden, Jr., and was one of the highlights of the 50th anniversary celebration of the group.

The men recognized by the Society are chosen for having been among the most prominent in reflecting honor and credit upon the University. The awards are conferred in recognition of excellence in service to the University and of outstanding contribution in many ways to the interests constituting the life of the institution. Swims at 80

CHARLIE MORRISON, Gamma '98, celebrated his 80th birthday Aug. 25, by swimming a 300-plus yard course in Barton Springs at Zilker Park. Some 42 well-wishers of various ages started the swim with Morrison, but "not all of them completed it," Morrison's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert B. Morrison, said Friday. Following the celebration at Barton Springs—an annual event now for many years—a birthday party for the "oldest man in Texas without a single ache or pain" was held at the home of Dr. Robert B. Morrison, Nu '33, a son, at 2710 Stratford Dr.

Over 200 guests attended, including younger (69 and 66 years) brothers, Paul and Dr. Thad Morrison of Florida and Georgia, respectively, who arrived by plane on a surprise visit. Morrison is a representative of a stationery concern, and is still active at it.—Austin Statesman.

Congress Release

THE importance of the fraternity on the college campus was emphasized in a statement by Carl J. Gladfelter, opening the national Chi Phi Congress in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

Gladfelter, Grand Alpha of Chi Phi, the oldest social fraternity in existence, declared that college fraternities since World War II have proved themselves "the most potent available agency for shaping student body life toward the achievement of the purposes of higher education."

Delegates from 33 Chapters in the nation, including those from Chapters at Ohio State and Ohio Wesleyan Universities, registered for the convention. The agenda includes 9 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. business sessions Thursday and Friday, a stag buffet dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, and the Congress Ball at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The closing business session is set at 9 a. m. Saturday.—Columbus Dispatch.

Benham, and Brother Lee Wears for the fine work they did. Everywhere one turned, one found the charming wives of the Columbus Brothers, trying to be of help to the delegates or the Grand Officers. You can see from reading this article why it was one of the best Congresses in the last 20 years.

This entire Congress was a most inspiring one and, as was said at the beginning of this article, the inspiration came from the undergraduate delegates.

All of the Alumni said that they would be happy to organize parties for us next year. All of them believe that this tour should become an annual event. An annual summer trip would greatly increase the effectiveness of our rushing programs at the three schools and would enable Chi Phi Alumni and the active Brothers to know each other better and work more closely together. It is my hope that a summer tour can be arranged for next year.

In conclusion, all three Chapters want to express their profound thanks to the Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Assn., without whom the trip would not have been possible.

We are glad to have back with us this year Glenn Heaton, recently discharged from the Marines, and James Whiting, who is here to obtain another degree. With their past experience in fraternity affairs, they should be a great aid in our projects for the forthcoming year. Of these already completed are the painting of most of the bedrooms and the complete renovation of the basement, including the redecoration of the recreation room with modernistic murals by Robert Ernest and John Calvin Holcombe.

At fall elections the following Brothers were elected to office: Bohun B. Kinloch, Alpha; Robert deRosset, Beta; James Zanelli, Gamma; William T. Berkeley, Delta; Charles Ashburner, Epsilon, and James T. Sullivan, Zeta.

Henry D. Dagit exchanged marriage vows with Janet Louise Scruggs. William T. Berkeley and Richard R. Wray were members of the wedding party.

All the Brothers regret the absence of Dr. Philip Porter, who as many Alumni know, has been ill for several months. After more than 40 years of faithful service, the Brothers of the Alpha Chapter hope that all Chi Phis will join them in wishing Phil a speedy and complete recovery.—JAMES T. SULLIVAN.

SEPTEMBER 5 marked the beginning of a new term for Beta at MIT. Under the able leadership of our new Alpha, Øystein Linge, we cleaned, polished, and painted our way through work week in preparation for Rush Week. Beta concluded this highly successful week by pledging seven new men, all freshmen: Charles Rehwaldt, George Kraft, Charles Emerson, Myron Sawyer, William Novis Smith, Bruce Hayworth, and Glen Jorgensen. The chapter enrollment now stands at 38, the maximum this house can hold.

The social committee, under Jim Chorak, has completed its fall program. The schedule will include a Fall Formal and several smaller parties.

On Oct. 7 almost the entire house participated in the annual excursion to Mount Monadnock in New Hampshire. Plans are underway for a Halloween party, sponsored by the pledges.

Elected to assist Alpha Linge this term are Jim Chorak, Beta; Jack Currie, Gamma; Harry Johnson, Delta; Terry Hoyt, Zeta; and Mack Edwards, Epsilon.

Of the Brothers who graduated last term, Jack Brown, Bob Hartman, and Dick Koehler are working and living in Boston. Bud Hebel, along with another Alumnus, Milt Almquist, is doing graduate work at Tech.—TERRY HOYT.

GAMMA elected officers to serve for the fall quarter of 1955 during the last week in May. Mickey Standard is Alpha; Marvin Whiting, Beta; Bill Morgan, Gamma; Bob Northcutt, Delta; Bill Alverson, Epsilon; and Paul Westbrook, Zeta. Also chosen at this time were Walt Davis, Gamma '34, Emory's Alumni Director, to fill the newly-created position of Faculty Adviser and Bill Haddock, Gamma '53, to be Chapter Adviser. Our delegates to Congress at Columbus, Ohio, were Glenn Bailey and Joe Murphy. Both boys enjoyed themselves and said that a great deal was accomplished.

Having determined to make this one of the best Rush Weeks in Gamma's history, we began preparation for that event. The lawn was plowed and sown with grass. Much painting was done, including the basement and several rooms on the second floor. Two sofas were refinished and covered for the living room. Emory has one of its finest Freshman Classes in several years and Gamma was fortunate to have many fine boys from which to choose. On Sunday, Sept. 25, the frosh walked the Row and 32 boys came up our driveway. A banquet was held afterwards at the Druid Hills Country Club. Those pledging were: Norris Bailey, Ben Boyd, Tommy Davis, Bobby Donnelly, Lee Garlington, Joe McDonald, Bill Postell, and Jerry Whitley from Atlanta; Ralph "Doc" Baker, Bluffton, S. Much credit for this superior Rush Week must go to our rush chairman, Bill Morgan, and his rush committee. The Chapter is also indebted to Pat Scott and Pledge Walter Bealer whose skits did much toward livening up the rush functions. Realizing the importance of pledge training, Gamma selected Bud Whitham as pledge master and John Strother as pledge trainer.

Many Brothers captured offices and honors on campus for the coming year. Marvin Whiting, Gamma's Sparks Medal Winner for 1954-1955, was elected to D.V.S., OAK, president of the Emory Glee Club, and secretary of the Student Publications Council. Bill Morgan was chosen president of Circle K, winner of the AET Scholarship Trophy for the highest average in the lower division, and the American Legion 40 & 8 Award in Air Science. We were pleased to find that Brother Harry Millar, formerly of Chi Chapter, will be with us this year. The house is filled to capacity again after almost two years with several vacancies.

A very successful rushing party was held the first week of classes with about 150 freshmen attending. The pledges are Pete Harrington, Danny Buxbaum, Art D'Alessandro, Tom King, Nick Neiley, Bob Sanderson, Norb Smith, and Lloyd Seamen. We expect at least as many more soon. Brad Bingham is all set to handle the job of pledge master.

Dave Taylor and Bob Arlett returned from the 1955 Congress with news of the Zone Meeting to be held in New Brunswick early in December.

Intramural football is under way and Chi Phi won its first two games by decisive shut-outs. In varsity sports Jake Orbock is out for football and Bob Springer is assistant football manager. Sam Moschella is on the soccer team, Dick Kaiser is swimming for the Scarlet, and Dick McKeeby and Jerry Van Winter are playing 150-lb. football. In other activities, Laddie Feher is on the Student Council and Bill Steng is sports director for WRSU, Rutgers radio station. George Lukac is news editor for the Targum and John Krisko is on the board of directors of the Student Co-operative Society. Ed Fiorito has been leading his fine dance band at many dances and social functions on the campus.—ALAN WICKHAM.

Epsilon Dominates Campus Leadership

JAMES E.
KULP

Hampden-Sydney
College

ON the athletic field at Hampden-Sydney Brothers Whichard, Putt, McVey, Cooke, and Tigmo are helping the H-S Tigers on the road to another Mason-Dixon football championship. In the field of publications Brother Hoover is excelling as the editor of the school newspaper, and Brother Lyle is hard at work as editor of the '56 annual. Turning to the honorary societies, representatives of Epsilon can be seen doing their part. Brother Kulp is president of $\chi\beta\phi$, scientific fraternity; Brother Hoover is president of $\eta\sigma\phi$, classical society; Brother Carrington is president of $\Sigma\tau$, literary society; and Brother Richards is president of $\Omega\Delta\kappa$, leadership fraternity, president of the German Club (Dance Club), and also of the Senior Class. It also might be well to note that Brothers Lyle, Kulp, Carrington, Hoover, and Richards make up five of the six members of $\Omega\Delta\kappa$. Finally, the newly reorganized Glee Club has 13 of the Brothers among its members; a little less than one half of the Chapter.

Several of the Brothers returned early in September and set right to work getting the house in shape for the new term. All the blinds, the porch, and various other parts of the house were considerably brightened by an additional coat of much-needed paint. Then before the smell of paint had disappeared, the rest of us arrived and finished up by giving the house a thorough cleaning.

After the dust had settled, we found that most of the Brothers had returned. Those who weren't able to come back—Dave Walton, George Hill, and Doug Buckles—will be missed, but all welcomed the return of Bill Moseley after a year's absence.

Epsilon lost only two by graduation last June. Brother Jim Overbey is now serving Uncle Sam at Fort Jackson, S. C., and Brother Charley Dunn was recently married.

Congratulations go this year to Hal McVey for being our most recent Sparks Memorial Medal winner. Hal, who is from Richmond, not only does well scholastically, but also is playing a lot of football for the Tigers. He is currently acting as Delta of Epsilon and as a member of the Student Assembly.

Homecoming is almost upon us once again and preparations have begun for our annual buffet supper for students and parents after the ball game. Following the German Club Dance, there will be a combo party in the basement.

After having finished second for the past several years, Epsilon has finally won the coveted intramural trophy for the '54-'55 season, and one of our main objectives now is to win this year's trophy to go with it. Epsilon can be proud of what it has accomplished in the past, but to us the future looks even brighter.—SANDY SANDERS.

ZETA graduated 22 Brothers last June, leaving the Chapter in the hands of 43 Brothers, three senior pledges, and one social member. Of those 22 graduates, five have entered medical school, four have gone into the service, three to law school, four into business, and seven have entered graduate school.

The new officers for the fall term are: Foster Ulrich, Alpha; Ed Newman, Beta; Al Van Sant, Gamma; Gerry Yoder, Delta; Lee Haacker, Epsilon; and Ted Appel, Zeta. As in the past several years the committee system will be used in administration of the Chapter.

In a very successful fall rushing season during which only upperclassmen may be pledged, Zeta pledged six men: Jack Peters, Berwick; Jim Stuart, Bala Cynwyd; Tom Arner, Parryville; Al D'Anca, Kingston; Hugh Raedy, Haddonfield, N. J.; and John White, Baltimore, Md.

The social program for the first semester, planned by Beta Ed Newman, will include a freshman smoker and two rush parties. Homecoming this year at Franklin and Marshall is Oct. 29-30, and Zeta will have a dinner and house party. Again this year, teas following all home football games will be held, plus several Sunday afternoon teas for our neighbors who live nearby.

Sophomores Roger Bogert, Dick Wright, and Juniors Jay Powell, Ron Flemming, and Ted Appel are playing for the Blue and White football team. Members of the Diplomat soccer squad include Bob Graeff, Vern Ringler, Dan Fickes, Karl Leuffen, and Pledge Jim Stuart. The intramural football team, which got off to a slow start, has picked up momentum and now posts a 2-2 record. Last spring Zeta won the all-college intramural trophy for the fourth year in a row.

Our Congress delegates reported that Tom Headrick '55, recipient of the Franklin and Marshall College Williamson Medal, again received the Sparks Memorial Medal for 1955.—THEODORE B. APPEL, III.

Iota Rush System Proves Valuable

ROBERT G. WILSON
Alpha
Ohio State University

We are sorry to report that Bill Jeckell had to give up his position as treasurer of the Iota Corporation. Bill got a big promotion and had to move to Cincinnati, and we all want to thank him for his deep interest and great service to this Chapter and to wish him the best of luck in his new position. Bill Hutchison took over the job of treasurer of the Corporation and wasted no time in showing us he is the right man for the job. "Hutch" and Frank Loehnert, president of the Corporation, put their heads together this summer and came up with some great decisions. The mortgage was refinanced, and our house now has the new look. The dormitory was remodeled, new beds and mattresses were purchased, new carpeting was put down, and new sinks were installed in the kitchen. We have some new living room furniture ordered, but it hasn't arrived as yet.

We incorporated a new system for rushing this year, and it has proved very successful. The Brothers contacted prospective pledges in their home towns during the vacation months, and we pledged 15 well-selected men during Rush Week.

Charles Dozer won the Sparks Medal for the second time, and it looks like he is the man to beat again this year. Charlie had nothing but "A's" last year.

The welcome mat is out to Al Wilson and Don Covert, two of the happiest Brothers in the Chapter. Uncle Sam let them out of the Army this summer so you can understand why they are pleased. Bob Anderson came back to school this fall with a new member, a boxer pup. The Chapter unanimously voted to adopt "Duke" as our mascot. "Andy," of course, has custody of the pup until he is house-broken.

Bill Soter helped pitch the Youngstown Home Club to the national amateur baseball championship this summer after helping Ohio State win the Big Ten title. Bill is expected to carry the "Bucks" to another title next spring.

We are still getting letters concerning the Congress in Columbus this year. Everyone thought it was a great success, and we at Iota are proud to have had a part in that success. And proud we are of our own John Moore who did such a fine job at the Congress.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Dave Judy and Reggie Ullman. Dave received his BA in June and is awaiting a call from the Army. Reggie is working in Cleveland, but expects to go into the Army soon. He got his Master's degree in June.—GEORGE HICKOX.

Kappa Intensifies Pledge Training

FREDERIK W. JENSEN
Alpha
University of Wisconsin

KAPPA is off to the start of what looks like another banner year. The semester began with Alpha Fred Jensen spearheading the house clean-up drive. All members participated to the utmost in getting the house in good physical shape for a successful rush. Sixteen men proudly wore the Chakett at the end of this fall's rushing: John Adams, James Baird, Dave Bunk, Robert Caldart, Dave Corwine, Roger Dewa, Richard Guedtner, James Helm, William Kelly, Dave Mathei, James Raymond, Phil Schlicting, Robert Schmidt, William Strang, John Zwicky, Tom Reilly. Pledgemaster Bob Teska has installed a vigorous pledge training program as suggested by Judge Rosser in the last issue of THE CHAKETT.

Kappa initiated the social season with a party celebrating Wisconsin's opening football victory over Marquette. Many Alumni and parents came for the party and, with the help of the Chi Phi Combo, a five-man Dixie band composed of Brothers living in the house, the evening was a great success. Social Chairman John Hamel, with the assistance of Hoyt Johnson, has planned an extensive social schedule which includes football parties, suppers with the top campus sororities, "listening" parties for out-of-town Badger athletic events, and costume parties.

In the Badger Bowl race, symbol of fraternity athletic supremacy, Barry Basten has taken the helm as athletic chairman. Kappa will be trying to improve on last year's third place finish out of 37 fraternities. Volleyball looks especially strong this year on the basis of last year's championship in that field, and the Chapter has good potential in all the other sports. Leading the scholastic drive is Beta Milt Burmaster who has given impressive talks on the subject to the pledges and the Chapter.

Other new officers, not yet mentioned, are Gamma Ron Bero, Delta Dick Wangelin, Epsilon Kurt Rossner, and Zeta Robb Hoover. Along with the Alpha, Beta, and Steward Jack Johnson, they complete the house council which, under the advisement of Housefellow D. D. Tesch, has stressed leadership.

Fall initiation was held Oct. 15 and was celebrated by the annual Cherokee Chug-a-lug, an Indian-style costume party. Coming social events are led by the Winter Formal tentatively set for Dec. 16.—ROBB HOOVER.

Lambda Improves Scholarship Rating

FRANK MERLO, Alpha
University of California

THIS fall Lambda climaxed a very successful rushing season by pledging 11 men: Bruce Rice, Dave White, Roger Miller, and Clemens Laufenberg, Berkeley; Stephen Retter, Mill Valley; Dave Allen, San Anselmo; Tom Lloyd, San Francisco; Michael Good, Oroville; John Reed, Redding; and John Fraser, Alamo. The fine condition of the chapter house this fall aided our rush program immeasurably. During the summer the activities made many repairs while our Alumni had the interior painted and the Mothers' Club added new drapes and venetian blinds. The house hasn't been in such fine shape for many years and we hope that all the Alumni will be able to come around during the football season to see the results. On Oct. 6, the Chapter initiated Larry E. Weber.

Our scholarship record for last spring was very high. We moved from 21st place to 7th place among the fraternities on campus and the house average was 12½ per cent above the 'All-Men's average. The spring pledge class ranked 6th on campus and we hope that we can maintain both rankings for the fall semester.

Our fall social program is ably handled by Bates McIndoe and Larry Weber. We have exchanges scheduled with KAΘ, ΠΒΦ, and ΠΦΒ, ΑΦ, and ΣΚ. Football parties, the "Big Game" dance, and the Christmas Formal help round out the fall social scene.

In campus activities, Lambda is very proud of Frank Merlo and Keith Jewel. Frank is president of the Big C Society and, under his guidance, this organization is taking an even more active rôle in campus affairs. Keith Jewell, who has been very active in Student Government, was appointed to the Executive Body. We are proud of Frank and Keith for the fine work they have done for the Chapter and the University.

During the summer, work was completed on the John Boyle Memorial Chapter Room. Brother Boyle was our Alumni Adviser until his untimely death and we feel that our new Chapter Room is a fitting tribute to his memory. Much of the credit for the room belongs to Robert Haaf who is the present Alumni Adviser. Brother Haaf spent considerable time in planning and carrying out all the details that went into the room.

Mu Wins Plaque for Seventh Time

DAVID WENTINK

Alpha

Stevens Institute of Technology

At the end of last spring's term Mu elected new officers. The Alpha is David Wentink, a junior who served as Epsilon last spring and who was responsible for many improvements in the house. The new Beta is George Alther, a senior who is also a squadron commander in the AFROTC program. Joe Smith was elected Gamma. Arthur Zack was re-elected Delta due to the excellent job he did last spring. Donald Robinson is Epsilon and Robert McFiggans, Zeta. The Alpha appointed Erhard Ziegler as steward, John Costello as social chairman, Joe Smith as Dog Week chairman, and Eugene Gorzelnik as rushing chairman.

Nine pledges completed Dog Week this September: Fred Ahrend, Robert Aumueller, William Burdhardt, John Cutting, Hugh Dougherty, Walt Evers, Joel Hemsley, Al Huntress, and Don Richer.

Mu fared well in the tappings by honorary societies last spring. Richard Macintosh was tapped by Khoda, the secret senior society, and Carsten Sibbern was tapped by Gear and Triangle, the activities' honorary society.

Last May Mu again won the Activities Plaque for the seventh time in its eight years existence. Last spring many Brothers were elected to important positions in campus activities—Arthur Zack as business manager of the Dramatic Society; Gene Gorzelnik as managing editor of The Events, the campus humor magazine; Richard Macintosh as managing editor and Carsten Sibbern as business manager of The State, the college newspaper.

Mu was also well represented in varsity athletics last spring with Hans and Erhard Ziegler on the varsity and J. V. baseball teams, respectively; Ken Poppele played varsity lacrosse and Dave Wentink on the J. V. lacrosse squad. By encouraging the pledges to join campus activities Mu hopes to retain its leadership in college activities.

The spirit shown by many of our Alumni along with their active participation in chapter functions is greatly appreciated by all.—R. CARSTEN SIBBERN.

University of Texas

THE Executive Council for the fall semester is composed of the following men: Arthur Jeff Kemp, Alpha; Sanford E. Manning, Beta; Gordon Richard Starnes, Gamma; John O. Flannery, Delta; James D. Mason, Epsilon; R. Robert Rackley, Zeta. Appointed to lead important chapter committees were Wesley G. Lupien, Pleasure; H. P. Pressler, III, Scholastic; Michael M. Fricke, Rush; William B. Klempt, Pledge Trainer; Wilbur E. Sprague, Intramural Manager; John O. Flanners, House Committee. Interfraternity Council members are Lawrence B. Haile and R. Robert Rackley, junior and senior representative, respectively.

At the last chapter meeting of the spring semester, William Joe Graves was awarded the Best Member Trophy; James D. Mason was chosen Best Pledge; Don B. Williamson was selected as the Most Outstanding Athlete, and Henry M. Anderson was the recipient of the coveted Phil Moss Award.

Four new Brothers were added to the chapter roll in impressive ceremonies on Sept. 8: Thomas I. Welch, Dallas; Herman Paul Pressler, III, Houston; Edward Eugene Scott and Michael M. Fricke, Bay City. An extensive summer rush program was under the direction of Kenneth E. Studdard, rush captain. Aided by G. Richard Starnes, Thomas P. McConn, Roswald E. Shrull, H. Paul Pressler, Arthur J. Kemp, and the San Antonio members and Alumni, Ken scheduled several excellent pre-rush parties, the most notable one being at the home of Dr. R. B. Morrison, Nu '33, 2710 Stratford Dr., Austin. Nu welcomes 14 new pledges into the Chapter. Proudly wearing the Chakett are: R. David Norwood, Jack E. Ferrell, Scott A. McCall, Edward E. Weston, Dallas; William Jackson Blythe, Huntsville; Lynn R. Kromminga, William Louis Guyton, Wiley S. Olsen, Allen C. Bettis, Austin; Jerry S. Sterns, Houston; Julius A. Philmon, Roland E. Lee, Port Arthur; George W. Van Vleck, Jr., San Antonio; James D. Anderson, El Dorado, Ark. Of these men, nine attended Chi Phi summer rush parties, illustrating the need and value of a coordinated program for summer rush.

Intramural football competition has shown the strongest Chi Phi team in recent years. Led by Bruce B. Bybee, Wilbur E. Sprague, and Pledges Scott A. McCall and James D. Anderson, a strong contender has been entered in this sport. John O. Flannery and H. Paul Pressler lead the Chapter's tennis entries. Lawrence B. (Larry) Haile, varsity debater and University debate champion last year, is expected to repeat his previous performances.

Members and pledges of Nu take great pleasure in presenting our housemother, Mrs. Patsy Ann Welch. Grateful and happy that "Mama" is with us, we look forward to her guidance during the ensuing year.

Plans for the new chapter house, which will be located at 2610 W. 26th, are being prepared by the firm of Fehr and Granger. Extensive work has been done on the lot and a long-awaited home for Nu will soon occupy a fine location. We are thankful for the support of our Alumni who have given so generously of their time and money.

Under the leadership of our Chapter Adviser, Dr. O. B. Williams, Nu '21, and our Alpha, Arthur Jeff Kemp, with a fine group of pledges, a devoted group of actives, and a new house in sight, the prospects for the future are bright.

An invitation is extended to Alumni and Brothers from other Chapters to visit Nu at 1800 Lavaca. We consider our Chapter a "home away from home."

Xi Builds New Study

DAVID P. TAYLOR

Alpha

Cornell University

THANKS to the energetic efforts of the Brothers, led by Delta Bob Willey, and to the generosity of the Alumni, the Xi chapter house underwent extensive improvements during the summer. An improved heating system, a new fire escape, and refinished floors were some of the improvements completed during the vacation months. By far the most notable accomplishment was the addition of a bedroom and study on the third floor. With this expansion, the house will be able to accommodate four more Brothers.

Rushing this year at Cornell has been deferred until February because of a University ruling. Nevertheless, Xi undertook the most extensive summer rushing program in its history. Under the able leadership of Rushing Chairman Jim Gouinlock, Xi contacted many of the freshmen, and all of the Brothers are anxiously awaiting the rushing period.

In the spring elections, David Taylor was unanimously reelected Alpha. Richard Eisinger replaced Jim Gouinlock as Beta, and Robert Rude became the new Gamma. The other officers are Robert Willey, Delta; John McCabe, Epsilon, and James Stallkamp, Zeta. The new athletic chairman is Floyd Downs who is busy organizing our intrafraternity football team for this season.

On the social scene, we are eagerly awaiting the big event of the fall, that of Fall Weekend. This year's theme is "Fantasy" and we are planning for one of the best Weekends in years.—JAMES STALLKAMP.

"Hope these Dues help Chi Phi to grow stronger."—JACKSON D. DEWAR, EA '35.

"I am taking pre-med at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas. Certainly glad to hear that the new house campaign for Nu went through."—GEORGE M. RICHMOND, N '57.

Omicron Meets Connecticut Local

EDWARD H. BREDE, III

Alpha

Yale University

OMICRON CHAPTER has been more than fortunate as a great deal of redecorating was done in the house over the summer. We are deeply indebted to the Omicron Trust Assn. for their interest and work, and only hope that this feeling of brotherhood will persist long after we have left college.

Ken Gergen has been appointed social chairman and Jack Barber his assistant. From the activities held this year, it seems that the committee will be one of the more successful if not the most in the field of social activities. The plans for Cornell Weekend have been announced and include a hayride and chowder party Friday night, dance on Saturday night, and an all-star jazz band on Sunday. The new house committee is comprised of Zack Sacks, chairman, and Sandy Armstrong and Frank Melhorn, the two assistants. This group has done a lot to obtain proper publicity for chapter functions, which is a necessity.

The first weekend of the year was in honor of a local fraternity which wishes to become affiliated with Chi Phi. The Brothers of Beta Epsilon Rho from the University of Connecticut were extremely interested in the national organization. Apparently they have one of the finest groups at the University of Connecticut.

The fall rush ends next week and an extremely good rush is in view. The rush chairman, Dick Vila, is to be congratulated for the excellent job which he and his committee have done. The rushing procedure has been in effect since last June when a competitive membership committee was formed. From this the rush committee was selected: Sandy Armstrong, Jack Barber, Arnie Case, Zack Sacks, Ron Sharp, Fent Gilbert, and Ken Gergen.—CHARLES E. SHEDD.

Pi Entertains Kappa after Game

ARTHUR S. EICHLIN, Alpha

BUSY was the word for Pi Chapter during spring and fall quarters, what with initiation of new members, election of officers, social events, formal rushing, and pledging. Initiated in the spring were C. Robert Kocheck, Perth Amboy, N. J., and Jack D. Wardlaw, Jackson, Miss. Both are sophomores in the School of Journalism, Recently, Frederick Heinemann, Chicago, was initiated. Fred is a sophomore in the Technological Institute.

After a hectic period of formal rushing in mid-September, Pi pledged nine men: Richard Castle, Danville; Daryl Frazell, Omaha, Neb.; Edward Johnson and Donald Snowhook, Chicago; John Lewis, Winchester, Va.; Edgar Merson, Tulsa, Okla.; Vernon Reisenleiter, Glendale, Miss.; John Sand, of Wilmette; and John Williams, Evanston.

Election of officers in the spring resulted in renaming Art Eichlin as Alpha. Others elected were: Marshel O'Shields, Beta; Bob Axel, Gamma; Bob Piatak, Delta; Phil Guzzetta, Epsilon; and Bob Kochek, Zeta.

The social picture at Pi has been extremely active, thanks largely to the work of Brother Guzzetta as social chairman. Spring quarter was highlighted by the Confederate Ball, a formal, at St. Clair Hotel, Chicago. Queen of the Ball was Barbara Mahr, Northwestern sophomore who is pinned to Brother O'Shields.

This fall we've had a hayride, semi-formal, and a Pi-Kappa party, which followed the Northwestern-Wisconsin football game. In the future are a casino party, theatre party in Chicago, informals, and, of course, the formal in spring.—BOB KOCHKEK.

Miller, Fair Lawn, N. J.; Herbert A. Schrepp, Yardley; Jim Schweidel, Philadelphia; Albert Gesler, Orange, Conn. The Brothers urge the Alumni to get acquainted with them when they return to the house for the various social events of the year. Thanks are in order to all those Alumni who wrote letters to the rushing chairman concerning promising young men in the Freshman Class. Five of the new pledges were recommended to us by Alumni.

Congratulations are also in order for Edmund Bernhard '57, who is the Sparks Medal award winner for the past scholastic year. The brothers are aware of the work Ed put in on the books last year, and are happy to see his work rewarded in such a fine way. Ed has also been on the Maroon Key, the ROTC Drill Platoon, and several other of the more notable college societies.

Two Brothers were married over the summer, and many Brothers and Alumni were present at their nuptials. First to pass into the ranks of the tethered was Franklin S. Mattison '56, who married Rosemary Blundin, of Flemington, N. J. The very beautiful wedding was held in the Colton Memorial Chapel on the Lafayette College campus, followed by the reception at the chapter house. About two weeks later, in Flemington also, Ed Bernhard was married to Betty Menchek, in an equally attractive ceremony.

The intramural football team put out by the house this year had all the earmarks of going all the way to the championship. With the same team held over from last year, though, $\Delta\Upsilon$ got by us 12 to 0. The following week, however, with our pledges participating to add strength on the bench and permit more substitutions, we coasted to a 12-0 victory against $\Phi\Gamma\Delta$. Should $\Phi\Gamma\Delta$ get by $\Delta\Upsilon$, we would be in a playoff with one of them, provided we get through the rest of our schedule with no setbacks.—CARMINE A. GACCIONE.

SIGMA'S house was opened on Sept. 1, and all Brothers were present for clean-up. The men painted 14 of the 18 rooms and all the halls. The whole house was completely cleaned. The dining room was completely remodeled over the summer, and the living room was painted.

Rushing turned out well as we pledged 12 outstanding men: Don Taylor, a freshman in Engineering, who is already a member of the well-known Varsity Men's Glee Club and is known for his prowess in wrestling and football; Ron Urban, a first year man in L. A. Tau's Big Brothers Stress Scholarship

JOHN HASSLER

University of Alabama

TOWARD the end of last semester a rush program was planned for the coming Rush Week at Alabama. The considerable efforts of Brother Joe Kane, along with a few other actives, were rewarded in a well-planned and successful Rush Week. The following men were pledged: Jack Trawick, Arifton; Jimmy Gravlee, Jerry Gwin, Austin Porter, Gordon Pugsley, Jerry Redus, David Sington, Birmingham; Ross Hasson and John Siebert, Decatur; Bill Holcombe, Hackleberry; Charles DiMassio, and Jimmy Waltman, Mobile; Ronald Montgomery, Montgomery; Paul Skidmore, Northport; Charles Kraut, Oak Lawn, Ill.; William Poe, Parrish; Dan Lero, Philadelphia, Pa.; Chris Dudley, Richland, Ga.; Stanton Davis, Sulligent. The following men who pledged last spring will be initiated in late October: John Rowe, Montgomery; Jerry Bates, Birmingham; Jim Ammons, Carrolton; John Vail, Atmore.

The Chapter is stressing scholarship, athletics, and social functions. Pledges are required to attend study hall 10 hours per week. This has proven highly successful in the past. A Big Brother system has been inaugurated in a further effort to increase scholarship and promote better pledge-active relations. In keeping with interfraternity sports program, we have fielded two teams to participate in this program. Fred Sington, our injured Brother from the varsity, and Jim Dupuy are coaching and we are looking forward to great triumphs. Tau has had several coffee hours with sororities on the campus and others are scheduled in an effort to acquaint our new pledges with members. Jim Balderson is planning our Homecoming program and we expect to see many of our Alumni present.

Amherst College

AFTER nearly two weeks of polio quarantine due to three cases here, the Brothers of Phi and the remainder of the student body were beginning to feel like one thousand cloistered monks. To further this impression our neighboring institutions of Mt. Holyoke and Smith were placed under similar quarantine. To make up for this lost time a very successful "coming-out party" was held the following Saturday night with dates from both Smith and Holyoke. Thanks to the combined efforts of Social Chairman Jack Long '57 and Choregus Arnie Poltenson '56 at the piano, we Phis thoroughly enjoyed ourselves.

On the varsity football team Phi is represented by Bob King '57, Don Moores '57, Jim Connors '57, Bob Wood '57, Roger Mayer '58, Jim Krumsiek '58, Tom Gorman '58, and returning veterans Howie Korell '57, and Tim Sanders '57. Also returning to Amherst this year are Brothers Bob Juzek '57, Dave Heuer '56, and Fran Rainie '56. Will Rodgers '57 and George Kieth '58 are both members of the soccer team and Ned Megargee '58 is coxswain of the JV crew and also on the debating team.

With Weslevan Weekend just around the corner, Pledgemaster Jim Connors '57 is conducting an extensive program of pledge training before initiation. Working as business manager of Mardi-Gras that Weekend is Steve Dinces '58.—VICTOR DAHL.

Chi Christens Pump Room

DONALD H. SPITZLI, JR., Alpha

Dartmouth College

THE first words of the year should be Chi's thanks to Iota for the time shown our delegates at Columbus. It was really swell, and I'm sure Ron Post and myself will never forget it. Thanks again, Iota.

Although the year only started three weeks ago, a lot has been done. Under the leadership of Larry Elliott the house has fashioned a beautiful lounge. Over our first football weekend we formally opened and christened it the Pump Room. A new rug for our living room and various odds and ends around the house got us in shape for one of the most successful rushing periods in our history. We pledged 19 men to fill our quota. Many thanks to John Gorman and the rushing committee for their work.

On campus the Brothers have also excelled. Ed Hennessey and John Gorman are acting as our new liaisons with the Dean's office, and we're sure they will be able to fill the job so capably handled by Bill Cassell and Larry Elliott last year. In graduate school here Ron Post is studying the habits of dogs. Bill Skiff received a prize for continued excellence in French, as did John Gorman in economics. Three of our Brothers were married during the summer: George Fenner, Stew Wood, and Blaine Miller. On the athletic field the house is well represented: Don Spitzli, Pete Harpending, and Pren Carnell, football; Dick Mann and Mole Quan, soccer. If the rest of the year goes as well as the first three weeks, Chi will have the best year ever.—STEPHEN L. NEWNHAM.

Psi Tops Chi Phi in Scholarship

RICHARD M. BILLIN

Alpha

Lehigh University

PSI installed Richard M. Billin as Alpha, William E. Ebeling as Beta, Pehr E. Magnuson as Gamma, Benjamin L. Bird as Epsilon, and David Robertson as Zeta in May. Joe Mooney and Murray Randall are in charge of rushing this year. Rushing is a full-time job, but we are already reaping the benefits of their work in the form of three new pledges: Wesley W. Hackman, Narberth; Robert A. Orben, South Orange, N. J., and David S. Campbell, from Pittsburgh. Just before school started, all of the pledges and many of the Brothers returned and did a fine job of redecorating the house. Most of the study rooms and all of the first floor are resplendent in their fresh paint and wall paper. Psi had nine members graduate last June. This left the ranks of active members quite low, a situation which will be remedied within the next week when we initiate the seven of 10 pledges who met the requirements of the University and the Chapter. They are Ned Spitzig, Richard Devine, Donald Hofmann, Thomas Lutz, Doug Peterson, George Fortune, and Ron Randall.

Fred Minter was the recipient of the Sparks Memorial Medal for the year of 1954-55. He attained an average of 3.3.

Last spring Psi won the IFC swimming trophy, continuing the tradition of the past few years.

At the Chi Phi Congress, where we were represented by Dick Billin and Bill Ebeling, Psi was awarded the Scholarship Plaque, in recognition of our having the highest average of any of our Chapters.

Congratulations are in order for Bruce Bachofer, who married Dawn Adams last June after his graduation; and for Fred Boyce, who recently married Judy Schofield. Fred and Judy are living in Bethlehem while Fred completes his senior year as a psychology major.

Athletically, Psi is still well represented. Last spring we had Sam Furiness on the baseball team where he won the award of the outstanding player. Jim Tillotson, Fred Minter, and Joe Mooney were on the lacrosse team which was managed by Lee Waclawski, and where John Crecca was assistant coach. The swimmers were Bill Ebeling and Ron Keenhold. Ron placed eighth in national diving competition. Carlton Clark and Ron Randall were on the track team and have returned for cross country workouts this year.

Much planning, under the able leadership of our social chairman, Al Colyer, is now going on in preparation for our Fall Houseparty.—DAVID ROBERTSON.

Omega Pins

44 Pledges

EUGENE SCOTT, Alpha
Georgia Institute of Technology

CONCLUDING one of the most successful rush seasons in recent years, Omega Chapter pledged 44 pledges. One of the main reasons for our successful rushing was the enthusiastic support of our Alumni during the summer for our house improvement, and during the actual rush season. We would also like to give recognition to Leslie Holland, Sr., for his help on the interior decorating of the house, and to our Mothers' Club who gave us money and their valuable assistance. Also a lot of credit should go to our Alpha, Eugene Scott, and our Rush Chairman, Roy McCrorey, for the excellent job that they did. Most of the work which was done on the house this summer was done by the Brothers and pledges who attended summer school. In the very near future we are planning to have the upstairs rooms in the house completely refurbished. Our new pledges come all the way from New Mexico to New York. There are two from New York, two from Virginia, one from Kentucky, one from Tennessee, one from Florida, 35 from Georgia, one from Arkansas, and one from New Mexico.

We would like to congratulate Emory Jenks for winning the Sparks Memorial Medal for the second year in a row. This year we hope to raise the scholastic standing of the Chapter and the pledges by requiring that the pledges attend a study hall at the Library three nights a week, for three hours each night. There will be Brothers in the study hall to give assistance to the pledges. This is a new idea and we feel that it will prove to be very beneficial to both the Fraternity and the individuals taking part.

We are still having our traditional tea dances immediately after every home football game, and we would like to invite the Alumni to attend. We would also like to invite the Alumni to come to the house during Homecoming Weekend, which will be held on Oct. 29.

We elected new officers during the spring quarter, and they took over their new jobs at the last of the quarter: Eugene Scott, Alpha; Norman Buskill, Beta; Fred Ware, Gamma; Archie Gann, Delta; John Jordan, Epsilon; Don Browne, Zeta; Rush Chairman, Roy McCrorey; House Manager, Lee Thompson; and Building and Grounds, Flemming Law.—DON BROWNE.

Alpha-Alpha Will Host Zone Meeting

W. J. WARWICK

Alpha

University of North Carolina

ALPHA-ALPHA completed the 1954-55 scholastic year with a much improved record. Among the more impressive parts of this improvement was our rise from 18th to 14th in scholastic rating among fraternities on campus. One of those mainly responsible for this rise was past Alpha Jack Stevens, who was initiated into Φ BK last spring. Closely following were Brothers Fitzgerald, Baber, Harris, Valentine, Burbridge, Warwick, and Craver who made the Dean's List.

Participation in campus activities is one of our best selling points for the coming rushees. Collie Collison, Baltimore, Md., is head cheerleader this year, ably assisted by Pledge Larry Ford. Collison has obtained block football tickets for all games, and Brothers and their dates are attending the games en masse. Brother Bill Sanders, Asheboro, has been elected chairman of the University political party and Jack Stevens was elected vice president of the Student Body and reelected to the IFC court.

This spring, Alpha-Alpha will play a part in the inter-Chapter relationships of Chi Phi when we are hosts to our neighboring Chapters during the Southern Zone Meeting.

Many house improvements are underway, keeping all of us busy until rushing, and the new pledges busy thereafter. Redecoration of the shower rooms, the installation of indirect lighting, and a beverage locker are foremost. The painting of all exterior woodwork will complete the main items.

Among many social activities planned for the coming year is a Chi Phi-Chi Omega football game in Kenan stadium. The rules will be novel, to say the least. A pillow party with the Pi Beta Phis is also on the agenda. An annual event we all look forward to is the Christmas party before vacation for a local orphanage. The children have dinner at the house, after which they are entertained at a party with gifts for all. A trip to some local point of interest rounds out a thoroughly enjoyable time for all.

Alpha-Alpha was hard hit by Dan Cupid over the summer with the marriages of Bob Merritt, Carl Baber, Bob Warwick, J. B. Ashe, and Pledges Charlie Bowen and Joe Cruciani being announced.

Alumni Weekend was planned for the Homecoming game with Maryland, Oct. 15. There was a turkey dinner before the game, followed that evening by a party on the patio featuring the Night-hawk's combo. We are fortunate in having Alumni in nearby towns, especially Charlotte, who visit us quite often.

One addition to the house this year is Pledge Stewart Candler Bird, Atlanta, Ga., returning after four years in the Navy. Newly initiated is Philip Malone, Jr., Greensboro, who was also a 4-year Navy veteran before pledging last spring.

Alpha-Alpha has a new housemother this year, Mrs. Van McNair, mother of two married children. Mrs. McNair formerly lived in Baltimore, Md., but came to us from Greensboro, where she was a real estate agent. She is the Chi Phi dream of a housemother—gracious hostess, wonderful meal planner, great sense of humor, and incidentally out-cheered everybody in the house for her beloved Dodgers in the Series.—BEN BURBRIDGE.

Alumni Response

ROGER W. COMSTOCK, Alpha
University of Michigan

ALPHA-TAU's new Alpha is Rod Comstock who served as Zeta. Rod participates in many campus activities, and is a member of two honorary societies. Jim Howell will serve as Beta this year, while the other officers are Garry Hoffman, Gamma; John Rapson, Delta; Dick Menge, Epsilon; and Dick Fink, Zeta. We held our informal initiation for five pledges during freshman orientation week this fall. At this time, one week prior to the opening of classes, all Brothers and pledges alike were required to return to the campus. The week was spent in painting and cleaning the house, including a renovation of the chapter room by several of the Brothers. We held formal initiation for Jack Leopard, Bob Tomlinson, Ralph Fear, Chuck Pearson, Jim Eckenrod, and Mike Arent.

Alpha-Tau wishes to take this opportunity of officially greeting our newly affiliated Brother from Alpha-Chi, Dick Schmuck.

We are stressing particularly scholarship in an effort to raise our rating this fall. There will be study halls set up and a Big Brother system will be used in order to help and to tutor the pledges. Men majoring in particular fields will tutor the younger men in their special areas of concentration.

Homecoming is now in the planning stages, with everyone thinking in terms of chicken wire, napkins, and honoring our Alumni. In the near future, we are holding our annual Fathers' Weekend.

The Detroit Alumni group has begun to perk up its ears again on the heels of a great Alumni reunion which was held last May. At that meeting, Harry Jones was elected the new president of the Chi Phi Club of Detroit, and has been doing a great job since. Henry "Red" Gildner, A-T '26, is the new vice president, and Tom Forgacs, A-T '53, will serve as secretary. We would like to throw a few roses in the direction of our new Chapter Adviser, George Floridis, A-T '51, who has made a great success of himself in the business world and has come back to give us a helping hand.—DICK FINK.

Ohio Wesleyan University

ALPHA-CHI started the new school year by pledging fifteen men: Bill Wolff and Dan Morgan, Youngstown; Lou Martin and Ron Cottle, Portsmouth; Paul Moore, Boardman; Ken Terry and Linc Lackey, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Ron Kennedy, Portsmouth; Kit Carlson, Garden City, N. Y.; Dave Young, Jackson Heights, N. Y.; Rob Rowbothan, Waban, Mass.; Sam Jeffery, Huron; Don Gillum, Lucasville; Doug Lee, Devin, Conn.; and Jim Diephus, Bronxville, N. Y.

Sportswise, it looks as though it's going to be another active year for the brotherhood. Prospects for an excellent intramural football team are good and many of the Brothers are active in varsity sports. Dick Thomas '56 and Rex Kiser '57 hold down positions on the Bishop football team. Dick Rebillard '58 is counted upon by the soccer squad as being one of its main stalwarts this season. Jack Lister '58 and Bob McCoy '58, will have positions on the hockey team. Jim McNew '58 captains the swimming team. Several of the Brothers expect to be on the wrestling team. Scholastically Alpha-Chi is proud of its Beta, Brother Earl Spiller '56, who was elected to ΦBK last spring and, of course, is winner of the Sparks Memorial Award for scholarship.—BILL HOLLAND.

Alpha Delta Won Wrestling Trophy

JAMES B. LESSIG, Alpha Pennsylvania State University

LAST spring Alpha Delta boosted its prestige on campus greatly by winning the Intramural Wrestling Trophy and placing second in the popular Interfraternity Council Sing competition. In winning the wrestling trophy, Don Farmelo was again runner-up in the 121 lb.-class, Tom Webb won the 128 lb.-class, Armour Black won his second Crown in the 145 lb.-class, and Ernie Young copped the 165 lb. crown with little trouble. Dick Coolbaugh's outstanding talents in music led us to our success in the "Sing," which happened to be the first time Chi Phi has entered the event here in many years. This year we hope to decorate of Alpha Delta with the first place trophy.

Our representatives in campus activities this year are Howard Rowlands, Chuck Evans, Coolbaugh, and Black and Pledges Jack Long and Ray Kelley, members of the Men's Glee Club. Rowlands and Kelley are soloists for the Club. Brother Farmelo and Pledge Bob Miller are members of Penn State's famous Blue Band. Phil Steel is a top cartoonist for the Froth, humor magazine.

The house is completely filled this year, with the addition of 16 new pledges who are showing true Chi Phi Spirit thus far. Our only holdback is our scholastic standing which we hope to steadily improve.—ARMOUR E. BLACK.

GAMMA DELTA'S new officers this year are Alpha, Geryld Krogfus; Beta, Donald Fair; Gamma, Richard Kobs; Epsilon, Myron Parsons. After one week of rushing we have pledged three new men: George Dahl, Baudette; Bob Hemauer, Sioux Falls, S. D.; and Roger Christianson, St. Paul. Rushing parties are being scheduled for the remainder of the quarter.

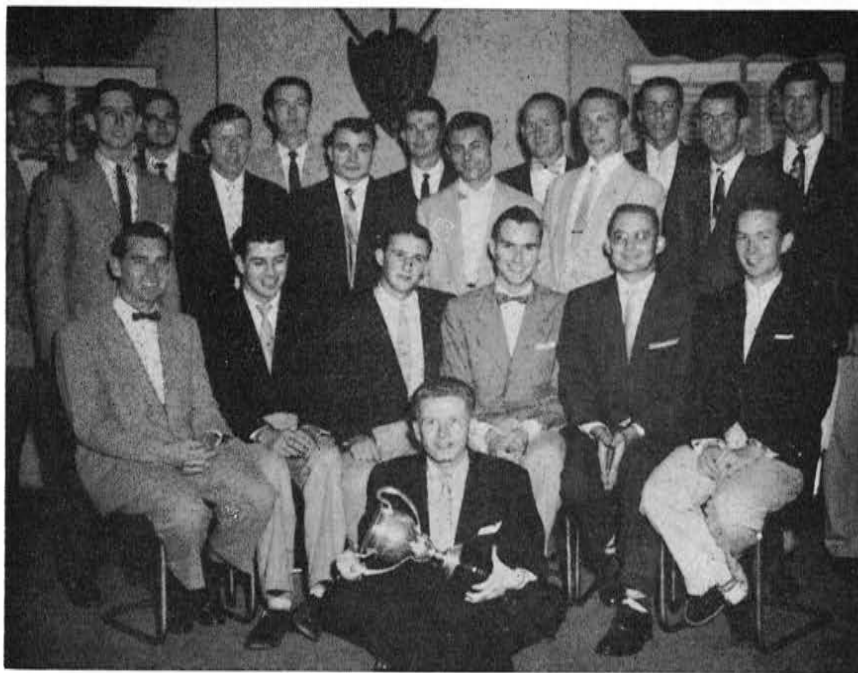

The delegates to Congress, Don Fair and Dick Kobs, and the alternate, Jerry Krogfus, would like to express their appreciation to the Iota Chapter for the fine hospitality extended by the Ohio State Chi Phis. Delegates also enjoyed the southern hospitality extended by the Eta and Tau delegations during hotel parties. We have decided to send in all our box tops for Confederate money.

Neil Fred MacIlraviae passed away this summer. Mac was as much an institution of our Chapter as the parties and Monday night meetings. A willing worker and an excellent organizer, he was always active in fraternity affairs. During his career at Chi Phi he held the office of Zeta and Epsilon. The loss of this Brother is deeply felt by the entire Chapter.

DELTA DELTA has eight pledges at the present time and will increase this number as the semester passes. Our present pledge class has a great amount of spirit and enthusiasm: George Armenta, Bernard Bernacchi, John Drott, Richard Ewing, Charles Flickinger, Leonard Kimbal, James Packer, and James Pine.

The first meeting of the Delta Delta Alumni Assn. was very well attended and indicated a great deal of interest on the part of our Alumni. This increase in attendance was largely due to the efforts of Ted Borock, our Alumni Coordinator.

Much of our success thus far this semester has been due to the enthusiasm and hard work of our Alpha, Don Roberts, and of the other chapter officers: Leland Burns, Beta; Kenneth Lucas, Gamma; Gerald Penner, Delta; Robert McIver, Epsilon; and Roc Walley, Zeta.

Wedding bells are still ringing in our ears from the six weddings witnessed this past summer. Biting the dust were: Charles Woodward, John Paolozzi, John Frey, Bernie Bowen, Floyd Allen, and Walt Doucett.

The Brothers of Delta Delta gave their life's blood to obtain a trophy which now stands on our mantel. After winning the Red Cross blood drive for three successive years, we have permanent possession of a trophy with which we can now prove that we are all genuine red-blooded American boys.—ROC WALLEY.

Oregon State College has required all social fraternities on campus to have housemothers this year. We have made accommodations for ours to be a resident. Her name is Mrs. Salmons and she was our cook for about eight years.

David Jabusch is the winner of the Sparks Memorial Medal for the second time in his college career.

ETA DELTA had its 12th annual Watermelon Dig and its second annual Kickoff Queen contest on Friday night, Sept. 30. The Watermelon Dig, which is the only university-recognized fraternity event, proved to be an even bigger success than its predecessors. Three tons of watermelon were served to hungry Trojans after the victorious game against Texas (more about that later). The university officials went all out in helping the Chapter as did the City of Los Angeles. The City gave us permission to block off Fraternity Row to use for dancing and even supplied us with blockades and lanterns. At 12:00 o'clock the second annual Kickoff Queen was crowned by Dick Saydah (the lucky so-and-so also got to kiss her).

The men in the house with athletic prowess kept themselves busy this summer as the other Brothers found out when we returned. Ray Martin set a new sophomore shot put record breaking the old one by more than one and one-half feet. Dick Bronson also found time to set a new national freshman shot put mark, while Bob Lawson took time off from work to place second in the National A.A.U. decathlon meet.

Even though we were busy with the Dig and the Queen contest, rushing was not neglected. We are starting out with 10 pledges who put forth a lot of voluntary work of their own on these activities. The only sad thing about our first meeting was the resignation of C. Moreland "Morey" Thomas as Eta Delta Chapter Adviser. Brother Thomas' duties as the new Grand Zeta, however, made his resignation necessary.

We also had a telephone call from the Brothers at Nu who wanted to wager a skin on the game. Another skin will adorn the walls of Eta Delta this year.—FLETCHER PHILLIPS.

Theta Delta Has New Furniture

TERRY ROGERS

Alpha

University of Florida

THE house acquired by Theta Delta a year ago this past summer received a great boost toward becoming a home this fall. Our Alumni presented us with a living room suite of a 4-piece curved sectional sofa, love seats, coffee tables, lamps, and occasional chairs. Included also were new dining room chairs. The old living room furniture was moved to the library and the TV room. The Chapter replaced the aged piano with a pretty new Acrosonic upright much to the delight of Brother Claude Murphree, University organist, who plays for us every Wednesday night. The ailing TV set was replaced with a new Admiral 21-inch set. Prior to the arrival of all this new furniture, everyone turned out to paint and paper the living room, dining room, library, and house-mother's room.

During Rush Week we pledged 13 prospective Chi Phis: Don Cruse, Tommy Lamont, Floyd Taylor, Homer Stonaker, Miami; Stan Lang, Coral Gables; Jimmy Whitehouse, Bill Liebe, Sebring; Ormond Ware, Avon Park; Elliot Christian, John Sheppard, Tampa; Tony Dalbon, West Palm Beach; Fred Schmucker, Cleveland, Ohio; and John Smith, Rockford, Ill. The next few weeks of informal rushing brought the addition of Dick Von Genk, Jacksonville; Emil Raab, Pompano; and Ray Beckler, Ft. Myers. Returning to the Chapter after four year hitches in the Air Force are Harry Roulstone and Bill Seepe. Sunday, Sept. 25, saw the initiation of George Davies, Warren Patterson, Bob Kairalla, Howard Evans, Harold Rodier, Bruce Robertson, Eugene Parets, John Gesbocker, Frank Bloekl, Christo Boloanoff, and Bill Rarden.

Officers for this semester are: Terry Rogers, Alpha; Jim Harris, Beta; Allan Entz, Gamma; Chris Kneedler, Delta; Ned Barry, Epsilon; and Bill Seepe, Zeta. The pledges are in the good hands of Snick Ogden, pledge master, and Harry Roulstone, pledge dictator. Carl Egbert is house manager and Buddy Lynch is dining room manager.

In October, Mrs. Irene Mayfield joined us as housemother. Mrs. Mayfield, employed as a school coördinator by the county Board of Public Instruction, was formerly Dean of Women at Perkinson Junior College, Miss.

Social Chairman Skip Pratt has been busy this semester arranging coffee and dessert get-togethers with the sororities on campus. The ΔΔΔs turned the tables and invited us over to their new house on Nov. 2. Fall Frolics on Oct. 14-15, turned the house into a hobo jungle (complete with band) for our Bum Party, Friday night. On Saturday it was the LSU-Florida football game. Saturday night the formal dance was held at Florida Gym featuring the music of Boyd Raeburn and the songs of Georgia Gibbs. Midnight breakfast was served back at the house.

The welcome mat is out. We are anxious to show off our new furniture and house improvements.—BILL SEEPE.
