The CHI PHI

Chakett

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

JOHN D. ADAMS, OF NEW YORK, N. Y.

DESIGN FOR A BADGE.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Design No. 25,499, dated May 19, 1896.

Application filed February 18, 1896. Serial No. 579,799. Term of patent 14 years.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, JOHN D. ADAMS, a citizen of the United States, residing in the city and county of New York, State of New York,
5 have invented a new and useful Design for Society Badges, of which the following is a specification.

This invention relates to a society badge of peculiar shape and arrangement and ornamentation, composed of the Greek letters
10 "Chi" and "Phi;" and I do hereby declare that the drawing accompanying this specification conveys to any one a clear understanding of the invention and is sufficient to enable 15 such person to use the same.

The letter "Chi" is arranged above the letter "Phi," with the cross-bar of the "Phi" extending above the top and beneath the base 20 of the "Chi." This cross-bar at its top and bottom has recesses a and b, and the inner lateral projections a' b' of the "Chi" at the top and bottom come opposite the recesses a and b, respectively. This characterizes the shape and arrangement of the letters.

The ornamentation of the badge is characterized by stemwork extending along the 25 cross-bars of the "Chi" and having bunches of grapes and leaves.

What I claim as new, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—

The design for a badge, substantially as 30 shown and described.

In testimony whereof I have signed my name to this specification in the presence of two subscribing witnesses.

JOHN D. ADAMS.

CHAPTERS PROSPER UNDER ALUMNI GUIDANCE

Let's talk it over

THIS issue marks the first anniversary of your editor taking over the pen and paste pot from Brother Rosser. During the past year several changes have been made in the basic format of CHAKETT. A series of articles by leading Deans of Men was inaugurated and will continue. A column on Chi Phi authors and their works was added as a regular feature. A calendar of alumni association and club events is now a part of each edition. Chapter news letters will be featured in two issues each year rather than in all four. This permits more alumni news and provides space for timely articles on all phases of fraternity activities.

For many years the Council has grappled with the problem of rising production and publishing cost while the income from chapter and alumni sources remained fairly constant. The Council budget for 1960-61 (see Cover III) provides $14,000 for four issues of CHAKETT. The circulation averages 17,000 copies each issue.

With income and circulation constant and costs rising the Council has agreed with the editor in standardizing 24 pages to an issue compared to a previous average of 28 pages. During the past year the reduction in pages has worked no hardship and, based on comment and letters from readers, there has been no diminution in interest.

Your news tips and items on alumni activities are needed to keep the CHAKETT live and informative. To those who have been so helpful this past year, we say thanks, and to those who have read in silence, we say, "Come aboard! We need your help. It's your magazine."

The inside back cover page may look, at first glance, like a typical dun for Alumni Dues. It is, but it also features a breakdown of the Council's budget for 1960-61. To our knowledge it is the first time this information has been generally made available to all members. We think it merits your close attention, and hope it stimulates greater giving and interest.

Congress will be held immediately after Labor Day, as in the past. The 1961 hosts will be the Chi Phi Club of Chicago, Pi (Northwestern) and Sigma (University of Illinois). The General Chairman is David S. Clark, Mu '48, and while he has announced no specific details, he promises the best ever.

Recently, while conversing with a group of chapter officers, I mentioned the importance of legacies to a Chapter. One of the younger officers surprised me with, "What's a legacy?" Judging from the remarks of some alumni brothers, this question should come as no surprise. Interestingly enough Chapters constantly inquire of me as to the most successful procedures for obtaining more rushing leads and assistance from alumni. It is not unusual to find Junior pledged to another fraternity and the Chapter not even aware of his presence on the campus. Many fathers do not want to prejudice their son's selection and therefore do not inform the Chapter of the boy's matriculation at the school.

The legacy has always presented a problem. The Chapter has an obligation and usually meets it although there are many instances when the interests of the Chapter and the boy are not compatible. There is nothing new or conclusive about all this. Every chapter should do everything within its power to solicit rushing recommendations from alumni, and should by all means thank the alumnus and inform him of the ultimate disposition. Organized alumni groups can be of greater assistance in providing leads and rush aid than they have previously. Each group would do well to have a committee functioning along these lines.

Two groups—the Pittsburgh and Memphis Alumni—both held events during Christmas recess to which undergraduate brothers were invited. Such events could develop into a fine tradition.

Respectfully submitted,

National Director

The Story of Our CHI PHI BADGE

by Dallie Hall, Gamma '60
Ritualistic Counselor

FOR more than a century, our badge has represented the symbolism and secrecy of the Fraternity and the pride and loyalty of its wearers. Its modifications through the years are emblematic of the tides of discovery and union in Chi Phi History.

The Hobart and Southern Order badges were jewelled, whereas the Princeton badge, like ours today, was not. The original Princeton badge was a plain monogram, but later the Chi was engraved with two daggers and a skull and crossbones, and the Phi with a grapevine. The vine was originally enameled green and was the outward sign of a glass of wine which stood on the desk of the presiding officer of the Princeton Order.

The Southern Order badge was a jewelled monogram, the Chi bearing rubies and pearls. The Phi was engraved with crossed swords, clasped hands and two stars cut into the gold with the initial letters E, K, Φ, and Δ of the motto.

The Hobart Order was established on Nov. 14, 1860, and on this same day they adopted scarlet and blue as the official colors of their Order, thus their badge was the first to reflect our present-day fraternity colors. The badge was a jewelled monogram carrying sapphires or turquoise on one bar of the Chi and rubies or garnets on the other.

When the existing Chi Phi Society united with the Hobart Order in 1867, the badge of the Hobart Order was adopted, and thus the Hobart and Northern Order badges were one and the same. When the Northern and Southern Order united to form the Chi Phi Fraternity in 1874, there was much discussion and controversy over which badge should be chosen. The emergent badge was actually a mixture of that of each Order, retaining the original monogram style of the old Princeton Society, the jewelled colors of the Hobart Order, and the symbolic crossed swords, clasped hands and stars of the Southern Order. However, the swords and clasped hands were removed by the Convention of 1875 and the Convention of 1884 dropped the stars.

The Convention of 1895 recommended that a uniform badge be adopted, as proposed by the Grand Lodge. This badge was designed by John D. Adams, Xi '82, who later became Grand Alpha (1891-97), a member of the Grand Lodge (1899-01), and Grand Delta (1901-03). Its design was based on that of all its predecessors with an emphasis on simplicity and distinction. Like the Princeton badge, it was unjewelled and possessed a grapevine; like the Hobart badge, it bore the scarlet and blue of the Fraternity; and like all the others, it was a monogram badge consisting of the two Greek letters, X and Φ. It was patented on May 19, 1896, Design No. 25,499 and Serial No. 579,799; and is our badge of today, without modification.

In 1896 it was decided that this new badge should be worn "one hand's width from the center of the body," but this was somewhat confusing so that in 1901 it was clarified to be "on a line with the left nipple and one hand's width from the center of the body." It was also ordered to be worn during both day and night. One of the best descriptions of when to wear the badge was written by S. H. Brockunier, Beta '93, in the 1901 Year Book:

"Starting with the supposition of a loyal Chi Phi, he will own and wear a badge. Business is certainly not an objection if you wear your badge in its proper place and do not make yourself conspicuous by wearing it upon your coat or some equally prominent place. The position of the badge, as you know, is one hand's breadth to the left of the medial line and near the heart; and the badge is pinned upon the vest or shirt and NOT upon the coat or overcoat.

"So then let modesty and dignity go hand in hand with loyalty. Let your badge peep forth half shyly, only partially revealing to the public the nobility and sacredness of our order. Rather than an emblem flaunted in the eyes, let it be a half hidden token, showing to the public the grandeur of our order, but concealing from them the hidden mysteries by which such excellence is attained."

Unfortunately the latter paragraph has been ambiguously interpreted to mean either half in and out of a shirt pocket or such that it would be partially visible on a shirt when a coat is worn.

There has recently been some controversy about the colors on the Chi of the badge. The scarlet does not cross the blue and the blue does not cross the scarlet; rather, the colors of each bar meet in the center which is completely filled by a gold leaf, as is exemplified on the original 1896 patent.

There are many other interesting facts and stories about our badge. There was a XΦ monogram on the ornamental ironwork of the Chicago Bridge in the 1890's. It was placed there by J. Z. Roemheld, Theta '88, bridge draftsman for the Chicago

Following Brother Hall's narrative, you will see the badges of 1. Princeton; 2. Southern; 3. Hobart; 4. Northern; 5. Official badge of 1896 patent Bridge Department. In January, 1860, it was decided that a gentleman could let a lady wear his badge, but in May, 1861, a small lady's pin, cuff links, and studs were made to circumvent this. It is presently recognized that one should never permit a person not a member of Chi Phi to possess our badge.

A most interesting historical collection of badges is possessed by the Council and was displayed at the 1960 Atlanta Congress. The collection can be seen at the Office of the Council in Atlanta during office hours.

Hunter Cited for Service

DR. FREDERICK M. HUNTER, Alpha Theta Chi '05, past Scholarship Counselor of Chi Phi, was honored for distinguished service at a convocation at the University of Oregon on Oct. 19. Following the Charter Day address by Dr. John William Gardner, president of the Carnegie Corp., on "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Meaning," the award was presented by Dr. Orlando J. Hollis, Dean of the School of Law.

Death Takes DeWolfe Howe

WHEN Mark Antony DeWolfe Howe, Sr., Psi '86, died on Dec. 6, Chi Phi lost its oldest member. Brother Howe was 96. Initiated by Psi Chapter at Lehigh on Sept. 21, 1881, he served on the staff of CHAKETT, Volume IV, No. 1, during the editorship of Boudinot Keith, Psi '80. This was the first volume of the magazine after its revival in 1891. At the time Brother Howe was editing The Youth's Companion. After receiving his B.A. degree at Lehigh, he received a similar one from Harvard in 1887. He completed his M.A. degree there in 1888. That year he became associate editor of the popular weekly for young people. He held the post until 1913. From 1893 to 1895 he was assistant editor of The Atlantic Monthly, becoming vice president of the Atlantic Monthly Co. in 1911.

In 1924 he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for his biography of a Harvard professor, Barrett Wendell and his Letters. A prolific writer, he was author or co-author of 38 volumes and editor or co-editor of 40 others. His poetry was roguish as well as sentimental and philosophic. Although much of his writing centered around Boston, his home, and such activities as the Boston Symphony Orchestra of which he was a trustee, the Boston Commons, the Saturday Club, he wrote on Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith, Sgt. Alvin C. York, and Jane Addams in Twentieth Century Americans. His 5-volume Memoirs of the Harvard Dead in the War Against Germany, compiled with two collaborators, is his most ambitious undertaking.

Brother Howe died at the home of his son, Prof. Mark DeWolfe Howe of the Harvard Law School. His other survivors are another son, Quincy Howe, the ABC news commentator, and a daughter, Mrs. Reginald Allen, also an author.

CHAPTERS PROSPER UNDER ALUMNI GUIDANCE

THE quality of chapter membership and the ability of members to remain in college, financially, scholastically for four years, contribute to the stability of the Chapter, but at best every four years, if not every two years, the membership changes. Alumni guidance is the continuing stabilizing force, the liaison between the past and the present, the voice of experience speaking to prevent the repetition of mistakes made only a few years ago. Without the Chapter Adviser, no Chapter will prosper.

At Gamma Chapter, Emory University, JOHN R. STROTHER, JR., Gamma '57, takes the Adviser's responsibilities. John was born March 23, 1935. He attended DeKalb County schools and graduated from Druid Hills High School where he served as president of the Student Body. He received his B.A. and LL.B. degrees from Emory University.

While at Emory Brother Strother served as president of the Student Body, chief judge of Emory Traffic Court, president of Student Bar Assn. He was a member of Student Conduct, vice president of Emory Players, and member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity.

In 1958 Brother Strother received the Marion Luther Brittain award, the highest award given an Emory student for his service to the University.

John is engaged in the active practice of law and has his office at 913 Grant Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

He is a member of the Georgia Bar Assn. and the Old War Horse Lawyers' Club. He belongs to the Emory Baptist Church.

KAPPA at Wisconsin is guided by JOHN W. JOHNSON, Kappa '57. Jack lives at 1918 Sachtjen St., Madison, with his wife, Margaret, a Wisconsin Kappa Kappa Gamma, and little Jacqueline Ann and Eric John. He is assistant cashier in the American Exchange Bank. After graduation from the Richland Center, Wis., High School, he received his degree from the School of Economics at the University of Wisconsin. He spent three years in the Army.

Jack has time to work in community service as well as in chapter life. He has been area chairman for the United Givers Fund Drive and city chairman of the March of Dimes Drive. He belongs to the Bethany Methodist Church and is a member of the Madison Junior Chamber of Commerce.

While he was at Kappa, Jack was Gamma and house manager. He is on the board of directors of the corporation and he edits the Meteor.

CORNELL'S associate director of university development, W. BARLOW WARE, Xi '47, is Xi's Adviser. His territory for the annual class-giving program covers New Jersey, Fairfield County, Conn., Westchester Co., New York, and the area of New York State north of New York City. Other Cornell activities include advising Quill and Dagger, senior honorary society, keeping score at all track meets, and serving as timer and announcer at all hockey games.

After preparatory education at Woodberry Forest in Virginia, Barlow entered Cornell. He belonged to the Dramatic Club for three years, managed the wrestling team, and played varsity soccer. He served on the Student Council for two years and was on the elections and awards committee. He belonged to Quill and Dagger. He was a regional advertising manager for the Greater Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., following graduation from Cornell. At St. John's Episcopal Church he is in charge of ushers, a lay reader and vestryman, and building chairman.

Elmo Giordanetti, Phi Adviser, is not a Chi Phi

Eugene D. Scott, Omega '57, graduated in textile engineering

Philip M. Guzzetta, Pi '57, is in the publishing field

A MEMBER of Beta Theta Pi at Amherst is Chapter Adviser for Phi! That makes it tit-for-tat because, while ELMO GIORDANETTI works with Phi as an honorary member, Jim Grimes, Phi '31, Scholarship Counselor, is Adviser for the Beta Theta Pi Chapter at the University of the South, Seawanee. An assistant professor in romance languages, Professor Giordanetti has worked with Phi since 1956 with the exception of one year when he was on leave in Europe to finish research for his thesis.

Paterson, N. J., was home. College was not an immediate possibility after graduation from high school so Dr. Giordanetti worked in New York in the advertising department of a national food distributing company. When age permitted, he enlisted in the Coast Guard and served in the Pacific theatre. When war ended, he went back to Paterson to work in a law office. He anticipated going into the profession. Perhaps it was that reading of law every afternoon for two hours which changed the course of his career. In 1951, he graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. He spent his junior year at the University of Paris, but that did not interfere with his election to Phi Beta Kappa and to his receiving his degree summa cum laude, the only one in his class.

A Woodrow Wilson Fellowship permitted him to begin his graduate work in romance languages at Princeton. In 1954 he received his M.A. degree and in 1959 his Ph.D. During his leave in 1954-55, he taught English at L'Ecole Centrale des Arts et Manufactures, an outstanding French university engineering school. During 1959-60 he was visiting professor of French at Mount Holyoke College.

Dr. Giordanetti is a member of the Modern Language Assn. of America, the Dante Society, the American Assn. of Teachers of Italian. He is secretary-treasurer of the Amherst chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors. His articles on Italian literature have been used in the Encyclopedia Americana.

EUGENE D. SCOTT, Omega '57, believes that the Adviser should be in close contact with the Chapter. He believes that if members know him well, they will come to him with their problems before they develop into serious trouble.

Brother Scott was born in Rome, Ga., Dec. 8, 1930. He graduated from Darlington Schools in Rome and entered Georgia Tech in 1948, being pledged immediately. He was initiated in the spring.

His college career was interrupted by service in the Air Force lasting from January, 1951, until December, 1954. In January, 1955, he returned to Tech and received his degree in textile engineering in March, 1957.

Brother Scott was Alpha of Omega from June, 1955, until December, 1956. The following year he became Adviser. He served as president of the Omega Trust Assn. from September, 1957, until September, 1958.

PHILIP M. GUZZETTA, Pi '57, became Chapter Adviser in 1959 after assisting Rudy Schlosser, Pi '51, who took over financial responsibilities when the Chapter moved to its new quarters on campus. Last fall he worked with Pi's Alpha, R. Dillon Smith, in creating a Parents' Club, and he is currently engaged in compiling a chapter directory.

Initiated on Jan. 17, 1955, he served the Chapter as pledge master, Delta, Alpha, and rush chairman and was social chairman for two years. He originated a dinner to introduce new pledges to actives and Chicago Area alumni. The sixth annual Pledge Banquet was held last September. He is treasurer of the Chi Phi Club of Chicago and serves as a director of the newly reorganized Pi Assn. of Chi Phi, Inc.

He graduated from Northwestern's School of Business with an accounting major in 1957 and was on the staff of a small CPA firm. He is now associated with Playboy Magazine. He married Barbara Ann Harriman of Milwaukee, Wis., shortly before graduation ceremonies in June, 1957. He is also active in the Glenview, Ill., Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Glenview United Fund.

Republicans Return 3 CHI PHIS to Congress

THREE Chi Phi Congressmen earned reelection in the November elections. William E. Minshall, Alpha '36, is serving his fourth term. Charles R. Jonas, Alpha-Alpha '25, has started his fifth term. John P. Saylor, Zeta '29, is Chi Phi's senior Congressman, beginning his sixth session in Washington, D. C.

Minshall from Ohio State Assembly

BACK in February, 1956, Brother Minshall told members of the Chi Phi Club of Washington, D. C., about "The Freshman Congressman's View from Capitol Hill." He had been elected on Nov. 2, 1954, from the 23rd district in Ohio.

Brother Minshall was born in East Cleveland, Ohio, on Oct. 24, 1911. Educated in the public schools there, he went to the University of Virginia upon graduation from the University High School in Shaker Heights. Following his pre-law degree at Virginia, he completed his law work at the Cleveland Law School and went into practice after he was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1940. During World War II he served for five years in the Army. He was with General Patton's Army at the Battle of the Bulge, the Rhine crossing at Remagen Bridge, and in the Ruhr pocket. He earned the Bronze Star and four battle stars before his honorable discharge in January, 1946, as a lieutenant colonel.

Before the War, he was a member of the Ohio General Assembly. Following his return to civilian life, he was special assistant attorney general of Ohio in 1948-49 and in 1952-53. He became general counsel for the United States Maritime Commission under the Eisenhower administration.

Republicans Reelect Jonas

CHARLES RAPER JONAS represents the 10th district in North Carolina. He was a practicing attorney in Lincolnton before he went to Washington. Brother Jonas had the honor of being the first Republican to go to Congress from North Carolina in 22 years. Likely as not the fact that he is not such a partisan, despite party loyalty, has contributed to his political success. He believes in service to the people. During the past session, he served on the house appropriations committee. He was a ranking minority member of the military construction subcommittee and a member of the independent offices subcommittee and a member of the special committee on deficiencies.

A graduate of the University of North Carolina in 1925, he completed his law work there in 1928. He was a charter member of Alpha-Alpha Chapter and was Alpha of the Chapter. Throughout his undergraduate program he was active in extracurricular affairs on campus. He edited the Law Review when he was in Law School.

Upon graduation he joined his father in his law firm in Lincolnton, becoming the senior member upon his father's death.

While he is in Washington, he is on leave of absence from the North Carolina National Guard. He holds the rank of colonel having been in service since 1927. He was on active military service during World War II for five years.

William E. Minshall, Alpha '36, knows about war from five years in the Army during World War II

Charles R. Jonas, Alpha-Alpha '25, was a charter member of the Chapter. He completed his law work in 1928

Saylor Visits Antarctica

JOHN P. SAYLOR comes from the 26th district in Pennsylvania. He won his first stint in Washington at a special election in 1949. The heaviest off-year vote ever cast brought him victory. He succeeded through hard work, doing his own talking, and through advertising. His performance has earned his reelection.

Brother Saylor is one man in Congress who knows about the South Pole from firsthand observations. He went there during the International Geophysical Year. CHAKETT readers went along with him in an article in the December, 1959, issue.

Born in Conemaugh Township, five miles from Johnstown, Brother Saylor graduated from Johnstown High School in 1924. He received his A.B. degree from Franklin and Marshall College and took his law work at Dickinson.

Like Brothers Jonas and Minshall, he followed his father in community service. He was elected Johnstown city solicitor to succeed his father who died in office.

Upon outbreak of war, he enlisted in the Navy. He went through Iwo Jima, Okinawa, and the beachhead occupation of Yokohama-Tokyo. He returned to his law practice in 1946.

While he was practicing law in Johnstown, he was president of the South District of Pennsylvania Elks Assn. and a lay member of the Synodical Council, Pittsburgh Synod, Evangelical and Reformed Church.

William A. Schnader Wins Association's Highest Honor

WILLIAM A. SCHNADER, Zeta '08, of Philadelphia, became the 25th man to receive the American Bar Association Medal, the highest award conferred by the Association, at the 83d Annual Meeting in Washington, D. C. The award was presented to Mr. Schnader at the annual dinner at The Statler Hilton on Sept. 1.

The Medal is given for "conspicuous service to the cause of American Jurisprudence". The citation accompanying the award to Mr. Schnader reads in part:

"To you, William A. Schnader, an outstanding leader in the law who has learned through years of untiring effort the full meaning of jurisprudence in the American legal system, the American Bar Association, through its Board of Governors, has authorized me to present its highest award, the American Bar Association Medal, in recognition of your devotion to the development and improvement of the law in these United States."

Pinned to 60 guys, she loves them all

by Susan Lewis, Feature Editor

The Daily Tar Heel

SHE'S pinned to 60 guys—and loves them all!

She married an SAE, but the North Carolina Chi Phis have her heart now.

She's Mrs. Frank Campbell, the spirited housemother of the Chi Phi Fraternity house.

After a year of living at 300 S. Columbia St., Mrs. Campbell says she feels "like a pledge who made the grade."

Actually she made the grade in only two months. That was the time the boys gave a tea in her honor and the house president pinned her with a sweetheart pin before the guests arrived.

She's proud of that pin and wears it everywhere.

This ivy league grandmother finds being housemother for a group of lively boys is an interesting and busy life.

Her official job is managing the dining room, entertaining parents, and hosting for house functions.

But unofficially she finds time to make curtains for the boys' rooms, sew up pants, play a few bridge hands, and give the house a few golf lessons.

Known as a good golfer, she spends much of her free time on a local golf course. The Chi Phis are proud of her game and never miss an opportunity to brag on their "champion mother."

Mrs. Campbell doesn't interfere with the boys' lives, but she is available anytime they need her.

As might be expected, they come to her often for a woman's opinion, as well as advice in the female department.

"I guess I'm like their mother away from home," she says, "and they're my boys."

Occasionally she joins the fun and peeks in on a party. Last year a pledge taught her to rock and roll and now she is in demand for dances at parties.

According to the boys, she is, however, "conspicuously absent at those occasions which do not warrant her presence."

Mrs. Campbell exerts a quiet influence on her boys. One grew out his flattop for her last year.

"He looked much better with hair, too!" she declares.

When asked if she felt outnumbered in a house full of males, she laughed and said, "No, I like boys."

She admitted she misses a good girl-to-girl talk sometimes.

The only problem is the noise a house of boys is bound to make after hours. But since she is a night owl herself, this is not much of a bother—and when it is, she has ear plugs.

Mrs. Campbell feels close to all the boys and doesn't have any favorites.

She's glad they like her, too. "It's so rewarding when a graduate comes back and makes a special point to see you and say he's missed you," she says.

Mrs. Campbell never thought she'd be a housemother. After her husband died two years ago, her friends steered her toward the job.

She thought of her love for young people and how her home in Pittsburgh, Pa., had always looked like Union Station for kids—and took Purdue University's course for housemothers-to-be.

When she saw the Carolina campus and met the boys, she knew this was for her.

"I've got that 'Chi Phi Spirit,'" she smiles.

CHI PHIS are Santas to Coed

by Mary Ross in "The Delaware Gazette"

IF YOU should happen to see someone floating around on Cloud Nine up over Delaware today, it's Frances Duhaney, a pretty Ohio Wesleyan freshman from Kingston, Jamaica.

And if the Santa Clauses, junior grade, from up around the Chi Phi house are looking pretty pleased with themselves, they have every reason to be.

Though a happy admixture of old fashioned Christmas spirit and jet-age communication, the family circle at the Duhaney Christmas dinner table will be complete. Only they don't know it yet.

It all happened this way:

When the OWU International Students Assn. met at the Chi Phi house last week, the men at the fraternity house learned that Miss Duhaney, who is in this country for the first time on a foundation scholarship, wasn't going to be able to get home for Christmas.

The Chi Phis, impatiently waiting for the last round of classes and quizzes to be over so that they can join their families for the holidays, had an idea about remedying Miss Duhaney's wistful plight and wheels started to move.

Roland Catalano, a Maple Heights junior, was the chief fund raiser, and Chi Phi President James McVicker, senior from Chillicothe, started working on reservations through his mother who is associated with the "Travel-as-You-Like-It" Travel Agency.

But the men soon found that it takes more than generosity to arrange a last-minute trip to the Caribbean so close to Christmas since flights around the holidays are likely to be booked solid weeks in advance.

This is where the Christmas cheer started snowballing, picking up successive layers of personal interest and holiday spirit as the search for an empty plane seat went on.

Mrs. McVicker called Eastern Airlines, which reported no reservations available but indicated a happy cooperation by trying Pan American.

Pan-Am had nothing, but they called British Overseas Air Lines. Reservations personnel there were regretful but they would see what they could do with British West Indies Air Lines.

The Chillicothe travel bureau and all the airlines along the chain picked up the tab for the phone calls all over the eastern part of the United States.

Interest above and beyond the normal professional concern of reservation clerks culminated in personal greetings to Miss Duhaney from all along the line when the mission was finally accomplished with the securing of a seat on British West Indies Lines from Miami to Kingston.

Meanwhile—back at the campus—the drama heightened on the local scene and suspense was building up. Prof. Eugene White, chairman of the OWU Committee on Inter-Cultural Affairs, and Mrs. White were dining at the Chi Phi house when the call came through that the flight was cleared.

Informed of her good fortune by plane, Miss Duhaney was "speechless," Professor White said, but the inarticulate condition didn't last long.

That night delirium reigned at Perkins Hall, where the pretty West Indian coed lives with 22 freshmen, their senior adviser and Mrs. Harvey Hewitt, the housemother.

The girls' happiness and gratitude were translated into an over-size Christmas card to the "Santa Clauses" at the Chi Phi house. Dorothy Miles of New Cumberland, Pa., drew the colorful Santa, and the coeds collaborated on a neatly penned verse and inscription "From all of us at Perkins—To all you dear Chi Phis."

Miss Duhaney will ride to Cincinnati with a friend on Saturday. She boards an Eastern Airlines plane there at 2:35 a.m. Sunday and will travel on, after a short stopover in Miami, to Kingston in time to surprise her family at Sunday dinner.

Her father, a director in a Kingston business firm, her mother, her 16-year-old brother, and two sisters, 10 and 3, are in for a shock, unless they could read between the lines of a determinedly casual letter.

Frances Duhaney, Ohio Wesleyan freshman from Kingston, Jamaica, B.W.I., is starry-eyed as she receives plane tickets home for Christmas from James McVicker who represented the Santas of Alpha-Chi. Perkins Hall coeds made the Christmas card on the mantel in appreciation of the Chi Phis' generosity. (Photo by Ross)

ALUMNI CLUBS

Iowa State Alumni Meet

FOURTEEN alumni of the old Pi Chapter at Iowa State University at Ames sat down together at the annual Chi Phi luncheon in the new dining room at Memorial Union on Homecoming Day, Oct. 15. Wives, children, and friends brought the total number present to about 40.

As he has done for many years, Adolph O. Ludwig '33, Perry, Iowa, handled all arrangements for reservations at both the luncheon and the Homecoming football game.

Several letters from brothers who were unable to attend were passed around to be read. The annual financial report was read and approved. Plans were made to meet earlier in the day next year, to allow more time for visiting and talking over the affairs of the Fraternity. Even though the chapter house was totally destroyed by fire in 1938, and there was a large indebtedness on it, all bills were paid, and a considerable sum still remains in the fraternity treasury. Following the luncheon, there was much informal discussion as to the best use to which these funds might be put, since it is the hope of the present members that the annual group meeting will not develop into a "Last Man's Club."

Letters were read from Carl J. Gladfelter, National Director, Atlanta, Ga., and from Millard R. Kratochvil, Director of Student Affairs at Iowa State. Both discussed the difficulties involved in reestablishing a Chapter under the system of colonization now used.

A. H. Pickford '15, Des Moines, was chairman of the informal program following the luncheon. Brother L. S. "Shine" Wells '17, Story City, president of the alumni group for many years, was critically ill at his home, and later that very day we learned that he had passed away while the Homecoming game was going on.

Present at the luncheon were: A. M. Wenholz '16, Winthrop; Clint Herlacher '26, Storm Lake; John G. Jessup '21, Perry; L. B. Hoopes '17, Muscatine; M. E. Seymour '36, Creston; E. W. COLLEGE CHAPTERS

Alpha Members Renovate House

GRAYSON E. McNAIR, Alpha
University of Virginia

THE Alpha Chapter has completed extensive renovation of the first floor and stairway. This was accomplished by the combined efforts of brothers and pledges who returned early to prepare the house for the rush season. The renovation included sanding and varnishing of the floors and stairs, painting walls and woodwork, and the installation of new light fixtures. Many of the individual rooms were similarly redone. The general outside appearance of the house was greatly improved by trimming the ivy and shrubbery.

With the recommendations of many alumni, for which Alpha is very grateful, we had a rush list of over 275 rushees. Under the new advanced rushing program, there has been much intensive rushing by brothers and alumni. We pledged 15 men on Dec. 11.

E. Ashley "Buzz" Haycox has been recently initiated into Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity. Phil Morton was also elected.

J. Campbell Clarke, Jr., '50, Alpha's Adviser and a director of the Alpha Home Assn., was recently installed as president of the Charlottesville-Albemarle Real Estate Board in recognition of his outstanding achievement in the business community. At this time, Alpha would like to express its appreciation and thanks to Brothers Kitchin '49, Frazier '08, Luce '26, Gregory '45, Thurston '45, and Langford '50, as well as Campbell Clarke '50 and others too numerous to mention, for their sagacious advice and their dedicated service with the Alpha Home Assn.

On Dec. 9, Alpha held the annual Christmas party for Charlottesville's underprivileged children. This has been an annual event for many years and not only do the children enjoy the festivities, but the brothers have come to look forward to it.

Many alumni will be pleased to learn that our present houseboy is Ronald Porter, the son of the unforgettable "Dr. Phil" who served in the same capacity for 44 years. It was nice to see so many alumni return to Alpha during the fall football season, and we hope to see many more return in the future.—PHILIP M. MORTON.

Beta Participates in Fund Drives

LUIS F. VILLALOBOS, Alpha
M.I.T.

ALTHOUGH college life at M.I.T. requires an unusually great amount of time devoted to scholarship, several Chi Phis have managed to participate in extracurricular activities in the past few months. One of our two Sparks Medal Winners from last year, John Suhrbier, is now captain of the M.I.T. lightweight crew; along with John, three other Chi Phis will be rowing for Tech this spring. It is also surprising, on this campus, to find within as small a group as 40 brothers and pledges: the president of the Arab Students Club, and members of the freshman and varsity golf, squash, pistol, fencing, swimming, wrestling, track, lacrosse, and soccer teams.

Last month several members of the Chapter spent two nights soliciting for the United Fund in Boston's Back Bay area. Within the next few months the entire Chapter will participate in a fund-raising benefit for the Boston Heart Fund. Again we held our annual orphans' Christmas party for a group of children from the Cambridge Settlement House. This year, for the first time, strong but differing political allegiances went further than heated arguments after dinner: before the election you could find Chi Phis working in the Boston campaign headquarters of both camps.

In the past few months the Chapter has been making a conscious effort to get closer to the M.I.T. faculty. Thus we have established a tradition of inviting faculty members to dinner. One of our guests, Prof. W. Bottiglia, spent several hours telling us about the trip he took to Russia last summer to do research on a rare collection of Voltaire. Among others we have had Dr. H. Edgerton, an expert in high speed photography, Prof. T. Wood, a member of the humanities department who is a nationally known folk singer.

Also new in the program of the Beta is a pledge training program oriented to introduce our freshman pledges to the type of work which will insure their scholastic success at M.I.T. So far the pledges have conducted a seminar in basic study aids such as new methods of speed reading, and recent explorations into the psychology of concentration. As an aid to the Zeta we have had the pledges do original research into the history of the Beta Chapter and into the history of the MacKim, Mead, and White mansion which we now occupy.

But as usual we are holding bigger and better parties. On Columbus Day we hired a bus and had a steak picnic followed by mountain climbing at New Hampshire's Mt. Monodnock State Park. In the evening we went en masse to hear Dave Brubeck at

M.I.T. The next important event we are looking forward to is strictly a stag occasion. Our annual Initiation Banquet will be held on Washington's Birthday. This year we are putting some of the more interesting chapter records on display. This includes old scrapbooks and Zeta's reports. We are also looking forward to the largest alumni turnout in our history in commemoration of our 10th anniversary at 32 Hereford St.—FRED DELSE.

Gamma to Drop Committee System

GEORGE S. STRAIN, Alpha
Emory

GAMMA CHAPTER was very pleased to serve as one of the host Chapters for the National Congress which was held in Atlanta last fall. During the Congress we presented a model initiation and pledge ceremony for the visiting delegates. In addition, a ritual review was conducted here in the house on the same day by Dallie Hall '60, an alumnus of our Chapter who is serving as Ritualistic Counselor for the Fraternity. Brothers from Gamma were able to attend many of the functions of the Congress.

In the period before rush week the brothers were engaged in cleaning, repainting, and refurnishing the house. Some fixing-up is done every year, but this time the first floor was almost completely redecorated with new carpets, furniture, and new drapes which our Mothers' Club helped to obtain. Due to some good management, the general financial condition of the Chapter has improved considerably over the past year, but we continue to suffer from the need for replacement of the furniture in the brothers' rooms.

The 1960 pledge class took as its project the building of a wooden fence around our patio. This pledge project is an annual institution and the brothers and pledges divide between them whatever expenses may be incurred. Each year a major project is undertaken and, after a few years, the effect on the house begins to look quite impressive.

During rush week Gamma pledged 27 boys. Because of some good insight which has been used in our selection procedures, we have maintained our standards for membership although our numbers are not quite as great as we could accommodate. Rush is becoming more fiercely competitive every year at Emory and a great effort will be needed in the future by any fraternity who wants to stay on top.

Elections have been held early for the winter and spring terms of office and the following have been elected: Alpha, Sid Strain; Beta, Bob Brinson; Gamma, Hugh Lawson; Delta, Mervin Gould; and Epsilon, Grant Simmons. Alpha Strain says that the chapter must definitely put the emphasis on its function as a social organization. He voices dissatisfaction with the committee system which we presently employ for the delegation of responsibilities and he says that he will offer a new plan of organization during the winter quarter as a substitute.—BILL BORING.

Delta House Speaks Loudly

DAVID B. COLE, Alpha Rutgers University

My name is Pinchurst. I have completed serving 50 years as the fraternity house for Delta Chapter. My walls are old, my beams are twisted, my stairs squeak, my halls creak, my bricks need repointing, and my dining room ceiling needs to be replaced. Yet, I am happy. The current brotherhood has made great strides towards fraternal living. I am also encouraged by the alumni association because they are making improvements on me as fast as they possibly can.

Let me tell you more about the brotherhood. There are 40 in all (including upper-class pledges). This is the largest group that I have seen in the house prior to freshman pledging. I am confident that there will be more than ever as soon as rushing begins on Feb. 1.

At the beginning of the academic year, the brotherhood enthusiastically returned to school a week early. During this time they sanded and refinished all my floors. This was an enormous task and was performed with vigor that exemplifies the pride that the men have in me.

The brotherhood seems to be packed with enthusiasm. Just last week, I overheard Gus Lachenauer '56 comment that he "never saw the house with so much spirit." (Gus stops by every year recruiting for Proctor and Gamble.) At the present time the brotherhood is channeling its energy towards planning a Christmas party for a group of underprivileged children from New Brunswick. I cannot help but be proud of this group of young men.

Now let me tell you of my owners—the alumni from Delta Chapter. Apparently there are many who forget me as soon as they graduate from Rutgers. They seem to have forgotten the privileges that I afforded them during their undergraduate days. Let me say that I still hope that they will revisit me and maybe even some will remember to contribute to their alumni association.

What kind of an alumni association exists at Delta Chapter? They are capably led by Carmen Della Bella '49, Louis Wolfson '38, Bob Morris '50, Bob Sese '48, Bob Frisch '50, Jack Honywill '46, and Ken Angleman '23. These men meet monthly and have the responsibility for controlling the cash disbursements of the undergraduates. They are also responsible for my upkeep. These men have been working hard to develop the Chi Phi Alumni Assn. so that the major repairs which I need may be made. This year they have purchased new rugs for the lobby and the music room. They have also constructed a partition in the dormitory on my third floor. This increases my capacity by three men and thereby gives the alumni $900.00 a year in increased rental income.

I could go on talking about the brotherhood and the alumni association so that I could fill this entire issue of CHAKETT by myself. I would like to remind the alumni that the brotherhood has done a terrific job. I wish that more of my alumni would do their share and support the organization in which they at one time had an active part. A FRATERNITY CHAPTER CAN BE ONLY AS STRONG AS ITS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.—P. SCHAEFFER.

Epsilon Members Serve Campus

GEORGE J. McVEY, Alpha
Hampden-Sydney College

EPSILON CHAPTER began the year in a working spirit. The first floor of the house has been redecorated by the brothers. This included the replacement of several couches and chairs. These renovations were stimulated by the anticipation of a successful rushing season. We culminated the season with the reception of 16 pledges.

Several old brothers have returned this year after leaves of absence. Otho Lee Gladding, III, and Bobby Gene Saylor, have just completed 2-year terms in the Army. Saylor is expected to be a standout at an end position on the college football team this season.

The foundations of the house shook as over 500 alumni and friends enjoyed the Homecoming buffet supper after the game on October 29. The Chapter is always gratified to see our wonderful alumni support. The chapter football team finished a creditable third in intramural activities with a 4-3-0 season. David O. Holman was the only member of the 1960 Hampden-Sydney College football squad selected for the first team All Mason-Dixon Conference. David was a standout "60 Minute Man" during the entire season. Bobby Gene Saylor was selected as the most valuable player on the varsity team. Daniel W. McKeel, Jr., was elected president of the Senior Class for the school year. Richard E. Coons was recently elected president of the Sigma Upsilon honorary literary fraternity.

Through their untiring efforts, the brothers won an RCA Victor television set in a recent contest sponsored by Philip Morris.—RICHARD E. COONS.

Zeta Scholarship Gets Emphasis

RICHARD M. BARRETT, Alpha
Franklin & Marshall College

ZETA graduated 17 brothers last June, leaving the Chapter in the hands of 52 brothers and nine senior pledges. Of the 17 graduates: five entered the service; six are in graduate schools; five in business, and one teaching.

Through the help of the alumni association many improvements were made on the house last year. These improvements were supplemented by those brothers who lived in the house this summer. The third floor was painted and the grounds were kept in excellent condition. This semester improvements were continued: the ladies' rest room was remodeled at the cost of approximately $30; the dining room tables were refinished and the ivy was trimmed on the outside of the house. The house is being wired for sound. An assessment levied on the brothers made it possible to purchase a number of hi-fi speakers and a moderately expensive amplifier. This project is under the leadership of Jay Pattison and Gordon Anderton. Plans are being made to paint the outside trim of the house. This was made possible by a contribution from Charles Cope '51. Charles was among the many 1951 alumni who visited the house this Homecoming. He spent a great deal of time getting to know the brothers. By the end of Homecoming weekend we felt that he was an integral part of Zeta's present brotherhood. It is hoped that other alumni will take this opportunity to become more closely acquainted with Zeta actives.

Zeta returned to school this year to concentrate on scholarship. A great improvement in our average this semester under the guidance of Joe Weatherby and George Baker, scholarship chairmen, is expected. Emphasis is being placed on the scholarship of individual brothers and it is understood that will be a main point in the consideration of rushees.

Social life got into full swing this semester. Steve Shaffer, Beta, planned Zeta's program. Homecoming weekend brought a giant display in the form of a devil's head which covered a great part of the front of the house. The highlight of the Winter Weekend was a children's party given on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of underprivileged children. James Kimberly ably took Santa's rôle.

In the field of varsity athletics, Zeta is well represented this fall and winter. Seven members of the varsity soccer team were Chi Phis. Brother Sam Nolt was one of the co-captains this year, and Bernie Rosini is next year's captain. Fred Zehrer represented Chi Phi at Franklin and Marshall in football. Jim Alsbough, Garth Davis, and Jim Monroe promise to represent Zeta in varsity wrestling and basketball, respectively. Chi Phi retired the Intramural All-Sports Trophy for the second straight time on this campus.

For years Chi Phis have been chosen for positions of leadership on this campus. Six members of the Student Council are Chi Phis and four brothers are dormitory counselors. Brother Garth Davis is vice president of the Junior Class and Fred Zehrer is secretary.—JOHN A. VINCZE.

Eta Institutes New Rush Plan

JACK ROLLINS, Alpha University of Georgia

ETA has named Jack Rollins, Savannah, Alpha; Edwin Strain, Rome, Beta; Rivers Roser, Rome, Gamma; Billy Dobbs, Atlanta, Delta; Benny Woodcock, Savannah, Epsilon; and Wadleigh Winship, Atlanta, Zeta, new officers. Eta has established a new office as a training program for a future Delta. The assistant Delta, Phil Betette, helps Billy Dobbs, the Delta, with the financial operations. This was done to insure that the monetary system of the future will be conducted, as it has been under the present Delta, in a very efficient manner.

At the beginning of the year we pledged 22 boys of the highest calibre. Since that time we have pledged four more to bring the total to 26.

We have installed a more strenuous pledge study program, and the academic standards of the new pledges are very high in most cases. We have two study halls a week under the guidance of one of the chapter officers and the president of the pledge class.

Alfred D. Kennedy, Atlanta, who has been elected rush chairman, will begin a new rushing program. Alfred will have assistants from each of the major cities and freshmen from each school represented in the Chapter to help him in his work. We will start rushing earlier in the year and will put forth a much more concentrated effort. This will include more rush parties and more individual attention for each prospect.—WADLEIGH C. WINSHIP.

R.P.I.

THE rushing season opened Oct. 9 with the Chapter entertaining some 900 freshmen during the afternoon. Open house was followed by 14 coffee dates spread over a 4-week period, highlighted by two rushing parties. The parties were successful, attracting men from all over campus. The brothers of Theta would like to take this opportunity to extend their sincere thanks to Charles Wright and Bill Hart who insured our success this year.

Our Homecoming weekend was held this fall in conjunction with I.F. Weekend. An open party was on the agenda Friday with an alumni meeting Saturday morning. The alumni present were: Fred Tibbets '29, Hank Lundquist '49, Robert Derby '49, Carl Lundin '57, Bob Torgusen '57, Hank Odenweiler '58, Tom Penniman '57, Bud Hornell '53, Walt Jacques '59, Jack Lahey '59, Dart Interian '59, and Charley Pelletier '54. A football game Saturday afternoon, followed by an open house, banquet, and semiformal dance insured the success of the Weekend. Bill Huxley's date was elected first in the Queen's Court at the dance, and at the banquet, Fred Tibbets presented Bill Raymond '60 with the Sparks medal in recognition of his high scholastic performance at Rensselaer.

Art Jackson, a member of Bachelors of Rensselaer, remains undefeated in wrestling, while Mike Adams captured the campus golf championship by four strokes. Bob Peterson, Fred Helwig, and Tom Schellin are running track with Lee Weitzenkorn and Pete Stambrook on the lacrosse and soccer teams, respectively. In politics, John Peller had the distinction of being elected president of Campus Club, while Ed Bok is serving as a member of the I.F.C. Judicial Board, and Gordon Brauninger is business manager of our technical publication, The Rensselaer Engineer. Mike Adams and Bill Huxley are particularly active on campus, initiating a chapter of the Junior Diners' Club. Brothers Hallock, Hubbard, Bardagjy, Bok, and Brauninger were among the first to join, insuring the immediate success of the organization. Its first banquet will take place during Saturnalia Weekend.

Theta maintains its sound financial status. The new wall-to-wall carpeting on the first floor has been purchased and we are considering the installation of a new electrical wiring system.—G. BRAUNINGER.

Iota Adopts New Mascot

GEORGE CLARK, Alpha Ohio State University

THE outlook of Iota Chapter certainly appears prosperous in the coming year. Much of this success is due to the increasing interest of the Alumni Assn. They have taken a vigorous interest in the operation of the house. They have reorganized and centralized their views toward one objective: to make Chi Phi one of the highest-ranking fraternities at Ohio State University. This reorganization of the Alumni Assn. was due to the efforts of our National Director, Carl J. Gladfelder. Recognition must be given to the president of the Alumni Assn., James Pickens '46, and our Chapter Adviser, Thomas Plakell

RICHARD H. CATLETT, Alpha '15, Beta '17, chairman of the board and consultant for the Catlett-Johnson Corp., has accepted the Virginia chairmanship of Massachusetts Institute of Technology's $66,000,000 Second Century Fund program.

Brother Catlett, who was graduated from M.I.T. in 1917 with a B.S. degree, will head all phases of the campaign in the Virginia area.

Brother Catlett is an honorary secretary of M.I.T. and past president of M.I.T. Club of Virginia. Among the clubs in which he holds membership are the Commonwealth Club of Richmond, the Engineers Club of New York, and Virginia Society of Professional Engineers. He resides at 410 Somerset Ave., Richmond 26, Va.

Not to be forgotten is our special guest speaker for the quarter, Larry Snyder '20, Ohio State's track coach and past Olympic coach, who spoke to rushees, pledges, and actives alike about his past athletic experiences.

Congratulations are to be extended to Bruce Graber, who, for outstanding scholastic achievement, was presented the Sparks Memorial Award.

Iota has also pledged a new member. This pledge is of slightly different stature than most pledges—he is commonly known as a basset hound and goes by the name of Hugo.—EARL E. VERTS.

Kappa Holds I.F.C. Positions

BILL BUCHTA, Alpha University of Wisconsin

KAPPA brothers bring their dates to the house for dinner on Wednesday nights, something new to this campus. This has proven very successful; a pleasant change in the scenery and regular dinnertime conversation.

Pledges now receive, in addition to information on the history of Chi Phi, weekly speeches on manners and etiquette, rushing technique, campus activities, honor awards and scholarships available, and other pertinent talks to help them become more familiar with the campus.

Thanks to our ever active alumni, we have a new set of dining room furniture, and a completely remodeled kitchen in the offing. Thanks again, alums!

On the vocal side, we won "Yell Like Hell," the annual Homecoming cheering contest, with the Pi Phis, with whom we are doing Humorology, the annual charity show sponsored by I.F.C.-Panhellenic.

Speaking of charity, the Chi Phi combo had the distinction of being the highest priced item at the annual Persian Market auction. Various organizations donate services, acts, etc., which are then sold at Persian Market. Proceeds go to Campus Chest.

Socially, the crowded post-football game parties were interspersed with listening parties. Sorority suppers came on most Fridays, and, of course, the famous Cherokee Chug-a-lug followed a very successful initiation week. Seven new men became Chi Phis.

In sports, Chi Phis have worked so hard that we are now a very top contender for the trophy for intramurals, the Badger Bowl. The football team lost only in the finals, and volleyball took division honors. In winter sports Chi Phi fielded strong teams in basketball, water polo, bowling, and badminton.

John Markworth heads Naval ROTC, while Don Knutzen runs Army ROTC. Dave Asmus, in addition to being our present Alpha, is co-chairman of the Big Ten I.F.C.-Panhellenic Conference to be held here in the spring, while maintaining his chairmanship of an I.F.C. committee. Ray Hamel is a cheerleader and treasurer of Wisconsin Student Assn. Foster Friess is running for I.F.C. treasurer and will probably add this achievement to his many. We have varsity debaters in Bill Haberman and George Neuman. Gerry Kulcinski was, and Mike Copps and Pledge Steve Underwood are varsity football players; Ken Olen and George Neuman are crewmen; Foster Friess runs track; and Bob Slavik is a star tennis player.

Though the high scholastic rating of two years ago slipped somewhat last year, all indications are that we will regain or surpass our old high position on the honor roll.—JOHN S. CLARKE.

Mu Entertains Neighbors at Tea

FRED CLARKE, Alpha
Stevens Institute of Technology

In an attempt to foster better relations between S.I.T. in general, and the fraternities in particular, with the local citizens of Hoboken, Mu played host to its neighbors at an informal tea held in the chapter house on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 13. Among those in attendance were Dean and Mrs. Charles Wellhausen '45, Mrs. John W. Grogan, the mayor's wife, and numerous neighbors, parents, and faculty members. The tea was so successful in helping to create a better mutual understanding between the members and the neighbors that Mu has decided to schedule such a function each term.

Lee Jacobi, a member of Khoda, a secret honorary society, Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism, and Gear and Triangle, an activities honor society, was instrumental in organizing this year's Freshman Class at Stevens by supervising their elections of class officers. "Jake," who also has accumulated the most activities points of any man on campus, gained the added distinction of being included in this year's Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Fred Clarke, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, and Doug Wilkinson held the positions of business managers of the senior yearbook and the weekly newspaper, respectively. Mu has had men in these business positions for many years and makes it a policy to train members from the Sophomore Class in the requirements of the job so that a capable person is always ready to take over when the position is open.

Chi Phi is becoming well known on campus for its fine participation in the Stevens Dramatic Society. Last year a Chi Phi pledge, Joe Swyler, played the lead rôle in the D. S. production of "No Time for Sergeants," and this year a Chi Phi brother, Dick Spanier, was the lead in the Winter Carnival play, "He Who Gets Slapped." Mu men played supporting rôles and worked on the stage crew and business board.

This year Mu played host to 15 orphans from nearby orphanages at its annual Orphans' Christmas Party. After Santa Claus (our own Joe Wood) passed out the gifts, the rest of the men spent a busy afternoon entertaining the children. With the spirit of Christmas in the air, members joined with other fraternities to sing Christmas carols at night in front of the homes of our neighbors. This practice had not been done in the past and it was thus warmly received by the people of Hoboken.—ANTHONY MIRABELLA.

Nu Pledges 25

JACK R. BINION, Alpha University of Texas

THE spirit of brotherhood at Nu is the highest it has been in quite some time. Our 25 fall pledges are a fine group. Two events just recently completed that have added much to that feeling of working together are the Aggie Sign Contest and the annual Greek Sing Song. We made a good showing in both and it is surprising to see how much these things can add to the feeling of brotherhood.

An administrative change in policy with regard to the fraternity system has taken place. Formerly matters pertaining to fraternities were handled by the Dean of Men. This year a new office was created, that of Dean of Fraternities. This office is headed by Don Mighell who is also the I.F.C. sponsor. Along with this change the administration formally outlawed the consumption or possession of alcohol in fraternity houses, or at fraternity parties in the house. This move was accepted with mixed emotions, but everyone understood the reasoning behind it. The costume party ban was lifted.

As Nu is located quite some distance from any other XΦ Chapter, it is somewhat of a rare occasion when we are able to get together as a Chapter with other Chi Phis. We were pleased to hear that Texas would play Alabama in the Bluebonnet Bowl this year, and arrangements are now being made to have a party in Houston with Tau Chapter after the game.—JOHN L. CARLSON.

Paid Your Dues?

Pi Parents Are Organized

R. DILLON SMITH, Alpha Northwestern

PARENTS' weekend marked the birth of Pi's Parents' Club. Thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Williams, the parents of our past Alpha, for their invaluable aid in the organization of the Club. Officers elected were Enos C. Perry, president, Evanston; Paul R. Lathom, vice president, Rockford, Ill.; and Carl F. Wagner, secretary-treasurer, Evanston.

Our football team had an outstanding record this year. A perfect league record brought us the league trophy. Our first loss was in the playoffs when the Phi Delt squeaked through on the last few plays by one touchdown and went on to place third in the finals.

The latest rage in parties is the beatnik-type party, and our Beatnik Brawl was met with a great deal of enthusiasm. About two days before the party the brothers began setting the mood as the Epsilon's room became the "Den of Zen" where the beat, bearded brothers came to write and recite in the flickering candle-light to the beat beat beat of bongos.

Well, the beat craze has worn itself out at Pi as more serious thoughts turn to Northwestern's unique Model United Nations. The actives will represent the Dominican Republic, and the pledges, Peru. Much research has gone into this project, which continues to be a very educational experience.

Scholastic interest at Northwestern has reached an all-time high. The I.F.C. now sends chapter grade-point averages to rushees, and chapters with low averages were considerably hurt during the last rush week. We are constantly aiming at the average that brought us first place among the 27 fraternities last spring.—LAWRENCE R. LATHOM.

Rho Pleased By Banquet

JAMES HARTSEL, Alpha Lafayette College

RHO CHAPTER was proud to play host to some 20 alumni and friends who attended the first annual Alumni Banquet. During the afternoon an open house was held at which the actives and alumni had a chance to become acquainted. After an excellent steak dinner, Dean Charles C. Cole formally welcomed the alumni on behalf of the College. Our National Director, Carl J. Gladfelter, gave the main address of the evening. He stressed the importance of fraternities in America's college life. Brother Gladfelter cited the loss and tragedy that had occurred where fraternities had been allowed to disappear. After Brother Gladfelter's talk, reports were given by Rho's president, treasurer, and commissar. Alpha Jim Hartsel brought out the fact that Rho is doing fairly well under the pressure of the newly instigated second semester rushing system. The main hardship has been in financing the eating club which has been in a precarious position for several years. Bruce Drinkhouse '50, treasurer of the Rho Chapter Alumni Assn., gave a report on the state of alumni affairs. The highlight of the evening was the honoring of John McAvoy '35 with the Chi Phi 25-year pin. The active brothers wish to thank those men who attended the banquet and also those alumni who were unable to come but sent us a contribution to help defray the expense of the dinner. The success of the dinner has encouraged us to make plans for another dinner to be held on Founder's Day, October 21, 1961. The attraction of a planned affair at Vallamont in conjunction with a football game should bring many men back to renew old friendships and make new ones.

A tragedy occurred during November with the burning of the attractive Theta Delt house. Fortunately the fire started during class hours and no one was injured. Although the exterior is intact, it is just a shell. The interior was completely gutted. This fire, following on the heels of the Deke house fire not quite a year ago, has made the fraternities at Lafayette check thoroughly possible fire hazards in their houses. On the whole Vallamont is in good shape, but two improvements need to be made as soon as possible. When a loan from the College is approved, the Rho Alumni Assn. will have the second floor completely rewired. The other floors of the house are in excellent shape, but the second floor still has most of the original wiring which is inadequate for today's needs. The second improvement for the prevention of fire is the building of a fire wall around our new oil furnace.

Shortly after the beginning of fall semester James Alba '63, a mechanical engineering student from Washington, D. C., was pledged in Rho Chapter. This brings our strength to 23 brothers and four pledges. We are somewhat undermanned due to the switch from first to second semester rushing. We wish to thank Chi Phis who have had the initiative to send us the names of possible rushees. Among these men are Henry Long, Psi '38, J. Parker Taylor, Psi '29, and Henry Angevine, Jr., '32. Recommendations from reliable sources help us in choosing future Chi Phis. We hope that every alumnus who knows of an incoming freshman will take time to forward his name to the rushing chairman of their respective chapters.

Rho Chapter's football team improved this past fall, but unfortunately so did the teams of our opponents. Thus far in the basketball season we have won two out of three and have a good chance of putting a new trophy on the fireplace mantel. We have hopes for a good showing in the swimming intramurals and, so far, our ping-pong team is undefeated.—CRAIG M. SHIELDS.

Sigma Urges Pledge Initiative

BRIAN M. BERG, Alpha
University of Illinois

SIGMA'S Winter Formal, "Christmas in Champaign," was held on Dec. 10. There are several sorority exchanges and pledge serenades and skits from Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Zeta coming up. Christmas vacation called a temporary halt to social activities on campus, but a party was held with our alumni in Chicago over the holidays.

Sigma has been putting great emphasis on grades this semester in an effort to improve its rather low scholastic standing on campus. The weeks between Christmas and final exams were filled with diligent study.

After starting the year with only four pledges from formal rush, Sigma now boasts a pledge class of 16 top-notch pledges with informal rush continuing at full steam. The pledges have been busy as a class participating in exchanges and in skits. Several individual members of the pledge class have been doing well on campus. Two are varsity football players, another had the lead in a recent University Theater production, and one did a splendid job of organizing a strong bloc of houses in Junior I.F.C. Besides these accomplishments, the pledge class turned out a mid-term scholastic average well above the All-Fraternity pledge class average. This ranking speaks highly of Sigma's recently initiated pledge program allowing the pledges to study on their own initiative, developing individual study habits.—MICHAEL H. PLECK.

Tau Forges Forward from 40th

TOM C. SMITHERMAN, Alpha University of Alabama

THIS is Tau's 41st anniversary on the University of Alabama campus. Last year saw the beginning of a new slogan for us, "Forward from the fortieth", indicating our 40th anniversary. This year, so far, we're living up to it. We started things off with a good rush week, and we have 17 pledges. This is not the largest pledge class Tau has ever trained, but it appears to be one with the most potential. Lending added interest is the fact that two of the pledges, whose fathers are serving in the Armed Forces, have been living in the two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii.

It was very pleasing to us to be able to accept the Scholarship Award from National for greatest scholastic improvement of the chapters with below 40 members. Activity-wise we continue to stand high, with members in Student Government, various honorary societies, plus all major campus publications. We were also proud of Brother Sentell for receiving the post of Greek editor for the University of Alabama yearbook.

Though it is rather early to predict much, it seems that even our athletic status has prospered. We lost only one football game this year, giving us a 2-1-2 record and we were unbeaten in our division in volley ball. In addition, in the intramural track meet, Fred Sington, Jr., broke the existing intramural record in the shot-put event.

"Shorts" include: Loyl (Buddy) Jones from Mobile is our new Gamma. He replaces Nelson Noel '61, who is now enjoying Army life at Fort Sill, Okla. Capt. H. E. Grafton '44, U.S.A.F., has returned to the University as an air science instructor. Burgess Thomasson, Psi, is here doing graduate work in commerce and business administration. We were very happy to see many of our alumni here for Homecoming and sincerely hope they are pleased with Tau Chapter today as compared with yesterday.

—STANLEY BLAIR ATKINS.

Chi Praises Alumni Spirit

FORD A. DALEY, Alpha
Dartmouth

UNDER the direction of Steve Atwater, our rushing chairman, we conducted a highly successful rush, pledging 26 men. The usual diversity was upheld with pledges from California to Connecticut, from Texas to Illinois. Having shown themselves very capable during the pledging period, we are to initiate them soon. There were many late nights and tired brothers, but we are more than happy with the result.

Thanks to Maurice Blake '10 and several of his classmates, the driveway and parking lot were excavated and refilled. We are awaiting the spring in hopes that we will be able to asphalt the entire driveway and parking lot. We still need some money to complete the job, but hope to raise this in the near future. The final result will be a great improvement both to the appearance of the house and to the brothers' cars. When we returned this fall, the house had been rewired, the basement ceilings replastered, and one of the second floor bathrooms completely remodeled. The upstairs floors were sanded and varnished. Upon arrival we completely painted the second floor. The annual furniture sale was a financial success, thanks to the shrewdness of the managers, Pete McCrea and John Manske, and the multitude of gullible freshmen. We have renovated the old black room complete with new lighting. The brothers have given of their time (and money) to make these projects possible. The house is in fine physical shape.

The fall social season flourished under Hartley Webster's smooth eye. There were four home football games, including Fall Houseparties. Homecoming Weekend saw many alums revisit the Chi lodge and look quite surprised when they were welcomed at the door. It was good to have them and to be able to see their interest in undergraduate activity. Houseparties was the climax of the fall, starting with a well attended faculty open house.

In interfraternity competition, Chi continues to show its talent. We reached the finals in intramural football only to lose a hard one. Our academic average continues to be above the All-Men's average. With most of the competition still to come we are looking forward to a high standing in all fields.

As usual we have many brothers participating in varsity sports. In football, Dave Evans and John Bailey; in soccer, Conny Streuli, Mike Schwartz, '62 frosh captain, Jack Stobo, Pete Gina, Bob Mahoney, John King, Bob Evans; in hockey, Jack Stobo, Art Johnson, and Dave Hugo; in track, John Ebers, Paul Armstrong, Tom Holzel, and Ford Daley. The Denver Flash, Hal Knott, dominates the wrestling team while John Benepe, Jim McKeon, and Al Davidson are giving their all, including Christmas vacation for the swimming team. Tom Baseler is on the rifle team while Hank Ross, Tom Mealy, and Paul Flynn are currently on the crew. Bob Jennings is threatening to rejoin his fellow lettermen on the baseball team this spring while Fritz Zwick and Jack Cherrington are among a host of sophomores currently ruling the basketball team.

Carnival chairman this year is John Manske, being ably assisted by Pete McCrea, Hal Knott, and John Ackley. John Reinertsen is on the yearbook staff while Ackley and Jim Links are active in the Players. Gordy Andrews is in the band and Steve Powers and Tom Baseler are still holding forth with the Glee Club.

As seen in the participation, Chi brothers are as active in campus activities as they are in the Chapter. The spirit and cooperation shown by the brotherhood make the various chapter activities more than just obligations. Chi has become a real example of what a fraternity can be at Dartmouth and everyone is enjoying it.

Our new Adviser is Cal Knights '51 and it is a pleasure to have him working with us. The officers are Ford Daley, president; Steve Atwater, vice president and rushing chairman; John Benepe, treasurer; Parker Albee, secretary; Pete McCrea, historian and alumni chairman; Hartley Webster, social chairman. All alumni should feel free to drop any of the officers a line with any suggestions they might have or just to say hello. We are beginning to see how the real benefits of a fraternity manifest themselves in alumni contacts. I am sure that in the future Chi Phi will see many strong and active in her ranks from Chi at Dartmouth.—FORD DALEY, Alpha.

Psi Captures Turkey Trot

STANLEY J. WILCOX, Alpha
Lehigh University

As a result of last spring's rushing program Psi pledged 15 men. Due to the large size of the pledge class, the Chapter's capacity was increased from 33 to 36, with seven men living out of the house.

At our annual Senior Weekend banquet Richard K. Sprenkle was presented the outstanding senior award. The Fredrick W. Krehbiel Award was presented to Mark Forrester, Jr. This award, a memorial to Brother Krehbiel, is annually given to the outstanding senior athlete. Otis H. Johnson, Jr., Burgess A. Thomasson, and James K. Cassedy, Jr., were presented gavels for their contributions to the Chapter as former Alphas.

When the fall semester began, Bruce Adam was elected Beta to fill a vacancy in this office. Joseph Henry Nieckoski was initiated into the brotherhood.

Again this year Lafayette Weekend stood out as the high point of the social season. Thirty alumni and their families returned to witness Lehigh trounce Lafayette 26-3. The entire Chapter feels that the Weekend did a great deal to help rekindle some pleasant memories for these returning grads.

This year the Chapter had the distinction of winning the Turkey Trot, an annual cross-country race sponsored by the University. Out of over 500 entrants in the one and seven-tenths mile run, the Chi Phi team took 6th, 18th, 23rd, 64th, and 107th. The team consisted of George Hagstoz, Bob Archer, Bill Kugler, Harry Hafer, and Don Stanton. George is the son of George Hagstoz '33 and Bill the son of Bob Kugler '33. The prize, a live 25-pound turkey, enjoyed a brief one-night visit before he became the guest of honor at our victory banquet.

Our physical plant improvements include the repairing of the downspouting, the laying of a tile floor in the basement, the refinishing of the dining room floor, extensive interior painting, and the construction of a new parking lot.

This past fall, in an effort to improve pledge scholarship, we abandoned the study hall system in favor of having the pledges study in their own rooms. They were directly responsible to their brother-roommates for the completion of their homework. We believe that this system has proved beneficial.—GILBERT J. MILAN.

Omega Attends Game by Bus

BLAKE TRAYLOR, Alpha
Georgia Institute of Technology

THE school year of 1960 began for Omega about two weeks prior to registration day. Many of the brothers returned early to help get the house in shape for rush. The old varnish was removed from the floors on the first floor. The floors were then re-varnished and waxed. Much of the old furniture was repaired or replaced. New lamps and vases were purchased to add to the appearance of the house. A new refrigerator replaced the old one in the kitchen. In addition, the Chapter purchased two new rugs for the living room. Many people were heard to remark that the house had never looked so attractive. The brothers deserve credit for a job well done. Much credit goes to the Mothers' Club for its help in preparing for rush.

The efforts put forth in getting the house ready for rush paid off for Omega had a very good rush season, pledging 30 boys. Fred Rudder is to be congratulated on his fine job as rush chairman.

We took second place in our league in volley ball and placed in several events in the interfraternity swimming meet. Many of the new pledges have provided valuable assistance to the fraternity teams.

One of the highlights of the fall was a bus trip to Birmingham for the Tech-Auburn football game. The bus was chartered and paid for by some of the alumni and the father of one of the pledges. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all who made this trip possible.

Alpha-Alpha Gets Grade-Conscious

INCLUDED in the plans for the year and for rush was the decision by Alpha-Alpha to redecorate our rumpus room. It is now the showplace of the house—a tribute, indeed, to the brothers whose ingenuity and hard work made the "new look" possible. Our summer rush program and our pre-rush preparations produced a pledge class of 17.

We are off to our usual start in intramurals under the tutelage of Alton Russel, our intramural manager. In tag football, Chi Phi was eliminated in a bitterly fought contest in the campus play-offs by the eventual campus champion. We placed fifth in wrestling, sparked by our undefeated 167-pound champion, Mike Byers.

The most noticeable change at Alpha-Alpha has been the renewed spirit of academic furor within the house. This may be partly attributed to the new faculty regulations concerning fraternity scholarship. Overly stringent as they may be, Chi Phi is determined to comply with them in every way.—BOBBY MEANS.

Alpha-Tau Gives Monks Welcome

PHIL IDEMA, Alpha University of Michigan

ONE of the outstanding events occurring at Alpha-Tau this fall was the Homecoming Weekend when the Monks (the name of the local fraternity that eventually became Alpha-Tau) returned to the chapter house. The Monks, 25 strong, headed by John Kuivenen '17 arrived at the chapter house shortly before noon for lunch. After eating and exchanging memories, the group left for the stadium to witness the annual Homecoming game. While at the house, the Monks had a chance to see our Homecoming display—a very attractive unit consisting of a monstrous catapult demolishing a stone wall which bore the name Minnesota. With the caption, "Michigan Catapults to Victory", the display represented the hopeful feelings of the day. We had a good showing for Fathers' Weekend considering the number of out-of-state fathers. Approximately 20 of them arrived on Saturday to see the football game and to spend an enjoyable evening with us.

The Chapter is trying hard to express its appreciation to its alumni for their support and participation in the chapter house remodeling. In the past semester the academic standing has risen 16% above its previous standing. We are presently 11th on campus in intramural athletics. Open rushing is being taken very seriously as we already have several prospective pledges for next semester. At the present time, we have 14 pledges registered with the University. The brothers are turning out for campus activities which include I.F.C., student activity committees, Michigan Union, and campus honoraries.—KURTZ DOWNER.

Alpha-Chi Shows Historical Films

JAMES W. McVICKER, Alpha Ohio Wesleyan University

THE fall election at Alpha-Chi was held on Nov. 28. The house was left in good physical condition and in good fraternal spirit by the retiring administration led by James Backhaus, Alpha. The officers are James McVicker '61, Alpha; Earle Sanford '63, Beta; Robert Bauer '62, Gamma; James Stevens '62, Delta; and Gene Baumgarner '63, Epsilon. The officers are carrying forward the plan to better relations with both the University and the city of Delaware.

In the town, Alpha-Chi has made contributions to different charities. Besides the United Fund, the Children's Home for orphans has been of great interest. In the Christmas spirit, the brothers bought a Christmas tree and decorated it with candies and homemade cookies. The tree was presented to the children.

Earle Sanford has also been contributing to good relations with townspeople and students at the University. On Sunday mornings he can be seen in the pulpit of the William Street Methodist Church where he is a student minister. This was the church that founded Ohio Wesleyan in 1842.

The main emphasis in University relations has been of an informative nature. The Fraternity is showing a series of film documentaries on different historical events. The last motion picture was NBC's "The Twisted Cross" on the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler and Nazism. Next month, we expect to show "Nightmare in Red" which depicts the rise of Communism in Russia. Both students and faculty are invited to the free showings of these films. The history department has shown its interest in the series and encourages students to attend. At each showing there is a capacity audience.

The third topic of this newsletter is raising money. Many times there are special items, such as new dishes, which the house needs. Alpha-Chi has partially solved this problem by saving tax stamps. These stamps are given as receipts for Ohio's three per cent sales tax. The state will then give to non-profit organizations two per cent of the face value of the stamps. In other words, the fraternity receives .0006 cents for each dollar spent. The actives and alumni work together saving these stamps which are later turned in to the state. In the period from September to December, 1960, we have received $708.84 which represents about $1,181,400 worth of goods bought. This money was put into a special savings account and will be used when needed.

These are three of the ways in which Alpha-Chi is building a stronger Chi Phi.—
THOMAS H. BLAKELEY, II.

Alpha Delta Wants Rush References

WILLIAM D. BEVAN, Alpha Penn State University

ALPHA DELTA started the fall semester with a cheerful note as far as scholarship was concerned. The Chapter rose 10 places with a 2.43 all-chapter average. This rating placed us above the All-Men's average and the All-Fraternity average. Scholarship is being emphasized for pledges and brothers alike. We, the 1960 version of fraternity men, must face an ever growing trend toward the idea of "scholarship-first above all." We feel that if we fail to recognize this trend, we will contribute to the condemnation of fraternities by encouraging the advocates of the policy that fraternities interfere with the University's major purpose of education.

Particular work is being done with the pledges, who have to adjust to the fraternity life, to realize the importance of regular study hours, and the all-importance of improving their grade point averages. Only the type of man who has proven himself academically can really afford the time and effort to promote the welfare and good standing of Chi Phi, and, therefore, he can be an active and contributing member of our organization.

Leadership and character! These are two of the qualities that we as Chi Phis are looking for in our selection of men. We have started our rushing period with the idea that we can find the type of man who will be able and willing to contribute to Chi Phi in the desired manner.

As in every year, our 300 invitations for dinner and social events will be extended to freshmen in order that they may have an opportunity to see our Chapter. Out of this number, 15 to 20 men will be selected for the pledge program in the summer and fall semesters of 1961.

Scholarship, leadership, and character are the qualities that we believe every Chi Phi should possess. All of Chi Phi could use your help in achieving our goal. If you know of anyone who is, or will be, attending a university with a Chi Phi chapter, we would appreciate your sending in his name. He will then be invited to our Chapters and, if acceptable, into our brotherhood.—
ANTHONY C. CANIKE.

Gamma Delta Holds Campus Auction

ROY E. JACOBSEN, Alpha University of Minnesota

GAMMA DELTA has 10 pledges and hopes for the same number doubled by the end of the year. Our alumni are solidly behind us. Two weeks before school started, all of the brothers got together and worked on the house. With our profits from last year, we reupholstered furniture, painted various parts of the house, laid tile, and redecorated four rooms. Our future plans include possibly repainting the house and completely tiling the basement floor.

Our alums have helped us a great deal by replacing our old oil furnace with a new gas furnace and have plans for rewiring of the whole house, since we have been having trouble with this matter. Harold Gabrielson '32, Alumni president, is leading the drive to acquire $15,000 for the Chapter and is doing an excellent job. This, of course, could not be done without the full cooperation of every alum he has contacted. The alumni participation has been fair. We hope they will be as pleased with us as we are with them.

We have been participating in more campus activities and we have been getting reports that we are doing very well. We started out the year during Homecoming by capturing the second place trophy for house decorations in the fraternity division, and in taking fourth place in the Homecoming contest. For our house decoration, a 72-foot model oil derrick was engineered and constructed by the brothers. The oil derrick, by the way, actually squirted imitation oil and some spectators got rather damp while watching our display in action. We followed Homecoming by running an auction for the Campus Community Chest. We were the only ones who ran an auction of this type. For the future, we have planned all-out participation in Greek Week and Campus Carnival. These activities not only give us social contacts, but also give us an opportunity to participate in social service projects throughout the community.

We have an excellent group of pledges this quarter, both upperclassmen and freshmen. Sheridan Kramer is affiliated with our Student Union. Art Fretag, Niels Anderson, and Tom Erickson are on scholarships. Steve Shenk is very active in R.O.T.C. as is Dan Corbett. Jim Streich, Gary Arrell, and Sheridan Kramer are in the band. John Baldic and Phil Bachman are talented singers, performing with various groups throughout the area.

Dick Johnson, Beta, has been very busy as rush chairman, besides playing in the band, as does Terry Newstrom. Bob Moeller is well known on campus for he is head of the committee trying to solve the parking problem on campus. Jug Rawdon and Bob Moeller are Greek Week coordinators and Brother Rawdon is chairman on the Greek Week committee. Brother Bob Rice is on the board of directors of the Fraternity Purchasing Assn. Pete Olson is active in sports. Curt Brandon is an officer in R.O.T.C. Mentor Addicks is known in campus literary and off-beat music circles. Steve Ponto and Elmer Carlson are busy with various business clubs on campus and Roy Jacobson is a painter and sculptor. Brothers Moeller, Newstrom, and John Flakne are all on scholarship. We are happy to have Larry Roberts, graduate student and last year's Sparks Memorial Medal winner, back with us this year and serving as our scholarship counselor. Vernon Syverson, Theta Delta

'58, is living with us and attending the University as a graduate student.

Scholastically, we are in the top 10 fraternities on campus. Last quarter we had a 2.8 grade average, but since studies are our main reason for going to school, we hope to increase this average. We are now making plans for study nights for the whole Chapter.

During the summer we acquired a golden retriever that is now our mascot. After heated debate, we decided to name him Raymond of Chi Phi. He is an excellent mascot and one of the most popular dogs on campus.—W. JURGEN RAWDON.

Epsilon Delta Wins Sign Contest

BOB MOODY, Alpha
Oregon State College

EPSILON DELTA got off to a fresh start with 17 pledges and a new pledge program. The program was designed to produce a strong, united pledge class which it did very effectively. During fall term Epsilon Delta pledged eight more men.

Leap year had its effect on two brothers this term: Don Pierce married Henrietta Tate during Thanksgiving vacation and Larry Youngman married Shirley Wright during Christmas vacation.

Robert McCoy was initiated into Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary, and Bruce Carlson was initiated into Kappa Psi, pharmacy.

Epsilon Delta is proud of Jack Rauch as third-time winner of the Sparks Medal. Brother Rauch has exemplified high scholarship both as an undergraduate and as a graduate student. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary, and also a member of the chemistry and mathematics honoraries. Brother Rauch is presently working towards his doctorate in physical chemistry.

First place among fraternities in the Homecoming sign competition was won by Epsilon Delta this fall. This sign was a tremendous undertaking presenting many engineering problems. However, due to our abundance of engineers, we were able to overcome the difficulties.—BRUCE CARLSON.

Zeta Delta Plans to Win Trophy

DAVID W. GOOGINS, Alpha
University of Connecticut

THE brothers of Zeta Delta returned for the fall semester in full strength this year. Boasting a full house of 65 brothers, we are one of the few fraternities at Storrs in this strong position. We were pleasantly surprised to find our new lounge ready for use. The lounge was purchased under the fine chairmanship of Ken Meyer and Mike Dalton.

Carl Gladfelter, a charter member of Zeta Psi, visited us in October. He spoke to us about rushing and scholarship, which, as is well recognized, are two of the most important phases of fraternity life.

Scott McAlister, an instructor in insurance, is our new Faculty Advisor. He has already expressed a great interest in chapter affairs.

Starting the year off with a party at the Pinecrest Country Club in New Haven after the Yale game, one of the highlights of the semester was our annual Playboy Party. The decorations and favors were supplied by Playboy Magazine. We were pleased to see so many alumni return for the Homecoming game. A party was held in their honor at the Wauregan Hotel in Norwich. The Homecoming display, designed by Paul Madden and built under the chairmanship of Jack Goehring, won third place.

Just before Thanksgiving our seven spring pledges were initiated. Initiated along with these seven pledges was Lee "Shelly" Schellenberger, a past president of this Chapter when it was still a local group.

Thanks to the fine job being done by Ted Tillotson, our sports chairman, Chi Phi is leading in points scored in the intramural program. If our present success continues, we should have little trouble in winning the all-sports intramural trophy.

Larry Dupuis, former Zeta, is the editor and chief of The Daily Campus, the newspaper. Peter Crooks is the editor of The Nutmeg, our yearbook. Gerald Morgan was recently elected president of the Senior Class. In varsity sports there are several outstanding athletes. Tom Schwager and Fred Larson are members of the soccer team, which won the New England championship, and tied for third in the N.C.A.A. Members of the football team are: Fred Stackpole, Dick Boudreau, Allan Bigelow, and two of our new brothers, Bert Schreiber and Don Warzocha. On the basketball squad are: Bob Haines, Gerry Manning, Dave Daniels, and Dave King. Bryce Roberts did quite well on the U. Conn. cross-country team this year.

Bill Oliver has been selected chairman of the Christmas party for underprivileged children. Each fraternity has a party of this type inviting either underprivileged children from neighboring towns or mentally deficient children from the nearby Mansfield Training School.—DOUGLAS CRAWFORD.

Eta Delta Praises Mothers' Club

BRUCE E. ANDERSON, Alpha
University of Southern California

EACH year at the beginning of the fall semester, all of our mothers get together for a tea to plan the coming year's operations. High-pitched chatter fills the air. If you were to listen, you couldn't put two and two together and come out with four from what you heard. However, out of this meeting comes new furniture for the chapter house, money to pay for a television, accoustical tile, new showers, and much more! It is the feeling of the Mothers' Club that members are there to help the Chapter in any way they can. Each year at Christmas time they hold an annual dinner.

All of this is made possible by the Mothers' Club. To the women of the Eta Delta Mothers' Club, we wish to express our sincere gratitude for their efforts on our behalf.

The efforts of a long summer's rush produced 10 fine pledges. Five of them are active in Squires, the sophomore men's service organization, led by Gil Garcetti, who is the Squires' president.

The big news in the chapter and the University is scholarship. We are proud to announce that the Eta Delta Chapter has won the trophy for the most improved scholarship on campus. The award is made each semester by the Interfraternity Mothers' Club at USC. The Chapter rose 22 places and attained an overall grade point average of 2.56 for the spring semester. The Chapter thanks Paul Smedley, Alpha, Spring 1960, and Tom Greely, Beta, Spring 1960, for their efforts which helped us achieve this award. Incidentally, Brother Smedley recorded an almost perfect 3.85 for the semester.

The University of Southern California, in order to further the accomplishments of the Greekletter system, has set forth a new set of scholarship requirements.

1. All Fraternities and sororities shall set as their desired scholarship attainment a grade point average of 2.45.
2. Fraternities which fall 1/3 below 2.45 to the minimum average (2.0) be allowed 2/3 activity.
3. Fraternities which fall 2/3 below 2.45 be allowed 1/3 activity.
4. Fraternities more than 2/3 below 2.45 be allowed no activity.
5. If a fraternity fails to meet the 2.45 at the end of one year, its national office shall be asked for scholarship assistance.
6. If a fraternity fails to meet the 2.45 for more than two years, its existence at the University will be seriously threatened.

The University is also raising its requirements for graduation. Starting with the fall semester's entering class, the requirements will be raised progressively .05 grade points each semester until a 2.25 overall average will be required for graduation. Following the lead of the University, Eta Delta has amended its by-laws concerning pledge scholarship to meet the future requirements of the University.

The Chapter has just enjoyed a visit from our National Director, Carl J. Gladfelter. Brother Gladfelter had many helpful suggestions which the Chapter plans to put into effect. Members were happy to learn that a new pledge manual will soon be in the works. Brother Gladfelter's idea of printing a special rushing CHAKETT was received warmly and we expressed hopes that it could be ready for next year's rush.

We wish to extend an invitation to all alumni to visit the chapter house at any time.—DOUG NORWOOD.

Theta Delta Plans for Future Growth

STEPHEN F. HAGER, Alpha
University of Florida

THE Chi Phis at Florida have been keeping in step with the changing fraternity scene at Florida. The past year has seen many sweeping revisions in main areas of campus activity. Three major areas that have been affected by the changing scene on campus are politics, scholastics, and athletics. In addition to adjusting itself in the best way possible Theta Delta has continued to uphold its fine tradition of community service and chapter loyalty.

The political scene at Florida has been altered by a revision of the I.F.C. Several Chi Phis have been among the leaders in paving the way for a new and more efficient method of conduct of interfraternity relations and coordination of the fraternity system with the college community. Theta Delta's Alpha, Steve Hager, has been a leader on the fraternity presidents' board which has been instrumental in bringing about the present revisions.

A side note to Chi Phi's activity in the I.F.C. was John Douglas's strong criticism of a proposed one semester delayed rush. The University of Florida in keeping with this new outlook has appointed a fraternity adviser to coordinate fraternity administrative affairs and to help solve individual fraternity problems.

Due to increased enrollment, competition in scholastics has reached a new level. This has been reflected in a recent stiffening of the University's minimum requirements. Theta Delta is extremely proud to point out that during this period it has risen to a position among the top 10 per cent of fraternities on campus. A leader in Chi Phi's scholarship record is a sophomore physics major, Don Bode. His 3.8 average gained him admission to the Phi Eta Sigma scholarship honorary.

A shift in the intramural classification of fraternities has made Chi Phi the powerhouse of its league. Our football squad went undefeated and unscored upon to capture the football championship of the Blue League. This march to victory was led by our outstanding player, Jack Thomas, who made the all-campus team. Chi Phi stands an excellent chance of winning the coveted president's trophy given for top performance in all sports.

Again this year Chi Phis spread the Christmas spirit to the community by having its annual Christmas party for Gainesville's retarded and under-privileged children. Another expression of civic pride is our dedication to the annual campuswide blood drive. This year we hope to win our eighth consecutive trophy for best percentage of donors. John Douglas is also currently working on an improved civil defense program which will emphasize fraternity participation in county civil defense system.

Other Chi Phi contributions to the campus scene have been the recent election of Lee Bettis and John Shaeffer to the Legislative Council. A member of Phi Eta Sigma, Eddie Donn is now the editor-in-chief of the Florida Engineer while Brian Ellis is an assistant business manager of the yearbook. In addition we have men in the honor court, Freshman Council, Gator Growl, and in the orientation group leader program.

The recent unified effort of both brothers and pledges was the major factor for our improved exterior decorations. The house was painted in one hectic day which saw coeds wildly working and was climaxed in the annual brother-pledge tug-o'-war. The pledges couldn't rally to the overpowering strength of the brothers and in the end were thrown into the campus 'gator pond.—JOHN F. SHAEFFER.

Iota Delta Wins Homecoming Prize

CHARLES GORDON, Alpha Indiana University

IOTA DELTANS kicked off the school year with successful pledging. We pledged 21 new men, won two trophies, a dog, and a new cook. The pledges elected Jerry Ohrberg, president, Keith Stackhouse, vice president, Dick Gribble, secretary, Jerry Minnis, social chairman and to show the complete faith, they have in one another, they elected Mike Racer to the office of treasurer. The brothers initiated the dog, put the trophies on the mantel, and gave the cook free run of the kitchen at 6:30 in the morning. This, then, is the setting for the new school year.

The first big event in which the house participated was Homecoming. For the first time in our history, we were considered the undisputed best on campus. We won first place in the organized house decorations, then went on to beat the floats and the independent dorms for absolute best. This little escapade resulted in the two largest trophies in our possession. This same weekend was also set for dedication of the new $5½ million field house. Our pledges brought down from Indianapolis a 65-foot hook and ladder fire truck expressly for our transportation on this particular weekend. We have pretty good pledges this year—they didn't steal it. There were some bets in the background. It seems there was some dispute about who rode the fire truck the most. As final results came in, it was decided that Alpha Phis were first, the Tri Deltas second, the Kappas third, and Chi Phi fourth. It was a big weekend for Iota Delta. Just for the record, Michigan State beat Indiana.

If anything different happens on the Bloomington campus, it will probably happen to us. As part of the Fall Carnival, the proceeds going to charity, each housing unit or fraternity puts up their candidate for the honor of Bachelor of the Year. The Brothers put up Jerry Beaumont, a good-looking chap from Ellettsville, as our candidate. The pledges, not to be denied anything, also had a man. Dick Gribble is a fall pledge of ours, but still Towers Center, an independent housing unit, wanted him for their Bachelor of the Year. When the students went to the polls to vote, there was Jerry Beaumont, a Brother, and Dick Gribble, a pledge, standing tall on their campaign posters. Both were Chi Phis.

On Nov. 15, Iota Deltans celebrated the second anniversary since they first received their charter. The charter members who are still in school took a brief look backwards to see how far we had come. The results were satisfactory.

Also on this day, Mr. Robert Secor, Kappa '35, Iota Delta, presented the Sparks Medals, plural, to our Chapter. The recipients were Jim Russ, Beta, and Mike Montgomery, past Alpha. The reason for two Sparks Medals is fairly apparent. When you have two men with straight A's, what can you do? Due to a mixup in seating arrangement or something, Brother Secor almost presented Jim's medal to Jack Franz, Gamma. Jack commented later that it was the closest he had ever been to a Sparks Medal. Brother Montgomery graduated last year, but his brother, Bill, a new pledge, received the award for him.

As basketball season rolls around, we are preparing our A team to fetch another trophy. To help in this accomplishment, Bob Bransford and Jerry Carmichael, both all-city Indianapolis players, and Gerry Walters, a basketball scholarship transfer from Colorado, will be doing their part to bring home the bacon. Also on the team are Jerry Smith, Jerry Minnis, Phil Frank, and Ron Miller. The first six of these players do a tremendous job and the seventh helps out now and then.

The project that is in focus as the deadline pushes this writing is the pledge dance. This writer has nine other brothers who doubt that this pledge dance will be as good as the one a year ago, but who knows? Any pledge class that can turn up with a legitimately possessed 65-foot hook and ladder fire truck, should be capable of providing a really "Rockin' Good Time."

Among some more of the changes that have taken place at the Bloomington campus is the election of Roy Mitchell, Iota

Delta '59, Sigma '59, as the new Adviser. Roy lives in Indianapolis and works for the FBI.

Some of the achievements that were gained last semester and as yet have not been reported are grade standing and "Little 500" placement. Iota Delta placed sixth on campus this semester with a 1.543 average in a 3-point system. This grade average brought awards from both our fraternity and the University for scholarship improvement. When "Little 500" season rolled around, we won a trophy for placing in the top 10. This makes three seasons that we have entered the race and three seasons that we have won a trophy.—RON MILLER.

Chi Phi Colony Places in Football

ENNIS WUITE, Alpha University of Oregon

A formal pledge ceremony was held at the colony home on Oct. 25. Bob Moody, Epsilon Delta '61, and Verne Albright, Epsilon Delta '61, the Alpha and Delta of Epsilon Delta, conducted the ceremony.

The carpentry work in the house is almost finished. Aluminum windows have been installed, closing off the two porches on the second floor; the fire doors have been completed, and the kitchen is finished, with all appliances installed and working. The painting has not been completed, but the house is quite liveable. Shrubs have been planted across the front of the house.

The social life of the Colony is not at a standstill. We have held one fireside—an informal date party—this term with another planned for this Friday evening, and another scheduled with the Alpha Phis for Jan. 6. Our house dance this term was held in conjunction with the Epsilon Delta Chapter at Oregon State—quite successful, with 14 couples from the colony in attendance.

With the recent successes of the University of Oregon football team, we have written to the Alpha Delta Chapter at Penn State, challenging them to a skin bet on the Liberty Bowl game. In imitation of the varsity team, the Chi Phi Colony won second place in the league in intramural football.

Gus Willert, Epsilon Delta '23, and Elwood McKnight, Epsilon Delta '33, have been frequent visitors and have given us much valuable assistance. On the eve of the formal pledging, Frederick M. Hunter, Alpha Theta Chi '05, discussed scholarship. We were delighted that he could be with us.—ENNIS WUITE.

HOW IMPORTANT ARE YOUR ALUMNI DUES?

To carry on all phases of the 1960-61 program, the Council adopted the following budget, graphically presented below:

COUNCIL INCOME — Budget 1960-61

Total amount $55,380

The general operating income of the fraternity is expended by the National Director under the direction of the Grand Alpha in accordance with an operating budget, adopted by The Council. Collections from men in college are $15 at the time of pledging and $40 at the time of initiation. The income from alumni is in the form of voluntary alumni dues.

COUNCIL EXPENDITURES — Budget 1960-61

Total Amount $55,380

The personal services represents the salaries of the National Director and a staff of three ladies (2 full time and 1 part time).

The pension is the amount paid to our National Director Emeritus who retired in January, 1960.

The overall costs for the Chakett includes printing, engraving, mailing and pro-rata salaries and overhead.

The accounts of the fraternity are audited each year by Respass and Respass, Certified Accountants.

The Council is well aware that Chi Phi alumni are called upon for donations by chapters and chapter house associations, and many support the Fraternity at both the National and local level. We hope you agree that your contributions are necessary in order to effectively carry on. The Chakett, the pension fund and expansion are almost entirely dependent upon your contributions. The Council sincerely hopes that it is using the funds to the advantage of each chapter and alumnus. If you agree, the Council invites your continued support. The annual voluntary dues are $5.00. Send your dues to:
