Send Help — Summer that Is!

Good temporary summer help is available to you or your Company through the Chi Phi Summer Employment register. No fees are involved. List your requirements on the form below and the Summer Job Development Committee will do the rest.

The program to assist undergraduate Chi Phi's to obtain summer employment is entering its third year. The procedure is relatively simple. First register your company and the nature of the work on the form at the bottom of the page and mail. During March a list of the companies and a description of the summer job openings will be sent to each chapter. Instructions accompanying the list will indicate that it is the applicant's responsibility to establish contact with those potential employers in which he has interest and is qualified.

Here is an opportunity for alumni to continue taking an active part in Chi Phi in a manner which will not only benefit you and your organization, but will greatly assist a number of young men to complete their education with funds earned during the summer.

LET'S TALK IT OVER...

THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE should be read with interest by all alumni over 25 years of age. It was prepared by Craig N. Giroux, the Gamma of Kappa Delta of the University of Rochester. Brother Giroux concludes by saying: "This article may seem more like an essay on Brotherhood than a description of our chapter; but this is the way in which we of Kappa Delta consider ourselves."

Brotherhood and Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta, a new chapter in the long history of Chi Phi, unifies the old traditions of fraternity with the "New Spirit" of Brotherhood. As such, it is not a homogenous group as fraternities go, although fraternity implies some common links and interests, some similarity of individual brothers. There is no stereotype of the Chi Phi at the University of Rochester. We have no definite image, positive or negative. Partially, this is because we are a comparatively new fraternity on campus and haven't been around long enough yet to have the engrained look of a "Jock House" or a Jewish Fraternity or a Wealthy Fraternity, as many fraternities on campus do. In our opinion, this is an advantage; this is what we want, what we stand for—what we are.

If we are not an overtly easily recognizable group, then what is Kappa Delta? Kappa Delta is an association of individuals, diversified yet unified, freed from the old idea of fraternity as a self-enclosed group (a fraternity unto itself) and bound by the new love of Brotherhood that extends throughout the group, strengthening it, and yet not limiting its individual brothers. Kappa Delta is personal, brother-to-brother, growing, sheltering, aiding, freeing. But this freedom brings a responsibility, a tie of Brotherhood as strong as those of Love and Individuality.

This responsibility is one of help, of understanding, of consideration for your brother. More than a responsibility, it is a challenge—one that Kappa Delta strives to meet. We may not be completely successful, that would be too much to hope for too soon, but we do have a successful, strong group and we are a fraternity of Brotherhood despite our small number (about 30 brothers) and the fact that we are a non-house fraternity living in university housing.

There have been many important changes in 1969 for the growth of Kappa Delta, and for fraternities and colleges in general. Primarily, the mood of the U of R campus has changed. It is a "New" campus; traditions are sifted here. What is good for today remains and is propagated; what is inappropriate is discarded. Each progressive class becomes more open, more honest, more intelligent, almost more capable of Brotherhood. Each progressive class is also more

Atlanta for 1970 Congress

SEE THE WONDER CITY of the Southeast and attend Congress, too.

The Congress registration desk will open at 11:00 a.m. Friday, Sept. 4, 1970 at the completely new Sheraton Biltmore Hotel. An Awards Luncheon will officially open Congress at 12:15 p.m. From that point until adjournment at 1:00 p.m. on Labor Day, there will be a busy schedule of business sessions, dinners, outings, and "free" time.

Atlanta is an exciting city of lovely homes, excellent restaurants, night spots of all types, big league sports, art center, tourist attractions, business and commerce. It's a "new" old City with a booming economy which can be readily seen in many new buildings, hotels, apartment complexes, civic center and shopping centers.

Atlanta has its own exciting and well stocked stores with years of tradition as well as the new Eastern look in Brooks Brothers, Sak's Fifth Avenue, Lord and Taylor, and Tiffany's, to name but a few. Atlanta is exciting, so come to Congress with your family and see for yourself. Six Flags Over Georgia and Underground Atlanta are not to be missed.

The Chi Phi Second Leadership Conference will be held just prior to Congress, starting Wednesday Sept. 2, 1970. Each chapter may send two selected leaders to the Conference.

• Phi Delta—University of Tennessee

Chartered November 22

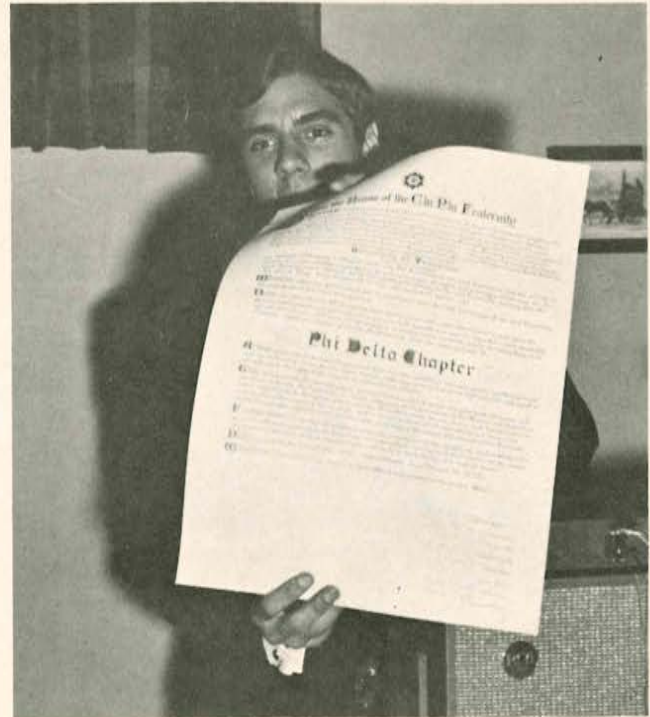

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS after the disbanding of the old Alpha Pi chapter at Vanderbilt, Chi Phi returned to Tennessee in 1967 with the establishment of a colony at the University. On November 22, 1969 Brother W. W. Jeckell made it official by presenting the charter of the Phi Delta chapter to the brothers at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. It was the long awaited day when the hopes and efforts of twenty-seven men were realized.

The chartering ceremony took place in the chapel of the Methodist Center with W. W. Jeckell, Grand Alpha, presenting the charter to Edward Miller, Alpha, Wyford D. Jones, Grand Gamma, giving the prayer, E. Bates Block, Grand Eta, administering the oath to the officers of the chapter, and the National Director presenting the lodgeroom symbols. A banquet was held afterwards at the Quality Motel with Brother Jeckell presenting the charter publicly. Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president of the University of Tennessee gave a short speech and offered an incentive to the new chapter, and A. Harlan Mathews, Tennessee State Commissioner of Finance and Administration, and father of one of the charter members gave the main address.

Alumni in attendance included Lee Schramm, I '57 G D '64, C. A. Ross, Jr., A Th X '35, Fred

THE GEORGIA STATE COLONY of Atlanta became Chi Delta on January 31, 1970. The chartering took place in the Presbyterian Covenant Church Chapel, at noon, before a fine gathering of Brothers, both young and old.

Following the ceremony, the new members hosted a luncheon at Fritz Orr's restaurant. Brother Jack Clarke, Kappa '63 presided and in the course of events introduced Chuck Wilson, Theta Delta '66, who introduced just about everybody, including Bill Farr, Ome '61, President, Atlanta Alumni Association, Pollard Turman, G '34, Grand Alpha, 1947-1949 and Jim Rasnake, Eta '61 and Bill Morgan, G '57 two of the original promoters of the Colony.

The ceremonies were handled by the Grand Beta, Rev. Johnson H. Pace, Jr., Th D '40, William W. Jeckell, I '34 Grand Alpha, Wyford D. Jones, X '34, Grand Gamma; Bates Block, G '40 H '42, Grand Eta, Edgar A. Appling, Chi Delta '71 and Steve Hansen, Chi Delta '70.

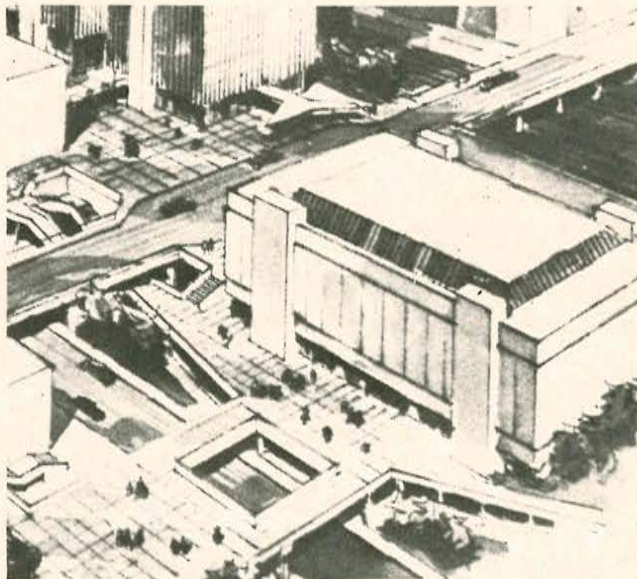

Originally Evening School

IN 1913, Georgia State University's direct ancestor was founded by Georgia Tech, and at first it was called the Georgia Tech Evening School of Commerce. The institution held classes in rented space in downtown Atlanta, moving its location several times to surroundings that became increasingly spacious as enrollment grew.

The institution in that early period was under the direction of a distinguished member of the Georgia Tech staff, Wayne S. Kell, who was appointed by the Tech president and trustees to "take charge of the evening classes in the new science of business."

Mr. Kell gave much of himself to the institution and he was succeeded as its director in 1918 by John M. Watters, a Georgia Tech dean who served until 1925, when he in turn was succeeded by Fred B.

Chapter Dates back to 1968

by STEVE HANSEN, Zeta

IN FEBRUARY 1968, a group of "stray greeks" (transfers from Emory and the Univ. of Georgia) began forming a group to seek colonization by their national fraternity. This group lacked proper leadership among the organizers, so a group of non-initiates split in order to create an organization with purpose, to be guided by their enthusiastic leadership.

How did we choose Chi Phi?

On February 20, 1968, Steve Hansen, Jeff Thomas, and Beau Edwards separated themselves from the original group and became the founders of the Chakett Club of Chi Phi at Georgia State College. Inspiration and friendliness from Ned Dell of Gamma Chapter, Ken Lewis of Omega Chapter, and Barry Brody of the Ogelthorpe Colony, caused the men at Georgia State to select Chi Phi over numerous other national fraternities. Information about all of these organizations was gained by attending parties and rush functions during the Christmas holidays of 1967 and early 1968.

The first official meeting of the group was on March 7, 1968; officers were elected and Robert's Rules of Order was adopted as a method of procedure. Meetings were held weekly to ensure consolidation of the group through interaction. Plans were made for approaching the national office of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

On April 9, 1968, Steve Hansen and Steve Lambert met with Barry Brody of the Ogelthorpe Colony to discuss the procedure for contacting Chi Phi. On April 18, a letter was sent to Chi Phi's National Director asking for an opportunity to present the situation at Georgia State College to Chi Phi, along with our hopes. In late April, Mr. Gladfelter talked to Jeff Thomas and Steve Hansen about the process of becoming a chapter and the responsibility involved. Thomas and Hansen realized the size of the task and offered their leadership.

On May 1, 1968, "Chuck" Wilson, Chi Phi Assistant National Director, met first with the group at Georgia State and then with the Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. Kenneth England. Mr. Wilson presented the requirements placed on a group desiring to become a colony and Dr. England reciprocated with his requirements and a time limit for the establishment of a Chapter at Georgia State.

At the chapter meeting on May 10, a constitution committee was established in order to construct a body of rules for the administration and operation of the organization.

On May 16, officers for year 1968-69, were elected. In the evening of the same day, the group met in the President's Conference Room of Georgia State College with Bates Block, Grand Eta Carl Gladfelter, Chuck Wilson, all officials of Chi Phi, and brothers from Omega and Gamma Chapters. The group presented its members and its purpose to the men of Chi Phi, who in turn presented the objectives of Chi Phi's expansion. The meeting was adjourned and the group had a long wait until June 20, when the Grand Council would decide whether or not to colonize the men at Georgia State College.

Even though we waited, we did not sit! Chapter meetings were continued, intramural softball was continued and weekly visits to Lum's continued. On June 4, after school was out, the group celebrated with a summer rush party/picnic at Stone Mountain, which had good results. The group planned more summer parties and the rush program for fall quarter was begun.

Mr. Gladfelter and Chuck Wilson met with the officers of the group in the office of the Council and officially colonized them on July 2, 1968. The colony was presented with a detailed outline of requirements and expectations of the Council for becoming a Chapter, a process which has become very involved and quite interesting to all members. On July 7, Chuck Wilson began the pledge education process and later officially pledged five of the colony's members on August 14, 1968.

Summer rush continued with the colony participating in freshman orientation and a party at the Gamma House on July 19. On July 26, the barbecue at Bates Block's house added to the colony's rush program.

Fall rush started on September 9 and ended on September 21. The colony added seven pledges to the group and 14 people were pledged on Sunday, September 22, in a ceremony led by Mr. Block and Chuck Wilson.

With grand spirit, the colony entered IFC football for its first season and came out tied for first place in one of the two leagues at Georgia State, not bad for an expansion team!

Winter rush was successful with the addition of seven pledges, bringing the total membership to twenty-two, after having lost several pledges fall quarter. Basketball season was not good to the Chakett Club "Chiefs," but a third place softball team made up for the disappointment!

Spring rush added seven more pledges to the colony, bringing total membership to twenty-nine, with twenty-eight returning in the Fall of 1969 for another year of appreciable growth.

During the year 1968-69, the Chi Phi Colony participated in all sports activities and social events at Georgia State College.

Chapter status was petitioned for in June of 1969, and was granted by the Grand Council later that same year, with the date of installation being set for January 31, 1970, at the Covenant Presbyterian Church in Atlanta.

Fall Rush 1969 added eight pledges to the group bringing the total active membership to twenty-six after having graduated several seniors. Four of the pledges were initiated at Mu Delta, as had been many of the other actives, with special permission from the Council.

Winter quarter rush added eleven pledges to the fold, making the total active membership 33.

The social life of the group during fall quarter included a "hayride" with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority, a homecoming parade, a bus trip to the Georgia State-West Georgia basketball game, a night of recreation in Underground Atlanta, and a party with Rho Delta.

In October 1969, Brothers Doug Haire and Bob Smith joined founders Steve Hansen and Beau Edwards on the roll of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; in 1968 Beau Edwards was chosen as the Senior ROTC Brigade Commander, and became a member of Omicron Delta Kappa National Honor Society. Bob Smith was President of the General Council of Organizations and Doug Haire was Vice-President.

The Inter-Fraternity Council of Georgia State College is composed of ten social fraternities. Membership in the Council is composed of and limited to the national and local fraternities of social standing at Georgia State College. The following is a list of fraternities in order of their establishment at Georgia State College: Alpha Epsilon Pi, 1949; Pi Kappa Phi, 1954; Kappa Sigma, 1958; Sigma Nu, 1959; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 1959; Pi Kappa Alpha, 1960; Chakett Club of Chi Phi, 1968; Alpha Tau Omega, 1969; Alpha Phi Alpha, 1969; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 1969.

Each fraternity maintains study and recreation quarters in facilities rented from the University in the Student Center Building. Chi Phi occupied its newly furnished quarters in December, 1969.

An Opportunity Among the Rubble

By DONOVAN H. BOND

WELL, NOW IT'S official—the Chronicle of Higher Education has formally declared 1968-69 as the most turmoil-filled year in the history of higher education. The declaration comes as no surprise. Anyone who has spent the past year on a campus is at least secretly thankful that it's over.

The headlines and the scraps of conversation you read and hear every day tell the story all too graphically—"concern," "confusion," "the president's going to resign," "barricades," "sit-ins," "unrest," "demands," "meaningful dialogue," etc., etc., ad nauseum. A Greek cynic might observe that the only good to come out of this trouble-packed year has been that some of the heat has been removed from the feet of the long-suffering fraternity system and has been applied to newer victims—the administration, the faculty, and The Establishment.

The big events are symptomatic, however, of turmoil and change in every facet of college life; even those areas that aren't in the headlines are experiencing the pressures. The fraternity-sorority system is no exception. And yet there's the disturbing impression around most houses that "things really are going along about as usual," and that "we stand here pretty much unchanged." There may be some comfort in this delusion that the Greeks are standing, untouched and noble, in the midst of swirling change. It hasn't occurred to some of us that we may just die there—aloof, unchanging, and unwanted.

The alumni magazine of one large state university in the West reported recently that "there's growing concern along Fraternity Row that their way of college life may be going out of style." The Greeks on this particular campus have awakened to the fact that the campus enrollment has quadrupled in a decade and a half, but the Greek population hasn't even doubled. There's a collective shiver in the news that only one sorority made its quota. The Panhellenic Council and the I.F.C. have named a committee to recommend a "new thrust" for their members, noting that "you don't have to be a Greek any more to have a decent place to live, nor even just to have fun." These Greeks are looking with puzzlement and a bit of dismay at new organizations that are being formed (and which are attracting large numbers of members) that have little or nothing in common with traditional Greek groups. They are aware of the good housing available in university-owned and university-operated facilities, where quiet hours are not a laughing matter and where the food service puts the Greek kitchens to shame. They're sensitive to charges that their pledge training programs are "Mickey Mouse" and "irrelevant." They have awakened to the fact that pointing to their past achievements (which is what many of us have been doing since the 1940's) leaves them in the awkward position of facing in a different direction from that favored by most of the rest of the world.

Just as a guess, the Greek system at this particular western university will survive and adapt itself to the changing pattern of higher education in the 1970's.

The author, Donovan Bond, the former National President of Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity, is the director of Development at West Virginia University.

This article is one of a series prepared for fraternity magazines by OPERATION CHALLENGE, a project established by the College Fraternity Editors Association. Permission to reprint the article or any portion thereof may be obtained from the author and OPERATION CHALLENGE.

Why? Simply because the Greeks there are awakening to reality, albeit a few years late. But their colleagues in the rest of the country who haven't discovered these facts on their doorsteps yet might just end up as part of the rubble—proud, unchanging, and alone.

Can it happen to you?

Is your membership staying about the same while everything around you—including the campus as a whole—is coming apart at the seams with growth?

Are you still concentrating on the idea of four-year undergraduate members and nothing else, when the pattern is clear—all the way from the provost's office to the White House—that the 1970's are going to witness the most rapid expansion in (a) the graduate fields, and (b) the two-year community college area?

Is the chapter attitude toward most controversial campus issues still basically reactionary and supportive of the status quo, despite the almost universal tendency in the colleges and universities (and in their student organizations) toward progress, reform and change?

The purpose of this article isn't to set up scare-crows nor to organize a mass retreat. Neither is it to advise a Pollyanna posture of "just sit tight and everything will turn out all right." Rather, it is to suggest that there just might be a golden opportunity amid the rubble. There's a frantic demand on almost every campus for stability, for activities that promote academic achievement, and for alumni understanding and support. If the Greek system can't provide these things, then its century of history is a lie. Fraternities thrive on good academic campuses, and there are more high-quality schools today than ever before. Fraternities thrive when they are performing a function that is a part of the institution's goals; and more than in any recent time, our institutions need the stability of experienced organizations and unified alumni, both of which the good fraternity or sorority can provide.

Speaking of frantic demands, the need for intelligent and forceful student opposition to the violence and nihilism of the destructive minorities in the headlines is essential to the continuation of many colleges. If there is a "must" element in any search for a new thrust in the years just ahead, it's that the Greek world must be on the side of reason and order, and uncompromisingly opposed to the minority wrecking crews whose purposes are not to advance the cause of higher education but to destroy the system of which

SEE YANKEETOWN, by Tom Knotts, ThD'39. Publisher: Cody Publications, Inc., Kissimmee, Fla.

A. F. KNOTTS, the great uncle of Tom Knotts, was looking for a place he could develop in Florida where there was hunting and fishing. That was in the early 1920s and the result was the establishment of "Yankeetown" on Florida's Gulf Coast, upwards of 100 miles north of St. Petersburg.

The story has now been told by Tom Knotts in the book "See Yankeetown"—full of the minutiae remembered by young Tom and passed on to him by A.F. himself and other pioneer settlers.

See Yankeetown is the title of the book because Florida was plastered with "See Yankeetown" signs during the 20s and 30s. By 1922 A.F.'s fishing camp was suitable for women and children, and Tom, five years old, made his first trip from Gary, Indiana to Yankeetown.

The book includes eight chapters, including such interesting ones as "Yankeetown 1940 - 1950, Dogs, Children and Movies" and "Yankeetown 1950 - 1960—The Hurricane that Backed Up."

Also included are Appendices covering a wide variety of topics

"A" through "U".

Among them is one on the See Yankeetown signs, painted orange with black lettering including a series of poems published in the Tampa Tribune.

Note that See Yankeetown was printed by Chi Phi, too: Cody's Printers and Publishers of Kissimmee, owned by Al (ThD'36) and Bob (ThD'40) Cody.

THE AMERICAN HERITAGE OF JAMES NORMAN HALL, by Robert Leland Johnson, Omicron '55. Publisher: Dorrance & Co., Philadelphia.

IN THIS UNUSUAL genealogy-history-biography, the author, by a carefully documented study of one man's heritage, has given substance and vitality to the heritage of all Americans—the courage, determination and imagination of the past that helped to mold the America of today.

In tracing the family tree of James Norman Hall, a distant cousin, the author has in a sense traced the course of American history. Hall's forebears were typical, in their industry and resourcefulness, of many families who came to this country and helped to shape the new nation.

Quakers who originally settled in Philadelphia, their religious beliefs controlled all their endeavors, political, business and literary.

As later generations moved westward, the Quaker pacifism of this family was modified by the activist evangelism which had deep roots in the West.

Robert Leland Johnson originally became interested in his family's genealogy because of his curiosity about his greatgrandfather, B. F. Wright, who had been a lawyer like himself. As a result of his research, he published a history of Louisa County, Iowa (where B. F. Wright had practiced law) in 1967; he also discovered that James Norman Hall was a cousin.

A native of Denver, Brother Johnson attended Yale University as an English major for a time. He has the distinction of receiving his law degree from the University of Denver prior to his B.A. from the same university.

For several years Johnson served as assistant Regional Counsel of the General Services Administration in Denver. In 1961 he began a private law practice, specializing in civil and criminal trial work. The assistance of his wife as his legal secretary has made possible the freedom to devote much time to research and writing.

Mr. Johnson is the author of two books on law: Trial Handbook for Colorado Torts Lawyers and Matrimonial Practice in Colorado Courts. He is a member of many organizations, including the American Bar Association, the American Judicature Society and the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Will we grasp the opportunity, or will we remain alone and stiff amid the rubble? Our chapters can provide unique services both to the institution and to its students, just as we have been doing for a century or more, provided we are willing to make a more realistic appraisal of the needs of both elements in today's tumult. We must re-establish ourselves as an instrument of intellectual attainment (re-establish, not just establish; for somewhere along the line we've lost that reputation). To place the necessary emphasis on intellectual pursuits, we must subordinate (not eliminate) the social function. If we are to maintain our place on the campus, and if we are to keep pace with campus growth (in influence and in worth, if not in numbers), then we must work closely and sincerely with institutional authorities in determining our most useful role in line with the institution's avowed purposes.

For when the rubble is swept away, and when the curriculum of the 1970's has been determined (despite the methods of determination), the emphasis will be on things educational and practical, things that have a meaning to contemporary social needs, in step with contemporary thought. Any organization that is out of step with that emphasis just may not make it into the 1980's. Just as there's an opportunity amid the rubble, there's a special prize for the campus element that grasps and exploits the opportunity. It is an undisputed reputation for campus leadership in the best meaning of that overused term. Will it be the Greeks who will get the prize?

demanding of fraternities and the brotherhood they espouse. There will always be "Jock Houses" as long as there are "jocks", and other specialized groups will always congregate into fraternities on campus. Increasingly, however, these fraternities are being seen for what they really are by the newly aware freshman, merely very limited specialized groups. The prospective rushee disdards these fraternities as old-fashioned and in many ways antithetical to the new feeling on campus.

This is the feeling and the situation that Kappa Delta must contend with on campus. For merely existing as a group with the name fraternity, we bear the stigma of the old style fraternity, traditional and part of the "Establishment", an imitation of true Brotherhood. For-

Alfred H. Hutchinson

FORMER Grand Alpha Alfred H. Hutchinson, Xi '09, died November 11, 1969.

One of Al's closest Chi Phi friends, F. W. Krebs, Xi '12 wrote this tribute to him early in December: "Hutch was an outstanding undergraduate; Delta of the chapter, a half back on the football team, a sprinter on the track team. He was a member of the Mandolin Club, the class social clubs, and Quill and Dagger, Senior Society. He coached the 1913 freshman football team and was a varsity coach.

In Chicago, he was active in the formation of the Chi Phi Club of Chicago which held the Centennial Celebration of 1924. Hutchinson served as Grand Alpha for three terms and continued an active interest. Luther Rosser can add to the story.

The Xi Chapter honored him by hanging a portrait in the library in Craigielea. He was an organizer and first president of the Craigielea Educational Memorial Trust, Inc."

Brother Hutchinson was most devoted to Chi Phi and served both as a Council Representative at Large and a Council Representative from Xi Chapter for many years following his term of office as Grand Alpha. He regularly attended Congress and the annual initiation ceremony at Xi. Hundreds of Chi Phis from all sections of the country knew him personally and will miss his friendly interest and counsel.

Brother Hutchinson was the Chairman of the Board of Continental Scale Corp. of Chicago. He is survived by three sons, Edward M. Hutchinson, Xi'36, William unately, Kappa Delta has never been an old style fraternity. We believe that we are a fraternity in the new spirit of brotherhood.

This new outlook on campus described above has resulted in a crisis for fraternities on campus. Bound as Kappa Delta was by the stigma of association as a fraternity and by the limitations of the very traditional Inter-Fraternity Council on campus, we too suffered in this recent crisis (perhaps more than most). The new situation has forced the IFC to change, however, and the rush is no longer the limited old style, artificial situation it once was.

Hurt because of our youth on campus and because of the crisis mismanaged by IFC and poorly understood by us until recently, Kappa Delta is at a point where we are forced to reaffirm the ideals expressed above and to apply them to the situation on campus. We are realizing this, facing up to the task, and proceeding firmly with faith in our own strength through Brotherhood which is, as we see it, Individuality, Love, and Responsibility.

If this article is more of a spiritual picture of Kappa Delta than a physical one, it is because we are a young, growing group and this is what is most important to us at this time. This article may seem more like an essay on Brotherhood than a description of our chapter; but, this is the way in which we of Kappa Delta consider ourselves.

Grand Alpha's Remarks . . .

the best in all ways amongst other groups here," the Grand Alpha told his listeners.

"Chi Phi is a fellowship of men, but a constitution, with its set of By-laws, does not create a fellowship. True fellowship can never be legislated. It must spring from within."

"I do wish to stress the ritual phase. When you let that phase weaken and drop out of the picture your chapter is on its way to extinction."

"I urge a close relationship be established with the alumni on a continuous basis. They can be of great help to you. In fact, our strongest chapters are the ones where the alumni take an active part," he said.

"A chapter is as good as its officers. If a member violates a chapter rule or some regulation of the University it is the officers who get the member corrected or dole out the punishment. For example, pot smoking doesn't take place in a fraternity if that chapter has a group of officers who are willing to lead the group according to the rules of play set down for all."

"Don't leave serious problems under the rug, so to speak, but bring them out and face up to the issues."

"You have the best wishes of myself and the Grand Council of the Chi Phi Fraternity tonight. Long live Phi Delta Chapter," Brother Jeckell concluded.

Walter Mengden, Jr. Seeks Seat in Legislature

BROTHER WALTER H. MENGDEN, JR. former Alpha and Delta of Nu Chapter, is seeking election to the Texas legislature on the Republican ticket.

In 1968, he came within 300 votes out of 155,000 cast of winning a seat in the Texas Legislature, and the election was so close it was in doubt for a week. His likelihood of being elected this year are enhanced as there is not a Democrat incumbent seeking re-election to this position.

Brother Mengden believes that men in positions of leadership have a special responsibility to our youth. "Not until we, the voters, demand that our elected officials conduct themselves within the true spirit and intent of the law, can we expect the youth of our country to do likewise."

Brother Mengden attended undergraduate school at the University of Southern California and University of Minnesota before obtaining his Bachelor of Business Administration and law degree at the University of Texas.

He served in the U.S. Navy in World War II and served during the Korean War as an Army First Lieutenant.

Brother Mengden and his wife June, who belongs to Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, have four children and live in Houston, Texas.

John Albrecht Fellow in National Cathedral

THE REV. JOHN H. ALBRECHT, Phi '54., Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Royal Oak, Michigan, has been appointed a Fellow at the College of Preachers, Washington National Cathedral, Washington, D. C., in the Autumn Term of 1970.

These fellowships are given to clergymen who have shown outstanding ability in preaching. This kind of "continuing education" allows a man four weeks to embark on a special project of reading, study, and discussion. The Fellow remains in residence for the entire four week period of the Fellowship and takes part in the life of the College. The Fellowship provides for all the expenses of tuition, board and lodging, and transportation.

The Rev. Mr. Albrecht became Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church on September 1, 1969. His parish is one of the largest Episcopal Churches in Michigan with over 3000 members. It is located on Woodward Ave. at Eleven Mile Road.

In 1959, he received his B.D. from the Virginia Theological Seminary and was awarded the one-year Marquis Fellowship at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. He served a year as assistant chaplain at Cranbrook School returning to Christ Church Cranbrook to serve four years as assistant minister.

From 1965 to 1969 he served as rector of St. Katherine's Episcopal Church, Williamston, Michigan.

Clifford Clarke G'51 Honored by Executive Group

THE CLIFFORD M. CLARK award has been established by the Georgia Society of Association Executives. In establishing the Award the president of the Association said: "The Clifford M. Clarke Award was established because of the fact that his name has become synonymous with the best in association management as a result of his work through Georgia Business and Industry Association."

Brother Clarke, of Atlanta, Georgia, was one of the first of the nation's more than 10,000 association executives to be designated a Chartered Association Executive, a position created to acknowledge and honor high standards of service and professional responsibility through achievement and contribution to association management. He is now one of the five members who make up the Chartering Board of CAE.

Nu Alumni Reorganize in Houston

THE OFFICERS and directors of the Chi Phi Alumni Club of Houston were pleased and honored to host Carl J. Gladfelter, National Director of the Chi Phi Fraternity, with a dinner and discussion period at the Summit Club in Houston on the 21st of January. Brother Gladfelter was entertained in the afternoon at the home of Brother Phil Moss, Vice President of the Houston group, and later at the Summit Club by Joe Rentz, President of the Houston Club, Brothers Ralph King, Lynn Cooper, Donnie Burgess, Walter Mengden, Jr., and Dick Rolle."

Brother Gladfelter advised that he will return to Houston on the 27th of February, to meet with the entire Houston group for purposes of discussing the reorganization of the State wide alumni organization."

Yale Alumnus Seeks Heirloom

BROTHER Fellowes Thompson is trying to locate an old newspaper account of the Yale-Harvard Crew Race on Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H. that he loaned to York Hall. Shortly after the chapter was discontinued a search of the premises was made without finding it and the conclusion was that one of the members, not knowing to whom it belonged, just took it.

Brother Thompson has offered a reward for its return to 2424 S. E. 17th St., Fort Lauderdale, Florida 33316.

Wenn, a professor in the Tech school of commerce.

In 1928, Mr. Wenn was succeeded by the late Dr. George M. Sparks, who took over the institution as Georgia and the nation moved into perilous economic times.

The early 1930's found the country in a great depression and one of the results of it was the reorganization of the entire state government in Georgia, a reorganization that came about in a search for greater efficiency and greater economy of operation. A Board of Regents was created to govern the University System of Georgia, it was clear by 1955 that a the Georgia Tech Evening School of Commerce should be an independent college in the new System. It was independent for a good many years—through the Great Depression and World War II until 1947, when the Board of Regents decided that the institution's functions appropriately could be incorporated into the program of the University of Georgia, and it continued to function, under University leadership and direction, with the title "Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia."

Despite the pleasant aspects of this association with the University of Georgia, it was clear by 1955 that a destiny of its own was in store for the institution. The Board of Regents separated the Georgia State University from the University of Georgia and set it up on its own once more. The School's specialty was to be business, and the title approved was the "Georgia State College of Business Administration."

Very shortly thereafter, it began to be clear that the "Business Administration" title did not really define the functions of the institution. The Board of Regents began to consider changing the name once more to bring it in line with the responsibilities the College was fulfilling.

In 1961, the Board of Regents changed the name to "Georgia State College"; again in 1969, the Board of Regents granted University status to the school.

Since these early additions, the academic program has steadily been expanded until at the present time, Georgia State University offers four doctoral degrees, large array of masters degrees, and an impressive assortment of undergraduate offerings.

Georgia State University today is the second largest institution of higher learning within the State. An ambitious building program is underway which will result in a forty acre, $60 million complex. The institution's alumni are in places of leadership all over the nation and a great opportunity for growth and for service is assured for Georgia State University.

Mu

Stevens Institute of Technology

By RICHARD BURKE, Zeta

THIS SEPTEMBER Mu Chapter opened its "Green Gate" to 16 initiates. They were introduced to the traditions of Chi Phi in its 86 years at Stevens Institute of Technology.

One of 10 fraternities on campus, Mu is well known for its interest in campus affairs. Despite the fact that it is not a large house (37 members) it makes its presence known in numerous school and interfraternity activities. An excellent example of this is the school humor magazine, "Events", which is almost entirely run by members of Chi Phi.

Like many other chapters, Mu tries to keep in close contact with its alumni. This is accomplished through a newsletter, published bi-annually, and various alumni meetings scheduled throughout the term. Coming up on March 7, 1970 is our Alumni Ball, where the actives and alumni get together for an evening of dining and dancing.

Over the summer the brothers spent much time in the remodeling of the chapter's kitchen. The old facilities, outdated and inadequate for our needs, were replaced by a modern unit, more suited to the demands of the brotherhood. The success of this project can be attributed to both the sacrifice of the brothers and the financial backing of the alumni, to whom we are most grateful.

Pledge Day is rapidly approaching, and the rushing this year is tough, but the brothers are hoping for another strong pledge class to continue the spirit of Chi Phi at Stevens Tech.

Tau

University of Alabama

by MIKE MCKINNEY, Zeta

TAU CHAPTER entered its fiftieth year at the University of Alabama by moving into its beautiful new $260,000 home on New Fraternity Row. The house was turned over to the chapter on November 12th, only three days before Homecoming, November 15th. In the three intervening days all preparations were hastily made, including painting the basement and moving into our new home. It proved to be well worth the effort, as Homecoming was a tremendous occasion at Tau, marking the beginning of a new era for our chapter.

A successful summer and fall rush program resulted in an excellent pledge class which will help to launch Tau into its second fifty years. The outstanding assistance of Chi Phi alumni across the state was a major factor in the successful rush program that produced such outstanding results.

All alumni are strongly urged to attend Tau Day, our fiftieth anniversary, on Saturday, April 18, 1970. On this landmark in Tau history, the active brothers will recognize three outstanding alumni by presenting Certificates of Appreciation for their efforts throughout the past year. Open House will follow a noon dinner for all current brothers, alumni, and guests at the house. Representatives from many of the sororities and fraternities will join us in inspecting the most recent, and one of the most beautiful houses ever built at this University. With such a large turnout expected, it will give many alumni brothers an opportunity to see many of their brothers whom they may not have seen in years!

This year has seen a very successful sports program carried out at Tau. Claiming a tie for first place in its football division, Tau then went on to earn a division championship in volleyball and our basketball team is currently undefeated. The brothers of Tau continue to participate in many areas of campus life, having been active in the campus blood drive, the annual Campus Chest, and the Thanksgiving Food Drive.

At present there are twenty actives and pledges living in the new house, with meals being served to thirty-two men. A 50 percent increase in membership is expected by next September.

Special thanks are given by the brothers to their alumni, who, in two short years, raised the money for the beautiful new home of Tau. This accomplishment is something that no other fraternity at the University of Alabama can boast, and the brothers look forward to a continued strong relationship with the alumni of Tau.

Omega

Georgia Institute of Technology

by ROB McCLURE, Gamma

AFTER RETURNING to school this past fall quarter, the brothers of Omega chapter were surprised to learn that we ranked number one on campus scholastically for the previous Spring Quarter. In spite of rigorous preparation and great thought Georgia Tech suffered a poor turn out for rush. Chi Phi, however, pledged 22 of the finest young men in school, drawn primarily from the freshman and sophomore classes. It was noted that the majority of these were from the state of Georgia.

The fraternity held buffets and openhouses before and after each home game this fall for the alumni. A great social calendar more than made up for a poor football season. The season was better for the fraternity team participating in the IFC league, under the coaching of Brother Richard Shepard.

The fraternity collected for the Atlanta Empty Stocking Fund sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This project was lead by Rick Johnson. Toby Miller served as the World Student Fund Chairman for the campus and was supported by our enthusiastic pledge class. Toby also helped improve freshman spirit by serving as head of the Publicity Committee of the Ramblin' Reck Club.

Omega had its share of brothers selected to school honoraries. Tommy Snyder was elected to Tau Beta Pi, the highest engineering honorary. Delta Kappa Phi tapped Bruce Davidson, Ennis O'Neal and Larry Kelly, while Tom Robertson joined Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary. Sam Strickland was elected to Beta Beta Beta, biology honorary.

Pledges Harvey Hardy and Tom Sharrer played on the Freshman Football Team while Joe Bill Faith returned to the Varsity Team. Nick Schlageter is serving as Secretary of the Sailing Team and Kerry Scherer is running track for Georgia Tech.

John MaGuire represented us in a fraternity convocation sponsored by the IFC in Memphis. He returned with many new and inspiring ideas concerning the fraternities' situation.

Nu Delta

Florida State University

By JAMES HALLIGAN, Gamma

AFTER A YEAR of constant searching Nu Delta finally found a home. It is located at 418 W. College, Tallahassee Florida. It is a wood-frame white house that has been kept in good condition. It costs $63,000 and with financial help from National and Chapter Advisor-Lee Everhart, A'49, the house was ready for Fall, 1969. The house was filled to capacity of 15 immediately and with a little more work it should serve as well for many years.

The past year brought Nu Delta such awards as the I.F.C. Scholarship Improvement Trophy and a 2nd place trophy in intramural Wrestling. We are looking forward to 1st place this year.

Rho Delta

Oglethorpe College

by JIMMY BELLO, Zeta

THE 29th of September, 1969, began the first full year of the newly chartered Rho Delta Chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity at Oglethorpe College. Our first rush brought us seven pledges. Initiation will be held on February 14, 1970. There will be a spring rush which will take place beginning second semester.

Recently we have elected new officers for the coming semester: Rick Hall is the new Alpha; Bryant Gargiulo the new Beta; the new Delta is Tom Cioffi; John Fittipaldi is the new Zeta; Rick Agel remains as the Epsilon; and Ken Dare remains as the corresponding secretary.

During the year our football team was very successful. We compiled a record of 8-3 and won first place in our division. We dropped a playoff game, however, and were eliminated in the playoffs. We are currently getting ready for basketball season in which we will enter two teams, one in each league.

During the Christmas season we sponsored a Christmas Tree lighting ceremony. We placed a tree atop Lupton Hall and served hot chocolate and doughnuts.

Our faculty advisor, Dr. Grady Emerson, has become Registrar, and Brother Joe Dennis PA'69 is now our Alumni Advisor. Brother Dennis is also the new tennis coach at Oglethorpe.

Sigma Delta

University of California-Davis

by ROBERT L. GALLAWAY, Zeta

AFTER TWO YEARS, the Sigma Delta Chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity is finally settled in its permanent house at 217 Russell Blvd. in Davis. Thanks are in order to the Brothers Frank Merlo L'56 and Burt Olsen, L'52 for all their help in the culmination of the project. Yet to be completed is our driveway and parking lot which with the advent of the rains gives our mudpit in the backyard the fitting and endearing name of "Lake Chi Phi".

Sigma Delta is looking forward to the winter quarter for several reasons. First, is a university accredited course to be offered in the chapter concerning fraternity living. The course, which will be offered through the Department of Applied Behavioral Sciences, will allow the chapter to examine house policies and precepts while receiving academic credit for the same. The course will be taught through a seminar approach with the help of the University Fraternity Advisor.

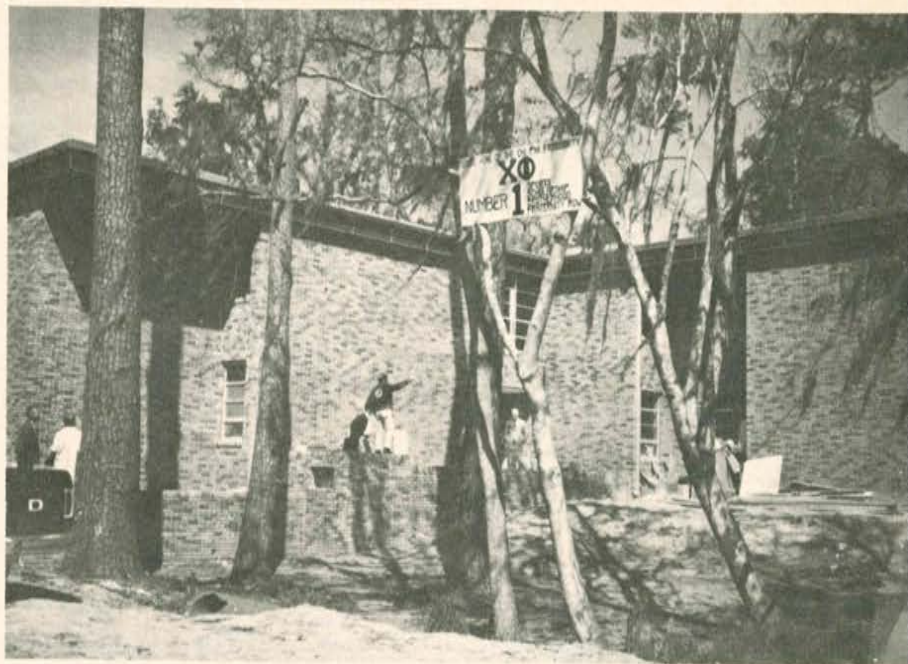

Athletically, the chapter is looking forward to a successful basketball season, fielding two intramural teams. Socially, the chapter recently held a dinner exchange with the Sacramento Air Force Debutantes with a dance following in the chapter house. Many other events are also planned for the upcoming social quarter.

The chapter is now making plans for a Chapter Open House for all Northern California Alumni and Friends to be held on Picnic Day which is April 18, 1970 of this year.

Finally the forthcoming quarter

New Theta Delta Chapter House will be occupied by the time you read this. Picture was taken on February 28. The sign reads: "Chi Phi—Number 1: Sports, Scholarship, Brotherhood, Fraternity Row." Founders' Day on May 2 is expected to attract a record number of alumni and Pres. Al Warrington of the Florida Chi Phi Association promises "no money talk, just a good time." Meeting will be at 10 a.m. on May 2, in the afternoon will be the University of Florida Orange and Blue game, in the evening at 7:00 an initiation will be held for alumni of the original local fraternities who were not initiated back in 1935; then there will be an informal supper with a couple of kegs of beer and no loud band (a special request of the "square" alumni). The event will also celebrate the 35th anniversary of Theta Delta Chapter, installed in February 1935.

will see some distinguished visitors to the Sigma Delta Chapter. Slated for visits are the Governor's Education Secretary, Davis' State Senator, and several members of the California State Assembly.

Iowa State Colony

Iowa State University

by JOHN A. HAND, Gamma

IN THE FALL of 1969, the twelve members of the Iowa State Colony came back to school to a "newer" house and with a fairly well organized formal rush week planned. The newer house is at 320 Welch Avenue, one door south of last year's headquarters. It is a larger house and in better condition than the one previously occupied. Although it was in better shape, it still needed a good cleaning prior to rush week and provided an opportunity for most of the brothers to get together. Rush week went well for us as we got five new pledges. Ten men filled the new house, three men were in the smaller house next door (on an apartment type basis) and the rest were left to live elsewhere as they chose.

Scholastically, we have done well. Steadily improving since we were formed, we have moved from being in the lower quarter until now we are in the upper half of the fraternities. We are also participating where we can in intramural sports and gaining respect among the other fraternities in certain sports.

Throughout the fall quarter, we have added three new pledges. The nucleus of ten men living at 320 Welch still do their own cooking: the cooking and cleaning chores are alternated among the house members for the weekly dinner we have for all members. We are rushing informally and working on our petition in the hopes that we will be able to submit it and possibly be chartered sometime in May.

Morehead Colony

Morehead State University

THE MOREHEAD State University Colony, Morehead, Kentucky, is eagerly looking forward to the coming year. We already have several events scheduled for the colony, not to mention more which are in the planning stages. Our annual "Wheel-Barrow Race" for the National Muscular Dystrophy Drive, has been rescheduled for February or March due to inclement weather. Also scheduled for this period are a Comedy Wrestling Match, and the Annual Fraternity Dance. With the coming of spring arrives the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority Song Fest which our colony has supported since its inception. Also at this time, the Greek Week athletic events are held, with our colony always in strong participation. May brings clear skies and warmer weather a fitting time for our Annual Alumni Picnic. Not to go unmentioned are the numerous colony parties and spring outings, where colony members and their female companions can enjoy the warmth and fellowship found in this fraternity.

From an academic viewpoint, our colony ranks highly among the fraternities on campus. Last year we were fourth highest in the overall grade point average among fraternities at Morehead, with expectations of an even higher ranking this year. Since the founding of our former local fraternity in 1966, we are proud to have had members of our fraternity elected to Who's Who each year. This year our Beta, Daniel Nelson Ginter, was selected for this honor, carrying on our tradition of high scholarship and achievement.

The colony is presently renting a two-story frame house in the city of Morehead. Due to a ruling of the University, students are not permitted to live off campus, but we have still made good use of its facilities for meetings and social get-togethers. We are presently in the process of furnishing and redecorating the interior, with extensive plans for the exterior being saved for warmer weather. At the present time we are a small but working group, looking forward to the next pledging period when we can again increase our numbers, being confident in our future and proud of our past.

Letters:

Marijuana—Light, Not Heat Required

The editorial columns of THE CHAKETT are always open to expression of interest or opinion on the part of our brothers.

Marijuana Debate Light Not Heat Required

Dear Sir:

Let me congratulate you for your forthright and timely article on the dangers of marijuana. The willingness of this publication to address itself to important areas of concern to young people has caused THE CHAKETT to transcend the severe (and usually self-imposed) limitation that so often beset alumni "house organs".

Let me add, however, that while I strongly encourage the presentation of controversial subjects, I also feel the equal time doctrine should apply to opposing views—in this case my own, which follow:

THE CHAKETT article on marijuana started off with a most unfortunate misrepresentation. The frightening headline illustration of a hypodermic syringe, an amphetamine vial, and what are presumably "speed" pills, has no place in an article about marijuana except to artificially intimidate the reader. This blatant form of propagandizing causes the entire motives of the author to fall suspect—and with good reason.

Examine carefully the lead statement "Marijuana is not physically addicting and is not a narcotic" and its rebuttal. First, the author compares by faulty analogy one aspect of the drug "cocaine" with one aspect of the drug marijuana—excluding for grounds on which to base one's judgment all other considerations of the effects of these drugs. It is precisely because all the other effects of marijuana are so slight—but not those of cocaine—that marijuana is being considered for legalization. Exactly that effect of "high-stimulation" of cocaine, which the author mentions, disqualifies it for this same consideration.

The author, in replying to the above statements, injects the crux (or crutch) of his entire subsequent argument—that marijuana produces "psychic dependence", a delightful catch—all phrase that is never defined, probably because it means next to nothing at all. Presumably it is supposed to conjure up visions of cerebral, as opposed to somatic dependency. However, closer examination of the domain of "psychic dependence" shows it to include such harmful habits as gum-chewing, TV watching, and even skiing—none of which cause "physical addiction" but all of which can certainly cause a high degree of "psychic dependence".

And finally, in analyzing all the elements of this one simple rebuttal by the author, one wonders why he omitted touching on a major legal aspect of this first question; (this entire article addresses itself to the question of legalizing "pot") namely the status of marijuana as a narcotic.

Narcotics, after all, belong to that class of drugs that, among other things with prolonged use cause addiction (by which is meant "physical addiction"). Marijuana is not physically addictive as the author admits. How then can one be legally prosecuted under existing laws barring the use of "narcotics"? This is certainly a question of major legal consequence and one can only surmise that because he felt he was on thin ice, the author preferred not to tread on it.

By closer examination of this one question raised and glossed over by Dr. Brill, I have hoped to demonstrate that the real questions regarding the use of marijuana were not adequately or fairly dealt with. This is nothing new, of course. The medical profession and the Federal Narcotics Bureau have, with unabated fervor, opposed any suggestion that marijuana might be an enjoyable and relatively harmless drug. I do not claim it is, preferring to wait until the facts are in. Until they are, pseudo-scientific arguments attempting to "prove" the dangers of pot remain mere exercises in oratory. The young people of America have had enough of this pompous versimilitude from the adult world.

That is one reason the entire marijuana debate has reached such a state of spurious warnings and prohibition. More light, not heat, is required.

"We Have Met the Enemy and it is Us"

Dear Mr. Gladfelder:

After reading "Fraternities and Communism", the letters in response, and your replies to these letters I find myself equally incensed at Chi Phi's stance on the article and at the article itself.

Fraternities are associated with colleges and universities, institutions that endeavor, it is hoped, to encourage reasoned debate on all issues, academic and social. Hopefully, these endeavors also accrue to these fraternities, but David Kent's talk, positioned as the lead article in the magazine of a major national fraternity, avoids a discussion of the issues concerning the futures of the fraternity system and substitutes ill-considered name-calling and the focusing on what he considers to be technicalities of the law. As has become so common in the recent years of dissent over intensely moral issues, Kent condemns those who protest without considering their criticisms. Those who seek change are at best "idealists of various degrees" and at worst "psychological misfits" and "Communists".

The use of the term "Communist" is wholly irresponsible in this talk, and Chi Phi is in turn irresponsible for permitting its use in this way. Kent uses this handy term again and again, never substantiating his choice of it. He backs off, saying that he does not mean to imply that those who seek to destroy the fraternity system are "necessarily" Communists, then makes his point known by saying that "most" of these people are not Communists. He is making a serious charge, and he should provide some evidence for it. He provides none. Finally he explains that it is in their dedication to their goal that fraternity opponents parallel Communists. If dedication to a goal qualifies one as a Communist fellow-traveler, then everyone from sports fans to Michaelangelo might deserve the term. His words are absurd and they are dangerous.

The thrust of the article is the freedom to choose one's associates. We are assured that the author favors striking down racial discrimination; this "war", states the article, "has nothing to do with whether a Negro can be a member of your fraternity". Does the author seriously believe that racial discrimination has not been and is not a problem facing fraternities? He is asking for the right for private organizations to discriminate. Is that a sacred right? Where has all the discrimination come from in this country? Discrimination is more than a legal issue; it is a moral issue.

Where does Chi Phi stand? You reply that the Caucasian clause is gone, along with the blackball. There are many non-white Chi Phis, we are assured. But this is not the point. If this fraternity and other organizations like to endorse positions like Mr. Kent's and avoid the moral stand, you do far more damage to the causes you ostensibly support—the elimination of discrimination, the freedom of choice—than a hundred sets of amended by-laws can ever make up for.

Pogo's famous words are again appropriate: "We have met the enemy and it is us." Fraternities are their own worst enemies when their spokesmen call for the survival of the system "as we have known it in the past". Clearly it is to change and to disorder that Mr. Kent reacts, not to injustice nor legitimate criticism.

While I was an undergraduate fraternities were criticized as irrelevant to the educational process, inhibitive of academic and social growth rather than fostering of them. Their policies were seen as most parochial, tending to hinder the growth of an intellectual community, with their energies directed each year mainly towards new membership—not for productive goals for the members once-joined. Some of the criticisms were not valid, but many were. The community is a better place today for this dissent; for fraternities began to move beyond self-perpetuation to plan for more active involvement in the purposes of the college. Much remains to be done. If the changes demanded by the times can be made, fine; but if fraternities in anything resembling their current structure become anachronistic, so be it if they disappear.

Let Chi Phi welcome debate over the future of the fraternity system. But may it speak to the legitimate questions raised and respond to them with both reasoned opinion and positive program.

Sincerely,

Douglas A. Dunlap, Phi '66

No Feedback!

Sir:

The other day a copy of THE CHAKETT was forwarded to me. I haven't seen one in some time and when I opened it and read it alternating flushes of morbid curiosity and embarrassed nostalgia reeled over me. A heady kind of poor man's Proust. It was all there: the same 1950 graphics; a carefully rigged article (Q. and A.) on marijuana, whose conclusion was as predictable as the speech reprints on "Why the Brotherhood can never die"; the same officers from chapters from small colleges in ultra-conservative southern states; and, most affecting of all, my own mind and heart taken about about eight years ago.

It actually seems like twice that. So much has happened in the world, so many revolutions and changes and things gone, yet none of this was really reflected in those pages. The most remarkable things were two letters about the fraternity excluding non-WASPs. The replies by the editor were bracing and righteous, just as they were when I was an officer at the U. of Oregon Colony. In those days it was daring even to take in a Jew. While the colony members debated the propriety of this a national officer, who was there for a few days, said we should consider it carefully because after all why should Chi Phi be the first on campus to take in a Jew. They might all come over to our rush table. Well we did and they didn't. But it was only one of a whole life pattern of petty hypocrisies, which, thank God, students today are finally just not accepting any more. How can I ever begin to tell you? I just don't know.

Why am I writing this letter? One reason I think is that it's to myself in the dear pimply old days as well as to all the CHAKETT readers. The sad thing about fraternities has always been that there is no feedback from the people who drop out of them, either students or alumni, because when it happens, you just don't care anymore about all that boola boola that never was.

Sincerely,
Paul Fisher, TD '64
