

Who Gets the Grades? No Longer Parents!

by Virgil Harley, G '53

Twenty-five years ago, after I had finished my first quarter in Emory College, I spent my whole Christmas holiday at my parents' house anxiously waiting for my grades to arrive from the University. (They were only fair that quarter — two Bs and a C.)

The grades, of course, were not addressed to me, since in those simpler times, college students — especially those teenagers like me — were still considered to be under the de facto, as well as de juris, supervision of their parents. Any legal communication from the University to the student first went through the student's parents. I suppose there were many students in those days who never knew their grades for a particular quarter until they were told by their fathers and mothers.

(In those days, the situation was somewhat different for older undergraduates, especially those veterans over 21. Many of my early classmates were in their mid-20s — some of them were in their early 30s — and these people got their own grades.)

By my senior year, I was over 21, and was paying most of my own tuition and expenses. Still, my mother got my grades addressed to her.

All this came back to me the week after Christmas just past, when a letter arrived at my house — addressed to me! — with my grade enclosed from the course I took during the fall in the theology school. After all these years, I had my own grades; I saw them before anybody else did!

Of course, this was only logical. I have no parents now to get my grade first, and I've been legally an adult for more than two decades. The tuition I paid last September came out of my own pocket.

Still, it was somewhat of a wrench. Times, like everything else, had changed.

Now Students Get Own Grades

When I came back to the office just before New Year's however, I got to thinking about it. Had times really changed, or had I merely gotten older?

A call to the office of C.R. Nicolaysen, Emory registrar, revealed that times had indeed changed.

The woman in the registrar's office told me that, until recently, all grades were sent by the University to the parents of all undergraduates, unless a student of legal age (now 18) requested

Let's Talk It Over:

Grand Alphas Look Forward, Back

It is fitting in this year of celebration that our living past Grand Alphas share their views with us on the state of the fraternity, both past and present, and also recall for us some of the trials and rewards of their years as leaders of our fraternity.

Some of the modern history of Chi Phi will thus, be captured in their writing, and also some of their philosophy and how it influenced the direction of Chi Phi since 1939 when the Chronicles of Chi Phi the last written history, were published.

Appearing in this issue are articles by Grand Alphas Turman, Thomas and Jeckell. Appearing in the next issue of the Chakett there will be articles by Brothers Dorsey, Gladfelter and Dockery.

Congress to See Chi Phi Sound Film Documentary

The inaugural showing of a sound film strip depicting Chi Phi's progress and history will be held at the Congress Banquet, Saturday, August 3rd in Asheville.

The audio and visual material is being prepared by Robert Emerson, Rho Iota Kappa '72. Brother Emerson is a photographer for the Providence, R.I., Journal.

Brother Walter Cronkite, Nu '37, CBS Newscaster, will do the narration. Other alumni voices appearing in the documentary are: Dr. James Z. Appel, Zeta

'28, former Grand Epsilon; Pollard Turman, Gamma '34, former Grand Alpha; and Carl J. Gladfelter, Alpha-Tau '33, former Grand Alpha.

Following Congress, copies of the film strip will be available, at no cost, to chapters, alumni clubs and associations. Chapters will find it a very useful tool in their rushing and pledge education programs.

The funds for the film strip were contributed by alumni who gave to the 150th Anniversary Club.

Chi Phi: Truly My Warmest Interest Outside Family

by W. W. Jeckell
Grand Alpha 1969-1973

*Summer's heat and winter's cold,
The Seasons pass, the years may roll,
But time and change will surely show,
How firm our friendship, Ohio.*

My O.S.U. alma mater song so reflects my affection for Chi Phi that I repeat part of its words above. Since that October day in 1931 when I was initiated in Columbus, Ohio, into our great fraternity — the oldest Greek social in the U.S.A. — I have been rewarded many times over through my friendships and contacts with Brothers throughout the country, both grads and undergrads.

I have been asked many times by people both inside and outside the fraternity why I devoted so much time to Chi Phi over the past 25 years, and how I found the time to do it. I truly feel this association has kept me younger than my age (now 62), and has helped me maintain a sound vision and course in life.

I will never regret the time I have given Chi Phi — truly my warmest interest in life outside of my family. I know many brothers have not had exactly that same feeling, but I know all of you reflect on your happy association with Chi Phi during your college days.

August of 1969 will always be remembered as a great occasion in my life, as Chi Phi brothers decided I should be their Grand Alpha for the next two years (renewed again in 1971 for two more years).

Brother Joe Dockery, whose capable steps I followed in office, and myself, may have, in our eight years in office, gone through the toughest period that the fraternity has ever weathered, except possibly during war times which were another matter.

Questions of: "What does the National do for us?"

"Why shouldn't we go local?"

"Who says marijuana smoking is harmful?"

"Why can't we sell beer in our coke machines?"

"Why can't you send us a check to meet our mortgage payments?"

These and others like them greeted us regularly.

I'll have to admit, too, that the "hair deal" bothered me for a long time until I got used to it. The financial problems of many chapters with their empty beds constantly had our attention.

It is so rewarding now to see Chi Phi again rising and prospering in the Greek world. We owe much to former Grand Alpha, Carl Gladfelter, whose patience and loyalty during those trying times kept Chi Phi on an even daily course.

It is with regret that a former Grand Alpha, John Oliver, will not be present to see us reach our 150th milestone. He was among the greatest of Chi Phis. I fondly remember my trip to California and Oregon in the early 60's with him when that fine new house at U.S.C. was dedicated, a result of Morey Thomas' initiative, another great Chi Phi and former Grand Alpha.

As I enjoy the grand breezes of Hawaii and write this little note, I am not in a position to refer to my files. However, I believe I had the pleasure of participating in the chartering of 10 chapters or more which made for a very healthy expansion and covered us well for those chapters that failed us. I have been in attendance at the last 14 Congresses and have enjoyed every minute of them.

We can never forget Judge Rosser, whom Carl succeeded in 1960, for his great interest and efforts in Chi Phi. He remained concerned with our future until his dying days.

We should all be proud to be members of Chi Phi, knowing that its history is as remarkable as any in the fraternity field. We have been so fortunate to have truly dedicated brothers on our Grand Council who, through our 150 years, guided us through six wars, several depressions, campus riots over Viet Nam, chapter revolts and factional disputes, chapter financial crises, and many other problems.

I hope to join with the five other living Grand Alphas in greeting many of you at Asheville on July 31. We should all make a real effort to attend this 150th Anniversary of Chi Phi with our families present. The success of this great event depends on your attendance. You will never have such a chance again to meet so many Chi Phi Brothers.

Most Chi Phis Feel Their Lives Have Been Enhanced

Grand Alphas Tell Chi Phi Feelings

during our undergraduate days and to the institution of higher learning we attended. As one looks back in retrospect, I am confident that the overwhelming majority of men who have signed their name on our initiation register feel their life has been enhanced by this most personal experience and association.

Our fraternity brotherhood is essentially an undergraduate experience. The alumni members who serve at the chapter, regional and national levels devote their time and energies for one purpose — to provide undergraduates a fraternity experience that was, and is, most meaningful and important to them.

Some of us were fortunate enough to have had an opportunity to serve the fraternity at the national level and our lives and Chi Phi experience has been enriched through this personal association with alumni and undergraduate Chi Phi members from every section of the United States.

As Chi Phis, we have but one common denominator and it is the basis of every fraternity segment — the pure, simple and unadulterated reason for our personal involvement, that fellowship we choose to call Brotherhood.

It has many definitions and means different things to each of us. It is over-used, oversimplified, overworked and most of all, too often overlooked, in our approach to daily problems but it is a basic commitment we offer to those we ask to join our order — to like, trust and believe in our fellow man.

It is the ability not necessarily to agree but to listen and consider others' points of view and allow all to hold their true, personal beliefs that differ from yours — and to sometimes subject one's personal desires to the sense of the majority for the good of the whole.

Chi Phi chapters, individually and collectively, as a national entity, must be responsible for a positive contribution to the educational functions within the University Community and are under an obligation to promote the personal development of their members — intellectual, moral, physical and social.

For many years, our fraternity took refuge in our exclusiveness to the extent we shunned expansion at a time most other social fraternities were aggressively establishing chapters in every type of four-year institution and every section of this nation.

Until after World War II, Chi Phi was in reality a loose federation of individual chapters which looked to their own chapter alumni group for guidance and support and with negligible National cognizance of their problems. During the past 20 years, great emphasis has been placed by our National leadership toward a reasonable expansion of the fraternity and to provide more services and assistance to each of our chapters. In 1975, as we celebrate 150 years, we are a vibrant, forward moving fraternity.

To be large in terms of number of chapters and members does not in itself insure a fraternity of greatness or quality. Being old does not insure greatness nor even exclusiveness but it does show stability and a strength for survival which must be the springboard for a successful future.

As a fraternity, we exist and continue to flourish despite our vocal detractors and the distractions of the current academic environment because we can offer the young man something he cannot elsewhere find in the same degree in his undergraduate life, a rich, warm and meaningful association which will endure throughout one's lifetime.

The continued strength of our fraternity is completely dependent upon the number and type of men our chapters invite into our membership. The pride we share in the reputation and meaning of the words "Chi Phi" is at any given time only as good as the sum of each of our chapters.

Our challenge for the future is to continue to properly blend into the changing atmosphere of fraternity and University life today and tomorrow, the traditional brotherhood which has perpetuated Chi Phi during the past 150 years of our glorious history.

After World War II There was Rebuilding

by J. Pollard Turman
Grand Alpha, 1947-49

With the passage of time, most of us have difficulty in recalling the major adjustments required in the United States at the conclusion of World War II.

The conversion from a military economy to a peacetime economy was abrupt and dramatic. No phase of the economy was more severely affected than the educational institutions. The social fraternities, being a part of education, came in for their share of the problems and obstacles that were prevailing at that time.

Most of the fraternities had ceased to operate during the war years and were, in effect, beginning again during the late 1940's. Added to the complex situation was the fact that the student bodies were composed of war veterans who had matured beyond their years because of their service in the military, and the younger high school graduates. There

Thanks, 150th Club Members, for Gifts

Chi Phis everywhere are deeply indebted to the very loyal group of alumni who gave $150 or more to finance special 150th Anniversary projects.

Some of the programs made possible by the funds raised so far are reported elsewhere in this issue. The Club was first announced at the start of 1974 with the alumni dues notices, so contributions have been coming in over an 18-month period.

The Council wishes to take this opportunity to thank all of the Brothers who have contributed for their most generous support.

History and Tradition are sometimes down-graded in America, but they remain strong forces in the thinking of the men of Chi Phi's active chapters, as well as in the minds of those alumni of earlier vintage whose rush pamphlets stressed "Four Years or Forty."

was a wide gap in attitudes and points of view.

Under the administration of the Grand Alpha, Hugh M. Dorsey, Jr., considerable progress was made by our fraternity in reopening the chapters. Brother Dorsey and National Director Luther Z. Rosser spent many days traveling from chapter to chapter consulting with the brothers about the history and traditions of the fraternity and helping them to solve the ever-present financial problems.

During the years 1948 and 1949, most of the chapters had been reopened but the task of redeveloping the "old Chi Phi spirit" had not been completed. One approach employed by the Council was the emphasis on the ritual. Obviously the unwritten law must be learned from oral instruction. This required considerably more time on the part of the national officers as well as the National Director.

It was recognized that the spirit of friendship and brotherhood could best be generated by concentration upon the ritual of the fraternity. Fortunately for Chi Phi, our ritual is meaningful and beautifully expressed. Considerable progress was made in bringing together the younger men of the chapters with the World War II veterans by the necessity of learning together the unwritten law of the fraternity.

Another development of significance was the decision on the part of the Council to revise the songbook. A noted music authority, Sigmund Spaeth, was commissioned for this project, and the finished product was warmly welcomed by the chapters.

Dean Rusk Faces 'Abundant' Questions from Lehigh Brothers

Extracted from the National Observer, April 12, 1975

When Dean Rusk stopped by Lehigh University's Chi Phi Fraternity one day last week, the brothers were ready for him. Their Tudor mansion was spotless, their bar well-stocked, and their questions abundant.

One question came from Larry Jacobs, Psi '77, an engineering student who was still a pre-schooler when Rusk became the nation's 54th Secretary of State a decade and a half ago. Jacobs, a clean-cut sophomore wearing a brown suede sports jacket and pants that looked like a quilt, wanted to know what John Kennedy's attitude was on Vietnam. People say Johnson started the war, or escalated it, but wasn't it Kennedy's policy that led to the war?

Rusk, munching on a pretzel, listens intently, then his voice booms. "Neither one of them started the war and neither one of them escalated it. Ho Chi Minh started it, and Ho Chi Minh escalated it." Then a pause and a smile. "Read Kennedy's inaugural address to see what his attitude was." . . .

Remote and Academic

But at the Chi Phi house, where young men with shoulder-length hair wear three-piece suits, these events don't generate the emotion they once did in such places. The draft is over, and while students take a serious interest in developments in Vietnam, those developments seem remote and academic.

Lehigh, whose dual pride is its wrestling team and school of engineering, never was at the vanguard of the student movement. But even here, university officials say, the atmosphere has changed dramatically since the days when the Vietnam War was fought by Americans. When two students engaged Rusk in a lively debate on the Chi Phi veranda, their tone was respectful, devoid of the invective so familiar on the nation's campuses a few years ago . . .

The New Era

What the new era shouldn't be, he says, is a return to the isolationism of the 1920's and '30's, which he thinks would be "suicidal. It doesn't do much good to reject the mistakes of your fathers, only to embrace the mistakes of your grandfathers. Each generation has to find its own answer, but you better find it!"

Alpha-Chi Again Granted Full Fraternity Status

The Alpha-Chi Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan University has been formally recognized by University officials as a full-fledged Fraternity. Recognition was granted May 7, 1975 by Dean Studer, Dean for Student Affairs, in a letter sent to Mark Jerome, Alpha, with a copy to the Council.

The re-colonization effort began in September 1973 and gained momentum. Steve Lackey, then a freshman from Delaware, Ohio, was pledged at that time and now the total membership exceeds 35.

The affairs of the Alpha-Chi Alumni Association were handled by Robert T. Bauer, A-X '62, Wyford D. Jones, A-X '34, Glenn Kunze, A-X '49, and John Brown, A-X '50. They continue to give of their time and energies to insure the continued success of the undergraduate chapter.

After a five year lapse, the "Oaks" at 216 North Franklin Street will once again be filled exclusively with Chi Phis. Why not make a trip to Delaware, meet the men and rekindle old memories? The doors will be open wide in September with the beginning of the Fall term.

House Mothers Are Returning?

Two recent letters from chapters 3,000 miles apart once again bear out the adage that all good things return another day.

Grant Imper, Alpha of the Oregon State chapter states: "We voted on the issue of whether to have a housemother or a grad student from a Chi Phi chapter (serve as resident counselor). The house voted for the housemother."

In a letter to the Florida Chi Phi Association, Michael B. Stevens, Delta, of the University of Florida chapter said:

"At our last chapter meeting a resolution supporting the return of a Housemother to Theta Delta was approved. The chapter realizes that in order for this to be accomplished the Alumni Association will have to play a major role. There are many obstacles to be dealt with, i.e. an apartment for her.

"To be quite honest, since Mom Langdon left — the chapter has been in a downward slide. The chapter recognizes that the benefits of the 'right' Housemother far outweigh the costs."

The two chapters are not required to have a housemother (Oregon is required to have either a grad student or a Housemother) by the respective Universities. The change in attitude and the recognition of the value of a resident Housemother as contrasted with the attitudes expressed in chapter houses in the late '60's on the matter is very definitely a reversal. Whether the tide will grow to full swell is a matter of conjecture.

Alpha-Pi Chapter at Iowa State Disbands

The Alpha-Pi Chapter at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa, has disbanded after seven years of continuous operation.

The chapter had been plagued with low manpower resulting from several

More $150 Gifts Needed

One of our most famed alumni, Walter Cronkite of Nu Chapter, University of Texas, has narrated a 15-minute film strip, copies of which will be widely distributed.

Each of Chi Phi's chapters has received an aluminum plaque commemorating the Sesquicentennial.

These and other special projects designed to make the Sesquicentennial of Chi Phi more memorable have been made possible by the donations of nearly 100 alumni whose names are listed elsewhere in this issue.

More donations are needed, reports National Director Carl J. Gladfelter. For example, an illustrated historical issue of The Chakett, printed in a form more durable than the newsprint of most issues, has had to be delayed until more $150 gifts have been received. 50 or so such gifts will be needed to finance it properly.

Send your contributions to the national office, and become a member of the "150th Club" yourself!

unsuccessful attempts to run effective rush programs.

Ron McAtee, Chi Phi Assistant National Director, met with the chapter in April and discussed their future existence. After lengthy discussions with Jack Butler, A-Pi '70, Chapter Advisor, and Paul Miller, A-Pi '70, President, Alpha-Pi Alumni Association, it was decided to suspend chapter operations for a period of two to three years and then attempt a re-colonization effort.

The failure of Council Office and the Alumni Association to provide adequate housing in order to compete with the larger, well-established national fraternities on campus led to its demise.

McAtee also met with Allen J. Peterson, Greek Affairs Advisor for Iowa State, and he recommended that the Council Office suspend operations of Alpha-Pi.

Central Ohio To Have Sesqui Dinner

Co-Chairmen John Moore, Jr., I'35 and Lee Wears, I'35, have announced that a dinner will be held on Saturday evening, Sept. 20, at the Arlington Arms Motel, 1335 Dublin Road, Columbus, O., to commemorate Chi Phi's 150th anniversary.

Tentative plans call for a brunch at the Iota Chapter House Saturday morning before the Penn State football game, with the dinner that evening. On Sunday morning the brothers will be asked to gather for ritual and fellowship. Details of the events will follow. 30 rooms have been reserved in the Arlington Arms—the location of the dinner — for out-of-town brothers.

Start making your plans for that weekend. Those ordering single game football tickets should request the Penn State game on Sept. 20. For further information, write to Dan Dozer, I'65, 60 N. Ardmore, Columbus, O. 43209.

Celebrate 150th!

Come to Chi Phi's "150th" Congress if you can — but celebrate the sesquicentennial somehow. How about a party in your home city?

The Parents Don't Get the Grades

in writing that they be sent to him.

The grades of graduate and professional students — most of whom are over 21 — were sent to those students. That was still logical in the old sense, since the parents of most undergraduates still pay most of the expenses by the students. Many graduate students, on the other hand, pay much of their own expenses, partly by working, or through loans and grants.

But now, the question of who sees a student's grades first has lost the neat, logical answer.

Rights and Privacy Act

Because of a new federal law — the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 — all students in Emory University (and presumably in many other institutions) now receive their own grades, unless the student requests in writing that his parents also receive a copy.

Depending on the internal habits of each individual family, a student may have no obligation at all to let his family know how he's doing at school.

Student Files Protected

There is more to the recently-passed law than who sees grades and who doesn't.

At the heart of the law are provisions prohibiting universities from releasing any information in any student's file unless that student authorizes it and other provisions permitting a student to inspect any non-confidential material in his file.

The releasing of grades (even to parents) is therefore prohibited. It's peculiar that what began as an attempt to protect the privacy of family information has resulted in confusion about whether parents can be kept up to date about the academic progress of their offspring.

Even more confusing to registrars and other institutional officials is the lack of guidelines as to what is covered by the law and what isn't.

Emory's registrar, Mr. Nicolaysen, was quoted recently as saying, "This is a poor piece of legislation, though. There are several loopholes left unclear, and it's just an ambiguous law. Normally the secretary of HEW would put out interpretive remarks, but he hasn't yet, and if he does it may be as late as spring of 1975. We are assuming (as are most institutions) that material predating the date of passage (August 21) which was gathered in confidence will remain that way."

Most seriously, the law seems to say that students will have access to letters from former professors whom they ask to recommend them for admission to Emory and other schools.

According to Mr. Nicolaysen, "If we cannot solicit letters and evaluations under the cloak of confidence, it is going to have an effect on the students' chances for a lot of things. On the other hand, it has also caused the University to stop and look at past procedures. The student has a right to know what is being kept on him and to what means it is being used."

But Recommendations Endangered!

Despite the confusion and chagrin caused by the new law, it may be that its provisions will insure that institutions — and students — keep up with reality and changing attitudes.

There was a time when most university students were under 25 — when college students were mostly minors. In those days, it may have been proper for universities to act in loco parentis and for parents to insist they constantly be abreast of the progress of their sons and daughters.

Now, however, the large majority of university students are legal adults and are probably as interested in their own progress as are their parents.

In addition, more and more university students are in their 30s, 40s, and even 50s. Certainly these students deserve for the institution to treat them as responsible adults and with complete dignity.

I probably won't be as taken aback next year to get my own grades as I was this Christmas, but I'll bear in mind that times — and laws — have changed.

Chronicles of Chi Phi

This is the concluding installment of the Chronicles of Chi Phi, which reported the fraternity's history to the mid-30s.

Brother Rudd's second term as Grand Alpha was a continuance of the activity of the preceding two years. The Congress of 1924 having approved the petition from the University of Washington, arrangements were made for the installation. The Grand Alpha as a high official of the Pennsylvania Railroad had the use of officer's car No. 8383 for the trips necessary for the installation of three chapters of the four that were established during his term. As already noted, Alpha Delta was established on the ninth and tenth of May, 1924. A full account of the ceremonies from the pen of the Grand Beta, Brother Harry N. Bassler, appears in the Chakett for June. The Grand Chapter was formally called into being at State College with the Grand Alpha, Brother Rudd; the Grand Beta, Brother Bassler; Acting Grand Gamma, Brother Sparks; the Grand Delta, Brother Kelley; the Acting Grand Zeta, Brother Fred Barry; and the Grand Epsilon, Brother Appel. Twenty-six undergraduates, fifty-eight alumni and four members of the faculty were duly initiated to form the new chapter. Among the older Chi Phis present were Brothers "Billy" Morris, W. B. Smith, G. A. Smith and Fred Barry from Xi, Thomas Lynn from Omicron, and Paul Chalfant of Alpha-Chi. The Grand Officers and their ladies were quartered in the college guest house on the North Campus and everything was done to make their stay pleasant. Forty-five Chi Phis from eleven different chapters were registered during the exercises.

During the following October the chapters at North Carolina and Vanderbilt were reorganized. A full account written by the Grand Alpha appears in the Chakett for January, 1925. It had long been felt that North Carolina was the only institution among the three at which the different orders of Chi Phi had been founded that had possibilities which might make a reorganization possible. In 1922, Brother Sparks, as Chapter Visitor, went to Chapel Hill, and his attention was directed by the University authorities to the Gamma Phi local. His work was carried on by Brothers P. K. Schuyler of Mu and Phi, Zone Committeeman; S. M. Alexander of Rho, Freshman Coach; and C. B. Millican of Gamma, instructor of English at the University. The Gamma Phi had been founded by a group of seven men who were in attendance as delegates at the Southern Intercollegiate Blue Ridge Conference in June, 1922, who desired to organize a fraternity which would stand out for high scholarship, well rounded college development and wholesome social intercourse. After proper tutelage and investigation the petition was forthcoming which was approved by Council and the chapters. Meanwhile at Nashville in Zone V other developments were taking place. The Congress at Atlanta in 1921 had referred Vanderbilt to Brother John A. Hynds of old Pi, the Zone Chairman. Chi Phi had already been twice represented in Nashville; first by the Epsilon Chapter of the Southern Order which was organized from Chapel Hill at the Nashville Military Institute in 1860 but disbanded when all its members entered the army, and again during the expansion period of the eighties when the Pi Chapter was founded at Vanderbilt in 1883. That chapter flourished for fifteen years. When Brother Hynds visited Vanderbilt, he found a local, the Phi Alpha Pi, organized in 1922 by five upper classmen, already predisposed towards Chi Phi by the friendship existing between one of its leaders and Brother John A. Wheeler '90 of the old Pi Chapter. Encouraged by the interest of local alumni, a petition was presented in 1923 and finally approved.

The Grand Alpha decided that these two old chapters should be re-established on one trip. Accordingly the Pennsylvania Official Car 8383 was requisitioned and the official party consisting of Brothers Rudd, Appel, W. T. Morris and W. B. Smith of Xi left Philadelphia on the evening of October 12. The itinerary for the two thousand twenty-six mile trip was well worked out and went through without a hitch. The Grand Delta, Brother Kelley, who had mistaken his train, joined us at Wilmington and relieved our anxiety over his supposed loss. Our first stop was at Charlottesville where we were entertained by the brothers of Alpha, then on to Durham where we parked overnight while Matt Kelley drove over to Chapel Hill with Brothers Schuyler and Alexander to see that everything was ready for the installation, while the rest of the party inspected Duke University by moonlight. In the morning the Grand Chapter was called into being at the chapter house at Chapel Hill with Brother Morris acting as Grand Beta, Brother Smith as Grand Gamma and Brother C. P. Cullen as Grand Zeta. In the presence of representatives from fourteen chapters, including several from Mu (Trinity), twenty-two members of the new chapter were initiated, the lodge room dedicated and the new officers installed and the chapter formally named Alpha-Alpha. Early in the exercises Brother Tom Connolly arrived and we tried to take him along to Nashville but he disappeared at Asheville. In the evening there was the usual installation banquet at which several members of the faculty were present as guests.

In the morning we left Durham for Asheville where we were scheduled to lay overnight. The ride over the Cumberlands was enlivened by the Grand Alpha's fears that the "Pusher" would come clean through 8383 but we arrived safely in Nashville to be welcomed by a delegation headed by Professor Charles S. Brown, Omicron 1883, who had assisted at the initiation of the Grand Alpha forty-one years before. On the morning of the seventeenth the Grand Chapter was again called into being with Brother J. A. Hynds acting as Grand Gamma and Brother C. S. Cole as Grand Zeta. Again twenty-two men were initiated and with proper ceremonies the new chapter of Alpha-Pi was inaugurated. At the installation and the following banquet representatives from a dozen chapters were present including "Dad" Harper who had traveled all the way from Corvallis, Oregon, to see his old chapter reorganized and also to say a few words in favor of the group he had been tutoring at the Oregon Agricultural College for some years.

On May 14, 1925, official car 8383 was again requisitioned, this time for a trip to the coast. The petition from the Delta Sigma local at the University of Washington had been approved by the chapters and the trip was arranged to take care of the installation. The party leaving Philadelphia consisted of the Grand Alpha and the Grand Epsilon and their wives. At Chicago the party was completed by the addition of Billy Morris and Dusty Craft and from the "Log" of the car as it appeared in the Chakett the trip across the continent was a triumphal procession. At each stop we were greeted by delegations of the local Chi Phis, as well as members of '86 Sheff, and representative engineers of the roads over which we traveled. After short stops at Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, we reached Chicago on time at seven thirty A. M. on the fifteenth, where we were met by Ross McKinstry, Xi '18, president of the Chicago Club, and Phil Schieswohl, Sigma '15, who delivered Billy Morris and Dusty Craft to us. At La Crosse, Wis., "Harry" Gund and "Pete" Gordon, both of Xi, with Mrs. Gordon gave us their good wishes. Our schedule called for a full day at Minneapolis where we were met by a delegation of the Chi Delta Xi local, petitioning under the tutelage of Brother Spaulding Howe of Omicron, and a committee representing the local Chi Phi Club, consisting of Brothers Patterson of Iota, Upgren of Kappa and Williams of Omicron. After a full morning visiting the University grounds and meeting President Coffman, Dean Nicholson and President Holman of the Interfraternity Council we were taken through the great Federal Reserve Bank by Brother J. R. Mitchell, Omicron '89, who was its Governor. At noon we lunched at the Chi Delta Xi house and in the evening attended a banquet at the Nicollet Hotel given by the Chi Phi Club. Of course, the main subject of conversation was the pending petition from Minnesota and we were all impressed by the showing the local made under the advice of Brother Howe. We left Minneapolis on Sunday morning, crossing the border into Canada at four A. M. on the eighteenth. Shortly after breakfast we held the only Council meeting ever recorded on foreign soil.

Our itinerary took us to Moose Jaw where our car was transferred to the Canadian Pacific, and then on to Banff where we stopped for the day in order to take the drive to Lake Louise. On the next morning we started on our long ride through the Canadian Rockies, finally arriving at Vancouver. On the morning of the twenty-second we reached Seattle and were met by the local alumni and representatives of the Delta Sigma local headed by Brother Walter H. Barthel of Lambda. The Grand Chapter was called into being in the University Masonic Hall with the Grand Alpha presiding, Brother E. J. Harper of Alpha-Pi acting as Grand Beta, D. D. Craft as Grand Gamma, W. A. Worden '69 of Upsilon as Grand Delta, T. B. Appel as Grand Epsilon and W. T. Morris of Xi as Grand Zeta. During the day and evening forty-four men were initiated and on the next morning eleven more. The officers of the new Beta Delta Chapter were then installed and the charter presented to them. In the evening there was the usual banquet at the new Olympic Hotel with eighty-five Chi Phis present and Brother Schaller of Beta Delta acting as Toastmaster.

Leaving the next day for Portland, we were met at that city by the Portland Chi Phis, taken for a morning on the beautiful Columbia River Drive to Multnomah Falls and then to a luncheon at the University Club, where we met a number of local alumni and discussed the question of Oregon as a field for Chi Phi activity. Afterwards the officers took the ninety mile drive to Corvallis to meet the Tau Delta local, the proteges of "Dad" Harper, and we found there a chapter organization in splendid shape, well coached in Chi Phi traditions, and very anxious to have their petition granted. While at Corvallis we received a wire asking us to visit a local at the University of Oregon but our schedule would not allow it, so we were off to San Francisco. There we got in touch with Brother Howard Fletcher, formerly General Secretary of the Fraternity, and found a full program arranged for us. An informal luncheon at the University Club was followed by a Chi Phi Club of San Francisco dinner at the Bohemian Club and the regular weekly luncheon of the Club on the next day. That lunch was particularly interesting to us on account of the presence of Rear Admiral Eustace Barron Rogers, Psi '76 and Lambda '78. Brother Rogers, who had been the first Grand Zeta of the Fraternity in 1879 and had been one of the founders of Lambda, gave us an account of his meeting with Brother Ostrander of Xi on a street car and the events following which led to the petition for a charter. He also gave us some very interesting reminiscences of the early days and the men who had been active in the Fraternity. Of course, we visited the University and were very hospitably received at the Lambda Chapter House. At these meetings the general sentiment of the local men seemed to be overwhelmingly in favor of the development of more chapters on the Coast and our attention was especially directed to the two institutions at Los Angeles.

After the festivities were over in San Francisco, our party divided, Car 8383 carrying the main party, being attached to the rear of the overland fast mail for the East, while Mrs. Appel and myself went down to Los Angeles and back home by the way of the Grand Canyon. I was commissioned to meet the Los Angeles Chi Phis and investigate the situation at the University of Southern California and the U.C.L.A., but unfortunately when I arrived at Los Angeles I found the city in the hands of the Shriners and any investigation out of the question, but I was able to contact Brothers Lawyer and Reed and get first-hand information. The situation was left entirely in the hands of the local alumni and the Lambda Chapter. Taking it all in all, the trip was a success from the start to finish. Brother Rudd, with his flair for details, kept a log of the trip and announced that we had personally met no less than one hundred and thirty alumni and he had the name of every one. Incidentally, during the trip a new official position was created, namely that of "Keeper of the Grand Officers" and Brother "Billy" Morris was properly installed in view of his faithful service.

The Congress for 1925 met in New York on December 28, with R. C. Post as Alpha. There were delegates from all chapters, fifteen chapter alumni, and six chartered alumni associations. The message of Council showed that Beta Delta Chapter had been established at the University of Washington; that the right to petition had been granted to Chi Delta Xi at Minnesota; that seven colleges were under consideration where locals desired to petition, none, however, receiving serious attention except Tau Delta at Oregon State College; and that six locals applying had been refused. The minutes accompanying the message were unusually full of interesting routine items of business referring to the Endowment Fund, the condition of the chapters, the work of the Zone Committees, et cetera. Charters had been granted to San Francisco and Savannah. During the year the Grand Zeta had died, and the Grand Alpha submitted a report from that office covering the year, calling attention not only to Brother Becht's death but also noted the deaths of three Past Grand Alphas, Asher Anderson, Arthur Graham Thompson, and Boudinot Keith. He also gave a full account of the meeting of the Interfraternity Conference and, from the knowledge gained at that meeting that our dues were lower than the average and in view of the increased expenditures of administration as well as the deficit incurred in the publication of the Memorial Volume, recommended an amendment to the laws doubling the initiation and per capita taxes, which was carried, and they were fixed at our present figures. He closed his report with his resignation of the Office of Grand Alpha. This was entirely unexpected, even the members of his Council having no forewarning of his intention, but, since he had undertaken certain duties for his Alma Mater, he felt compelled to give up his fraternity work. The Congress accepted his resignation with keen regret and paid fitting tribute to his services in the minutes.

Brother Lyall, acting for Amasa Walker, submitted the report of the Committee on the Method of Granting Charters, prescribing methods of investigation as well as forms covering the information required from the petitioning organization. This report brought forth considerable discussion but was finally adopted with little change. It really improved and systemized the methods recommended in the Craft report which originated the Zone Committees and clarified certain obscure questions. The design for the Sparks Medal was approved, it to be a replica of the souvenir given at the Congress dinner held in Lancaster in 1904.

Harold S. Fuller, Chi, was unanimously elected as Grand Alpha to serve for the unexpired term. Following the death of Dr. Becht, Percival Sax became Grand Zeta. Leon Parker, Zeta, succeeded Brother Craft as Grand Gamma, and Ross Hoffman, Rho, took Brother Sparks' place as editor of the Chakett.

Among the names of brothers in whose memory the annual Memorial Service was held were those of the following Past Grand Officers: Thomas Goulson Watkins, Alpha '71; Asher Anderson, Delta '70; Arthur Graham Thompson, Omicron '82; John George Becht, Rho '90; and Boudinot Keith, Psi '80, as well as that of George Bosworth Churchill, Phi '89. Brother Watkins was an attorney in Petersburg, Virginia, having been born there June 17, 1852. He was initiated into Alpha Chapter in 1871, served as Secretary of the Committee of Union between the Northern and Southern Orders and as Grand Delta of the Fraternity, 1875 and 1876. He died in Petersburg, March 14, 1918. Brother Anderson was a minister in the Reformed Church of America, having been born in Flatlands, L. I., N. Y., July 23, 1846. He received his A.B. and A.M. from Rutgers, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa and his B.D. from the New Brunswick Theological Seminary. He was a charter member of the Delta Chapter, being initiated March 19, 1867, and became Grand Alpha for the term 1870-71, during which time he installed the Sigma Chapter at Wofford and his eloquent address on that occasion is still preserved in the archives. Both these brothers rendered yeoman service to the Fraternity in its early days. I have already referred to the lives of both Brothers Thompson, Grand Alpha, 1907-1909, and Keith, Grand Alpha, 1887-91 and 1912-13. Keith was undoubtedly one of the men who wielded the greatest influence on the development of our Fraternity. Brother John George Becht of Rho was born in Montoursville, Pennsylvania, July 17, 1865; he graduated from Lafayette in 1890 with the degree of B.S., afterwards receiving his M.S. in 1893 and his A.M. in 1896. Columbia gave him his Sc.D. and Bucknell and his Alma Mater each honored him with the LL.D. He devoted his life to education, steadily progressing from one position to another until he became State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania. When Brother Rudd formed his first Council he included Brother Becht as a member and he served as Grand Zeta until his death, April 26, 1925. Brother George Bosworth Churchill of Phi was another distinguished member of the Fraternity who died during the year. Brother Churchill was born in Worcester, Massachusetts, October 24, 1866, graduated from Amherst in 1889, became professor of English in the faculty of his own college and served as Congressman from Massachusetts.

The Chakett, during Brother Rudd's administration, was full of interesting articles. At first, Brother Sparks was the editor, but at his death Ross Hoffman, Rho, took charge of the magazine. Full accounts of the several Congresses and the dinners associated with them are given as well as sketches of the new and retiring officers. In the January issue for 1923 the address of Charles Fitch Hendryx is of great historical interest, while in the next number appears Holley Rudd's immortal address before the Engineers Club of Philadelphia on "The Law of Relativity." In the same number appears a sketch of Thomas Caphart, the Founder of the Southern Order, from the pen of Brother Ethan Allen Weaver.

ADMINISTRATION OF HAROLD SYLVESTER FULLER, CHI '12
1926 TO 1927

Brother Fuller took office after the January meeting of the Council in 1926 and served to the end of the Fraternity year, August 1, 1927. Brother Fuller was born in Lynn, Massachusetts, September 23, 1889, and graduated from Dartmouth with the class of 1912. He is a resident of Boston and at the time of his election as Grand Alpha was president of the Fuller Thurber Company dealing in mahogany and veneer. He had been a member of Zone Committee No. 1 from 1922 to 1923 and active in the interests of his chapter. Incidentally he was the youngest Grand Alpha elected by the Fraternity since the adoption of the constitution of 1886.

Brother Fuller continued the Council of Brother Rudd without change. The annual Congress was held in Buffalo, all the chapters being represented by delegates as well as nine chapter alumni associations and eight chartered associations. The alumni delegates had been elected originally by the active chapters but, under the reorganization plan, were selected by the chapter alumni associations.

The reports of the Council, Grand Alpha, and Zone Committees showed less general activity than in previous years. Two new applications for right to petition had been received from Carnegie Institute and the University of Florida, which were referred to the respective Zone Committees. Meanwhile the Zone Committees had in a measure cleared their dockets by refusing seven applications, holding over only those from Duke and Oregon Agricultural College. The petition from Chi Delta Xi at Minnesota was before the Congress for action, but Congress deferred action for a year. The Grand Alpha had personally visited twelve chapters, starting a custom which has been followed by his successors, and was able to report at first-hand the local conditions. Chapter advisers had been selected by nearly all the chapters, and the Council had appointed such officials where no local choice had been made. The perennial question of badges was still causing discussion, and the Council compromised by allowing the chapters to choose either the Tiffany or Auld pins. In several of the zones the custom of annual meetings had been started along lines followed in previous years by the conferences of the New England association and of Pennsylvania, and this move met the approbation of Congress. A report of a group insurance plan whereby the Fraternity would be benefited was presented, but the reference committee disapproved of the plan, and it was referred to the chapters for individual action. Apparently none of them took up the matter seriously. The idea had been adopted by several of the other fraternities and was in reality an indirect method of taxation. The report of the Grand Delta was very satisfactory in that the Fraternity was again able to balance its budget and, instead of the annual deficit, there was a small surplus. Congress added a regulation in regard to the award of the Sparks Medal to the effect that no medal be awarded to the candidate from any chapter unless his scholastic rating was above the university average, and several of the Zone Committees and chapter advisers were directed to investigate the condition of several chapters which were reported low in their scholastic standing. Under the order of business calling for the election of a Grand Alpha, the name of Alfred H. Hutchinson, Xi, was presented, and he was unanimously elected. His election terminated what might be called the Philadelphia régime, for although Brother Fuller was a resident of Boston, the headquarters of the Fraternity continued in Philadelphia.

The Chaketts for 1926-27 contain tributes to Boudinot Keith and George B. Churchill and also to Martin Luther Zweig, Beta (Muhlenberg) '77, who had been Grand Gamma in 1883-84. There is an interesting article on the Theta Chapter at Edinburgh from the pen of Peter M. Wilson, a member of that chapter, which is of historical importance. A fine likeness of Senator Overman accompanies a note of his reflection to the Senate for the fifth time. Tributes also appear to Richard Henry Lewis of the old Alpha Chapter at the University of North Carolina and to Dean Alfred Henry Lloyd, Alpha-Tau.

ADMINISTRATION OF ALFRED HENRY HUTCHINSON, XI '09

Brother Hutchinson was born in Chicago, November 25, 1886. He graduated from Cornell in 1909 with the degree of M.E. At college he was prominent in football and track. After graduating he entered business in Chicago, organizing and becoming president of the Continental Scale Corporation in 1919. He had a war record as First Lieutenant of Infantry at Camps Sheridan, Grant, and Upton. He was a charter member of the Chicago Chi Phi Club, its vice president in 1921, its president in 1922, and a member of the Board of Governors for five years, and from 1922 to 1925 was chairman of Zone Committee No. VII.

Naturally the administrative headquarters were moved to Chicago for the Chicago club was strongly organized, was in close touch with the Sigma Chapter at Illinois, and rallied at once to Brother Hutchinson's support in the new location of headquarters but, as years went on through his administration and that of Brother Craft, a certain amount of the spirit of "let George do it" developed, and interest dwindled just as it had before in New York and Philadelphia. In a fraternity such as ours a change of headquarters every eight or ten years will be found to have the same salutary effect as the holding of our annual Congresses in different parts of the country.

The Grand Alpha chose as his Council Marcus D. Munn, Omicron '81, as Grand Eta; Albert William Torbet, Kappa '12, as Grand Gamma; Charles Frederick Heyerman, Mu '98 and Xi '99, as Grand Delta, and Henry Whitman Kern, Psi '92, as Grand Zeta. During his second term, Philip G. Schiesswohl, Sigma '15, became Grand Zeta, succeeding Brother Kern after the latter's death. Brother Heyerman died in 1930, and Brother Schiesswohl became Grand Delta. Daniel Craft, Chi '10, came again into the Council as Grand Zeta. In 1931 Craft became Grand Delta; Schiesswohl became Executive Secretary; and Earle Hay Reynolds, Omicron, '09, assumed the duties of Grand Zeta.

Brother Hutchinson's administration of six years was one of continued progress in administration and in conservative expansion. Four new chapters were established at Minnesota, University of California at Los Angeles, Oregon State College, and Nebraska. The Educational Endowment Fund was established uniting the various funds already in existence and was properly chartered so as to give it more stability. The office of Executive Secretary was organized, and the loose ends of administration gathered together. The Zone System which had been very effective in the beginning became less valuable in its later years, owing chiefly to the difficulty in keeping the committeemen keyed up to the proper degree of enthusiasm, and was gradually superseded by the development of chapter advisers and the functions of the Executive Secretary. Faculty advisers became more common and acted in closer cooperation with the administration. With a larger annual income and the increased endowment, the Council was in a position to assist many of the chapters in a financial way, as well as also to aid a limited number of active members. The Chakett was distributed to all the living members, bringing them closer in touch with the Fraternity and aided in keeping up their interest. The Grand Alpha was a great traveler and personally visited all the chapters, while the Executive Secretary also did his share of chapter visitation. Considerable progress was made in solving the problem of acquiring a closer touch between the executive and the chapters, but the final solution has not yet been reached.

On April 20, 1928, Gamma Delta Chapter was established at the University of Minnesota. Chi Delta Xi had been under consideration for eight years. A committee of Chi Phis of the Twin Cities, under the chairmanship of Spaulding Howe, had been advising the petitioners, and finally the Congress of 1927 by unanimous vote granted the charter. The Grand Chapter was called into being by the Grand Alpha with Gibbs R. Allen of Kappa acting Grand Beta; William K. Walters of Kappa, acting Grand Gamma; Charles F. Heyerman, Grand Delta; Walter P. Ely of Kappa, acting Grand Epsilon; Emory M. Heuston of Kappa, acting Grand Zeta; and Marcus Munn, Grand Eta. On that and the following day twenty-six active and seventy-one of the alumni members of Chi Delta Xi were initiated and the new chapter received the name of Gamma Delta. One hundred and forty-four members of the Fraternity assembled for the inauguration banquet on the twenty-first when Brother Marcus Munn, Grand Eta, acted as toastmaster.

The Congress of 1930 approved unanimously petitions from the Chi Phi Colony at the University of California at Los Angeles and Tau Delta at Oregon State College, thereby authorizing the erection of Delta Delta and Epsilon Delta Chapters on March 24, at those institutions. Accordingly after all the preliminaries had been completed the Grand Alpha called the Grand Chapter into being first at Corvallis on March 24, and again at Los Angeles on the 28th. The officers of the Grand Chapter that instituted Delta Delta at Los Angeles were in addition to Grand Alpha Hutchinson, Milton W. Brown, Grand Beta; Albert W. Torbet, Grand Gamma; Philip G. Schiesswohl, Grand Delta; George Smith, Acting Grand Epsilon; Daniel D. Craft, Grand Zeta; and Marcus D. Munn, Grand Eta. At the installation of Epsilon Delta at Corvallis the same officers officiated with the exception that E. J. Harper of Alpha-Pi was acting Grand Epsilon. As has been recorded for some years the question of a chapter at the Southern Branch of the University of California had been under consideration and the Lambda Chapter had been authorized to initiate under dispensation suitable candidates from time to time. The Colony was organized on March 7, 1927, and was carefully advised by members of the Los Angeles Chi Phi Club through a committee of which Brother Lawyer of Lambda was chairman. Congress having acted favorably, the new chapter, Delta Delta, was established in the presence of all the Grand Officers except the Grand Epsilon, after the initiation of twenty men. After the establishment of the chapter, thirteen alumni members of Tau Delta were initiated under dispensation for Epsilon Delta, which had been founded four days before. At the banquet in the evening some eighty brothers celebrated the new chapter's advent including "Dad" Harper from Corvallis, who brought the good wishes of Epsilon Delta. William E. Tizard of Psi acted as toastmaster.

Tau Delta at Oregon State had been petitioning for ten years. The local came under the interest of E. J. Harper of the old Pi Chapter at Vanderbilt. They were thoroughly organized and schooled in the principles and traditions of Chi Phi and when the Grand Officers went to Seattle to found Beta Delta, they visited Corvallis and were much impressed not only with the petitioning local but the institution as well. The Grand Alpha and his companions reached Corvallis, and after seeing that all was in readiness, the initiations were started on the twenty-third of March, 1931, and twenty-six actives and ten alumni members were initiated. On the twenty-fourth, twenty-five more alumni were initiated and the officers of the new chapter were installed. The charter was presented at the banquet in the evening which was attended by nearly ninety Chi Phis, representing more than half the chapters of the Fraternity, Charles Pearson of Beta Delta acting as toastmaster.

On November 26, 1932, the Grand Chapter was called into being for the fourth time by Grand Alpha Hutchinson during his administration, this time at the University of Nebraska. The Grand Alpha had as his assistants in organizing the Grand Chapter, Milton W. Brown, Grand Beta; Philip G. Schiesswohl, Acting Grand Gamma; Daniel D. Craft, Grand Delta; Donald E. Roman of Pi, Acting Grand Epsilon; Donald F. Cuthbertson of Sigma, Acting Grand Zeta; and Marcus Munn, Grand Eta. The Alpha Theta Chi local at that institution had been organized May 9, 1895, and for thirty-seven years had held a prominent place on the campus. It had been under consideration by the Council and Zone Committees for some years until the Congress for 1931 authorized a petition, and the Congress of 1932 approved the issuance of a charter. At this time Alpha Theta Chi had twenty-seven actives and about three hundred alumni members. During the sessions of the Grand Chapter all the actives and ninety-four of the alumni were initiated, including six of the fifteen founders of 1895. At the installation banquet the officials of the University were represented as well as the other fraternities having chapters in the institution. The new chapter received the name of Zeta Delta. The history and background of Alpha Theta Chi gave assurance of a prosperous life for Zeta Delta. Certainly this was the strongest and best organized local ever chartered by the Fraternity.

The Congress for 1927 was held in Richmond, with "Billy" Morris again acting as Alpha. The Grand Alpha in his report and in the report of the Council suggested certain modifications in the rules for the Zone Committees which were approved. He also asked for the opinion of the delegates in regard to certain communications received from the University of South Carolina in regard to a possible petition to reestablish the old Tau Chapter which had disbanded on account of anti-fraternity laws. The necessity of a Traveling Secretary was stressed, and Congressional approval was given in case the proper man could be found. The report also announced the issuance of the Address List for 1927 as well as the revised Three Star Book. As usual, Brother Rudd, who had been for some years chairman of the delegation to the Interfraternity Conference, gave a full and interesting report. The Conference of Alumni Association Secretaries, which had been organized the year before, reported through Hal Fuller, the permanent chairman on the subject of insurance, but no action was taken, the Congress still being of the opinion that it was a subject for chapter action rather than one for the Fraternity as a whole. Under miscellaneous business a resolution offered by the Grand Zeta, Brother Kern, and seconded by Brother Rudd, was approved to the effect that the names given in the Unwritten Law for the several officers should be used in addressing them in chapter and Congress. The Council vetoed this as unconstitutional. Milwaukee was chosen for the place for the 1928 Congress and December 28-29 the dates.

At this Congress, Frank C. Sharp, Phi, acted as Alpha. All the chapters were represented as well as seven chapter alumni and four chartered alumni associations. At the opening of the Congress the Grand Alpha gave certain instructions to the Committee on the Unwritten Law, as well as to the chapter delegates in regard to the Unwritten Law and the initiation customs, particularly in reference to "Hell Week," which could well be repeated annually. In the message, comment was made on the growing inactivity of certain of the Zone Committees and an emphasis was made on the advisability of holding annual Zone Conferences. This was as far as our Fraternity ever went in the line of the division of certain of the administrative functions between the central executive and a provincial administration, though it was often discussed. With it was linked the idea of biennial Congresses, which likewise never got very far. It was stated that the petition from Corvallis was still in the hands of the Zone Committee; that a request had been made for an investigation of the University of California at Los Angeles and was awaiting endorsement from local alumni and the Lambda Chapter; that there was some activity at the University of Southern California; and that a preliminary investigation was warranted at the University of Missouri in case a formal petition should be presented. During the year Milton W. Brown of Alpha-Chi had been appointed Grand Beta and Traveling Secretary with special duties in connection with the increasing of the Memorial Endowment Fund, the limit of $50.00 having been removed. Brother Brown was born at Mt. Eaton, Ohio, in 1873, was initiated into the old Chi Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan in 1890, received the degree of B.S. from that institution in 1894, the degree of A.M. from Wooster College in 1895 and the degree of D.D. from Marysville. He graduated from the Lane Theological Seminary and became a Presbyterian minister. He had the experience of seventeen years on the lecture platform and during the war had charge of the entertainment and lecture program at Camp Pike and later the War Camp Service at Hudson Valley. In 1921 he became director of campaign for the building of Christian Clubs and had considerable experience as director of other campaigns for the raising of endowment funds for educational institutions and similar projects.

The Minnesota chapter had been placed on probation for low scholarship, and so Brother Brown was instructed to endeavor to better the situation. The Grand Gamma was instructed to secure periodical scholastic reports from the deans for our chapters. This later became one of the functions of the Central Office, and reports are received regularly from most of the institutions where we are represented. In his first report Brother Brown commented on the strong position occupied by the Fraternity in the distribution of its chapters and paid due tribute to an article in the Chakett of some years back, which has already been referred to, by Wyndham Stokes, under the title of "The Parting of the Ways" advocating the expansion of the Fraternity into Western state universities.

Under the actions of the Congress, the Grand Alpha-Elect became immediately a member of the Council, the chapter advisers were to be elected by the chapter alumni associations instead of by the chapter, and several minor changes were made in the laws. After reflecting Brother Hutchinson as Grand Alpha the Congress adjourned to meet in Boston, December 27, 1929.

In the list of deceased brothers whose memory was commemorated in the Memorial Service were the names of an unusual number of ex-Grand Officers as well as that of the Grand Zeta, Brother Kern. James Edward Dickey, Gamma '91, Grand Beta in 1921, a bishop of the Methodist Church, and an alumnus of the Gamma Chapter of the class of 1891, was born in Jeffersonville, Georgia, May 11, 1864. He received his A.B. from Emory, his D.D. from Kentucky Wesleyan, and his LL.D. from Emory in 1915. His life was spent in the Christian Ministry and in teaching. He occupied many prominent positions in the gift of his denomination and was recognized as one of its strongest men. From 1902 to 1915 he was president of his Alma Mater, declining to continue in that office longer. He was a trustee of both Emory and Wesleyan and died in Louisville, Kentucky, April 17, 1928.

Thomas Whipple Connally, Grand Zeta from 1903 to 1906, an alumnus of Gamma, and an affiliate of Eta and Omicron, died in Atlanta, December 30, 1927. "Tom" Connally was one of the most remarkable as well as most loyal members of our Fraternity. Coming from a strong Chi Phi family, he was initiated into the Gamma Chapter at Emory, September 28, 1898. He graduated from that institution with the degree of Ph.B. in 1902. Entering the University of Georgia, where he affiliated with Eta, he secured the degree of LL.B. in 1904. From there he went to Yale, becoming a member of Omicron and being awarded a similar degree in 1905. Returning to Atlanta he devoted his life to fraternity and civic affairs. He attended twelve consecutive Congresses, was the founder of the Eta, Gamma and Omega Trust Associations, modeled after the Omicron Trust, and was active in the building of the three chapter houses, one of which bears his name as a memorial. In addition to his editing of the Year Books during his term as Grand Zeta, he furnished much of the material for the Southern Chapters for the Registers of 1908 and 1915. During his active years he probably had a wider acquaintance throughout the Fraternity and was more loved than any other member. Through his influence and that of Brother Phinizy Calhoun and others of his Atlanta friends the recognition of the national ideal in the Fraternity was brought home to the chapters of the South.

George Merritt Ward, Grand Gamma 1912 to 1915, was an alumnus of Theta of the class of 1907. He was born in Rochester, New York, December, 1886. He received his M.E. from Rensselaer and became secretary and treasurer of Ward's Natural Science Establishment. He was a member of the Council in 1912 previous to his election as Grand Gamma. During the World War he entered the service as a private in the First New York Cavalry. Later he became a lieutenant of Infantry and had a year's service at the front. He died in Rochester, April 12, 1928. He was initiated into Theta Chapter, September 24, 1903.

Henry Ellis Sanderson, Lambda '79, was a member of the Grand Lodge under Grand Alpha Keith, 1887 to 1889. He was a prominent physician in Stockton, California, was born in Stockton, June 27, 1858, and initiated into Lambda, September 11, 1875. He died March 28, 1927.

William Torrey Morris, Xi '73, died in Geneva, New York, November 4, 1928. He was born at Rushville, New York, September 12, 1853. After graduating from Cornell he practiced law for twenty years, gradually drifting into the industrial world, and becoming an official in various gas and electric corporations. After his retirement he renewed his interest not only in his own chapter but the general Fraternity as well. He served as Alpha of several Congresses and as one of the party that with Grand Alpha Rudd officiated at the re-establishment of the chapters at North Carolina and Vanderbilt and the inauguration of new chapters at Penn State and Washington, and served as an acting Grand Officer of the Grand Chapter on these occasions. A new position was created for him whereby he became the "Keeper of the Grand Officers." Billy Morris and Tom Connally were close friends and the loss of both in the same year was a great one not only to the general Fraternity but also to the chapters in which they were especially interested. Brother Morris was one of the early members of the old Xi Chapter, having been initiated May 30, 1872. He was a classmate of Edgar A. Leyden who was called in the early days the "Missionary of Chi Phi," and who was responsible for the chapters at Wofford and Washington and Lee.

James Murray Shackford, Grand Gamma 1875 to 1876, was also an alumnus of Xi '76. He was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, February 18, 1853, initiated in November, 1872, and died in Scranton, Pennsylvania, September 14, 1928. He was a railroad man and had been associated in the engineering departments of several railroads.

Harry Whitman Kern, Psi '92, Grand Zeta. Brother Kern, while on a vacation trip to the West Indies, sustained fatal injuries in an automobile accident and died in the General Hospital at Bridgetown, Barbados. He was born in Chicago, September 3, 1868, and was educated at Lehigh and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After graduating he returned to Chicago and entered the real estate and insurance business. He had been initiated into Psi Chapter, October 23, 1888, and continued his interest in the Fraternity affairs, being active in the Chicago Club and a Zone Committeeman in 1922. In 1927 he became a member of Brother Hutchinson's Council as Grand Zeta.

The Congress for 1929 elected Arthur Lyall as Alpha. No important business was transacted, but an interesting innovation was tried in the appointment of a Committee on Miscellaneous Business which suggested several subjects for general discussion. This report resulted in the decision of the Congress that there should be no certificate of membership; that the transfer of badges by father to son or brother to brother be lawful; that the Chakett be sent to all the members of the Fraternity; and that in the future all alumni members of locals, which should receive charters from the Fraternity, should be required to become members of the Endowment Fund, on their initiation.

During the year two Past Grand Officers died: Ethan Allen Weaver, Rho, and Eustace Barron Rogers, Psi. Both were indefatigable in their researches into the history of the Fraternity, and our accurate knowledge of the early days rests mainly on the results of their work.

Brother Rogers was born in San Francisco, May 29, 1855, and was initiated into Psi Chapter as a member of the Class of 1876 on November 2, 1872. He completed his education at the University of California where he became one of the founders and charter member of Lambda Chapter. Entering the navy he attained the rank of Rear Admiral as Paymaster General and was retired in 1910. He became an authority on the early history of the Fraternity, particularly the Princeton and Hobart Orders. His collection of original records and documents having to do with the history of the Fraternity was most complete and valuable. As soon as the administration of the Fraternity made definite plans for the preservation and collection of its archives, the Rogers collection was turned over to it. In addition he was a frequent contributor to the early numbers of the Quarterly, always on historical subjects. He died in Philadelphia, March 5, 1929.

Brother Weaver's association with the Fraternity has been frequently described in these Chronicles. He also was a great collector of data relating to the Fraternity history. His work in connection with the editing of the 1890 Register was monumental and from the information gleaned from the questionnaires he sent out, he was able not only to create a reliable roll of membership, but also to record many facts about the early history which otherwise would have been entirely lost. His articles in the Quarterly on the Southern Order, particularly of the chapters which existed before the war, were based on his correspondence with the early members of that Order and form the only reliable record we have. The statements of these elder brothers were always carefully checked from the standpoint of a trained archaeologist before being accepted. Fortunately all his correspondence in connection with the Register is carefully preserved in the archives. After his election as an honorary member of Omicron Chapter he transferred to that chapter considerable part of his collection of Fraternity data. Brother Weaver was born at Jacobsburg, Pennsylvania, June 7, 1853, initiated into Rho Chapter as Founder and Charter Member, January 30, 1874. He spent his life in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, retiring a few years before his death when his eyesight completely failed, and died in Philadelphia, May 26, 1929.

The Congress for 1930 was held at the Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford, Pennsylvania, September 6, 1930. The idea of meeting in that old historic hotel was an experiment, and in a way it was most successful. While the registration was not as large as usual, the Congress was like one large family party. September was the end of the season, and the delegates were practically the only guests. Corle Smith, Zeta, the proprietor of the Fort Bedford Inn in nearby Bedford, handled the local arrangements while Fred Krebs, Xi, furnished most of the ladies for the dance. I again acted as Alpha of Congress. All the chapters were represented as well as five chapter and four chartered alumni associations. The message of Council indicated that the activity of the Zone Committees was waning, three zones only showing evidence of life. In his personal report the Grand Alpha called attention to three points wherein he felt that the administration of the Fraternity could be improved: First, the simplification and reorganization of the Zone System or the substitution of another plan to accomplish its purposes; second, the creation of the office of Executive Secretary with a salary to be determined by the Council; and third, plans for the formation of an Educational Trust to take over and combine the existing funds and administer them as an incorporated body. The Congress approved the first two ideas, giving the Council power to act, and by separate resolutions authorized the formation of the Board of Governors and Trustees to manage the Educational Trust as provided for in the plan submitted by the Grand Eta, Brother Munn. Brother Brown's report as Grand Beta and Traveling Secretary, was interesting, particularly in regard to his analysis of the chapters and the Fraternity as a whole in comparison to other fraternities. The National Rushing Plan which had been put into operation under the authority of a previous Congress was emphasized, and charters were granted to Delta Delta at Los Angeles and Epsilon Delta at Corvallis. In spite of his announcement that he would not be a candidate for reelection, Brother Hutchinson was prevailed upon to accept another term as Grand Alpha, so that the far-reaching reforms he had advised could be put into practice.

During the year the Fraternity was called upon to mourn the death of the Grand Delta, Brother Heyerman. Charles Frederic Heyerman was born in Toledo, Ohio, March 24, 1875. He entered Stevens Institute of Technology where he was initiated into the Mu Chapter, October 12, 1894. In 1895 he transferred to Cornell and was affiliated with Xi as a member of the class of 1898. He served as a seaman on the U. S. Yosemite during the Spanish War and won the Sampson and West Indian Medals as well as double prize money for the destruction of an enemy ship. He enlisted as private in the 550th Infantry in 1917 for the World War and was promoted to First Sergeant. In his business life he devoted himself to real estate. He was a sick man at the Boston Congress, never reacted, and finally died in Detroit, July 6, 1930.

Another ex-Grand Delta also passed to his reward in the person of George Gowen Hood, Psi. Brother Hood was born in Philadelphia, July 14, 1863, and initiated into Psi, September 27, 1879. He was Grand Delta from 1903 to 1909 under Grand Alphas Sanderson and Thompson. He was one of the "Strong Men" of Psi and his activities in the Fraternity have been described elsewhere. He introduced real business methods into the administration of the Fraternity's financial affairs. He died at his home in Philadelphia, July 11, 1930. Among the other distinguished names that appeared in the Memorial Service was that of Samuel Morse Felton, a charter member of the Tau Chapter at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and president of the Chicago and Northwestern. He died in Chicago, March 11, 1930.

The Chaketti for 1930 under Brother Hoffman's editorship contained many items of interest, among which reference might be made to Brother Brown's "Observations as Traveling Secretary," Ivy Lee's radio broadcast on the Far East, Sam Schenck's article on "Rutgers and the Delta Chapter" and an account of the dedication of the Tom Conally Hall by Gamma Chapter.

The Congress for 1931 met in Montreal, Canada, August 27, 1931, with Harold Fuller, Past Grand Alpha, acting as Alpha.

There was a goodly representation of both active and alumni delegates. In the message the Council placed before the Congress three subjects for discussion, the revision of certain parts of the constitution and laws made necessary by the reforms approved at Bedford, the selection of the place for the meeting of the next Congress, and a more definite understanding of the policy of the Fraternity in regard to further growth. The Grand Eta had prepared the necessary amendments modifying the Zone System, providing for the selection of an Executive Secretary, and for the management of the Educational Trust, which were all adopted. The announcement of the selection of Philip Schiesswohl as the first Executive Secretary was made as well as other changes in the Council necessitated by his appointment. In view of certain changes made during the year in the organization of Yale University, the Congress by resolution amended the charter of Omicron Chapter so as to meet the changed conditions. This Congress mourned the loss of three Past Grand Gammas: Brothers Lee Slater Overman, Mu (Trinity); George Hillyer, Jr., Eta, and George Anthony Smith, Iota and Xi. Brother Overman was born in Salisbury, North Carolina, January 3, 1854. He entered Trinity as a member of the class of 1874, and was initiated into Mu Chapter in 1873. A lawyer by profession he had a long and distinguished political career as the secretary to two governors, a member of the State Legislature for five terms, finally being elected United States Senator in 1903, reelected in 1909 and again in 1914, 1920, and 1926. He died in office in Washington, April 12, 1931. He served as Grand Gamma, 1877 to 1878, under William Sutphen. George Hillyer was Grand Gamma, 1894 to 1896, under Grand Alpha John D. Adams. He was born in Atlanta, November 6, 1872, entered the University of Georgia as a member of the class of 1893 and graduated with the degree of A.B. He was initiated into Eta Chapter, September 18, 1889, and taking the engineering course at Cornell he affiliated with Xi in 1893. He became a mechanical engineer and served on the U. S. R. R. Commission during the war. He died at his home in Washington, April 24, 1931. George Anthony Smith was Grand Gamma, 1888-89, under the administration of Boudinot Keith. He was born in Columbiana, Ohio, March 18, 1867. He entered with the class of 1888 and was initiated into Iota Chapter, March 8, 1884. In 1888 he entered Cornell where he affiliated with Xi Chapter and received the degree of B.Litt. from that institution in 1889. After graduation he was associated with various mining corporations and in 1902 he became general manager of the Eureka Stores with headquarters at Windber, Pennsylvania. He died at Oak Hill, West Virginia, March 18, 1931. Among the distinguished alumni who died during the year and whose names appear in the Memorial Service were John Osborn Polak, Delta '89, distinguished obstetrician; John Blair Deaver, Nu (Pennsylvania), '78, distinguished surgeon; Sydney Mezes, Nu '84, President of the University of Texas and later of the College of the City of New York; and Richard Rolland Kenney, Upsilon '78, United States Senator from Delaware.

H. I. Lord was Alpha and Philip Schiesswohl, Gamma, at the 1932 Congress in Detroit on August 26, 1932. The reports from the Grand Officers showed that many of the chapters were suffering from the "depression," both financially and in morale. In many cases men were compelled to give up their college career at least temporarily on account of financial reasons, chapter membership was depleted, and many chapters were delinquent in their dues. By action of Congress the Council was empowered to assist chapters in trouble wherever necessary. It is to the credit of the soundness of the Fraternity organization that during the entire period of the depression we lost no chapter, established three new ones, and through the Endowment Fund and its successor, the Educational Fund, assisted some twelve chapters in the erection or remodeling of their chapter houses by taking second mortgages on the property.

An unfortunate occurrence marred the last year of Brother Hutchinson's administration. The Grand Beta, Milton W. Brown, had also carried on the duties of Traveling Secretary, as well as the canvass for the Endowment Fund. When the new office of Executive Secretary was created, and Brother Schiesswohl appointed, he assumed these duties, and it was not long before friction arose between these two officers, particularly over the organization of the new Educational Trust. When the Congress for 1932 met it was rumored that Brother Brown was a tentative candidate for the office of Grand Alpha, Brother Hutchinson having announced his unwillingness to serve another term. When the order of business calling for the nomination and election of the Grand Alpha was reached on the first day of the Congress, Brother Hutchinson nominated Daniel Dustin Craft, Grand Delta. The delegate from Alpha, Brother Trotter, moved that nominations for Grand Alpha be accepted, but that the election be postponed until the next day. After considerable discussion the motion was withdrawn, and on Brother Trotter's motion, Brother Craft was elected unanimously. Brother Brown was present on the first day of the meeting but was forced to return to his home on account of illness. When the report of the reference committee on the report of the Grand Delta, Audit and Budget was presented on the second day, the committee recommended approval but suggested that time be given to the delegates for discussion. The discussion that followed involved the items covering the expenses of the Central Office, of the officers in chapter visitations, and the salaries of the Traveling Secretary and Executive Secretary. The Grand Delta, unfortunately, did not have his books at Congress and was unable to break down the totals in his report into the different items but promised to have a full detailed report forwarded to the chapters. This was done later as an appendix to the printed record. In answer to a question from one of the delegates, the Grand Alpha stated that the Executive Secretary had no fixed salary, but that the Council recompensed him for his traveling expenses and the time involved in attending to the duties of his office. The committee's report was finally adopted, but a resolution was passed on the motion of the Grand Alpha requiring the Grand Delta to submit to the annual Congress a detailed report.

Under the constitution, the Grand Alpha-Elect did not take office until the first of August following the annual Congress. Consequently Brother Hutchinson continued in office until that date. Shortly after the adjournment of Congress the Grand Alpha was informed through a letter from one of the southern brothers, that (to quote from his final report to the 1933 Congress) "a secret attack against the administration and various Grand Officers personally was being carried on by Dr. Milton W. Brown, Grand Beta and former Traveling Secretary. A preliminary investigation of the Council uncovered sufficient evidence to demand a thorough investigation. While the attack was largely of a petty personal nature, there were serious charges involving the integrity of the entire Council and the matter was turned over to Marcus Munn, Grand Eta, for action." The Grand Eta decided that the best course to pursue was to refer the matter to a committee of former Grand Officers for investigation and report, and he asked me to head the committee. The other members were Brothers Rudd and Fuller, former Grand Alphas; Schnader, former Grand Eta, and Calhoun, former Grand Zeta. Having gone through the evidence the committee recommended that the matter be closed on grounds that direct evidence was insufficient to warrant charges against Brother Brown. When reported to Congress the report was approved. The committee's investigations consumed the greater part of the winter and spring, and the report was submitted under the date of June 22.

During the sessions of the Congress at Detroit the charter of Zeta Delta at Nebraska was approved, and the petition from Missouri referred back to the Council. There was considerable discussion on the advisability of reducing the expenses of Congress either by biennial sessions or limiting the delegates to one for each chapter, but no action was taken. The Congress also ordered the petition from the University of Southern California to be submitted to the chapters for vote.

Announcement of the death of two past Grand Officers was made: Thomas Bell, Upsilon '68, who had been Grand Beta in 1915, and Pascal Charles Joseph DeAngelis, Upsilon and Xi '71, who had been Grand Alpha, 1872-73. Brother Bell had been born in England, July 28, 1844, and after his graduation from Hobart, where he was initiated into Upsilon, October 7, 1864, entered the ministry of the Episcopal Church, retiring in 1914. The Congress for 1915 was to meet in San Francisco and as Grand Alpha I was anxious to have a Grand Beta from California and from our address lists I was not able to find a resident minister in that state. Finally I located Brother Bell who was vacationing there and appointed him. Brother Bell also was the man whose badge attracted the attention of some of the members of the Lancaster Chapter of the Princeton Order when they met him in the railroad station in Lancaster back in 1866. This chance meeting led to the union of the Princeton and Hobart Orders. Brother Bell died in Philadelphia, December 8, 1931. Brother DeAngelis after his graduation from Cornell took up the profession of law and became Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New York. He was born in Holland Patent, New York, January 27, 1850, and died in Utica, May 9, 1932. He was initiated into Upsilon, October 7, 1867, and became a charter member of Xi on October 13, 1868.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF DANIEL DUSTIN CRAFT, CHI '10, SIGMA '12 (HON.) 1933 TO 1935

Brother Craft was born in Sycamore, Illinois, July 7, 1889. After his graduation from Dartmouth he entered the real estate security business in Chicago. He was initiated into Chi Chapter in March, 1907, was one of the incorporators of the Chicago Club, served several times as Alpha of Congress, was the chairman of the Memorial Endowment Fund Committee and introduced into Congress the memorial from the Chicago club which in part led to the revision of the constitution. Brother Craft served as Grand Gamma 1926-27 under Grand Alpha Rudd; as Grand Zeta 1930-31, and Grand Delta 1931-33 under Grand Alpha Hutchinson. When he took office August 1, 1933, he chose as his Council Frederick W. Krebs, Xi '12, as Grand Gamma; Albert W. Torbet, Kappa '12, who had been Grand Gamma under the preceding administration, as Grand Delta; Junius Irving Scales, Alpha '22, as Grand Zeta; continued Marcus Munn as Grand Eta; and myself as Grand Epsilon. He also reappointed Brother Schiesswohl as Executive Secretary and appointed Morrison Russell Boynton, Phi '10, as Grand Beta.

Brother Craft's first Congress met in Chicago August 31, 1933. I was chosen Alpha of Congress, and the Grand Gamma acted as Gamma. All the chapters were represented save Zeta, although the delegates from twelve, in order to register, were called upon to sign promissory notes in the name of their chapter for the arrears due the general Fraternity. The Grand Alpha announced the end of the Zone System of chapter inspection and its replacement by Council representatives. At first these were few in number and were called upon to cover a number of chapters, but the number has been gradually increased until no representative has more than one or two chapters to supervise. As a result of this change of system, when it came to be worked out in full, each chapter had three advisers, each with a separate function to perform.

The Grand Alpha presented the petition of Sigma Tau at the University of Southern California, and it received an unanimous approval, the new chapter being named Eta Delta. In commenting on the granting of the charter, Brother Craft announced that with this new chapter the program for conservative expansion approved by the Congress of 1927 had been completed and that there were no petitions pending. However, there was a possibility of a forthcoming petition from Northwestern. Brother Hutchinson, the retiring Grand Alpha, announced that the petition from the University of Missouri was a closed incident. James E. Chace, Jr. speaking in behalf of the Chi Phi Club of Florida, called attention to the University of Florida as a suitable site for a chapter and the Alpha Delta local as a well organized group. His views were endorsed by Brothers Roach of Delta Delta, Mason of Omega, and Mitchell of Eta.

In his report the Grand Epsilon announced the death of Mrs. Helen S. Reith on November 21, 1932. She began her work for the Fraternity in 1922 when, by authority of the Council, she was engaged to assist in the preparation of the Memorial Volume. From that time she gradually developed what is now known as the Central Office acting as manager under the supervision of the Grand Epsilon. Her duties involved the keeping up of the address list and personal records of members of the Fraternity, the detail care of the archives, the purchase and distribution of badges, and the collection of the greater portion of the money due the Grand Delta. She was a regular attendant at the Congresses taking charge of the registration. At the proper time in the session the Congress adopted a minute paying proper tribute to her faithful service. She was succeeded in her position by her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Reith, who was already familiar with the detail work of the Central Office.

Among the names of deceased brothers appearing in the Memorial Service were those of three Past Grand Officers: James Murray Shackford, Xi '76; Archibald McNeal Johnson, Lambda '12, the son of Hiram Johnson; and, Carter Stannard Cole, Alpha '87.

According to the action of the Congress in authorizing a charter for a chapter at the University of Southern California, the Grand Chapter was called into being at Los Angeles, April 6, 1934, by Grand Alpha Craft, with E. J. Harper of Alpha-Pi acting as Grand Beta; Frederick W. Krebs, Grand Gamma; Philip Schiesswohl acting as Grand Delta; Donald K. Lawyer of Lambda, acting as Grand Zeta; and Brother Herbert H. Hiestand of Lambda, acting as Grand Eta. During the two days sessions twenty-seven active and eighty-four alumni were duly initiated and the new chapter of Eta Delta formally established. At the same time six men were initiated for Zeta Delta.

Early in the morning of November 25, 1933, fire broke out in the house of the Pi Chapter at Iowa State and completely destroyed the interior. Sixteen of the brothers were sleeping at the time on the third floor. As the fire had started in a davenport in the hallway, when the inmates were aroused, the lower part of the house was a mass of flames. In escaping thirteen of the brothers were more or less seriously burned or otherwise injured. But they all finally recovered. The injured were taken to the nearby Pi Kappa Alpha House for shelter. The furniture and equipment were an almost total loss. The evening before the fire the chapter had entertained the members of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority in an exchange party and a mislaid cigarette was blamed for the fire. Efforts were immediately made to rebuild, and a questionnaire to the alumni brought the advice to rebuild a small house rather than to attempt to remodel. The chapter had a clear title to the land, $4,000.00 in cash and $6,000.00 in debts owed the chapter. The Council offered a loan of $5,000.00 in case the alumni could raise $10,000.00. Howard Benjamin, a senior, gave up his work for the winter semester in order to canvass the alumni.

During the year several noteworthy articles from the pen of Ivy Lee on the political and economic conditions abroad appeared in the Chaketti as well as one by R. Walton Moore, Alpha '77, Assistant Secretary of State, on the United States and Russia. This was written immediately after the President had accorded recognition to the Soviet Government.

Al Hutchinson was chosen Alpha of Congress in Atlanta on August 30, 1934, with the Grand Gamma, Brother Krebs acting as Gamma. During the year the Council had published and distributed to the chapters an album containing views of the several chapter houses, both interior and exterior, which was much appreciated. The album was so bound as to allow additions or changes to be made at any time. The rushing bureau was reported as in good working order and already rendering good service. For financial reasons it was decided to postpone for one year the issue of the biennial catalogue. In his report the Grand Alpha transmitted a criteria or creed which had been prepared by the Executive Committee of the National Interfraternity Conference in cooperation with its Educational Advisory Committee. This Creed was approved by Congress and, as it sets out plainly the relationship and responsibility of the local chapter to the institution in which it is located, I quote it in full:

We consider the fraternity responsible for a positive contribution to the primary functions of the colleges and universities, and therefore under an obligation to encourage the most complete personal development of its members, intellectual, physical and social. Therefore we declare:

- (1) That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.
- (2) That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution and that the association of any group of students as a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.
- (3) That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.
- (4) That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.
- (5) That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe and wholesome physical conditions in the chapter house.
- (6) That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

This creed is both simple and complete and, in view of recent developments at Dartmouth and elsewhere, it is worthy of study.

During the sessions of the Congress the petition from the Alpha Delta local fraternity at the University of Florida, which had been before the chapters, was brought to a vote. The petition was endorsed by Brother Chace, as well as by the representatives of the southern chapters and alumni associations. The vote before Congress was unanimously in favor of granting a charter, the chapter to be called Theta Delta. Under the order of business calling for the election of a Grand Alpha-Elect, Brother Craft placed the name of Luther Z. Rosser, Gamma, Eta, and Omega, and he was unanimously elected.

For the first time in some years the names of no Past Grand Officers appeared in the Memorial Service. But during the year the Fraternity lost one of its veteran members, Judge Peter Wiltberger Meldrim, Eta '68, affectionately known as the "Father of Chi Phi in Georgia." Judge Meldrim was born in Savannah, Georgia, December 4, 1848, and entered the University of Georgia with the class of 1868. He had been a friend of King Wyly of the Delta (now Alpha) Chapter at the University of Virginia, and at once started to organize a chapter at Georgia. His efforts were crowned with success and on April 15, 1867, he became one of the charter members of Eta Chapter. Through his influence two years later the Iota Chapter of the Southern Order was established at Mercer, and in the same year, 1869, the Kappa Chapter (now Gamma), appeared at Emory, Meldrim going to Oxford to establish the chapter. He served as Grand Chancellor of the Southern Order. He had a distinguished career, serving in both houses of the legislature of his native state, and becoming a Justice of the Superior Court for the Eastern Judicial District of Georgia. He also served as President of the American Bar Association. He served as Lieutenant Colonel and later as Colonel of the First Georgia Cavalry in the Spanish War, and was Brigadier General of the Georgia National Guard and Commanding General of the Georgia State Guard during the World War. He died in Savannah, December 13, 1933.

The last year of Brother Craft's administration as Grand Alpha was signalized by the establishment of the Theta Delta Chapter at the University of Florida, being the thirty-fifth active chapter and the fifty-eighth institution to become the home of Chi Phi. Under the authority of the Atlanta Congress the Grand Chapter was called into being at Gainesville, Florida, on February 15, 1935. In the absence of the Grand Alpha, the Grand Eta, Brother Munn, acted in his place. Brother E. J. Harper of Alpha-Pi acted as Grand Beta, and Brother Phil Schiesswohl as Grand Delta, the Grand Gamma, Brother Krebs and the Grand Epsilon occupying the regular positions. On that and the succeeding day eighty-seven active and alumni members of the Alpha Delta local fraternity were initiated into the Chi Phi Fraternity to constitute the new Theta Delta Chapter. There were more than one hundred and fifty guests at the installation banquet.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF LUTHER ZEIGLER ROSSER, ETA '08, OMEGA '08, GAMMA '09, THETA DELTA '37

Brother Rosser was born in Atlanta, August 15, 1886, his father before him having been a member of the Gamma Chapter. He entered the Georgia School of Technology and was initiated by Eta Chapter under dispensation to become one of the group which was being formed to petition for a charter at Georgia Tech. He became, in this way, one of the charter members of Omega. After two years he entered Emory and affiliated with Gamma. He later received his degree of LL.B. from Mercer. After his graduation he entered the legal profession, and in 1914 at the age of twenty-seven he was appointed Associate Judge of the Municipal Court of Atlanta. In 1922 he became Chief Judge of that court, the position which he now holds. Throughout his life he has been very active in fraternity affairs and interested in the progress and growth of the Fraternity.

When he assumed office on August 1, 1935, having been properly installed at Chicago by the outgoing Grand Alpha, he announced his Council as consisting of Alexander W. Smith, Jr., Eta '06 and Omicron '09, as Grand Eta; Rutherford L. Ellis, Eta '25, as Grand Gamma; Charles T. Winship, Gamma, '26, as Grand Delta; Theodore B. Appel, Zeta, '89, as Grand Epsilon; and Benjamin Russell, Alpha '99, as Grand Zeta. Churchill J. Gibson, Alpha '05, was appointed Grand Beta, and Hugh M. Dorsey, Jr., Gamma '33, became Executive Secretary, while Charles A. Rawson, Eta '19, took over the editorship of the Chakett after Brother Hoffman's resignation.

The headquarters of the administration were naturally moved to Atlanta, and the new officers started their administration with an energy that augured well for the future.

The Congress for 1935 assembled in Richmond August 30, 1935. Frederick W. Krebs, Xi, was elected Alpha with the Grand Gamma, Brother Ellis, acting as Gamma. The report of the retiring Grand Alpha covered most of the activities of the year and, with the exception of the establishment of Theta Delta Chapter, was chiefly of a routine nature. In his address Grand Alpha Rosser announced that he had assumed office with no well defined plans or policy, but his activity in visiting chapters and alumni gatherings emphasized his purpose to develop a strong alumni interest in the Fraternity and its policies and activities.

In the Memorial Service tribute was paid to the memory of two Past Grand Officers: Charles Fitch Hendryx, Upsilon and Xi '69, and Ivy Ledbetter Lee, Gamma '97. Among other well known alumni who died during the year were Armistead Churchill Gordon, Alpha '75, a distinguished member of the Virginia Bar; William H. Echols, another distinguished member of Alpha of the class of 1878, professor of Mathematics at his Alma Mater; Eugene Robert Black, Eta '92, distinguished banker and for a time head of the Federal Reserve System; John Montgomery Baldy, Nu (Pennsylvania) '84, first Secretary of Welfare of Pennsylvania and a well known surgeon; and Samuel McGowan, Sigma (Wofford) '89 and Tau (South Carolina) '91, Rear Admiral, U.S.N.

During Brother Rosser's first year every chapter in the Fraternity was visited officially. The Grand Alpha himself visited twenty-six chapters, while Brother Haight, Theta '98, the Council Representative-at-Large, and Brother Harper, visited the West Coast chapters and members of the Council covered the others.

The chapters at North Carolina, Vanderbilt, and Iowa State were found not to be in good condition, and the Council made strenuous efforts to assist them. These measures were measurably successful at the first two institutions, but Pi at Iowa State was beyond help. Crippled by the disastrous fire which destroyed the chapter house, discouraged by their inability to raise sufficient funds to rebuild, and not being able, in the absence of a proper house, to compete with their rivals on the campus, after a conference with the Grand Alpha, the active members surrendered their charter to the Council, and at the meeting of Congress in New York the charter was suspended.

Two other conditions confronted the Fraternity during the year. For several years at Yale a reorganization of the University had been going on which involved a readjustment of fraternity relations. Fortunately, through the efforts of the Omicron Trust Association the chapter had been carried through this period of transition successfully, and was reported as stronger than ever. Meanwhile a committee of the faculty at Dartmouth, after prolonged study, reported that chapter membership in national fraternities was of little or no advantage to the undergraduates and recommended that the chapters of fraternities sever their connection with the national organizations and continue as local clubs after the custom in existence at Princeton. This action put the matter directly up to the national administrations to show cause for their existence. It seems to me that the answer lay in the proper adherence to the Creed adopted by the Interfraternity Conference several years ago. This Creed, it will be remembered, met with unanimous approval by our Congress.

After investigation, the Council referred the Dartmouth situation to past Grand Alphas Fuller and Craft, both members of Chi Chapter, with power to take such action either directly or in conjunction with representatives of the other fraternities represented at Dartmouth as would appear to be proper.

In furtherance of the policy of the Grand Alpha and Council, unusual efforts were made to bring to the 1936 Congress at New York a large number of alumni. These efforts were crowned with success. Special invitations were sent to all the living past Grand Officers and, to a certain extent, they were the guests of the Congress. Never before had our Fraternity seen at a Congress so many men who, in their time, had been actively engaged in its administration. All the past Grand Alphas were present with the exception of Brothers Powell, Sanderson, and Walker. Those present were Grand Alphas Adams, Lyall, Appel, Rudd, Fuller, Hutchinson, and Craft; Grand Eta Schnader; Grand Gammas Haight, Edelen, Torbet, and Krebs; Grand Deltas Sykes and Baumgarten; and Grand Zetas Cadisch and Scales. Of course, the entire Council was present as well as the Grand Beta, Milo H. Gates, Phi '86.

The Grand Alpha called the Congress together on the afternoon of September 3, 1936, with a full representation of delegates. I was again drafted to act as Alpha of Congress, the Grand Gamma assuming the duties of Gamma. There was a large attendance of alumni, and the Empire Room of the Waldorf Astoria was well filled. The reports of the Council and Grand Officers were unusually full and interesting, showing the general condition of the Fraternity to be very healthy, with its thirty-four active chapters and a personal roll of thirteen thousand nine hundred and forty-two of whom two thousand nine hundred fifty-six were deceased. Between sessions of the Congress the Grand Officers received the delegates from each chapter and discussed their chapter problems with them.

At the first session, Brother Rosser was unanimously reelected Grand Alpha. Brother Haight made his report as Council Representative-at-Large and presented to the Fraternity the beautiful badge he had worn as an undergraduate. This was in response to an appeal from the Grand Epsilon for additions to the collection of different types of badges that had been used from time to time by the members before an official badge had been adopted. The archive collection had been recently enriched by a beautiful specimen of the jeweled badge worn by the Southern Order, and Brother Haight's badge formed an excellent example of the jeweled badges in use in the earlier days of the United Order.

Of particular importance to the entire Fraternity was the declaration of policy for the Chi Phi Educational Trust, offered by the Grand Eta and unanimously approved. The purpose of this declaration of policy was to make more definite the purposes of the trust, the manner in which the funds of the trust were to be managed and invested, and to widen the scope and usefulness of the Educational Trust, not only to the Fraternity at large, but to the various chapter trusts and other organizations desiring to take advantage of its machinery in effectuating contributions to particular chapters or for other particular Fraternity purposes. The measure was thoroughly discussed and unanimously adopted, with the whole-hearted approval of all present.

Brother Torbet, retiring treasurer of the Educational Trust, presented a detailed report of its activities, placing on record what was in reality a history of the Fraternity's various efforts to secure an adequate endowment fund.

Council also announced a further reduction in the cost of Fraternity jewelry, and a committee was appointed to consider the adoption of an official ring and the desirability of a Fraternity crest. The Council was also empowered to establish national alumni dues which were to be a voluntary annual contribution by the alumni of the Fraternity who wished to participate in its support and thereby relieve the undergraduates who, up until this time, had shouldered the entire burden.

A new rushing pamphlet in tentative form was distributed among the delegates for consideration by the chapters. The pamphlet met with general approval and was later published and distributed by the Council in a permanent and attractive form for use by the chapters of the Fraternity.

In the Memorial Service appeared the names of three past Grand Officers: Thomas Cary Johnson, Epsilon '82, Andrew Jackson Post, Mu '92, and Thomas Beaver Holloway, Rho '94. Brother Johnson was a distinguished theologian of Richmond and had been Grand Beta during my first term as Grand Alpha. Brother Post was the president of the building construction firm of Post and McCord. Brother Holloway was born in Danville, Pennsylvania, March 24, 1872, and devoted himself to ophthalmology, becoming professor of that specialty in the University of Pennsylvania.

Among the other names in the Service were those of Elisha Keller Camp, Theta '86, who had been Registrar in the Grand Lodge under Grand Alpha Adams, 1893-95; William Wallace Atterbury, Omicron '86, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Brigadier General in charge of transportation in France in the World War, and John Daniel Hodges, Mu (Trinity) '73, a veteran in the Fraternity and one of the early editors of the Quarterly.

And now my task is finished. As stated in the first series, these Chronicles do not pretend to be a history, but rather a transcript of events in the Fraternity's life from the records. The first series covered the first thirty-two years of our continuous existence up to the adoption of the Constitution of 1886. With the last fifty years I am more familiar for those years cover my connection with the Fraternity. Its history is strangely analogous to the history of our nation, and in looking back the resemblance seems very marked. I have seen the Fraternity develop from a confederacy of chapters often at loggerheads with each other and with no central administrative power, and with great chapter loyalty among its members but with little national feeling, into a well organized national organization with a definite central administration, but with the essential chapter rights well preserved. The study of this development has been very interesting. I have seen the gradual change in the educational system of the country. The colleges have grown wonderfully in their enrollments and with this growth and the accommodations furnished by our splendid chapter houses our chapters have also grown larger. It is not for me to say whether this change has been for the good. In my day the average chapter roll consisted of some ten or a dozen names and it seems to me that those twelve would more likely be real "chosen and congenial souls" than would be possible in chapters of fifty or more.

I have seen the fraternities face two periods of opposition to their existence: first when the faculties of certain institutions exacted a pledge not to join any secret organization; second when state legislatures prohibited their existence in state aided institutions and recently the situation at Dartmouth. They successfully weathered the first two and I believe will be able to win out at Dartmouth.

In watching our growth and also the gradual change in the American Greek Letter World I have become more convinced of the important part that the Fraternity should play in the college. After all the college is a microcosm in the macrocosm of the wider life of society. In that microcosm the future citizen should get more in his impressionable years than mere knowledge. In many cases he must learn self discipline and proper respect for his fellows, which means character. In this function the local chapters should become a valuable adjunct to the work of the faculty. Any good fraternity should educate its chapters along those lines, to work in cooperation with the college authorities, and I believe that Chi Phi is a good fraternity and should its chapters live up to its ideals, that they will do their part in the colleges in which they are located to properly care for the future generations of undergraduates as they come and go.
