

Grand Alpha's Objectives Laid Before Council

April Meeting Set for New Jersey

This school year's initial Council Meeting was held in Asheville, N.C., following the Sesquicentennial Congress. The brief gathering of several hours consisted of a review and ratification of Congress legislation and an outline of Grand Alpha Darryl McCall's principal objectives for his two year term.

The second meeting was held during November in Atlanta with time divided between the Georgia Tech, University of Georgia and Emory chapter houses. Meals and/or meeting tables were provided by the brothers of these Georgia chapters, many of whom attended the meeting as observers. Subject matter primarily consisted of Committee Reports with extended debates on most topics. Last year's fiscal report was available for review while the budget for the current school year was adopted.

Northern New Jersey will be the site of April 2, 3 and 4 meeting with time divided between the Stevens and Rutgers chapters. Alumni and brothers are invited to attend all or a portion of this meeting as guest observers. Council members will arrive Friday afternoon for a brief evening gathering at the Stevens chapter home.

Saturday's session should run from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. with a lunch break all occurring at the Rutgers chapter. It is hoped that the Council members will be able to mix with alumni and Brothers at a Saturday evening social currently in the initial planning stage. Sunday's closing meeting will run from 9:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.

If you are interested in attending, please contact the two chapter Alphas who will coordinate the weekend events between their Alumni Presidents and Jay W. Wrightstone (Regional councillor for both chapters).

Our Apologies

A major group of alumni were not recognized in the December 1975 listing of contributors. The Editor apologizes for the omission and hastens to add that this devoted group of alumni have long supported Chi Phi activities despite the fact that there has not been an active chapter at the University of Washington since the early '50s.

Ohio Chapters to Host 1977 Congress

Swanson Bequest Exceeds $100,000

The Trustees are pleased to announce that a check for over $100,000 has been received from the estate of the late Clarence Swanson A-T '14.

It is anticipated by the Trustees that the Trust will receive an additional $400,000 from the Swanson Estate over the next two years.

Brother Swanson was a charter member of the Monks Fraternity at the University of Michigan, which organization became Alpha-Tau in 1924. He was one of the original petitioners for a Chi Phi charter. Swanson resided in Fredericksburg, Virginia. He died in 1973 leaving a major portion of his estate to the Chi Phi Educational Trust.

The Chi Phi Educational Trust is thankful for this most generous benefactor. The plans for honoring his memory and the complete story of Clarence Swanson will be carried in the April 1976 Chakett.

Columbus Alumni To Share Responsibility

The three Ohio chapters and a committee of Columbus area alumni will host the annual three-day Congress of the Chi Phi Fraternity to be held in Columbus, Ohio in mid-August.

Exact dates and plans will be announced in the April Chakett. An exciting schedule of events for alumni, family and friends will be planned as part of the over all program.

The sesqui-centennial Congress of 1975 was so enthusiastically received by the many alumni present that the Council has decided to orient future Congresses more toward Alumni interests without diminishing the importance of the business and ritual sessions.

The annual two-day Krannert Leadership Conference will precede Congress and will be held on the Ohio State campus.

Ray Donahue, national director, is anxious to hear from any alumnus in the Ohio area that would like to serve on the general planning committee. He is also interested in program suggestions. He can be reached through the Council Office in Atlanta.

Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Group To Serve Entire State of Georgia

At its annual meeting held October 17, 1975, the Atlanta Chi Phi Alumni Association decided to extend its scope of operations to include the entire State of Georgia. In so doing, the club adopted a new name, the Georgia Chi Phi Alumni Association. In conjunction with the name change, several Chi Phi alumni in key cities throughout the state have been appointed to the club's board.

Membership primarily consists of Atlanta area alumni, however, considerable support has come from all sectors of Georgia.

It is felt that with the changes, the club will continue to provide a basis for Chi Phi Alumni in Georgia to remain in contact with each other, and support all Georgia chapters. Rush Functions can be held in various cities attended by brothers from all chapters.

Principal activities of the club consist of an annual Alumni Party held each March, the undergraduate Southeastern Basketball Tournament and summer rush support. This year's party will be held at the Piedmont Driving Club March 19. The party is open to all dues paying members and their guests, with a nominal additional charge.

The usual 15 to 17 chapters are expected to attend this year's tournament March 6 and 7 at the Oglethorpe gym. In addition to their normal schedule of events a special Sesquicentennial dinner was held in November. Most members of the Grand Council were in attendance along with alumni and their wives from the Atlanta area. You may begin now to support this year's operations by mailing a check for $15 to the Treasurer, Georgia Chi Phi Association.

This year's officers include George E. Duncan, Jr., G'70, president; James W. Wimberly, Jr., H'65, vice president; Robert H. Hogg III, H'70, vice president; John M. Godfrey, Ome '64, vice president; J. Kenneth Morgan, G'71, treasurer; David S. Goodson, Jr., Ome '64, secretary.

McNair Honored By Engineering Award

Grayson E. McNair A'62 was presented the 1975 Young Engineer Award in May 1975. McNair, a graduate engineer from the University of Virginia, is a resident of Emmaus, Pa. and a member of the Lehigh Valley Chapter of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers.

An employee of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., he has had many responsible positions. He was recently promoted to the position as the Assistant Manager-Rates and Market Research Dept. reporting directly to the Vice President Division Operations, and is located at the Company's offices in Allentown, Pa.

As a member of the Extra High Voltage and Relay Communications Task Force for the Conemaugh Project, Mr. McNair served as chairman of a special study group to investigate stability aspects of this generating plant installation. He was instrumental in developing new concepts for 500 KV system protection, including the application and design of high speed breaker failure protection and independent pole tripping of breakers.

In 1971, Mr. McNair accepted the responsibility for supervision distribution planning section of the System

New Voice On Phone

Should you call 404-237-7521, one of two voices will answer. Adelaide Tyson who has been in the office 27 years or so. Greta Anderson who joined the Council staff in January.

Ms. Anderson serves as the National Director's Secretary and the Council bookkeeper.

Cronkite: Skill in an Electronic World

"Ever since I first showed the Chi Phi slide show, people seem to be fascinated by the fact that I met Walter Cronkite. So I wrote an article based on what I saw as I watched them tape the evening news at CBS. If you would like to use it, especially because of Cronkite's affiliation with the Fraternity, please feel free to do so. I have also enclosed several pictures of Cronkite in his office, in the recording studio as he is taping the narration for us, and then some close-up portrait type shots of him at a Providence news conference. (Union rules prohibited me from shooting as he was doing the news). You might title the article something like "Brother Cronkite: Competence in an electronic world" or something like that.

"I also turned this in to the Providence Journal feature desk, but I really doubt if they would use it because it is too flattering to Cronkite, and flattering articles on personalities don't sell newspapers. So, if you feel as if it would be good for the Chakett, feel free."

So writes Bob Emerson PIK '72, the author of the accompanying article.

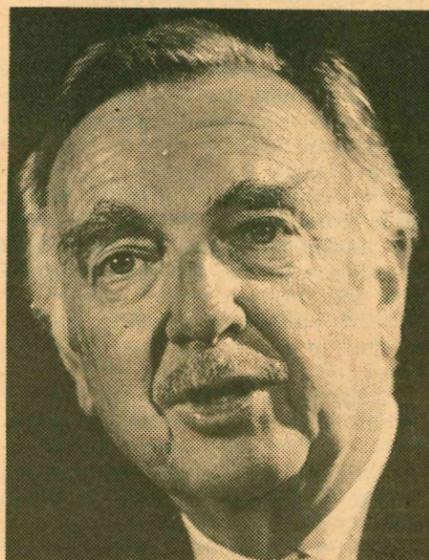

The halls of CBS Broadcast Center in New York are narrow and sterile white, like a hospital without patients. There are no people, only sounds. As a visitor approaches studio 1E39, those sounds, the clicking of typewriters and the murmur of voices, get progressively louder. The security guard smiles, nods and opens the thick sound-proof door, a door that protects the studio from the noisy bustle of the city outside. This is no ordinary studio. This is Walter Cronkite's newsroom.

The scene here quickly changes. The eerie stillness of the hallways has given way to mass confusion; much resembling a wedding where someone forgot the rings. People are shouting at each other, scurrying around, wiping their brows and constantly looking at the clock. They are moving at twice normal speed. But it doesn't bother them, they've all done it before.

Speed is of the essence now because in fifteen minutes, precisely at 6:30 p.m., the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite will be on the air.

And in the middle of the tornado, he sits oblivious to everything around him. He is Walter Cronkite: commentator, news anchorman, trusted person.

He looks somewhat different in person. Maybe a little paunchier, a little more accessible, more human. But still you can see the Cronkite perfection; the manicured moustache, the custom-made pocketless monogrammed shirt with the gold CBS "eye" cufflinks. Somehow you doubt if he has ever covered a fire in his life. He must have started out covering the world.

And then there is the unmistakable Cronkite voice. When he talks to you, he talks THROUGH you, even in a conversational tone the voice seems to resonate throughout your entire body. He does not need a microphone. Cronkite does Cronkite better than Rich Little.

Cronkite Seems To Talk Through You'

It is this voice that brings me to New York, for after tonight's newscast, Cronkite will tape record a narration to a slide show commemorating the 150th anniversary of his college fraternity, Chi Phi. But that is later, now his mind is on the upcoming broadcast.

T-minus five minutes and counting. Activity on the small set (much smaller than it seems on television) reaches its peak. They still can't find the rings. Cronkite is busy timing his lead-ins. He is moving his lips and staring at his stopwatch. Only occasionally does he smile.

One minute to go. The air is saturated with tension. Everyone is ready, well, almost everyone. Cronkite is still timing. He cannot be rushed, no-one even tries. I start to wonder if he knows that he will be on the air in fifteen seconds. But he does know. When the floor manager yells out "ten seconds to air", Cronkite stood up, put his jacket on, combed his hair, had make-up brushed on to his forehead, ordered a cup of coffee, sat down, fixed his jacket, clipped on a microphone, adjusted his tie and said "Good Evening" right on cue. He was being beamed into millions of American homes and he was ready.

Cronkite's job on the air seems relatively easy, it just takes a lot of preparation. He does not report many stories entirely by himself, but instead depends on reports from other CBS correspondents from around the world, all he has to do is introduce them. While we watch a report from Washington on the CIA, the anchorman is sipping coffee, timing his next words, and jokingly accusing someone of stealing his pen.

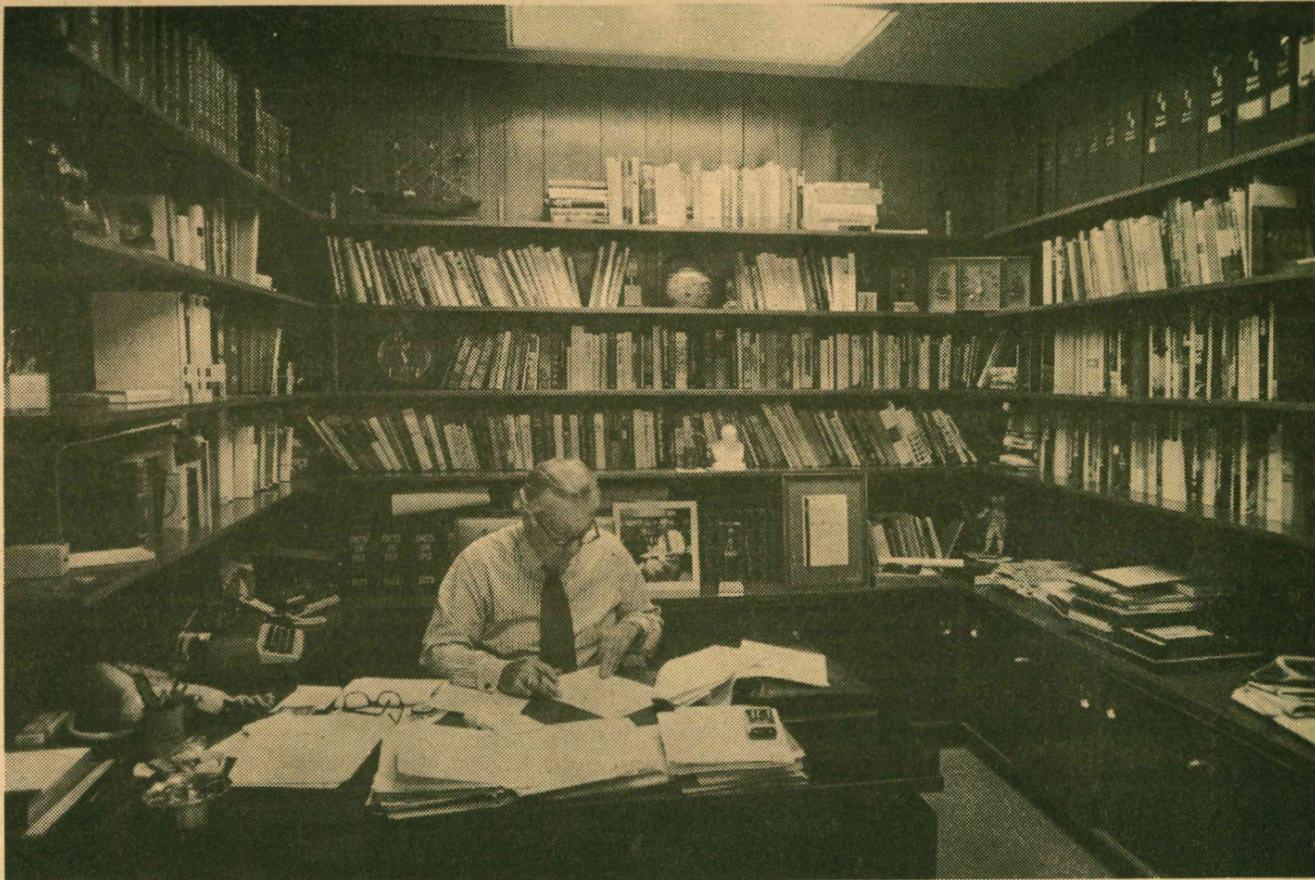

Cronkite is cool, and he reads well, mostly with the help of a teleprompter. (No he doesn't memorize all those foreign names and places!) And occasionally he makes a mistake. Tonight he introduces a story just as the show goes into a commercial. But America will not hear the flub, his microphone is turned off. Even in the event of a real blooper, the magic videotape makes it possible to redo any segments of the telecast. (The show is seen live in the east, but is taped for the other time zones).

Tonight's show seems to run with the accuracy of a precision stopwatch. Every member of the crew knows his job, they do it night after night. The three cameramen go through the same motions for each show; the wide angle "bumper" shot of the studio (the actual working news room is behind this one), the closeup of Cronkite as slides appear behind his back, the world map on the wall. Nothing ever changes except the news, and when that changes, it gets interesting.

It is during a commercial break that Cronkite decides to throw out one story and add another in its place. He turns to a writer and asks for a new lead for the next spot. The writer has eighteen seconds in which to be creative. He makes it.

Last minute changes are handled well in the studio, but they cause absolute chaos in the controlroom. Once the changes are decided, they are sent by runner to the "booth". Here two directors decipher the directions, inform the projectionist what slides to rearrange, cue everyone in on the situation, all by intercom, and all in a matter of seconds.

The master controlroom is an electronic gameroom that must keep Con Edison both very happy and very rich. A bank of TV monitors, both color and black and white, show everything happening in the studio, not to mention the other two networks. Two associate directors sit nervously behind a console cluttered with nine telephones and a jigsaw puzzle of microphones, switches, lights and dials. Camera two is told to back-off Cronkite because the directors "like to see shoulders." All of the shots are called from this room. Everyone around me is a nervous wreck. The two directors are aging before our very eyes.

All is still going well. The last story tonight is one about a young man who paints his parent's house like an American flag while they are away on a vacation. Cronkite reports with a twinkle in his eye and an impish smile at the conclusion, The news is over, "Good Night".

The show ends a little early tonight, so the directors punch up the credits. They magically roll over the map on the wall.

One of the directors says that they do not like to run the credits too often, because the staff "gets a big head". They all laugh, they can afford to now.

At 7:12 P.M. I went back into the studio. Most of the lights are off now, the typewriters are silent and like the halls outside, there is a silence; an emptiness.

America has been informed. Walter Cronkite has told us all what happened today, and we believe him. We might as well have heard it from our fathers. Cronkite has that kind of credibility. And despite the slick production and the occasional accusations of slanted news, when Walter Cronkite the professional; Walter Cronkite the guy next door speaks, we all listen; we all believe.

That's the way it is.

Planning Department. He effectively combined these two activities into a single operating unit which produces an annual construction program of 60 to 70 million dollars.

This construction program is the result of the detailed study of some 250-300 distribution substations, up to 1000 distribution feeders and 60-80 transmission and sub-transmission substations. This task was successfully carried out and resulted in a more competent professional and technical staff.

A significant Edison Electric Institute technical paper and co-authored by Mr. McNair entitled "Selection of a Distribution Voltage Level" which was presented in May, 1973 at a meeting of the System Planning Committee.

During 1974, he developed a method of relating changes in transmission and distribution planning principles to anticipated changes in reliability of service for the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company System. Recently, he participated in the guidance and management of an integrated distribution management system.

A man interested in education and a willing worker and contributor to the good of his community he serves as Vice President of the Washington School PTA.

Let's Talk It Over

The mail always brings interesting news—but never more so than following the distribution of the Fifty Year Pins and the Chakett (pledge pin) to baby boys.

Dr. C. W. Strickler of Atlanta understates his interest and enthusiasm for Chi Phi when he writes, "—received my beautiful, gold, 50th anniversary pin. I must confess I have been just a dues paying member through the years." Ed Gott of the Lehigh chapter and former Chairman of Board, U.S. Steel, says he still keeps up with some of his Brothers of 50 years ago, and the pin recalls many fond memories. Another Lehigh member, Thompson Chandler, class of '29, appreciates the badge since his original was lost many years ago. Donald W. Hutchinson, Sigma '25 of Pebble Beach, California also indicates keeping in touch with chapter brothers of more than fifty years.

At this point your Editor cannot help but remark on Brother Strickler's comment, "I have been just a dues paying member". All of the above faithfuls have been "just dues payers", but where would Chi Phi or their chapters be today if it had not been for them? When a young chapter member asks me, and I don't hear it much any more, "What good is the National?" I am inclined to snap back in a rather insensitive manner. I forget of course that they fail to realize the unseen presence of many generations of supportive alumni who have kept the chapters and the central organization alive for 150 plus 1 years.

Young Brent Andrews of Columbus, Ohio, his Dad a recent Ohio State graduate, climbed out of his play-pen long enough to get this note off, "Thank you so much for my Chi Phi pledge pin. Daddy and Mommy were real excited when it arrived in the mail. Although I don't understand its meaning now, I'm sure that someday my Daddy will tell me all about it." It appears our very recent graduates are producing smarter than ever future Chi Phis.

A very great Chi Phi member of 69 years, Dr. Mason Crum, dropped us a line in July to express regrets at being unable to attend the Ashville Congress. Brother Crum was Grand Beta during the period that Luther Rosser was National Director, and was instrumental in Chi Phi placing a chapter at Duke University where he was Professor of Religion. He worked vigorously following World War II to restore the chapter at Duke, but to no avail. Dr. Crum, now 87 years of age, graduated from Wofford College in 1909. He was initiated into the old Sigma chapter of Wofford in 1906.

Young and old, most of us appreciate our membership. Excerpts like the above, represent only a selected few letters, others express the same affection and interest. It should be heartwarming and stimulating to the Brothers of today at every chapter to know the depth of unseen strength that shores up our Fraternity.

President said, "Truly an excellent representation of the engineering profession, an enthusiastic, diligent and effective administrator, and above all one who is respected by his superiors, peers and subordinates."

AD Alumni Claim Foul

The December 1974 issue of the Chakett pictured the Alpha Delta Sigma chapter house, the house the chapter supposedly occupied prior to becoming Alpha Delta of Chi Phi in 1924. Not so says Alvan A. Proudfoot AD 25 and William A. Kelley AD 25.

Brother Proudfoot said in a letter dated January 1975, "I was a charter member of the Alpha Delta chapter in 1924 and the house pictured hasn't the remotest relation to the house we lived in at the time. Sorry I don't have a picture that I can send you but I am sure someone will come up with the real thing before your mail on this subject tapers off."

In December 1975 comes a letter from Brother Kelly of Ormond Beach, Florida offering a picture of the real thing plus a scrapbook covering the installation of the Penn State chapter in 1924. The materials will shortly reside in the Council archives in Atlanta.

CHAPTER LETTERS

Iota

Ohio State University

The Iota Chapter at Ohio State University, Columbus, has been experiencing a very defined period of growth during this school year. Membership has had a steady increase, social functions have been larger and more exciting, alumni have been more active with the chapter and Chi Phi on campus is achieving a reputation of honest, sincere and up-standing men.

Some of the highlights of this school year have included our 150th Anniversary Celebration, our Halloween Party and of course the celebration after the Michigan—OSU Game. This winter quarter we are already off to a fast start with a successful rush party sponsored by our little sisters, a T.G.I.F. party with a neighboring sorority and an eventful initiation.

The Chapter is building. We are working hard on such projects as fund raising for Muscular Dystrophy in the spring, our annual Spring Weekend, Greek Week and Parent's Day. All in all, Iota, though small now, will be brighter and happier as we enlarge to serve more on campus and as we add more members to the Chi Phi experience.

Lambda Chapter

University of California, Berkeley

This fall we accepted twelve pledges and filled the house for the first time since we returned to campus over two years ago. Our new strength, however, was not sufficient to continue last year's winning streak in intramural football, or to beat Davis in our semi-annual battle for the cannon, but wait till Spring, Sigma Delta!! This Winter we will be fielding a basketball team and will try our foot at soccer.

Socially, we have had our hands full with small parties, Sorority exchanges, and Little Sisters. Our little sister program has made a startling rebound from last year in both quantity and quality. They even helped us smuggle kegs into most of the Cal games. GO BEERS! Upcoming events include an initiation/ski weekend at Lake Tahoe, a valentine's dinner dance, an exchange with a nearby all-woman college, and other assorted insane activities. We're sure that the local alums are looking forward to our third annual smoker in the spring.

Alpha Tau

University of Michigan

A gritty cloud of dust and the deafening racket from a pounding jackhammer filled the Alpha Tau Chapter House during the last weeks of January. The brothers of the Chapter spent many hours smashing concrete, replacing pipe and repairing floors and walls in an effort to reduce cost in the replacement of the heating system. The new furnace is just part of the work being done in the Chapter House in an effort to clean it up and renovate it.

In conjunction with the work on the steam system, the basement television and party room has been retiled and carpeted. The store rooms in back of the kitchen have been cleaned out, and the kitchen itself has been undergoing repair and refitting. For the first time in three years the chapter kitchen is being used. A cook was hired in the fall and the brothers are now enjoying the best food on campus.

The Chi Phi Educational Trust has given $2,500 for improvements to the first floor library. When completed, the library will be known as the Herman Swanson Library in memory of Brother Swanson, Alpha Tau '14.

House repair isn't the only activity at the chapter. Chi Phi placed third in the campus homecoming lawn display contest this year. The Chapter has also acquired a puppy. She's a Golden Retriever like Dacar, and keeps all the brothers busy cleaning up after her. Named Alpha Tau's Golden Mist, she's called Misty.

The A-T Chapter is a busy place to be this year. All Alumni are always welcome at the house. They should feel free to drop in and see what's going on; meet the puppy, have a cup of coffee or a beer, and most important, share the Chi Phi Experience.

Gamma Delta

University of Minnesota

The rebuilding of the chapter here at the University of Minnesota was begun on a successful note as the active members and some alumni initiated five new members into the fraternity on Nov. 9, 1975.

The house itself was partly rebuilt this summer. The exterior was repainted and broken windows repaired. The kitchen was tiled and repainted. A huge amount of work also went into the repair of faulty plumbing. Again, most of the labor was provided by both the members and the alumni. The materials used were, in most part donated by a number of generous people. The improvements have been estimated to total $3,000.

We are engrossed in a wide array of activities. Last fall we entered teams in touch football and swimming. This winter we will be forming teams in hockey, basketball, and volleyball. Numerous parties have also been held to acquaint people with the name 'Chi Phi.' We have participated in exchanges with sororities. However small, we are far from inactive.

We invite all alumni to pay us a visit. We would like to know all of you, and more important we need your suggestions on how to improve our program. Our goal for the year is to fill the house with members. To achieve the goal we would appreciate receiving rush recommendations—send us the names and we will do the rest.

Theta Delta

University of Florida

The Theta Delta chapter will be hosting an alumni weekend to help celebrate the University of Florida's annual Orange & Blue junior varsity football game. This event will occur on Friday, April 30, with an alumni dinner at the house and an open bar in the evening.

On Saturday, May 1, the kick-off will be in the early afternoon for the football game and the day will end with a banquet sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity council.

At a future date a personal invitation will be sent to all Florida alumni that will include further important information.

So start planning now for this upcoming weekend.

Phi Delta

University of Tennessee

Phi Delta returned to Fall Quarter with a strong nucleus of eighteen active brothers, and with hopes of a good rush. We pledged five men, and retained all of them. We believe that our success was due to the implementation of a new pledge program. Winter rush began with a retreat to discuss how best to approach rush. We came back with the best winter rush in the history of the chapter—five good men.

After seven years of Delta league intramural competition, Phi Delta advanced to Gamma league, where we have promptly met the challenge and now lead the league in overall points. The brothers have now shown that they are able to compete with the upper divisions, in fact, we would have won the football championship were it not for a disputed call.

At the end of the intramural season Phi Delta held its annual Active-Pledge football game. True to form the brothers inflicted punishment on the pledges and won the game.

We participated in Homecoming with Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. The brothers attacked Homecoming with their usual enthusiasm and though faced with a lack of funds, we were able to compete with the best of them through imagination and determination.

Socially this fall kicked off with the arrival of Regional Counsellor Roger Hall and Grand Alpha Darryl McCall for the Auburn game. They arrived Friday nite for the Pre-game warmup. Prior to the game a side of beef was barbecued, and that night a dance was held. Speaking of the Auburn game, Mu Delta owes us something. The highlight of the annual social calendar was our annual Chartering Banquet—a formal consisting of Happy Hour, Dinner Dance and extra curricular activities. All Brothers behaved as gentlemen and overcame the urge to play Errol Flynn on the chandelier.

We are very proud of our alumni, after seven years they have received their charter. We have formed a house trust fund consisting of five hundred dollars from the chapter and the rest from alumni. In order to meet the challenge the alumni formed a Century Club which already boasts several members. We hope that they will continue to grow.

Upcoming Events: Muscular Dystrophy pole-sit April 10, 11. Spring Formal May 15. Other details in future newsletters.

Xi Delta

Florida Institute of Technology

The Xi Delta chapter house is located on Melbourne Beach just 3 blocks from the Atlantic ocean beaches. The property is situated with frontage on the Indian River and is actually seven miles off the F.I.T. campus. The flavor of the chapter is one of residents of the local township.

Ten brothers have taken up the civic project of joining the volunteer fire department, making up one-third of its force. Since the fire station is less than 200 yards from the chapter house, Chi Phi is usually the first to answer alarms. Such was the case at 6:36 a.m. February 9 as eight of the brothers skipped quizzes to respond to the early morning call of rising smoke and some flames at the home of what turned out to be the F.I.T. school president, who was most grateful with the four minute lapse of time from time of alarm to arrival at fire. Dr. Keuper was amply informed about the Chi Phi volunteers who helped put out the basement blaze.

Another significant event turned out to be the Spring Break of last year. What must have been 25 Chi Phis from other chapters arrived to use 524 Ocean drive as base for their school recess. Tents sprang up in the yard to handle those who couldn't find a spot in the house. Xi Delta welcomes their traveling brothers with the request of normal courtesy to another's chapter house.

Sports play a big part of everyday life with the F.I.T. brothers. Fall Quarter saw Chi Phi win both the Greek trophy and the over all trophy consisting of independent as well as other Fraternity teams. Winter Quarter competition is starting off with continuous success.

Current Chapter membership consists of the following breakdown: 8 Brothers from New York—New England; 5 Brothers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland; 1 Brother from Illinois; 4 Brothers from Florida.

Omicron Delta

Miami University

The Chapter has had a very enjoyable year. During the summer we had a new roof put on, and also bought a new water heater, and a stove. Our little sis chapter celebrated its first anniversary, and pledged six girls this fall. The brothers and the little sis's went to a play in November called "1776". In Greek Week competition our chapter placed sixth out of twenty-four teams in the College Bowl, an academic question and answer competition.

Cliff Suel has cooked for the chapter for six years. He is our first cook, but before coming here he had experience in a wide variety of environments. During the late twenties Cliff worked for the New York Central Railroad on the New York-Cincinnati line and the New York-Chicago line. Keeping the train adequately supplied with food was a challenging problem. For twenty-nine years he worked for Miami University. While World War II was going on, he taught servicemen at Miami how to cook. One of the more rustic places Cliff has worked is at Camp Dennison along the Ohio River. The stoves were wood-burning there, but there were many snakes in the wood pile. Sometimes the snakes helped heat the stove. Cliff is one of our house's strongest assets, and we all appreciate him very much.

Our chapter has just completed two weeks of a busy and successful rush. During rush we had a belated New Year's party, movies, homemade pizza, a mixer with a sorority, and of course beer. Nine men pledged the chapter.

Mu Delta

Auburn University

Fall rush added 7 new pledges.

The newly formed Mu Delta Alumni Association met following the Homecoming game and formed the Mu Delta House Corporation. The corporation will be the vehicle for purchasing and owning a chapter house. Negotiations are already in progress towards buying the house which we now rent. Renovation plans are being prepared by Brother Randall Diamond.

The sports program here at Mu Delta is under full swing, the Volleyball team is currently in first place, with only one game to go. We here at Mu Delta are very confident of a league championship, and are looking forward to competing in our first Fraternity championship.

Initiation will be held the first week back in school (January 7-14). Any alumni in the area is invited to stop by the house and participate in the ceremonies.

New National Director Initiated By Seven Months On the Road

Ray Donohue's first seven months on the Council Staff consisted of thirty-five chapter visits, four area celebrations, a Regional Conference Meeting, and a Grand Council Meeting. Less than 50% of his time was spent in the council office with Carl Gladfelter dealing with special projects. The philosophy of dealing directly with individual chapters and their alumni associations was adopted as the best method of indoctrination for assuming duties as National Director.

Initial chapter visits were made to areas where problems were known to exist. Some immediate progress has been noted at West Virginia University (Pi Delta) while no improvement has been forthcoming from Morehead State University (Omega Delta). Special attention has also been given to the chapters at Miami University (Omicron Delta), University of Illinois (Sigma), University of Virginia (Alpha), Auburn University (Mu Delta), and Oglethorpe University (Rho Delta). Special programs on rush assistance were involved in each of these cases. It is believed that each of these situations will continue to improve itself with the determination of the brothers and continued support of the alumni advisory organizations.

All other chapters in the south and midwest were visited with no major programs initiated. In each instance, some type of alumni contact was achieved. Anywhere from two to eight key alumni allocated a portion of his time for a luncheon, afternoon appointment, or evening meeting with the then National Director Elect.

Three eastern Pennsylvania chapters, (Zeta, Psi, Rho), Stevens Tech (Mu), and University of Southern California (Eta Delta) round out the list of thirty-five chapters visited to date. Travel plans are finalized for spring trips to the remaining ten chapters.

Mississippi State University was also visited attempting to gain permission to colonize a Chi Phi group. Initial efforts were made by Carl Gladfelter and Joe Rice Dockery to win approval of the I.F.C. and school officials. While success cannot be reported, it is felt that some progress is being made with a target date of fall for colonizing to begin.

Planning the agenda and logistics for the November Grand Council Meeting broke the ice on another phase of responsibility of the new National Director. Arrangements were made with our Georgia Tech Chapter (Omega) and Emory Chapter (Gamma) to provide meeting facilities and food for eight hours of the approximate twelve-hour weekend meeting. More details on this type operation are available in another article in this issue entitled "Regional Council Meeting in Northern New Jersey April 2, 3, and 4th".

Area celebrations attended by Donahue were Southern California, Wisconsin, Alabama, Georgia, and the Iota Alumni gathering in Columbus, Ohio. Three of these events were attended during chapter bisitation trips—Birmingham, Alabama, and Atlanta being the exceptions. All programs were well attended, highly successful events thanks to the dedication and long hours spent by a number of key alumni in each area.

One last thing needs to be mentioned concerning duties of our national staff. Donohue is just learning what Gladfelter has experienced over the past sixteen years. There is a rather massive amount of work processed through our council office. The size of Chi Phi's staff is three in comparison to much larger staff of other national fraternities. Additional alumni support is needed both in voluntary time devoted to local chapters and increased dues to the National Office in order to see our fraternity grow in size and stature during future years. Donohue indicates that he will be discussing specific needs in commentary form beginning in the September issue which will be his first to edit.

Naval Architect Jean Buhler Helping Solve Mysteries of Sea

Halfway between Vero Beach and Fort Pierce on Florida's East Coast there is a complex of engineering and research laboratories known as Harbor Branch Foundation, Inc. It is devoted to solving many of the mysteries of the seas, especially what man is doing to alter the marine environment.

The Foundation Engineering Laboratory is under the direction of Jean Buhler who attended both the University of Michigan and Stevens Institute of Technology and was active in both chapters. His class at Mu was '40 although he graduated from Michigan in 1941. Brother Buhler, a former resident of Miami, now resides in Vero Beach.

Buhler leads a cadre of experienced design engineers and skilled technicians in a wide spectrum of projects in oceanic research.

Best known—and most complex—of the laboratory's projects have been the two manned submersibles, J-S-L I and J-S-L II.

Both vehicles feature the innovative clear plastic bubbles for pilot and observer, versatile manipulative arms to pick up objects, and aluminum spheres that serve as diver lock-out and lock-in chambers and decompression chambers, complete with the sophisticated monitoring and regulating equipment needed for mixed gas diving.

Dr. H. C. Kinzer '00 Kicks Off Zeta Fund Raising With Generous Gift

The annual Zeta alumni weekend held in October 1975 was the starting point of a major fund drive. The weekend, which was very well attended, was highlighted by the attendance of Brother H. C. Kinzer Zeta '00. Dr. Kinzer, who until very recently still practiced medicine in Lancaster, Pa., donated $1,000 to the fund.

The funds will be used to renovate and improve the chapter house which is located on the Franklin & Marshall campus adjacent to the College classroom and administrative buildings. The house at one time housed the Archives of the Chi Phi Fraternity in a vault designed for the purpose in the basement.

Lee Hanson, Earl Wheeler, and Howard Stark received their 50 year pins at Kappa's 150th Anniversary from National Director Carl Gladfelter. Brother Hanson is on left, and Wheeler and Stark on right. The Wisconsin anniversary celebration was attended by more Brothers than the many held throughout the country.

Wisconsin Reports 150 Celebration

Chi Phis affiliated with the State and the University of Wisconsin gathered for a full weekend of events on October 24, 25, and 26. The celebration was coordinated by Kappa Chapter alumni and actives.

The weekend extravaganza was given a great start by the President of the University of Wisconsin System, John Weaver '36. Brother John and wife Ruberta opened their home and hosted a reception for over 100 Chi Phi couples. In a brief ceremony Don Stroud '76, on behalf of all the Brothers, presented Dr. Weaver, who is a published photographer, with a Sun Pak 511 computerized flash system.

That evening a poolside party attracted more and more Brothers as they arrived from throughout the United States. The party broke up in the wee hours immediately following the active chapter's off-key serenade. Instrumental in making the party a smash were John Brens '64, Greg Lehman '77, and Harold Steinke '43.

Saturday, October 25th, will go down in Kappa Chapter history as one of its greatest fraternal experiences ever. A strong storm front passed through the night and the sun shone on Chi Phi all day. Five buses motored the Chi Phi celebrants to a football contest that was won by the Badgers.

The celebration highlight was the banquet and subsequent program attended by 320. Dana Yarger '69 welcomed all and tributes were made to many Brothers. Commemorative gifts were presented to Grand Beta Wyford Jones and Assistant National Director Donahue by Joe Hildebrandt '66, President of the Kappa Alumni Association. Bill Steinberg '66 introduced the Grand Alpha with a gift of a "big Wisconsin cheese for the big Chi Phi Cheese." Grand Alpha McCall was in rare form as he presented 50 year pins to Howard Stark '21, the oldest Chi Phi present at 79 years young, Earl Wheeler '25, and Lee Hanson '24, who also attended Chi Phi's 100th anniversary dinner in 1924. The Sweetheart song was sung and a supplemental film strip (produced by Harley Schoenfeldt '77 was shown) following the Cronkite slide show. The main speaker was Executive Director Gladfelter who was presented with a gold watch to make his retirement "official". The watch was presented by Grand Delta Rogan '65 on behalf of all the Brothers present.

The Wisconsin 150 celebration involved the participation of over 250 Brothers during the course of the weekend. The success of the event can be summed up by Brother Harry Humphries '53 who wrote, "I have personally felt through the years that my association with the Brothers at the Chi Phi House has probably been one of the highlights of my life . . . I thank the Greeks for this and hope the system prevails and provides as many happy hours as it has for me, for everyone. God Bless You All."

Annual Basketball Tourney In Atlanta March 6-7

Committee Urges All to Attend 10th Anniversary Event

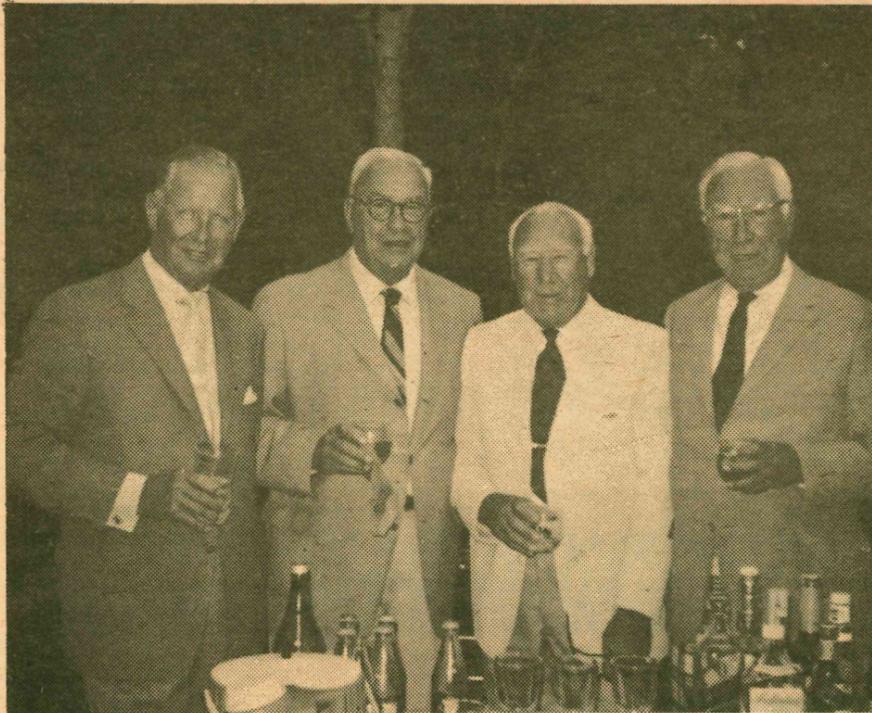

The annual Chi Phi Southeastern Basketball Tournament has been scheduled for March 6 and 7, 1976 in Atlanta. Again this year, the tournament will be held at the Oglethorpe University Field House. The tournament, which is sponsored by the Georgia Chi Phi Alumni Association, is one of the only, if not the only, tournament of its kind held anywhere in the country.

The tournament provides a unique opportunity for Chi Phi brothers from different chapters to meet and socialize with one another as well as engage in top-flight basketball competition.

The tournament was first held in 1965 and eight southeastern schools participated. Last year, sixteen schools participated, representing states from Florida to Virginia and Ohio. In an exciting final game, highlights of which appeared on the sports show of WSB Television in Atlanta, Alpha-Alpha Chapter of the University of North Carolina defeated a strong team from Ohio Wesleyan University.

This marked the fourth time which Alpha-Alpha has won the tournament and the first participation by Ohio Wesleyan. The chapters compete in both a winners and consolation brackets and Florida State University won the consolation bracket and placed third in the tournament.

The rotating trophies named in "Four old men, Chi Phis drinking to each other's health—all in good health but getting old." So says Brother D. G. Nethercot Xi'19 at whose summer home in Harbor Springs, Michigan the snapshot was taken. honor of John Oliver, Bates Block and Charles Nunnley are given to the three top placing teams. Rankin Smith, an avid Atlanta sportsman and owner of the Atlanta Falcons, annually donates a Most Valuable Player trophy, which was awarded last year to Steve Harris of the University of North Carolina.

On Friday night before the tournament, the out-of-town brothers and friends traditionally either visit the Georgia Tech or Emory Chapter Houses or see the sights in Atlanta. On Saturday, Gamma Chapter at Emory hosts a party for all out-of-town brothers, as well as local brothers and Alumni.

This year, participation is expected to reach an all-time high. Teams from the states of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia are hoping to attend. A new feature is being added to the tournament, that being a game between the Georgia Alumni and a team of all-stars from the active Georgia chapters. This game will precede the championship game, and spectators should be treated to an enjoyable afternoon (particularly as an attempt to discover whether Peter Amann, former president of the Georgia Alumni Association, and Ray Donohue, the Fraternity National Director, are really Pete Maravich and Bob Cousy in disguise). We are hopeful that after the championship game, which will begin at approximately 1:00 p.m. on Sunday, the alumni, actives and fans will be able to gather for an afternoon of socializing and beer drinking.

Any chapter wishing to compete in this year's tournament, if not already registered, should call George Duncan, President of the Chi Phi Georgia Alumni Association at Area Code 404, 658-1180. Chapters from all parts of the country are welcome to participate in the tournament and alumni and friends of the fraternity are welcome and encouraged to come to the Oglethorpe Field House to see and enjoy a most interesting two days of basketball competition.

Eisenhart, McAtee, Southern, Become Regional Counselors

Blake Eisenhart Psi '74 succeeded Grand Gamma Dick Gilbert Rho '62 as counselor to the F&M, Lehigh and Lafayette chapters in October 1975.

Brother Eisenhart grew up in Quakertown, Pa. attended high school there and went on to Lehigh from which he graduated with honors in Accounting. He is employed by Price Waterhouse & Co. in Philadelphia. Present plans include doing advance degree work in Business Administration.

He served as both Gamma and Delta of Psi, and continues to be active in chapter affairs as a Trustee of the Briarfield Association, the Psi alumni corporation.

Brother Eisenhart is most active in community programs. He is Treasurer of the Quakertown Bicentennial Committee, a member of the Sons of the America Revolution, the Quakertown Historical Society and the St. Johns Lutheran Church. His interest include politics, being active in the local Democratic party. He participated in the Congressional Intern Program sponsored by the U.S. House of Representatives while at Lehigh.

Ronald McAtee Alpha Chi '62 continues to be active in Chi Phi affairs despite the fact that he is no longer associated with the Council as an employee. He is the Counselor to the West Georgia chapter in Carrolton, and Oglethorpe and Georgia State in Atlanta. Naturally his experiences as Assistant National Director over the past several years will come in to play as he works with the named chapters.

Brother McAtee is associated with the insurance industry in Atlanta. He and his family decided Atlanta was the place for them as they continue to reside in the Sandy Springs area of Atlanta. Brother McAtee is a trained musician and was responsible for the production of the now well-known Sesquicentennial stereo recording of Chi Phi songs.

Jim E. Southern, Theta Delta, '49 succeeded Jo Roberts, Theta Delta, '53 as regional counselor of the four Florida chapters. Jo will continue service as president of The Florida Chi Phi Association.

Brother Southern's background in accounting as partner with Coopers and Lybrand of Orlando will be of particular benefit to the chapters in budget matters.

On Saturday, February 8, a regional conference gathering at the University of Florida chapter house was attended by him with four members of the Florida Association. Southern joined nine other Florida association members in a Sunday Orlando meeting to discuss specific financial matters of The Florida Institute of Technology, Florida Technical University and the University of Florida chapters.

Jim's recent interest stems partially from the fact that his daughter Robin, is a little sister of the University of Alabama chapter while his son Paul will soon be college age.

Chi Phi's regional counselors are a devoted group of men who quietly go about their duties of advising with a minimum of fanfare. Three members of the present National Council "learned the ropes" as Regional Counselors. From time to time the services of new counselors will be needed. Why not advise the Council office of your interest in working with chapters in your area? There may be an opening.

Lest You Forget—Annual Dues

The response to the annual request for alumni dues has been very gratifying. Approximately $15,000 was received during the first 40 days of the annual campaign. The budget figure for the year is $23,000.

The mailing which was completed mid-February consists of a status report of the Fraternity operation, a cover letter from now retired National Director Gladfelder, and a return envelope. The council office will forward the report and the annual dues request to any alumnus so requesting.

Since alumni dues make up a significant portion of our annual budget, favorable response increases our ability to support programs to strengthen existing chapters, reestablish former chapters and pursue a modest expansion policy.

To help you remember, if you put your mail request aside, a convenient form for remedying the situation today is attached.
