*308 MARK BUILDING
ATLANTA 3, GEORGIA*

Let's talk it over . . .

IN the next issue of THE CHAKETT the Grand Alpha will announce the appointment of his new Council and Council Representatives at Large. I am sure all the members of the Fraternity will give these new officers the same loyalty they have given the Council in the past. I, personally, am looking forward to working with them.

About the middle of October I left Atlanta on a visitation trip for the Fraternity. My first stop was at Hoboken, N. J., where I had a nice visit with the Mu Chapter. At that time they were very much interested in their 75th anniversary, which they celebrated a few days later. The next day I met with The Chi Phi Club of New York, at which meeting they issued an invitation to the Fraternity to hold the 1960 Congress in New York. That year marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Hobart Order. This should be of interest to every member of Chi Phi because of the fact that our Fraternity today is largely built on the ritualistic work of the Hobart Order. From New York I went on to New Haven where I joined Brother Carl J. Gladfelter for a visit with the Omicron Chapter.

While we were in New Haven, I was called back to Atlanta because of a death in the family, and I was not able to visit the other New England Chapters. However, I picked up the trip at Storrs, Conn., and had a most pleasant visit with our Zeta Delta Chapter, which is a good Chapter. From there Mrs. Rosser and I went over to Troy, N. Y., the home of our Theta Chapter. From there we went on to Ann Arbor, Mich., and from there to Evanston, Ill. In every place I found the Chapters operating under most favorable circumstances.

During my visit to the Pi Chapter in Evanston, negotiations for the purchase of a new home for the Chapter were started, and I am delighted to announce the fact that these negotiations resulted in the purchase of a house on the campus of Northwestern University. This house will be ready for occupancy by the Pi Chapter next September. I want to take this opportunity to thank the Pi Trust Assn., and Brother Rudy Schlosser in particular, for the fine work they have done for the Pi Chapter in securing this house.

We then went down to Illinois for a visit with Sigma, which is one of our better Chapters. Iota Chapter is still having some trouble with a lack of manpower. They need at least 20 more Brothers in the house. I am at a loss to understand why anybody has trouble selling the Chi Phi Fraternity to a college boy. We also visited Alpha-Chi Chapter and, as usual, found them to be a good Chapter.

The last stop on this trip was Bloomington, Ind., where we attended the installation of the Iota Delta Chapter. The story of the installation appears elsewhere in this issue of THE CHAKETT. While everything at Iota Delta today looks bright and rosy, I think the whole Fraternity ought to know that within three years' time, it is going to be necessary for us to look for other quarters for the Chapter. We all must help this new Chapter to house itself at that time because it is too big a job for an undergraduate chapter to handle alone. We all must do everything we can to see that this young and enthusiastic group of Brothers, who now make up the Iota Delta Chapter, is properly housed at the end of these three years.

I also visited the Gamma Delta Chapter at Minneapolis and the Kappa Chapter at Madison, Wis. Both of these chapters are doing good jobs. The Kappa Chapter has so many boys in it that they have had to take over a house across the street.

Brother Carl Gladfelter and Brother C. Moreland Thomas are doing a lot of chapter visiting this year, and I know the various Chapters are looking forward with pleasure to their visits.

Immediately upon my return to Atlanta from the installation, the whole office turned to getting out the Alumni Dues notices. So far, the response has been very good. I hope it will be better than it was last year. I want to take this opportunity to thank the Brothers who have already paid. A great many of you have paid more than you were called upon to give. Please let your Alumni Dues come in because we can use this money for many worthwhile projects, one of which is the Iota Delta Chapter.

We have another Chapter that will be 100 years old in May of this year, the Alpha Chapter at the University of Virginia, and proper recognition should be made of this historical event. The Council would like to help Alpha Chapter in the celebration of this anniversary, and we hope all Alpha Alumni will want to participate. You will be hearing more about this.

The 1959 Congress will be held at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis, Minn., September 1st through the 5th. The General Chairman of the Congress is Brother John J. Healey, whose address is 2713 W. 54th St., Minneapolis. He is going to need lots of help and I hope the Brothers will come forward to do the job.

You will have noticed that each issue of THE CHAKETT which has appeared since Brother O. B. Williams has been Grand Alpha, has carried a page entitled "Observations by O.B.," written by the Grand Alpha, Dr. O. B. Williams. Each issue has also carried an article by the Scholarship Counselor, Dr. Frederick M. Hunter. This article in the last issue was entitled "Contempt for Knowledge." These two features have greatly enhanced the usefulness of THE CHAKETT to the Fraternity, and I thank both of these Brothers for their contributions.

The National Interfraternity Conference held its annual meeting in Atlanta in December, and Brother Carl J. Gladfelter was chairman of the Undergraduate Section. From what I hear, he did an excellent job.

The last issue of THE CHAKETT was rather disappointing in that so Observations by O. B.

Brothers:

College fraternities have been under fresh attack in recent years on grounds that they are juvenile promoters of snobbery, serve no useful purpose, interfere with the intellectual development of their members, and a variety of other claims, depending upon who is talking. Some of the criticisms which have been made may be true in individual instances. It would be surprising if, among the thousands of members of college fraternities, you could not find just about any frailty of the human race which is known or can be imagined. But if they were true to any large degree, you may be sure that the days of college fraternities would be few - and properly so.

Chi Phi, at the national level, fosters high moral and ethical standards, and encourages scholarship among its members. But performance at the local level is still the main criterion in fraternity evaluation. The actions of each of you - active member or pledge - are being used as a measure of the value of the fraternity system to the college community. You are Chi Phi. Keep your banner high, and keep it clean.

O. B. Williams

Epsilon Delta's chapter house will accommodate 68 men in 17 4-man study rooms and a dormitory

Oregon Chapter House Will Be Completed in Fall

CONSTRUCTION of a new chapter house for the Epsilon Delta Chapter at Oregon State College started early in December. Owner of the building will be the Oregon State Chi Phi Assn., a non-profit Oregon corporation, which will lease the premises to the active chapter on a quarterly room rent charge keyed to college dormitory rates for multiple occupancy of rooms in the better dormitories.

Epsilon Delta's new home is of modern functional design, 186 feet across the front by 41 feet deep, occupying most of the side, which is a full block, 243 feet wide by 91 feet deep. Parking for 29 cars is provided, part of it behind the building, and part in a separate parking lot nearby.

On the ground floor will be 10 4-man study rooms with built-in study desks and closets, bathroom facilities, guest room, housemother's apartment, kitchen, and a 2,400 square foot living-dining area. The latter will be separated into the two zones by removable planters, which can be wheeled out of the way for house dances, making room for 100 couples to dance.

Under the central part of the house is a 2,000 square foot basement, containing the heating plant, laundry room, chapter room, and recreational area.

On the second floor are seven more 4-man study rooms, bathroom, and dormitory with 34 double deck beds.

Increase of the size of the Chapter to 68 men living in is expected to greatly increase the prestige of the Chapter on the campus, putting it numerically on a par with other national organizations. There are 38 national fraternities at Oregon State, which has an enrollment in excess of 8,000 students, about 6,000 of them men.

More than 100 years of Chi Phi membership were represented when Gordon Miles, president of the Oregon State Chi Phi Assn., manned the shovel to lift the first earth for the new Epsilon Delta house. Onlookers were, left to right, Cal Aterbury, past president; Merritt W. Truax, perennial secretary-treasurer; and Elwood McKnight, chairman of the building committee

Total investment in land, building, and furnishings will be approximately $172,000, consisting of present assets of $37,000, first mortgage of $75,000, and second mortgage bonds of $60,000, and will be self-liquidating in 20 years. If the house is kept full, and present indications point to an ever-increasing enrollment over the next several years, a comfortable surplus over operating expenses, insurance, taxes, and debt retirement will make possible the repayment of the second mortgage bonds in about half the 20 years scheduled.

Situated eight blocks north of the campus, the house faces south across a 4-block municipal recreation park, with softball diamond, volley-ball courts, horse-shoe pitching pits, tennis courts, and a touch football field. Other new fraternities in the area are Beta Theta Pi, west of the park, and Delta Tau Delta, east of the park.

Completion is scheduled for Sept. 1, 1959, and will mark the culmination of 10 years of successful operation of the Oregon State Chi Phi Assn., which was incorporated in 1947 for the purpose of giving stability to the finances of Epsilon Delta. Present officers of the corporation are Gordon D. Miles, president; Glen L. Campbell, vice president; Merritt W. Truax, secretary-treasurer. Elwood A. McKnight is chairman of the building committee.

"ENTHUSIASM makes it click," said National Director L. Z. Rosser when he spoke at the installation banquet for the Iota Delta Chapter of Chi Phi. "Without it," he went on to say, "the Fraternity dries up. Your scholarship and conduct can be okay, but if a Fraternity has lead in its britches, members have lost their drive and it's a difficult job to bring the Chapter back."

He surveyed the banquet room and cleared his throat. "Keep enthusiasm here," he warned, "or I'll be back to break somebody's neck." More than 150 Brothers and guests howled over the Judge's threat, but taken in a serious vein, the good Judge was 100 per cent correct!

Enthusiasm or spirit we like to call it here at the Iota Delta Chapter means the difference between a mediocre fraternity and a top group on campus. We are striving to be top fraternity at Indiana University. We also realize that it is a big job, but we have met and are meeting the challenge so far.

"Spirit and coöperation have really put this chapter into the limelight this semester," commented Roy Mitchell, past Alpha of the Chapter. "I guess that's what you call enthusiasm. We have a goal here at I.U. (top fraternity in five years) and we intend to meet it."

Although the Iota Delta Chapter of Chi Phi has been in existence for a little over a year, according to the I.U. Dean of Students, Robert Shaffer, it was the fastest colonization of a fraternity in the United States.

The formal installation of the Chapter took place on Nov. 15, but the brief and meteoric history of the Chapter goes back to the spring of 1957.

Indiana University administrators, who have a very favorable attitude toward the fraternity and sorority system, wrote to a few select national fraternities which did not have chapters on the campus, with the hope of establishing a new chapter.

Judge Rosser, Carl Gladfelter, who was then Grand Alpha, Victor Cullin, chairman of the Chi Phi Expansion Program, Russell Guin, and Irving Countryman met at the University shortly thereafter with Dean Shaffer. Dean Shaffer asked the men if Chi Phi would be interested in coming to I.U. Of course, Chi Phi was interested as they sought to carry out their plans for expansion which were discussed at the 1957 Congress.

It was decided that if Chi Phi were to start a colony at Indiana University, the University would lease a house formerly rented by the Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity (who are presently constructing a new house). The house would be remodeled during the summer and ready for the club when men returned in the fall.

by BILL MAHL, Past Zeta of Iota Delta

Marks Iota Delta's Growth

An agreement was achieved between the University and the fraternity representatives and the next problem was to find a suitable Chapter Adviser to organize the colony.

Brother Gladfelter found such a man at the Alpha-Chi Chapter. In September, 1957, Brother Gilbert Gass entered Indiana University to begin work on his M.A. Degree in mathematics; of course, this wasn't his only purpose in coming to I.U.

On Oct. 6, 1957, Gilbert Gass entered the Men's Quadrangle, a men's housing unit of 1,000 men, determined to pledge a man to Chi Phi. He walked upstairs, turned the corner and knocked nervously at the first door to his right. He was asked to enter and Brother Gass introduced himself and told his host of his mission to start a colony of the Chi Phi Fraternity. Otto Linn liked what he heard, and later that night became the first pledge of the Chakett Colony or Club.

Linn, who later left school and is presently serving in the armed forces, told his friends of this new fraternity on campus, and they in turn told others of the advantages of joining a new fraternity—one based on your, not others, ideas and beliefs. This snow-balling effect plus the cooperation of the campus newspaper, The Indiana Daily Student, the Chakett Club began to form the nucleus for the Iota Delta Chapter of Chi Phi.

During that fall semester, the University allowed the men to rush during the early part of 1958 and many prospective Chi Phi men were pledged during that time.

In December, the Chakett Club Kick-off Dinner was held at the Sigma Nu fraternity house with over 70 brothers and pledges attending. On Sunday following the dinner, Brother Gladfelter spoke to the colony about the future of the Club and answered questions which had arisen during the course of the semester.

With an enthusiastic (there's that word again) nucleus of new pledges, the colony still pledged more men telling them plans for participation in social events and athletic competition on an equal basis with the rest of the University Greekletter houses.

The spirit which was built up by a few of the early members was passed on to the new men and the entire pledge class developed an attitude of looking ahead, planning for the future, and making the attempt to gain a favorable impression on campus.

During the spring semester, the colony placed second in every athletic contest in which members participated, and with ATA sorority, we won second place in the production division of the Indiana University Sing, winning out over a dozen other houses.

This helped bring the name of Chi Phi to the rest of the campus, but the whole school sat up to take notice at the splendid job our team did in the "Little 500 Bicycle Race." The "Little 500" is billed as the greatest college weekend and there is no doubt that it reaches these proportions. On Friday night there is the "Miniature 500" when the coeds ride tricycles around 60-foot ovals. On Saturday, with 33 teams taking part, the gruelling, 50-mile race unfolds before 14,000 fans in I.U.'s Memorial Stadium. All proceeds of the race go to provide scholarships for working students. On Saturday night beside various social events, the "Little 500 Variety Show" tops off an exciting weekend with the appearance of well known television or movie celebrities.

Out of an original field of 55 entrants, 33 were selected to compete in the race. Thanks to the splendid riding of Brothers Don Meyer, Jim Gibbs, and Dave Beldus, and Pledge Dick Clouse, the team finished in eighth place for which they were awarded a handsome trophy.

Early in the semester, officers were elected and Brother Gass left to colonize another Chapter. Weeks prior to the "Little 500" weekend, 18 members of the Chakett Club became active Brothers of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

Of course, this semester we are starting our first full year on the I.U. campus. Thirty-six men came back for the fall term to continue to help the Fraternity grow. The Kappa Delta Rho house was remodeled just as the University promised and even though classes didn't start until the middle of September, Brothers Phil Jones, Chick Gordon, and Bill Mahl returned the day following Labor Day to get the house in shape for the returning men.

During the summer, Richard Eisinger, Xi '58, was named to serve as Ritualistic Counselor for the Fraternity while he was pursuing graduate studies at the University.

Before classes got underway, Brother Gladfelter returned to I.U. to impress upon the men their need for keeping their enthusiasm (is there a better word?) and stressed the importance of rushing.

term and another large pledge class is anticipated for the spring semester.

The colony, upon returning from the summer, jumped headlong into campus activities.

The colony supported Glenda Maris, $\Delta\Gamma$ Sorority, in the Sweater Queen Contest. Miss Maris placed second from an original list of over two dozen candidates. Nona Belle, a freshmen coed, also placed in the top five in the Wellhouse Waltz Queen Contest.

Assisted by the ZTA Sorority, the colony built a "Mississippi Showboat" for the annual Fall Carnival. The carnival proceeds go to the campus chest drive. In conjunction with the carnival, Brother Dave Engel was the group's candidate for "Bachelor of the Year" honors.

In addition to a well-organized social program, the fraternity athletic prowess has been noted in intramural sports. Placing high on all intramural competition, the Club easily wrapped up the cross country championship title. Brother Meyer and Pledges Tom Cook and Ken Simpson finished among the top five runners to far outdistance the other teams.

Brother Joseph Rice, social and activities chairman, announced in chapter meeting that we were going to have the best Homecoming display even though it was to be our first attempt at building such a display. Brother Rice was correct as the Colony placed first in the fraternity division of the Homecoming decorations.

Members of the Iota Delta Chapter are also members of various campus activities. Pledge Jim Hill is president of the local chapter of $\Lambda\Phi\Omega$, the national service fraternity, and Pledge Max Johnson is a member of the YMCA Executive Cabinet. Phil Jones is active in radio and television broadcasting and is currently a member of the announcing staff of station WFIU. Charles Ray is advertising manager of The Daily Student while Brother Dorman Ray is a member of the I.U. varsity tennis team.

The highest recognition a student in the School of Business can receive is an election to $\text{B}\Gamma\Sigma$, and this honor was bestowed upon Mike Montgomery. Brother Montgomery was one of a dozen juniors to be tapped for membership.

Following the installation ceremony, new officers were elected by the Chapter. Bill Bailey was named Alpha for the coming year. Members of the Council include Brother Rice, Beta; Bill Duckworth, Gamma; Gayl Doster, Delta; Don Coffey, Epsilon, and Charles Ray, Zeta.

As we move into the second semester here on the I.U. campus, the Fraternity realizes it must concentrate on scholarship this semester in addition to keeping up the fine work in other fields. But we all sincerely believe grades will no longer be a problem with the addition of new scholarship program.

We are confident that our new officers will lead us to new heights that we have not yet gained. We are sure, too, Judge Rosser, that we'll never lose that magic word—ENTHUSIASM.

BROTHER DAVISON comes from a pioneer American farm family which was among the early settlers of Illinois, establishing a homestead near Marshall, Ill. For decades the Davisons have been identified prominently with agriculture in the Midwest. Brother Davison's father was a Director of Agriculture for Illinois.

Brother Davison has spent his entire life in the livestock and meat industry, starting with his graduation from the school of agriculture at the University of Illinois. Soon afterward, he became associated with the national program to eradicate bovine tuberculosis.

He joined the American Meat Institute, the leading national trade association of the meat packing industry, in 1924, and shortly thereafter was elected vice president. He was elected president in 1957. For the past 32 years one of his principal lines of activity has been work on meat packing, livestock and agricultural problems. by George Thiem, Chicago Daily News

DRASTIC changes in farming and processing are putting more and better meat on the table for consumers.

Hog raising, like broiler production, is rapidly shifting into the hands of specialists.

And the time is not far away when fewer than 100,000 commercial farms—instead of the present 2½ million—may be producing all the ham, bacon, and pork cuts for 200 million Americans, the 53rd annual convention of the American Meat Institute was told.

Homer R. Davison, Sigma '21, Institute president, said the trend toward multiple pig farrowing on fewer farms will give consumers a break, assure year-round employment and reduce risks for producers and processors.

Davison and two top agricultural economists, Dr. Herrell DeGraff of Cornell University, and Dr. Robert C. Kramer of Michigan State University, took part in a panel on changing patterns in the meat industry.

DeGraff pointed out that 60,000 efficient farmers with 100 sows each could produce 96 million hogs a year by modern methods. This compares with 83 million hogs now being produced on 2½ million farms.

DeGraff said housewives are getting good buys on meat today, considering the reduced value of the dollar. Industrial workers buy a pound of meat for less than 20 minutes labor. This compares with more than 30 minutes before World War II.

About 28,000 producers are turning out 90 per cent of the 1½ billion broiler chickens produced annually.

Brother Davison is married and has a daughter and a son. The Davison family lives on a farm near Valparaiso, Ind., which he owns and operates. He also owns a farm in Illinois. He is interested in soil conservation, having done considerable reforestation on his farm.

Brother Davison has served as a member of the Interim Agricultural Advisory Committee appointed by President Eisenhower, and was a member of the permanent National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

CAPERS DICKSON of Gamma: 1845-1914

by CHARLES E. SHEPARD, Gamma '17

CAPERS DICKSON was born on June 14, 1845, in Oxford, Georgia. If Charles Dickens had known him what a wonderful word picture our Brother would have presented for his pen. Brother Dickson was deliberate, distinguished looking, methodical, and a great gentleman.

Brother Dickson served as a private in the Army of Confederate States of America, 1862-1865, being a member of Cobb's Legion, Hampton's Brigade of Stuart's Cavalry. He was wounded in 1863 and captured in 1864 in a scouting party near Culpepper, Va.

After the War between the States, Brother Dickson entered old Emory College, Oxford, Ga., and graduated in the Class of 1869 with the A.B. degree.

While a student at Emory College, he was very active with his colleagues of the Senior Class, Brothers William Pressley Lovejoy, Bolling Hall Sasnett, James Osgood Andrew, Walter Richardson Branham, Charles Octavius Jones, and Robert Lovett Pierce, and Robert W. Davis, Ebenezer S. Florence, Henry Perry, and Emmett Womack, of the Junior Class, in obtaining installation of Gamma Chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity being a charter member thereof. Records show that he was initiated into Chi Phi on May 19, 1869. Brother Peter W. Meldrim of Eta Chapter, University of Georgia, Athens, Ga., came to Oxford, on that night in pursuance of authority from the Grand Chapter at the University of Virginia for the establishment of a chapter of the Fraternity at Emory College.

In 1887 Brother Dickson was professor of law at Emory College extending into entire period of President Warren A. Candler's (later Bishop Candler of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South) administration that followed from 1888 to 1898, inclusive. In 1903 to 1907, inclusive, the department of law at Emory College was revived and Brother Dickson was dean of the Law School.

While enrollment of the entire student body was approximately three hundred naturally the law school enrollment was correspondingly low but the quality of students graduating was high. In Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, and other states, mayors, governors, congressmen, United States senators, judges and a Vice President of the United States, as well as other officials and successful lawyers engaged in the private practice of law, were alumni. What justifiable pride Brother Dickson and Emory had in legal records of men like L. Q. C. Lamar, Henry Avary Mathews, Luther Zeigler Rosser, Sr., H. Warner Hill, W. J.

Charles E. Shepard, Gamma '17, is a loyal Atlanta Alumnus

Bryan, Nathan Bryan, John S. Candler, Virlyn B. Moore, Bond Almand, Spessard Holland, Alban Barkley, and many others.

Had the writer been a generation younger what a privilege it would have been to be at Emory College when the Law School was in operation and be under the able guidance of Brother Dickson's law instruction!

In 1903-07, Brother Dickson was judge of Newton County Court, in which Oxford is located and where Covington is the county seat. Many of the admissions of Emory College law graduates to the Georgia Bar bear the date line of Covington, Newton County, Ga.

The honor of serving as Alumni Trustee of Emory College is a feature of Judge Dickson's career of 45 years as a Chi Phi.

No chapter meeting of Gamma of Chi Phi, no smoker, no social was held without Brother Dickson being present. His devotion and loyalty were unparalleled.

Many a novice at smoking became ill from effects of the thick smoke to which he was not accustomed filling the air around the Brothers, with Brother Dickson continuing to indulge in so steady and apparently such an unaware manner. For many, many years he journeyed to Atlanta each year and appeared with the group for the chapter picture to be published in Emory's well known students' annual, The Campus.

At one period of his affairs, Brother Dickson was embarrassed financially. When Brothers Warner Martin, Vaughn Nixon, and Thomas W. Connally discovered his status, collectively, funds were provided and sent to Brother Dickson. This stamp of endorsement,

Xi Honors F. W. Krebs '12

by David G. Forman, Jr., Zeta of Xi

ON Nov. 8, a testimonial banquet was held at Craigielea at Cornell for Brother F. W. Krebs '12, commemorating his 50th year as a Chi Phi. He was honored for his great devotion and loyalty to the Fraternity as well as the University community, and the service that he has given unselfishly to both. Douglas M. Macniel and Thomas A. Blake, both '61, were initiated the same day.

The ceremonies began with a formal initiation on Saturday afternoon for the two sophomores, and was followed by a banquet at six P.M. Approximately 70 Brothers attended the dinner, including many returning Alumni. Among those were Walter W. Krebs '17, Alfred H. Hutchinson '09, Charles L. Brayton '23, Walter C. Heasley '30, John G. Detwiler '33, Paul K. Vipond '34, Stitler A. Vipond '40, Henry A. Lanman '38, James C. Forbes '36, Lewis H. Durland '30, R. Davis Cutting '48, and Peter V. Lent '53. Many Alumni were not able to attend, but sent congratulatory letters and telegrams to Brother Krebs.

W. Barlowe Ware, Faculty Adviser, was toastmaster, and speakers at the banquet were Walter Krebs and Mr. Hutchinson. Joseph S. Ruggie, Jr. '59 presented to Brother Krebs on behalf of the Chapter and Alumni, a brass plaque with the inscription:

Back row: James C. Forbes, Henry A. Lanman, Fritz Krebs, E. V. Gouinlock, Paul Vipond, W. B. Ware. Second picture: Joe Ruggie, Jr., Alpha of Xi, presented a plaque to Brother Krebs. Third picture: Joe Ruggie and W. Barlowe Ware, Faculty Adviser, introduced Brother Krebs at the banquet. Bottom: W. Barlowe Ware presided at the banquet as toastmaster

The plaque will be placed on the frame of a portrait of Brother Krebs which is to be completed by April, 1959, and hung in the Craigielea library. Henry A. Lanman '38 expressed his sincerest thanks for all that Fritz has done. Brother Krebs accepted the plaque and spoke briefly on some of his undergraduate and post-graduate experiences, and remarked that the banquet had been the greatest experience he had had at Xi.

The dinner closed with the singing of the "Evening Song," and an informal reception was held for the Alumni and the Chapter until later in the evening.

It is difficult, and, in fact, impossible, for us to put into words our deep feeling for Brother Krebs. Without his help and sincere devotion to our Chapter, Xi could not have attained the heights where it now stands.

"Hope to start New Year off right by keeping up with my dues. Am resident agent for F.B.I. at Pine Bluff, Ark. If there are other Chi Phis in this area would appreciate knowing so that I could contact them."—George A. Barron, Jr., H'41.

HOW effective is your pledge training system?

Last October at a 2-day conclave, the presidents of 57 fraternities on the University of Illinois campus pondered that question. The conference resulted in the publication of the Active Training Creed.

The "Creed," later adopted by the I. F. Council here, suggests that pledge training programs should strive to mold young college men into good members rather than into good pledges. The thought presented here deserves your serious consideration. . . . What constitutes a good active? . . . a good active training program? . . . a good active chapter?

Judge Rosser listed two essential qualities in his speech at the recent Iota Delta Chapter installation. "To be successful," said the Judge, "a chapter must have (1) enthusiasm, and (2) at least 15 seniors—for it is the seniors who wield the big stick on campus."

Run a quick check on your Chapter.

1. — What percentage of the original class of '59 will graduate on schedule?

2. — What percentage of your last pledge class attained a grade average equal to, or above your school's minimum grade requirement for initiation?
3. — What percentage of your chapter membership participates in athletics or other campus activities?

If you find that there is room for improvement, then it is necessary to consider the reasoning behind your present pledge training program carefully. You must not regard as reasonable the argument which simply states: "This is the way we have always done it before." In its quest for an effective system, Sigma adopted the following set of rules.

1. Pledges will have one roommate for the entire semester.
2. Pledges will observe study hours Sunday through Thurs-

Ed Madsen, a senior in Urban Land Economics at the University of Illinois, was initiated into the Sigma Chapter in March, 1957. He served one term as Zeta and is presently the Gamma of Sigma. Active in ROTC activities, Ed is president of Illini chapter of the Assn. of the United States Army, company commander of Pershing Rifles Company C-3, and holds the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel as adjutant of the Army Cadet Brigade Staff. As a member of the I. F. C. Committee on Pledge Training and Scholarship, Ed has become interested in "Active Training" which he feels is important to Chi Phi.

1. Failure to carry out pledge duty of phones properly.
2. Failure to carry out pledge duty of wake properly.
3. Failure to act in a courteous manner.
8. Discipline will be accomplished by three forms of corrective action.
 1. Loss of a study break—for any infraction of study rules.
 2. 50c fine—for disturbance during study break.
 3. Favor for an active—for an act of discourtesy or failure to carry out a pledge duty properly (favor is not to exceed 15 minutes and is to be accomplished within 48 hours during some time other than study hours.)
9. Pledges will be allowed to leave campus while school is in session for two weekends.
10. Rooms will be cleaned twice a week on the buddy system. If the room is not cleaned on schedule, the active is subject to a 50c fine.
11. On Saturday morning, the entire house will join in Saturday

- day, starting at 7 P.M. Pledges will not be allowed to leave the house during study hours unless in search of reference material, in attendance of a University function, or if participating in the break between 10 and 10:30 P.M.
3. A pledge will escort the housemother into the dining room at mealtimes. Pledges are required to pour water for actives at meals and carry matches at all times.
4. A critique will be held during Monday evening meals.
5. There are only two pledge duties: wake and phones.
6. Pledges will arise at 6:45 A.M. and may not go to bed until after 10 P.M. during the week.
7. There are three errors which a pledge can commit.

clean-up. The actives and the pledges will rise at 8 A.M. and work together under the direction of the housemanager until the house is clean.

For the University of Illinois campus, the rules presented here define a progressive program. Since this system has not been in force for an entire semester yet, there is no objective measurement of its effectiveness available.

If you were to judge, on what would you base your evaluation of Sigma Chapter's Active Training program? . . . of your own chapter's program? . . .

If your Active Training program enables your chapter to contribute both to scholarship and to campus tradition, then it is a good one. Such a program can send Chi Phi to the top, on your campus and nationally.

Mu Chapter at Stevens is 75

NOVEMBER 15, 1958, was the scene of joyous celebration at Stevens. The occasion was the celebration of 75 years for Mu at the College. However, before we could sit back and enjoy the festivities, there was much planning to be done. With the coöperation of the Alumni Assn., the agenda for the day was agreed on, and all the Alumni were invited to attend the banquet. Reservations were made and we had only to wait for the day.

It was early Saturday afternoon when the Alumni began to fill the house. Introductions were made and many a forgotten incident was recalled. We younger Chi Phis were amused to hear many of the Alumni of the World War I years tell us about their antics while moving into the present house. They all seemed to recall vividly the time they raided the former owner's wine cellar while making a replica of his treasured mantelpiece.

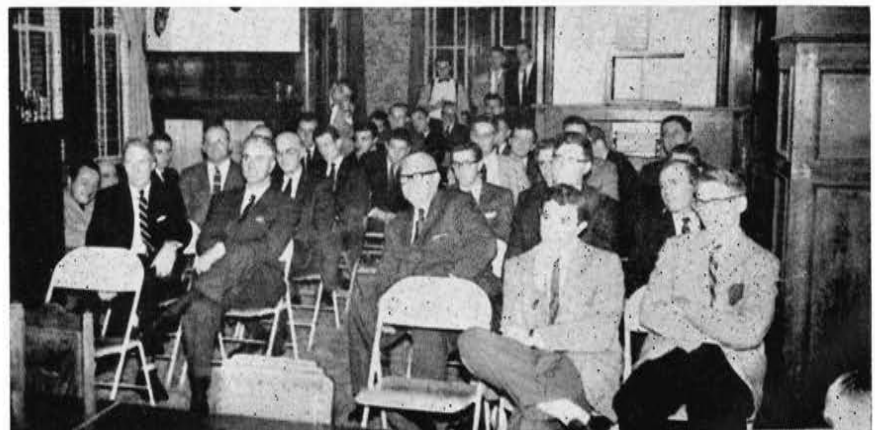

By this time the majority of the guests had arrived and had assembled for the panel discussion which was called by many a highlight of the evening.

The discussion featured a panel composed of Jess Harrison Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology; Abbett Post, Mu '18; David Vezzeti, president of the Stevens Interfraternity Council; Joel Kuhlberg, Alpha of Mu Chapter; and Walt Knopp, Mu '44, which treated the topic, "What will be the future of fraternities at Stevens?" Moderating the panel was Charles Wellhausen, Mu '45, newly appointed dean of men at the College. The discussion followed these lines: Guest speaker Jess Harrison Davis, for the first time, made public the 20-year plan which the board of directors of the College has drawn up for the expansion and development of Stevens. Going on he explained the various systems that some other colleges have pertaining to fraternity accommodations. Among them he mentioned the quadrangle system at Brown University and the type of system which we enjoy here—namely, the system whereby each fraternity owns its own house. He thought that the quadrangle system is a good idea, but he, as well as all others concerned, is very well satisfied with the system we have at present. When President Davis had completed his talk, Walt Knopp expressed his feelings on the subject. Knopp spoke for many when he said that the campus needs a good fraternity system. He went on to say that rushees should be favorably impressed by the physical appearance of a fraternity house as well as the brotherhood. Knopp suggested that it would be a good idea if the fraternity system as well as Stevens improved itself in the years to come. Following along these lines a group of suggestions were offered which will be useful in assisting the fraternity system in developing and improving itself along with the expansion and development of Stevens.

The discussion ended with all present leaving for the banquet at the Castle. Old friends got together and talked of postgraduate days over a fine dinner. At the end of the meal Epsilon Andrew Bradick gave a speech which briefly outlined the physical and financial status of the Chapter. He went on to mention the extent to which the brotherhood has restored the chapter house since the U.S. Navy took it over during the Second World

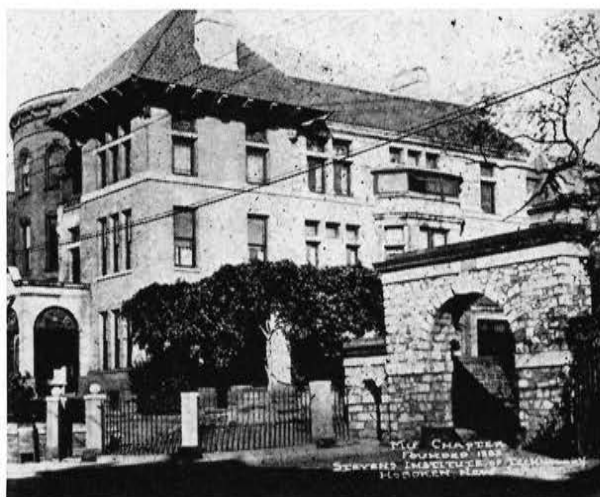

The audience found the discussion interesting as President Davis made public the 20-year plan for the development of Stevens

War. Andy concluded by mentioning a number of things which will be completed with the cooperation of the Alumni.

Later, back at the house, the celebrators ended the day with happy singing.

THE PRACTICAL WORLD

demands intellectual distinction

says Frederick M. Hunter.

Scholarship Counselor

AT the September Congress I had the great satisfaction of reporting that we had made a start and added considerable progress toward real distinction. We had risen, between the years 1955-56 and 1956-57, from rank 53 to rank 39 among the 61 members of the National Interfraternity Conference. True, rank 39 is less than the median place on the entire list, but it shows definite progress toward real distinction.

Too many of us complacently believe that good scholarship and high rank are needed only in academic fields. Nothing could be more erroneous. It is a practical world—the necessity for national defense—the attainment of economic goals—and the general maintenance of high living standards require top performance in the intellectual world. Never has this been impressed upon the youth of a generation more than by a proper appraisal of the critical happenings of the last year.

Whether we admit or not, college fraternities are an important segment of the intellectual world. Some 1,800 institutions—colleges and universities—represent the organized establishment of this intellectual world. From them we get the equipment to survive as a nation and to succeed as citizens. Of these 1,800 collegiate institutions, about 800 are fully accredited. Fraternities are not distinguished unless they make their way in this intellectual realm. This, Chi Phi just now has begun to do again.

If we can maintain this rate of progress, we shall soon arrive at a point where no desirable college which maintains fraternities can turn us down—as happened two years ago by a very high quality small institution. They told us they were taking another fraternity because our scholarship was too low.

We shall also have begun to instill permanently a psychology of success within our membership. Our ancient tradition has always been "No less than the best for Chi Phi."

So here's to you, members of Chi Phi Fraternity! I am counting on you, as are all members of the National Council, to maintain our great traditions. Let's occupy a place in the sun to which we would turn as a fraternity.

Please remember the Biblical paraphrase: "Seek ye first the eminence of high scholarship and all these things—campus prominence, athletic participation, student body offices, and many others—shall be added unto you."

A SUCCESSFUL undergraduate conference at the fall meeting of NIC was planned under the guidance of Carl J. Gladfelter, past Grand Alpha. Seven undergraduates, including Dan Hopkins, immediate past Alpha of Gamma Chapter at Emory, helped plan the program. An exhibit of rushing materials, sample IFC constitutions, Greek Week programs, pictures, feature stories, and news coverage of IFC projects was a feature of the conference. Discussions were lively and constructive. Marv Fischer, Alpha-Chi, Ohio Wesleyan IFC treasurer, was a delegate.

Luther Z. Rosser, National Director, was NIC's Marshal for the Atlanta meeting.

Oregon Chi Phis Enjoy Outing

EIGHTEEN Chi Phi couples dined together in San Mateo, Cal., after the Oregon State-Stanford football game in November, at an affair sponsored by the Oregon State Chi Phi Assn.

Guest of honor was Mrs. Carl Sutton, more affectionately known as "Ma" Sutton, who presided over Epsilon Delta's kitchen for more than 15 years, beginning not long after the old local, Tau Delta, was organized, and retiring in 1938.

Fourteen 25-year men were present, some of them of considerably older vintage than that, among them Epsilon Delta charter members Harry Frank, Ashley Poust, Leighton Koehler, Gordon Schwegler, John Trollman, and Harold Bondeson. Others signing the register were Merritt Truax, Ray Gallagher, Kenneth Weaver, Carl Malmstrom, Elwood McKnight, Ben Wilson, Bill Hoyer, Marshall Gray, Bert Wester, Ray Woodman, John Davey, and Quinten Hazen.

Feature of the evening was presentation of plans for the new chapter house at Oregon State, for which several thousand dollars worth of bonds were subscribed.

"Ma" Sutton rode south from Oregon with the Pousts, and returned north with the McKnights. Loring Hatch and Moore Hamilton came down to the motel in Medford to see "Ma" and Mac. The bond fund grew there also.

Theta Deltans Attend Fall Meeting

by Howard V. Weems, Jr., Past President

Florida Chi Phi Assn., Gamma '44, Theta Delta '48

THE annual business meeting of the Florida Chi Phi Association, Inc., was held on Oct. 19, at the Theta Delta chapter house. It was by far the best Association meeting that I have ever attended. Fifty-five Brothers were present at the meeting. The Theta Delta actives extended warm hospitality to the visiting Alumni and made an excellent impression through their decorum and reports on chapter activities during the past year and plans for the new year. Don Pearson is providing exceptionally good leadership, and the enthusiasm of the current Chapter is at an all-time high. To help make the Homecoming weekend a success, the Theta Delta Chapter won the first place trophy for the Blue League for house decorations.

Our contributions received in 1958 were below last year, but we received sustaining contributions from 88 Alumni and student members. This year, for the first time, we began pushing student membership as a means of building the idea of stewardship in the hearts of actives of Theta Delta so that they would continue to support Chi Phi and better realize their obligations as alumni. Twenty-two actives of Theta Delta were members of our state association this year. In 1959 we hope to get 100% participation in the Association from Theta Delta.

Announcement was made at the Association meeting that a special memorial fund honoring Claude Murphree has been set up by the Theta Delta Chapter, which, we hope, eventually will be sufficient to provide an annual scholarship for a worthy student in that Chapter. Alumni were offered the opportunity to contribute to this fund in memory of Claude.

The Theta Delta Chapter, which last spring balanced its general chapter books for the first time since about 1948, was able to announce that the dining room books are now in order, also. More than $2,500.00 in back debts have been paid off by the Chapter during the past three years, while current obligations also have been met. Furthermore, the calibre of the meals this fall is showing an improvement over previous years, largely reflecting the stable condition of finances and better management. Current dining room manager is Tom Register. Tom announced the purchase of several pieces of expensive equipment for the kitchen and dining room, all of which have been or are being paid for within the budget which he presented at the Association meeting.

Fall rushing resulted in the pledging of 30 boys, and the Chapter intends to continue working on the business of rushing until at least 40 boys have been pledged. A few of these undoubtedly will be lost by their dropping out of school or failing to make their grades, but if they can wind up the semester with at least 30 good pledges I'll be satisfied. The new "crop" of pledges looks to be about the finest Theta Delta has ever pledged in a semester.

Election of Association officers for the new year resulted in the following slate: president: Bob Cody, Kissimmee; vice president: Steve Stacklin, Jacksonville; secretary: Tom Fleming, Jr., Boca Raton; treasurer: Ned Scott, Gainesville; board of directors: Bob Baker, Clearwater; Gray Ramsaur, Jacksonville; Bill Simmons, Miami; Arch Updike, Jr., Lake Wales; Bob Alexander, Tampa; Elmer Smith, Jacksonville; and myself.

Brother Joel Savell has accepted a special assignment of continuing the job of putting our address file in better order, with my help and that of a member of the Theta Delta Chapter.

Brother Ned Scott will continue to function as Adviser to the Theta Delta Chapter and I as Council Representative. My dad, my brother-in-law, Joe Macbeth, and my closest friend, Arch Updike, Jr., will constitute the trustees of the bond issue which we're in the process of putting across. Bob Cody and I are serving as a committee of two to push the bond issue to a successful conclusion.

The matters of a new chapter house and a new Chi Phi Chapter in Florida were discussed. Sentiment concerning action to establish a new Chi Phi Chapter is still to postpone action until several other problems have been resolved. Enthusiasm for a new Theta Delta chapter house is increasing, and there is a good possibility that if we can successfully put over the bond issue this fall, action will be begun next spring to shape plans for building a new Theta Delta chapter house.

Our most active alumni groups in Florida, at least in relation to the state association, are the Chi Phi Clubs of Pinellas County and Jacksonville. The former club, at its last meeting, voted to contribute $100.00 to the state association, as it did year before last. The Jacksonville group is meeting monthly now for downtown luncheons, and was well represented at our Association meet-

IOWA STATE CHI PHIS MEET AT REUNION

by H. E. Wilkinson,

OUR annual Chi Phi luncheons at Iowa State at Homecoming time have been held for so long that their exact origin has become a bit hazy in our minds. However, general opinion seems to be that they were started about 1938. They were planned in an effort to maintain some of the bonds of friendship which had resulted from the activities of Pi Chapter of Chi Phi at Iowa State.

After the fire that destroyed the chapter house, desperate efforts were made by both Alumni and National Officers to hold the Chapter together. These efforts, however, were not successful and the affairs of the Chapter were finally liquidated.

After all debts of the Chapter had been settled, there was a sum of several hundred dollars left, a part of which was invested in Government Bonds and the balance kept in a savings account. During the active life of the Chapter, the Alumni had formed an association called Pi Assn. of Chi Phi.

When the luncheons were started, officers of this association were elected as follows: L. S. Wells '17, president; A. H. Pickford '15, vice president; A. O. Ludwig '33, secretary-treasurer. Each one of these officers has been reelected annually ever since under the very informal rules which prevail at these gatherings.

Brother Ludwig has carried the load of getting out notices of luncheons, securing football tickets, and arranging for the use of a dining room. He has performed his job extremely well.

Brother Pickford usually acts as master of ceremonies at the luncheons. Each Alumnus of Chi Phi is entitled to one football ticket and one luncheon ticket. If he brings his wife and children as the men often do, he pays the extra expense out of his own pocket.

On Oct. 11, 1958, the group included L. B. Hoopes '17, Muscatine; A. L. Bakke '09, Ames; John G. Jessup '21, Perry; L. A. Perdue '37, Des Moines; Herbert A. Arthur '25, Ames; Harold Pickford '15, Des Moines; Mel Seymour '36, Creston; A. O. Ludwig '33, Perry; L. E. Thayer '27, Storm Lake; L. S. Wells '17, Story City; H. E. Wilkinson '17, DeWitt.

The group attending the luncheon will, of course, include different members from year to year.

LETTER

Cobb's Corn Crib
Box 392
Chatham, Mass.
Nov. 5, 1958

DEAR BROTHER ROSSER:

It is a long time since we corresponded or met. Last time, I think, in Columbus, Ohio, from where we moved, here to live, in June, 1952.

Though I do keep paid in our National Offices, I'll have to admit that I have not had much contact with Phi. I have lost some interest there since they gave title of the Phi property to the College (Amherst). About eight of we oldsters were badly out-voted in a corporation meeting when this question came up. I think Amherst authorities want to oust fraternities and I think this title move a step in their favor . . . and NOT to my liking.

However, I want to know whether Chi Phi gives any recognition to members who have belonged 50 years. The Masons do and I am a Mason, though only of 20 years. This question comes to mind because the Fall of 1959 will mark 50 years since I was initiated into Phi. It strikes me that some special ceremony of the 50-year Brothers, at annual initiations, might add to the occasion and might attract some of the old members back. I would do my best to get at least three of our remaining eight (two live in California and one in Oregon) back for the occasion. It is too late, now, to suggest something for this year, with Homecoming next weekend at Phi. Perhaps some Chapters do take recognition of 50-year membership, but I have never heard of Phi so doing.

The Fraternity, as I know it, still means a lot to me and of four generations at Amherst, three were members of Phi . . . five Cobbs in all. I was too tied down, as class secretary, to get to the house in June, when I was back for my 45th reunion. There is some hope for more Chi Phi Cobbs for of our 18 Grandchildren, nine of them are boys!

I shall hope to hear from you and if, some day, you should be in New England and as near as Amherst or Boston, please let me know and I will try to see you.

Sincerely and Fraternally,
SAM H. COBB

Alive and Well

THERE are times when we suspect sadism among postal clerks who dispense the address labels from copies of CHAKETT undeliverable because the subscriber has moved without letting us know. The clerk, excited by last evening's television, grabs the stamp reading DECEASED. And how could we know?

But we are glad to restore to health, happiness, and long life Harry Burton Eaton, Jr., Xi '38, and William Howard Ruh, Alpha-Tau '25. They should be grateful to their longtime fraternity Brothers for restoring them to lively status. Elman M. Stausebach, Xi '36, of Vandever Ave. and Jessup St., Wilmington 2, Del., wrote that Brother Eaton is assistant plant manager of the E. I. Dupont de Nemours Co., Inc., plant at Louisville, Ky., and lives at 18 Glenn Hill Rd., Glenn Hill, Louisville. Henry G. Gildner, Buhl Bldg., Detroit 26, Mich., wrote about Brother Ruh who is at 22700 Garrison, Dearborn, Mich.

If every Chi Phi would make it a practice to drop us a card with a new address so that our records could be kept strictly up-to-date, the sadistic postal clerk would be curbed before publication time by a followup. But, without a late address and mail returned from the last known address, we are inclined to believe the post office.

1886 Classmates

PRIOR to Christmas the Atlanta Journal and Constitution Magazine published the pictures of four famous Georgians who were classmates at the University of Georgia in 1886. Two of the youthful gentlemen wore Chi Phi badges on their braided coats. John W. Grant aided his father in the construction of Atlanta's Grant Building, personally supervised construction of the Plaza and the 22 Marietta Street Buildings, and gave Georgia Tech the land on which Grant Field was built, in honor of his deceased brother, Hugh Inman Grant. He married Annie Martin Inman. He served Atlanta as a councilman, alderman, and member of the board of education. His son, John W. Grant, Jr., was initiated at Eta Chapter on Sept. 20, 1919. John W. Grant died, aged 71, in 1938.

John Marshall Slaton was Georgia's 60th governor, serving from 1913-1915. He became the center of one of Georgia's most heated controversies when he commuted Leo Frank's death sentence in the famous Mary Phagan case. Governor Slaton was first honor graduate in his class. He was a member of ΦBK. Prior to becoming governor, Brother Slaton was a member of the House of Representatives of Georgia, serving as speaker. He was president of the Senate, 1909-13, the while he was acting governor in 1911-12. He married Sarah Frances Grant. His death occurred on Jan. 11, 1955.

Park Chief

CHARLES ALLEN COLLIER, Omega '10, of Atlanta, a director and retired vice president of the Georgia Power Co., has been named director of the Georgia Parks Dept. in the Vandiver administration.

Mr. Collier was being sworn into office Tuesday along with other top officials named by Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

The new director succeeds J. W. Brinson, Jr., who was appointed by outgoing Gov. Marvin Griffin.

Mr. Vandiver said Mr. Collier comes recommended by "an impressive background and a host of experience which fit him well to turn in an efficient and responsible job. . . ."

Mr. Collier, in accepting the post, said he intends to make a study of the parks department's Atlanta office and from there to make an inspection tour of all parks in the state system.

The new director, as a Georgia Power executive, fostered the "Georgia Better Home Towns Program," a program which has been highly successful in improving Georgia communities. He founded the program in 1944.

Mr. Collier is the son of the late Susie Rawson and Charles Augustus Collier, who was a former Atlanta mayor. He attended Marist College here, Georgia Military Academy at College Park and Woodberry Forest School, Orange Va. He studied general engineering and electrical engineering at Georgia Tech.

He spent all but three months of his career with the Georgia Power Co. and its predecessor companies. He was named vice president in charge of sales in 1927, and resigned that position in 1953. He has been a director since 1938.

Active in civic affairs here, Mr. Collier is a trustee of the Atlanta YMCA and has been a member of the Georgia Hospital Advisory Board, Georgia Citizens Committee on Education, Georgia Academy of Social Sciences and National Council for Community Improvement.—Atlanta Constitution.

APPOINTMENT of Charles A. Collier, Omega '10, retired former vice president of the Georgia Power Co., as director of the State Parks Department is another of Gov. Vandiver's excellent choices.

Mr. Collier spent much of his time with the power company carrying the message of "dress up, paint up, and clean up" to Georgia towns. His plan of rewarding progress in this direction set in motion an annual contest which has resulted in some phenomenal changes . . . all for the better.

He is a dedicated conservationist and a man who has great pride in his state. He is a worker and he is incorruptible. We predict the dust will fly and that the parks department will have the most efficient direction in its history. It is a fine appointment.—Editorial in The Atlanta Constitution.

Heads Trust Co.

GEORGE S. CRAFT, Gamma '31, was elected president and a director of the Trust Co. of Georgia. He succeeds Charles E. Thwaite, Jr., who was elevated to chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Craft has been serving as senior vice president in charge of the banking division of the Atlanta area. A Rhodes Scholar and former dean of the Emory University School of Business Administration, he joined the bank in 1933.—Atlanta Journal.

Real Estate Editor

GRADY CLAY, Gamma '38, real estate and building editor of the Louisville, Ky., Courier Journal, was one of eight Americans selected to take part in the first International Seminar on Urban Renewal at The Hague last summer. Mr. Clay also covered the annual congress of the International Federation for Housing and Town Planning at Liege, Belgium, and visited several European cities where outstanding reconstruction and renewal programs are under way.—Emory Alumnus.

Attention—Florida Chi Phis

ATTENTION: Chi Phis in Florida, whatever Chapter you're from, and Theta Delta Alumni who live outside the state!

The Florida Chi Phi Association is in need of your active financial support, and it won't cost you anything except possibly a slight loss of interest.

Campaign to raise $24,000 to refinance Theta Delta's mortgage debt is well along, reports Bob Cody, ΘΔ '40, president of the Florida Association. Approximately $10,000 has been pledged as of Feb. 1. Meetings have been held in Jacksonville, West Palm Beach, Miami, Lauderdale, Tampa and Gainesville, and local chairmen have been appointed in each locality. An Orlando meeting will probably have been held by the time you read this. The entire amount must be raised before April 1.

The $24,000 will be in first mortgage bonds. They should be as secure as an investment in a federal savings and loan, since Theta Delta's property is believed to be worth some $45,000. The only "hitch" from an investment standpoint is that interest will be paid only at the rate of four percent. The result will be a sound refinancing of Theta Delta's debts with payments at a rate the active chapter can easily pay.

Bonds are $200 each. They mature each year from now until 1974, with one bond maturing each month November-June each school year. Further information can be obtained by writing BOB CODY, Box 891, Kissimmee, Florida, or HOWARD WEEMS, Co-chairman, Seagle Bldg., Gainesville, Florida.

Emory's Birthday

DR. J. HARRIS PURKS, JR., Gamma '23, director of the North Carolina board of higher education, will address Emory University alumni at the celebration of Emory's 122nd birthday, Jan. 23.

HUGH M. DORSEY, Gamma '23, president of the Atlanta-Emory Alumni Club, announced plans for the party, an annual university event.

Dr. Purks is an Emory graduate and a former dean of the college and of the graduate school at Emory. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the university in 1957.

The Program will be held in the Emory gymnasium at 6:30 p.m. and will include a social hour, dinner and music in addition to the address by Dr. Purks. One feature will be the debut of Dooley's Duffers, a special group composed of 16 members of the Emory Glee Club.

The informal party recognizes the 122nd anniversary of the chartering of Emory as a college at Oxford, Ga., and the 44th birthday of Emory as an Atlanta university.—Atlanta Constitution.

Ph.D. from Cornell

ROBERT H. BROWN, Gamma '39, associate professor of Agricultural Engineering, University of Georgia, Athens, has been awarded the doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell University. His thesis topic was "An Investigation of Electrical and Electronic Means of Measuring Liquid Flow in Milk Lines." Prior to this graduate work, Dr. Brown was graduated from Emory University in 1939 with a B.S. degree in engineering (electrical), the University of Georgia in 1940 with a B.S. in agricultural engineering, and Alfred University in 1948 with a master's in education.

Dr. Brown is, to date, the only teacher from the University of Georgia to receive a Danforth Teacher Study Grant which provides full college expenses and stipend for a 12 months' period. A Danforth Teacher may attend the college of his choice in the United States. Dr.

and Mrs. Brown are presently members of the Danforth Associate Program.

Dr. Brown is a commander in the Naval Reserve, a member of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, Faculty Adviser of the Georgia Student Branch of ASAE, and is active in Civitan work throughout the state. He is the author of a textbook, Farm Electrification, published in 1956 by McGraw-Hill Book Co.

Besides membership in Chi Phi at Emory, Dr. Brown belonged to Blue Key, Sigma Tau, and Phi Kappa Phi.

At Western Reserve

L. LEON CAMPBELL, JR., Nu '46, presently associate professor and associate bacteriologist, laboratory of microbial biochemistry, department of horticulture, State College of Washington, Pullman, will join the staff of the department of bacteriology, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, on Feb. 1, 1959, as associate professor of bacteriology. Dr. Campbell has recently been awarded a Senior Research Fellowship of the National Institutes of Health in recognition of his research achievements in bacteriology.

Dr. Campbell held a pre-doctoral fellowship of the National Institutes of Health the terminal year of his graduate study at the University of Texas and a post-doctoral fellowship for two additional years of work in the laboratory of Dr. H. Albert Barker at the University of California.

Bankers' President

WESLEY T. HARRISON, Mu '28, president of Guardian Bank, Springfield, Ohio, was elected president of the Consumers Bankers Assn. at their annual meeting held during the week of Oct. 20 at the Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C. He had served two terms as first vice president of the Consumers Bankers Assn. This Association is devoted primarily to the problems of consumer credit and sales financing in commercial banks. The Guardian Bank, a pioneer in consumer credit in Ohio, has been a member of the association since its inception nearly forty years ago.—Stevens Indicator.

Psi Misses Fred Krehbiel

ON Dec. 2, Frederick W. Krehbiel, Psi '59, died as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident the preceding Saturday. His car was rammed on the lefthand side as he was attempting to make a turn onto Route 1 near Perth Amboy, N. J.

Brother Krehbiel was one of the most outstanding young men at Lehigh University. Captain of both the cross-country and track teams, Fred was considered to be the finest distance runner ever to enter Lehigh. In three seasons of cross-country, he had taken first place in 13 of 20 varsity meets and had placed fourth in the rugged Middle Atlantic championships. Last April he broke the 30-year-old Lehigh two-mile record by a full 15 seconds.

As treasurer of Psi for the past year, Fred had kept the books in perfect condition even though this had been a financially trying period. A major in industrial engineering, he was ranked in the upper third of his class.

He was a graduate of Elizabeth, N. J., High School where he was rated the top athlete and best scholar as well as being president of the Student Council.

Fred's outgoing personality and friendly manner had won him many friends at Lehigh and at other schools where his running had made him well known. His Brothers will never forget him.

"His race was not long, but run well."—DOUGLAS T. MERRILL.

Chi Phi Tops Allen-Rumsey

ON Nov. 6, an "historic" event took place on the Michigan intramural scene. The Residence Hall's football champion, Allen-Rumsey House, established a trophy and challenged the fraternity champion, Chi Phi, to a game for the all-campus championship. Chi Phi came out the victor and won by a score of 8-0; and, despite low score, seemed to dominate the play.

Terry Ziegler, the Chi Phi athletic chairman, mentioned that this type of activity was bound to improve fraternity-dormitory relations as well as provide another good athletic contest each year.

The trophy which Chi Phi will hold is a piece of stone column. It weighs over 100 pounds and will doubtless establish a new rivalry in the world of IM sports at Michigan.—Michigan Fraternities Report.

PAID YOUR

Dues?

Attorney Retires

JAMES W. DORSEY, Gamma '34, Alpha Alpha '36, U. S. Attorney for the Northern District of Georgia, stepped down from office after five years of service.

Mr. Dorsey, the first Republican to become district attorney here since 1933, leaves behind an outstanding record which has been praised by the members of two federal grand juries.

A grand jury meeting in Rome during November hailed Mr. Dorsey for a "most outstanding job in law enforcement work in his official capacity as a U. S. attorney and as a public servant in this region and nation."

Later a grand jury meeting in Atlanta lauded Mr. Dorsey for his five years of service. Joining in agreement with the sentiments of both resolutions were Federal Judges Boyd Sloan and Frank A. Hooper.

The affable district attorney announced in October that he had resigned his post effective Dec. 31 to go back to private practice.

"I have certainly enjoyed the service," Mr. Dorsey said at the time of his announcement. "It has been tremendously interesting and for that reason I hate to resign. But I feel that I have to return to private practice before I have been out too long a time."

Among the cases which Mr. Dorsey has prosecuted have been the recent conviction of two men charged with bribery in connection with inspection reports on clothing supplied the Atlanta General Depot by an Atlanta clothing firm.

In November of 1957 he prosecuted the case against Eldridge Price, a Georgia-born Texan who got several Georgians to invest thousands of dollars in worthless oil and uranium leases. Price was sentenced to seven years in prison.

The 44-year-old attorney was cited by Atty. Gen. Brownell in December, 1956, for considerably reducing the number of cases awaiting trial in the Northern District of Georgia. In 1955 Mr. Dorsey's office terminated cases against more than 1,000 defendants and opened 614 new cases.

The retiring DA comes from a family with a record of public service to the people of Georgia. He is the son of a former Democratic governor of the state, the late Hugh Dorsey, Sr.

However, Mr. Dorsey himself is a staunch Republican. He was an Eisenhower booster in 1952 and maintains that he will "continue to be active in the Republican Party in the state of Georgia" after his retirement.

Although he was removed from politics during his term of office, Mr. Dorsey did have one chance to land a partisan punch.

At a time when Republicans were being criticized for alleged soliciting of campaign funds from federal employes, the district attorney reached into his own mail box to produce a letter addressed to him and asking for a contribution for the Democrats. He made the letter public.

A graduate of Emory University and the University of North Carolina Law School, Mr. Dorsey saw combat action as a paratrooper in Europe during World War II.

He will join the Atlanta firm of Nall, Miller, Cadenhead and Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey live at their home on 99 Peachtree Battle Ave. N.W., with their two sons, James and Callaway.

Calms Rumor

DR. THOMAS KEITH GLENNAN, Omicron '27, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is faced with the task of trying to calm waters troubled by the rumor that NASA would take over scientists and laboratories from the Army Ordnance Missile Command. He must keep a sensible balance between space ventures and weapons for the national defense, according to an article in the November-December issue of Ordnance, published by the American Ordnance Assn.

Chi Phi to Meet in Minneapolis

MEMBERS of Chi Phi Fraternity liked Minneapolis so much as a convention city when they were here 10 years ago that they decided to hold their 1959 national convention in Minneapolis Sept. 2-4.

John Healy, vice president of Gardner Hardware Company, and president of the Northwest Chi Phi Club, said from 300 to 400 members of the Fraternity, both undergraduates and Alumni from all over the United States are expected to attend the Minneapolis convention.

Among the prominent members who will attend are three University of Minnesota graduates, Walter L. Rice, president of Reynolds Metal Corp. and vice president of Reynolds Aluminum Corp.; Sidney Swensrud, retired president of Gulf Oil Co., and Ralph Rotnem, a partner of Harris Upham & Co.

Rice and Swensrud are both recipients of the University of Minnesota outstanding achievement award presented to graduates.—Greater Minneapolis.

Minneapolis Visitor

CHI PHI FRATERNITY will be host to Alumni and L. Z. Rosser, Atlanta, Ga., National Director of the Fraternity, at a smoker, 8 p.m., Jan. 6, in the chapter house, 315 S.E. 19th Ave.

John J. Healy, president of the Northwest Chi Phi Club, will outline plans for the Fraternity's 1959 national congress to be held Sept. 4 to 7 in Minneapolis.—Minneapolis Star.

ing this year for the first time in my memory. In fact, only two years ago Brother Gray Ramsaur attempted to organize Alumni in the Jacksonville area, rented a small dining room in one of the Jacksonville hotels, and only one other Alumnus showed up; last year when several of us from Gainesville and the Theta Delta Chapter went over to help the Jacksonville Alumni get organized and build up greater interest, only six showed up for the meeting, but from that has grown an enthusiastic organization. Something seems to be shaping up gradually in Orlando, but there is still much to be desired. The Miami group meets occasionally for social functions, but does not support the state association.

25 Years for Eta Delta

Eta Delta Alumni will celebrate the Chapter's 25 years in Chi Phi Tuesday, April 7, 1959, with a dinner at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The chapter history at the University of Southern California dates back to 1898 as the oldest local on the SC campus, Theta Psi, merged with the second oldest local, Sigma Tau, to become Chi Phi on that date in 1933.

All Chi Phis in Southern California are cordially invited to attend. Reservations can be made through John Aldenbrook, 15034 Haynes St., Van Nuys. Telephone: State 0-8590.

to the writer, was the highest compliment any Brother could have. Upon the death of Brother Capers Dickson on June 11, 1914, he was interred in the cemetery in Oxford, the final resting place of so many persons connected with Emory College. His entire estate was left to a trust fund which was the beginning of Gamma Trust Association, the holding organization of Gamma's Chapter House, Tom Connally Hall.

Riding in his well-known buggy from Oxford, through Midway, to Covington and return, his picturesque appearance was as much a part of his era as Seney Hall with the striking clock on its tower, Few and Phi Gamma Literary Societies on the campus, Lovers' Lane adjoining the campus, and nearby River's Hill.

The combination of Brother Dickson's generosity, his long years of attendance upon all of Gamma Chapter's meetings, and his interest in the Brothers rendered him as a legend while living and, together with Brother Thomas Whipple Connally, a rightful place among Gamma of Chi Phi's immortals.

Almost 90 eventful years have elapsed since Brother Capers Dickson was initiated into Chi Phi, where he so ably was a leader in the installation of Gamma Chapter. The Greek letters, Chi Phi, so appropriately appearing upon his memorial at his place of interment, will afford all in the coming years a constant reminder of the devotion and forward planning of so skilled a Founder of one of Chi Phi's very important Chapters.

Gladfelter Heads Undergraduate Meet

As chairman of NIC's Committee on Undergraduate Relations Carl J. Gladfelter has been in charge of the planning for what promises to be a highly profitable Undergraduate Conference. A graduate of the University of Michigan in 1933, he also took a master's degree in business administration in 1934 from that institution. After 14 years of experience in retail business in Detroit, in 1948 he joined the faculty of the University of Connecticut, where he is associate professor of marketing.

His direct acquaintance with youth is not confined to the classroom. He has held various offices in Chi Phi Fraternity in the past 15 years, retiring last year from the national presidency after serving for four years. He is now ritualistic officer for the Fraternity and adviser to the University of Connecticut's Chi Phi Chapter. He is chairman of the University Athletic Committee and the father of a daughter and three sons, one in college, one in the Army, and one in kindergarten.—NIC News.

COLLEGE CHAPTERS

Alpha Turns Out Good Wrestlers

ROBERT M. DAVISON, Alpha
University of Virginia

ALPHA regrets to report the passing of Phillip Porter on Nov. 17, 1958, after a long illness. "Doc" Phil, who laid the cornerstone of the present chapter house, will be long remembered for his 41 years of faithful service to the Fraternity. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Josephine Porter, 341 Tenth St., Charlottesville. A plaque will be placed on the fireplace in his memory.

This fall Alpha has pledged the following second-year men: Tony Butler, Baltimore, Md.; Charles Cox, Arlington; and Alex Turner, Fredericksburg. Initiated were C. I. Johnson, Mineral; John F. Macon, Norfolk; Phillip Morton, Charlottesville; and Clark C. Stearns, Cincinnati, Ohio. We are looking forward to taking in a large pledge class during the formal rush week which begins in March.

Dabney Overton married the former Hannah Hale during the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDaniel had a son, Stuart Scott, on Dec. 30.

In intramural sports, Alpha did exceptionally well. Our football team, captained by Mason Minnich, took second place honors in the league. Norman Littlejohn swept all the honors in the intramural squash tournament. In bowling, John Brimmer became the first in university history to attain a perfect score. Alpha Bob Davison captained the volley ball team to a superb 6-1 record. Two Alphas won first place in their weight class in intramural wrestling: Mason Minnich, 195 lbs., and Charles Cox, 110 lbs. In other fields, John Macon became editor of the Long Glass, NROTC newspaper, while Charles Ellsworth Spink became society editor of The Cavalier Daily. The annual Openings Carburn party was an unusual success this year.—MASON F. MINNICH.

Beta Foundation Has New Members

ROBERT S. HOPKINS, Alpha
M.I.T.

ANOTHER year of football and basketball has passed at Beta. We stand slightly defeated, but undaunted. As they say in Brooklyn, "Wait till next year." John Windle, however, found it unnecessary to wait till next year as, for the second year in a row, he won both the 50- and 100-yard free style events in the All-Institute swim. John was also initiated into HKN, honorary electrical engineering society.

The Beta Foundation has gained two new faces and a mortgage. The new faces belong to Clint Seely '50 and Lloyd Brace, Jr. '56. Brothers Fred Grant '39 and Francis Kittridge '26, obtained a mortgage so that our pantry could receive necessary remodeling. Bob John, our waiter, Roosevelt Bryant, our cook, and Arthur Robinson, our all-around man, are reportedly happy with the new arrangement.

The traditional Hallowe'en pledge party was its usual success and featured a skit put on by the pledges titled "Sex, Sadism, and Sacrilege." Our Christmas party for underprivileged children and our Christmas formal were also successful affairs.

At our recent elections the officers elected were: Robert Hopkins, Alpha; Robert de Michaels, Beta; John Suhrbier, Gamma; Bill Slager, Delta; and John Windle, Epsilon.

Beta was pleased to have had visitors from Zeta Delta, Zeta, Phi, and Chi Chapters so far this term. Ron Keenhold, Psi '54, is the freshman swimming coach at MIT and is living with us here at Beta. The doors at "32" are open; drop in if you're in the neighborhood.—R. S. MROCKOWSKI.

Gamma Receives Bequest of $1,000

BURKE KILE, Alpha
Emory University

SEVENTEEN men have pledged at Gamma this past fall: Clint Moore, Richard Lawrence, Charles McCarthy, Mike Pickett, Charles Burdeshaw, Arthur Bagby, Hal Burnett, Paul Christian, Paul Cahoon, David Heath, Larry Culpepper, George Fiebelkorn, Louie Griffin, James Ham, Bob Brinson, and Al Clemones. Our newest pledge is Charles Lewis.

Upon returning to school after the holidays, we found that the Chapter had been bequeathed a thousand dollars in the will of Mrs. Sally Brown Connally Martin. Mrs. Martin, who died on Dec. 13, was the widow of H. Warner Martin who had been president of The Trust Company of Georgia. The money will go to the Gamma Trust Assn. to help pay for the new addition built a year ago.

On Dec. 20 our sponsor, Miss Charlene Bell, and outgoing Beta Robert Shear were married. The wedding and the reception took place in the chapel of the Decatur Presbyterian Church in Decatur, Ga. Their honeymoon was a trip to New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl. As a wedding present the Chapter gave them six silver goblets. On the following day, Dec. 21, Ross Raines took the big step as he married Barbara Helms of Thomaston, Ga.

Gamma has recently elected new officers for the forthcoming term: Burke Kile, Alpha; Robert MacDonell, Beta; Dick Taylor, Gamma; Bob Phillip, Delta; Jack Butterworth, Epsilon; and John Gresham, Zeta.—JOHN GRESHAM.

Delta Dormant After Christmas

Epsilon Alumni Refurbish House

HUBERT STALLARD, Alpha
Hampden-Sydney College

PLEDGE DAY came the second week in December. We welcomed 10 outstanding freshmen as pledges: Pete Bryant, John Ballard, Walt Penn, Garnett Hall, Herb Wolff, Jimmy Thomas, Glenn Thomas, Buddy Sligh, Bill Kempton, and Mac Price.

During OAK tapping ceremonies, George McVey received the award for the most outstanding freshman of last year. George is following closely in his older brother's footsteps as far as awards are concerned. Hal McVey '52, Alpha of Epsilon in '57, graduated with ΦBK honors and is now attending the University of Virginia Law School.

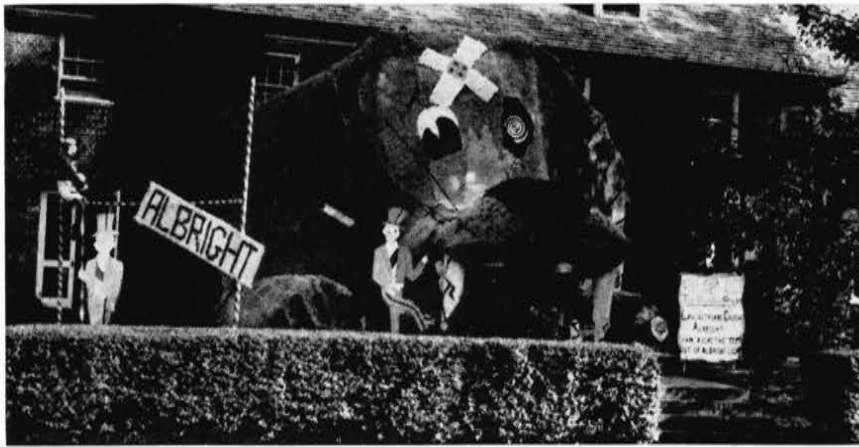

Through the efforts of a Brother, M. L. T. Hughes '22, and other Alumni, the house has taken on a new look by the addition of many new pieces of furniture. We are hoping now to obtain some furniture for the second floor.—NORTON HOWE.

Zeta's Homecoming Display Won

JOSEPH P. NOLT, Alpha
Franklin & Marshall College

A NEW administration was recently installed for the coming semester at Zeta. Elected were Joseph P. Nolt, Alpha; Mark McGill, Beta; Bill Sowers, Gamma; Dick Barrett, Delta; Bill Brandt, Epsilon; and John Buchanan, steward. During the past semester at Zeta, there was an atmosphere of spirit and co-operation present throughout the house. This is a natural phenomenon at the beginning of each year, but this year, unlike others, this atmosphere has sustained itself and even increased throughout the semester. Accomplishments of the semester that are outstanding are the winning of the Homecoming Display, winning of the Black Pyramid Wrestling Tournament, second place in the I.F. football league, and a fine rushing program.

Long hours and patience won the Homecoming display trophy for Zeta this year. Under the careful planning and capable leadership of Joe Nolt, a huge lion's head was constructed out of chicken wire and crêpe paper. Full coöperation from the brotherhood was needed and received to finish the enormous structure.

Under the leadership of Joe Nolt, Zeta constructed this huge lion's head to win the Homecoming display contest

For the second straight year Zeta emerged victorious in the Black Pyramid Wrestling Tournament. The margin of victory was 66-53 over our nearest competitor, with Brothers Iliff, Baker, Current, and Hoeschele going all the way to the top.

In the rushing department Zeta is way above the level of previous years. With only a few weeks remaining before we take our pledge class, we feel we will be getting the top men in the Freshman Class and men who will make good Chi Phis. This year's rushing program was headed by Joe Nolt.

The social calendar was very complete with a function held at the house every weekend with only a few exceptions. The Homecoming and Winter Weekend highlighted the semester's social calendar. Four rushing parties were held with Dr. John B. Shenk, a local hypnotist, featured at the one smoker. Open house for the freshmen's parents on Parents Weekend proved to help our rushing program.—NEIL H. POTTER.

Eta Silent on Prowess

Theta Trains 14 Pledges

KERMIT HISER, Alpha
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

As this semester draws to a close, Theta can look back over a successful rushing season which netted us 14 new pledges, two of whom were upperclassmen. During the rushing period we were glad to have Judge Rosser pay us a visit, which, for a change, turned out to be purely social and highly enjoyable. Getting the pledges to work early, we had new rugs laid down on the second and third floors of the house.

As a result of elections held last week, the new officers in the house are: Alpha, Kermit Hiser; Beta, Al Interian; Gamma, Ed Bok; Delta, Bob Peterson; Social Chairman, Bob Bardagjy.

Looking towards sports, Brother Dignazio, who was captain of R.P.I.'s football team was given honorable mention for eastern small colleges. Our attention now focuses on Brother Ottone, who has been turning in outstanding performances as goalie for the R.P.I. hockey team.

In the alumni department, we were glad to see Art Murphy stop by. Art's on his way to the Navy's O.C.S. at Newport, R. I. The last we heard from Hank Odenweller is that he plans to get married this summer, and along the same lines, Frank Thornhill stopped by last month to introduce us to his wife.—BARRY WEISSMAN.

Iota Expresses Fraternity Belief

JOHN DONNELLY, Alpha
Ohio State University

IOTA is in the process of recovery from a much enjoyed holiday vacation and preparation for another quarter of "hitting the books." All hands have reported back to the house without a feeling of regret, but rather, a feeling of want for the great brotherhood that Chi Phi offers.

We would like to report that our new chapter room was finished in time for the initiation of Brothers Raynak and Jones, and our new recreation room will be completed within a few weeks. A large converted room has been placed at the disposal of the pledge class with the object of keeping the out-of-the-house pledges in closer contact with the fraternity house by furnishing a location in the house that is common to the whole pledge class.

Socially, Iota is very pleased with its previously held Spider Web Party, a hayride, a semi-formal rush party which netted a capacity of 150 people, and an annual Christmas formal which ended the winter quarter with happiness.

Another addition to Iota will be a new housemother. Our previous housemother left due to illness and at the present, we are in the process of interviewing some 30 applicants.

Brothers Howard and Brower graduated autumn quarter and joined the numerous ranks of Iota's Alumni. We would like to extend a hand of congratulations to all Brothers who have previously graduated and wish them success in all fields which they encounter.

Iota's future includes plans for its annual Bowery Party and a Playboy formal. In closing, we would like to express our feelings concerning the word "frat." It is Iota's belief, and probably that of many others, that if one is a member of a brotherhood bearing the title fraternity, it should be his duty to honor this type of organization and desire to belong to something other than an abbreviation.—PHILIP R. KOCH.

Kappa Repeats Homecoming Win

EUGENE JOHNSON, Alpha
University of Wisconsin

AFTER completing another very successful rush during the formal rushing period, we were rewarded with a pledge class of 27 men. This was due in a large part to our rushing chairman, Neil Burmeister, who has continued his program on an informal basis during the rest of the term with excellent results.

Rushing was just the beginning of a very successful term for Kappa. Plans were immediately started for our Homecoming display under the direction of John Markworth and Joe Lonsdorf. With the coöperation and effort of all of the Brothers, and some help from their dates during the final week, we won the top fraternity trophy for the second year in a row.

This year, under Bill McCorkle, our athletic chairman, we are making an all-out bid for the Badger Bowl, presented annually to the top fraternity in intramural athletics. Having won league titles in both football and volleyball and then gaining extra points from our playoff victories in each event, we are now all alone in first place in the overall standings. With four more sports to be completed soon, we hope to retain our present position and look forward to applying the finishing touches next semester.

Again this term we have enjoyed another top social season. In addition to our sorority suppers held every Friday night, our traditional theme parties have also met with great success. The Cherokee Chug-a-lug, the Hunting Party, and the Winter Formal again proved to be the highlights while the pledges found added enjoyment in pledge parties with the ΔTs, ΑΧΩs, ΚΚTs, and the ΚΑΘs. Dick Christiansen, our social chairman, has already planned many more interesting parties for next term.

Under the direction of Tom Rowe, our Father-Son banquet, following the Dad's

Day football game, was a big success. Although Governor Thompson was not able to speak to us this year, the banquet, as well as the one held by our Mothers' Club at the same time, was enjoyed by all. Another dinner to which we invited all of the sorority social chairmen was equally well received.

Recently we initiated four men following a delay caused by football training regulations. These men are Reinhard Kammer, Gerald Kulcinski, Dennis Neihbur, and John Oleson. We are looking forward to the spring term when we can initiate our large pledge class into the Brotherhood.

Recent chapter elections provided six Brothers with new chapter offices: Eugene Johnson, Alpha; Bill Thomas, Beta; Ron Adamson, Gamma; Neil Burmeister, Delta; Dave Asmus, Epsilon, and Chuck Robb, Zeta. Bill Strang will continue as steward and Jack Johnson is our new Chapter Adviser.

A special vote of thanks is given to Eugene Bjerning, our past Alpha. Gene will graduate this February and takes with him the congratulations and thanks of the whole Chapter for a job well done.—CHARLES ROBB.

Lambda Comes Out of Isolation

PAUL WADSWORTH, Alpha
University of California

LAMBDA got off to a good start this semester with 25 men returning. Under the excellent direction of Rush Chairman Bill Hart and with the great help of alumni recommendations, we pledged 15 men: Pete Allen, Gene Burns, Bob Clark, Pete Cooper, Clinton de Witt, Jim Holstrom, Gordon Huntly, Dan Ipson, Kent Jakobsen, Cash Johnson, Chuck Osthimer, Bob Rupley, Tom Russel, Bill Rutherford, and Bob Soper.

Bruce Rice and John Fraser were recently named to the Skull and Keys, men's honor society, while Mike Good and Ken Meade were named to Winged Helmet. Lambda is well represented in Triune, the sophomore honor society, with a total of six members. The social calendar this semester was filled out by the usual amount of house parties, exchanges and the Winter Formal.

Dave Allen is presently holding down a position on the varsity crew. Jim Holstrom is out for the varsity tennis team, and Pete Allen is out for the freshmen squad. Dan Ipson received his freshmen letter, playing halfback on the frosh team. Ken Meade saw action in the Rose Bowl at quarterback. At the end of the regular season at the annual football banquet, Ken received the coveted Dink Artel Memorial Trophy. While in Los Angeles for the Rose Bowl, the Eta Delta Chapter gave us the run of their house, solving the lodging problem for most of us.

Due to the new rigid scholastic requirements, Beta Tom Dixon has tightened pledge study rules and evening quiet hours have been more strictly enforced. We expect improvement in our scholastic standing this semester.—PETER MORSE.

Nu Forgets Chakett Deadline

Xi Examines House and the Future

JOE RUGGIE, Alpha
Cornell University

FOR the past few months some of the more industrious brothers at Xi, along with topnotch architects and engineers, have been carefully looking at the house's structural condition and promise. There has been some feeling that possibly a major remodeling job or possibly even a new house might be forthcoming in the future. So far complete plans of the whole house have been compiled by the undergraduate architects, and Brother Fitzpatrick has done a notable job in securing opinions and advice from interested parties. The future of the house which has stood above the gorge since 1891 hangs in the balance.

As the end of the term approaches, the Brotherhood is gearing itself for rushing which begins in early February. Brother Coppage already has a substantial list of names, but any further good men which you, our readers, may know are certainly welcome and will be appreciated by Rushing Chairman Coppage and the rest of the Chapter. This year marks a new era in rushing as a system of smokers is being initiated to replace some of the usual meals of the past. Part of midterm vacation is used for rush, but time is saved accordingly at the beginning of the following term. The chances are the new system will work out very well, especially in that it will be a financial gain for the Fraternity.

The fire that swept the basement of the house in September inflicted considerable damage. However, at the present time, the downstairs portion has been completely repaired and precautions have been taken so that such an instance will not occur in the future.

Probably the biggest event at the house this year was the banquet given in honor of Fritz Krebs in November. This was to acknowledge the appreciation that we Brothers at Xi have for all the devotion and work that Brother Krebs has shown us throughout the years. A portrait is being painted of Brother Krebs which will be hung in the library of the house.

The Chapter is also very proud of Gerritt White. Brother White, a sophomore, a swimmer on the varsity team, has cracked two Cornell University records and is destined to become one of the greatest swimmers in the University's history. Our congratulations to Brother White for his achievements.—DAVID G. FORMAN, JR.

Omicron Loses Dean's Cup

WILL ROSS, Alpha
Yale University

ON Dec. 7, the Omicron Chapter initiated 11 students into the Brotherhood. These fortunate men were A. Scott Pike, New York; Thomas Beeson, Meriden; Don Puchala, Buffalo; James Jones, Wheeling, W. Va.; Fred Profeta, Jr., Maplewood, N. J.; William Paul Youngclaus, III, Elm Grove, Wis.; Wilbur Dexter Johnston, Jr., Hamden; Edward Feltberg Von Wettberg, III, Wilmington, Del.; J. Frederick Grassle, Bay Village, Ohio; Andrew Erickson, Cranston, R. I.; and Anthony Adinolfi, New Haven.

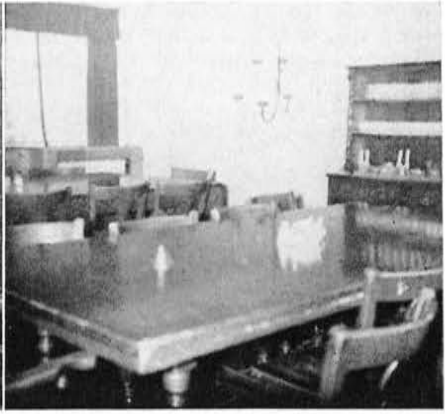

On Dec. 9, the new Executive Board to serve for 1959 was chosen: Thomas Conklin, Hinsdale, Ill., Alpha; Caesar Naples, Buffalo, N. Y., Beta; George Levine, West Hartford, Gamma; Donn Byrne, Kent, Ohio, Delta; and Silas Hoadley, Washington, Conn., Epsilon. Zeta Peter Weiner was given a rousing vote of confidence and will serve until June.

The Chapter missed retaining the Dean's Cup by .04 points. It is awarded to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average.—PETER WEINER.

Pi Purchases House in Quad

DARYL FRAZELL, Alpha
Northwestern University

WE are proud to announce the purchase of the Acacia house at Northwestern for use next fall as a chapter house. Pi's growth has been somewhat hindered by an off-campus house with a maximum capacity of 17. The new chapter house is situated in the midst of the North Quads overlooking Lake Michigan. The house, which was completed in 1938, is one of the newest on campus. The 2-story brick building has 12 sleeping rooms, housing 25 men, a spacious lounge, and a large basement. The downstairs dining area has been serving Acacia's present membership of 80 men and can seat 100 diners if necessary. The house was purchased in a closed bidding session in which Pi Chapter was high bidder over Psi Upsilon and Chi Psi. Rudolph O. Schlosser, Pi '52, our Chapter Adviser, is to be particularly commended for his handling of the bidding. Our Chapter wishes to express its appreciation to Judge L. Z. Rosser for providing the needed impetus to set this project into motion. Also, we wish to thank our Alumni in the Chicago area who helped in this project. Among those who were present for the bidding and discussion sessions were: Sidney Moody, Kappa '20; Paul Fulton, Sigma; Donald Armstrong, Pi; Frank Hartell, Pi; David Fairfield, Sigma; and Philip Guzzetta, Pi '57.

Pi is the new owner of this house at Northwestern. At the left of the front door you can see the wing of the Theta Xi house. The steps lead to the adjacent parking lot. The dining room will accommodate 80

Upholding our standards in scholarship this year are Joel Russell who was nominated to $\Phi H \Sigma$, freshman honor society, for his fine record, and Vernon Rizisenteiter who was nominated to the engineering honorary, $T B I I$. We are pleased to report that our pledges also made a fine showing this quarter with a 2.74 average.

Ritual, as an integral part of fraternity life, has been given a new emphasis by our Alpha, Daryl Frazell. Our aim is to have our newer members learn and understand the ritual as completely as our graduating seniors.—BRUCE STRICKLAND.

Rho Grid Star Awarded Honor

ROBERT LEYDEN, Alpha
Lafayette College

RHO has elected new officers for the 1958-59 school year: Robert Leyden, Alpha; Jerry Myers, Beta; Thomas Walsh, Gamma; Carl Metzgar, Delta; Wayne Wrightstone, Epsilon; William Rafos, Zeta. Other officers elected were Carl Metzgar, pledgemaster; Jerry Day, houseman. William Rafos and Sam Davies were initiated in October. Bob Weaver resigned from the Rho Chapter in November.

Frank "Dutch" Schwab, P '22, 1921-22 All-American guard at Lafayette College and a newly elected National Football Hall of Fame member, was honored between halves of the Lafayette-Lehigh football game in November. President K. Roald Bergethon presented Dutch with a scroll citing him for his "accomplishments on the gridiron at Lafayette." The scroll also noted that Dutch was president of the Class of 1923, Knights of the Round Table, honorary society, Chi Phi, and also a member of the first Student Council organized at Lafayette. Many other Rho Alumni returned for the game and open house, which was part of Lafayette I. F. Weekend.

ing forward to a terrific Brotherhood as it will probably initiate a high percentage of its pledge class. Further, Chi Phi is exerting every effort to maintain its high fraternal position on Lafayette campus and is continually placing emphasis on scholarship and progress toward campus prominence in extracurricular activities.—WILLIAM W. RAFOS.

Sigma Chartered Bus for Dinner

ALAN C. SWANSON, Alpha
University of Illinois

HOMECOMING for 1958 was an excellent time for all those who attended. The weatherman tried to dampen the Homecoming spirit with some ill-planned showers, but the spirit of good fellowship prevailed at "303." Homecoming plans are made well in advance with the center of activity being the construction of the decorations. Our theme this year was "The Little Goose That Laid the Golden Egg," following the theme of "Fables for '58." Alumni attendance was excellent, with about 100 Alumni present. The large turnout was due to the efforts of the Sigma of Chi Phi Assn. officers, who started organizing for the event more than two months in advance. Friday night, the Brothers and Alumni gathered at a campus spot for the usual good cheer and many songs. An open house at the chapter house followed the game. The weekend was topped off by an excellent party that night.

Twenty-six Chi Phi dads made the trip to Sigma Chapter for Dads' Day weekend, Nov. 14-15, and all had a good time. Marring the weekend slightly, but not stopping the fun, Illinois lost to Wisconsin 31-12. We had a good time in spite of the score. (No comments from Kappa, please.) The Dads' Day banquet was held in the chapter house Saturday night. The Dolphin Show, an aquatic show, University Theater, and the Men's Glee Club provided early evening entertainment for the Brothers and their dads. There was a party at the house later on, after which a group of fathers and sons serenaded the rest of the house for several hours into the morning.

Our winter formal, "Night in a Swiss Ski Lodge," was held in the chapter house on Dec. 13. This year's formal was arranged differently from previous parties. A major feature which was changed was the date of the banquet, which was held at dinner time on Sunday instead of the night of the dance. In place of the Saturday night banquet, the Chi Phis and their dates went to Rodney's Supper Club at 6:30 and enjoyed the Dixieland music of Bob Scoby and his 'Frisco jazz band. Upon the idea submitted by the pledge class, the Chapter rented a bus and was transported to and from Rodney's. The dates thought the bus ride was a very unusual and enjoyable idea.—WAYNE CHILCOTE.

Tau Trust Redecorates House

LARRY WOOD, Alpha
University of Alabama

TAU began the year by pledging 16 boys. A new pledge training program was installed which required all pledges to attend a study hall three days a week for three hours, attend all Tau sports events, and put in so many work hours a week. The pledges receive points according to their completion of requirements. Recognition will be given to the most outstanding pledge.

If all Chi Phis read the paper, they have noticed that the big "Red Elephant" is on its way back to football glory. Tau was well represented on this year's team by Baxter Booth, Dave Sington, Fred Sington, Jr., and Chuck Allen.

The happiest news Tau has received for some time is that the Tau Trust Fund is functioning again with C. O. Paugh as president, Sterling MacDonald, vice president, and "Pep" Johnson, secretary-treasurer. Within a short time after being elected, Brother Paugh brought up a plan for a complete redecoration of the first, second, and third floors of our house. This was started during the Christmas holidays and completed shortly after. For the help and work done by Tau Trust and others who made this possible, the active members of Tau would like to express our thanks and appreciation.

Last, but not least, Tau would like to congratulate our new officers: Larry Wood, Alpha; Jerry James, Beta; Nelson Noel, Gamma; Ronald Montgomery, Delta; and Gordon Pugsley, Epsilon.—
KEITH L. MOORE.

Phi Corporation Sets Priorities

RICHARD L. WOOTEN, Alpha
Amherst College

PHI's membership was strengthened this fall by the return of Robert Wood and Pledges Joseph Moriarity, Peter Deisroth, and David Howell from leaves of absence. It is true at Amherst that the great proportion of those who enter college do graduate and this serves to make for better fraternal groups than would result from a higher student turnover rate.

The Phi News Letter, edited by Art Capone, reported to those Alumni who could not be present, on the banquet in honor of initiates, Ralph Aldrich, Charles Chotkowski, Peter Deisroth, Frank Horsfall, David Howell, Richard Howland, Richard Kozera, Roger Long, Joel Mague, Stanley Masters, Stephen Menschel, Joseph Moriarity, William Pratt, David Ring, Stephen Shepley, Daniel Thatcher, Philip Thatcher, John Whitney, and James Wood. Brothers Howland and Moriarity were elected Epsilons at the fall election.

For our house party held Dec. 6, the theme, "Pearl Harbor Day," was selected. The party was well attended by assorted naval officers, bombed-out refugees, and beachcombers.

At the corporation meeting on Homecoming Weekend support was sought by the Chapter for certain necessary maintenance and improvement projects which cannot be financed solely by the undergraduates. The move was acted upon favorably and a Capital Improvements Committee has been established to examine worthwhile projects and set up priorities.

At the winter elections, Richard L. Wooten, Jack Freels, and William Corbett were elected Alpha, Beta, and Delta, respectively.

Finally, the field of competition for the Meyer-Sniffen Trophy has been widened by the addition of one dog into the running.—WILLIAM VETTER.

Chi Wins Two Awards

PAUL DOWNING, Alpha
Dartmouth College

THE first term proved to be a profitable one for Chi Phi in the Dartmouth interfraternity competition. Interfraternity Awards Night found Chi the recipient of the ΣX Scholarship Trophy for the most improvement in academic standing and the plaque for second place among the 24 fraternities for "Combined Achievement."

The Fraternity's football prowess certainly did not rival the Ivy League championship varsity, but our team did culminate the season's activity with a resounding 42-0 win over $\Sigma \Phi E$ in the final game.

Chi has been fortunate to enlist the services of John Sweetland, Chi '50, as our new Chapter Adviser. We thank him for offering to donate his time to us. We welcome Jerre Manne '58 back to campus where he plans to continue his graduate study.

The annual Christmas party for the Hanover kindergarten children was very successful, chiefly because of the spontaneity of Santa Claus Press. It is debatable, however, whether the children or the Brothers had the better time.

Recently the college radio station and the Dean's Office conducted a campaign to raise money for musical instruments to be given to a Hungarian refugee who was formerly first clarinetist for the Budapest Symphony. Response was poor, however, until Chi's pledge class collected $275 in one evening, putting the total receipts well over the goal. Subsequently, the clarinetist was able to perform with the Hanover Handel Society at their first concert of the season.

We'd like to thank all the Alumni and friends who attended Chi's Alumni Weekend this fall. We hope it was an enjoyable weekend for you and that more Alumni will be able to return next fall.—
DAVE MORGAN.

Psi to Host Regional Meeting

BURGESS ALFRED THOMASSON, Alpha
Lehigh University

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY is trying a new method of freshman contact this year. The freshmen were contacted from Oct. 20-Dec. 19. They then decided which fraternities they were most interested in and signed up to visit them during Rush Week, which starts March 15. The freshmen must go to four different houses the first four days of Rush Week or be declared ineligible for pledging. Therefore, from the point of view of the fraternities, these first four days of Rush Week are extremely important. During the two month contacting period, the "hot" men have been visited repeatedly by Chi Phi. The results of our efforts will be measured by the quality of our pledge class next March.

During the second week of December our pledges were run through the traditional pledge exercises. The boys came through with flying colors and are now eligible for initiation. For those who have qualified scholastically, the initiation ceremony will take place on Jan. 4.

In intramural sports, Chi Phi is having a so-so season. The football team, after a tremendous start, ran into opposition which proved to be too tough and finished with a three won, three lost record. In the University cross country meet we placed 7th out of 72 living groups. At present, we are anxiously awaiting the start of the interfraternity wrestling tournament.

In the spring, Psi will play host to the Eastern Regional meeting of the Chi Phi Chapters. We are looking forward to seeing you all.—DOUGLAS T. MERRILL.

Omega Wins Fund Honors

PAUL ROBERTS, Alpha
Georgia Institute of Technology

OMEGA was proud to take top honors again in the annual Empty Stocking Fund Drive in Atlanta. Each year the Georgia Tech fraternities have helped the Northside Jaycees conduct their drive in the Northwest section. In 1956 Omega collected the highest amount of money. Last year Pete Hodges, who was in charge of the collection this year, collected the highest individual amount. This year Pete's fine leadership spearheaded a collection of $1,002.68. This gave us the award for the most outstanding participation among the large fraternities with a collection of $10.33 per man. Herb Skinner was awarded a plaque for collecting the highest individual amount with $215.00. One donor gave Herb a check for $100.00 This is the second successive year that a Chi Phi has obtained this honor.

We had a jolly Christmas party for Church Home orphans at end of last quarter. Some 22 boys and girls were treated to ice cream and cake before Santa arrived with presents for all.

New officers for the winter and spring quarter are Paul Roberts, Alpha; Ned Neely, Beta; Dozier Martin, Gamma; Bard Rudder, Delta; Frank Beacheam, Epsilon; Jodie Lee, Zeta; Bill Harden, housemanager.—JODIE LEE.

Alpha-Alpha Likes Eta Delta Skin

BOB MAULDIN, Alpha
University of North Carolina

UNDER the leadership of Alpha Bobby Mauldin of China Grove, the first semester has been very pleasing. Our pledge class has lived up to the high expectations that we have had for them and we are all eager to have them as Brothers. As officers they have chosen Joe Bell, president; Graig Ross, secretary; Tom Allred, treasurer; and Sam Mewshaw, social chairman. Of the pledges Rudy Mansfield played freshman football; Bob Birkenstock and Pete Wilday participated in freshman swimming; and Joe Bell was manager of the freshman basketball team. Brother Davis Young was elected president of the Sophomore Class and Jim Rattay, as its captain, led the varsity soccer team to a very successful season, winning eight games and losing only two. In the field of fraternity sports, under Intramural Manager Parks Helms, we were runners up in our volleyball division after a mediocre football season.

Scholastically, Beta Jim Rattay believes that we are holding the gains that we made in grades last year. Al Goldsmith, a Rhodes Scholarship candidate, narrowly missed representing this school. He is to be congratulated as an outstanding student.

We have initiated four new members: Tony Morris, Dick Smith, Phil Mauldin, and Davis Young.

We want to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to Eta Delta Chapter at USC for being so generous as to contribute a "skin" to our growing collection after Carolina's hard fought victory this year.—BILL WARDLAW.

Alpha-Tau Wins Athletic Honors

THEODORE A. KOTILA, Alpha
University of Michigan

ALPHA-TAU found pre-season speculation a reality this year as our intramural football team swept the all-campus class "A" division for the coveted trophy. Homecoming did much to put Alpha-Tau in the limelight as the Brothers walked away with display honors in the "Winner-Though-Not-So-Judged" class. Rushing brought nine pledges of exceptionally high caliber even though there was terrific competition among Michigan fraternities for the comparatively small number of fall rushees. Father's Weekend, an Alpha-Tau first in 1927, brought out one of the highest number of dads ever to see a football game and party later with neighbor sorority women and their fathers.

Members of the Alpha-Tau "A" team which garnered all-campus fraternity intramural honors and the all-campus residence hall championship are Terry Zeigler, athletic chairman, Bruce Conybeare, Sam Hall, John Kemp, Ted Kotila, "Gerb" Gerbel, Bruce Mitchell, Tom Nell, Gary Rupert, and Dick Schmuck. As mentioned above, Alpha-Tau was the winner of two trophies, this situation brought about when the independent football champions, Allen-Rumsey House, challenged them to a game to decide the campus championship. The high-rolling members smothered the independents for their second title as they had done previously to ΣΦΕ for the all-fraternity honors. Thus, in addition to the all-fraternity circulating trophy, Alpha-Tau sports the ornate Stragilian Trophy presented them by the vanquished campus independents.

Pledges, taken in the fall rush, have proved apt and enthusiastic students of Alpha-Tau lore: Al Butzbaugh, Benton Harbor; Jeff Brett, Grosse Pointe; Dave Busch, Saginaw; Dan Cumiskey; and Karl Frankena, Ann Arbor; John Dewane, Menominee; Gerry Spinazze, Dowagiac; and Tom Stone, Grand Rapids. Men of this quality are always desired at Alpha-Tau and Alumni are urged to keep recommends current to the rushing chairman.

Several Brothers having taken the plunge, there are some four serenades to be sung plus some homage to Thespian as the Brothers enter the dramatic field in all-campus competition Spring Weekend.

From all indications, scholastic position on campus should rise on a par with athletic as none of the Brothers appear to be in any great trouble. After the slight dip last semester in both categories, Alpha-Taus seem determined to surge back and even exceed their high achievements of 1958—HUBERT SMITH.

Alpha-Chi Hears Building Plans

KEN TERRY, Alpha
Ohio Wesleyan University

THE elections at the "Oaks" found Ken Terry reelected Alpha; Ray Pond, Beta; Brothers Alexander and Cochran, Gamma and Epsilon, respectively. Brother Blakely is Delta and Brother McNew is Zeta.

Homecoming Weekend was highlighted this year by the Alumni Council informing the Brothers that they were starting plans to build a new house. Although there has been no definite date set for the building, we are hopeful that it will be started within the next six years. We hope that all our Alumni will get behind the Alumni Council by supporting this much-needed addition to Alpha-Chi.

Marv Fischer, Interfraternity Council treasurer, attended the NIC meeting at Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 5-7. Brother Fischer found the meeting very enlightening to the fraternity spirit at the national level. He was also proud to report that Brothers Rosser and Gladfelter participated in the convention.

Social Chairman "Buz" Zalher has kept a full social calendar for the Brothers. He has had dessert parties with the sorority pledge classes as well as our Winter Formal and additional theme parties throughout the years.—ROBERT McNEW.

Alpha Delta Sets Life Memberships

DAVID J. JOHNSON, Alpha
The Pennsylvania State University

ALPHA DELTA has initiated a lifetime membership plan. The plan calls for each member to contribute $100 which will buy them an equity in the house. This sum can be paid on an installment basis. Alumni are being informed of the details of the plan at the present time. This money will go into a fund which will finance the improvements and repairs which are necessary to the house as the years go by. Previous to this there was no fund of this type and loans had to be floated in order to make major repairs and improvements. The present actives are very interested in this plan and have given evidence of doing their part by pledging to pay part during their undergraduate study. Much of the success of the plan depends upon the response of the Alumni who are the lifeline of the Chapter. Alumni should keep in mind that they will not be merely contributing $100, but receiving a bond for an equity in the house in return.

In the last issue we expressed our optimism about our chances in the intramural program here at Penn State. The last official point tabulation has proven our optimism to be correct since we were the number 5 fraternity out of the 55 participating in the intramural program. Much of this success is due to our athletic chairman, Brother Bollinger, who works enthusiastically at his job. The surge towards the top was started by Pledge Morton who captured second place in the golf-medal play. The football team had a 2-2 record, but the losses were inflicted by a field goal and an edge in first downs as the team did not give up a touchdown all year. Brothers Houck and Borchert garnered their share of the points in tennis with Brother Houck advancing to the quarter-finals. The bowling team is in the upper half of their league. In boxing Brother Hall proved himself to be a strong contender for the 155-pound title when he outclassed his opponent in his first bout, but an arm injured in an auto accident, kept him from continuing. At the present time the basketball team is on a 3-game winning streak and has an overall record of four wins and a loss which puts them into a first place tie in their section. This semester we are counting heavily on our wrestling, swimming, and volleyball teams to further increase our point total. In varsity sports, Pledge Hoak was awarded a varsity "S" for his play in the past football season. Hoak was named player of the week twice and was a standout against our traditional rival, Pitt. A souvenir of this game, the crossbar of the goalpost, now hangs in our party room, compliments of Brothers Guffy and Hood, and Pledge Marnoni.

The house has had some new improvements as a result of the work done in the pledge class projects. The house-mother's suite, the dining room, the hallway and door at the rear entrance to the house were painted.

The results of the winter elections are: Alpha, David J. Johnson; Beta, Joseph E. Hendrickson; Gamma, Emil Senkowski; Delta, Charles F. Edmunds; Epsilon,

John A. Borchert; Zeta, James R. Molinari; Eta, J. Spencer Huston; and Caterer, C. Henry Barner.—JIM MOLENARI.

Beta Delta Bides Time

Gamma Delta Has Goal of 40 Men

DAN VANDERCAR, Alpha
University of Minnesota

THE Gamma Delta chapter house is filled to the roof again. New pledges are Elmer Carlson, Joseph Leicht, Gary Knowles, Larry Roberts, Clark H. Johnson, Bruce Hasselberg, Richard Solie, David Quade, and Mentor Addicks. With a full house we are concentrating on town men to obtain our goal of 40 members. On Nov. 7, the pledges of Gamma Delta Chapter and Kappa Chapter, after three weeks of careful planning, met at a predetermined location and exchanged actives as part of their walkout schedule. Of course, on their return, there was a little welcoming party planned at which it was found that various pledges' wardrobes had been moved to a sorority house.

We are now in the process of constructing a new chapter room, using the old room for additional living space. We advanced to the semifinals in intramural football and basketball in a field of over 100 teams.

In early November we were delighted to entertain the Queen of the Lakes, Sharon Bigalke. This visit was made possible by an Alumnus, Don Brandt. The annual Pajama party, Christmas party, and Homecoming Dance were well attended.

The first big event of winter quarter will be the visit of Judge Rosser on Jan. 5. The next big event will be the initiation of pledges on Jan. 10. Then in the second week of February the annual Greek Week at the University of Minnesota will be held in which Gamma Delta takes an active part. One of the most important activities will be the rushing program, with rushing functions being planned in advance by our rushing chairman, Robert Taus.—EUGENE KOCZUR.

Epsilon Delta Breaks Ground

GARY HENRIKSON, Alpha
Oregon State College

THE big news around here, of course, is that construction has begun on our new house, thanks to the efforts of the Oregon State Chi Phi Assn. Ground-breaking ceremonies were recently held, and I think half the lot was spaded up before the photographers were through. As the new chapter house will accommodate 68 men, we are having to do some torrid pledging. We pledged five men last term, and with the return of two Brothers, our number will be 39 next term. We have acquired a second annex to house the men. New pledges are Ridge Goss, Rainier; Dan Moore, San Rafael, Cal.; Robert Wassman, Hawaii; Mike Nelson, Oak Ridge; Pete Smith, Bethesda, Md.

Our Fall pledge dance was quite successful. Of course, most of the first-term pledges took blind dates, and I have never seen such luck. Women like that weren't available for blind dates when I was a pledge. The love bug didn't wait until springtime to do its work, as it has completely disorganized the bachelor set. It is becoming difficult to schedule exchanges as our "single element" is rather depleted. Our athletic teams came through with sterling performances last term. The footballers never gave up and finally won their last game of the season, 1 to 0 by forfeit. The volleyball team did uphold our name, however, as they placed second, losing in the final playoff.—BOB MOODY.

Zeta Delta Tries Reevaluation

MILLER DAYTON, Alpha
University of Connecticut

ZETA DELTA has long been plagued by the effect of "over-programming," the scheduling of more fraternity events than we have time for after studies. This semester, under the direction of Beta and Scholarship Chairman Larry Doyle, we are trying to correct this. The first thing Larry did was to hang up an over-sized calendar of the month with all scheduled events (house meetings, sing rehearsals, etc.) printed on it, so that every Brother and pledge could plan his time accordingly. As was to be expected almost every day was filled, sometimes with several things. At the end of this semester or some time next semester the Executive Committee will probably go over all of these events and determine which of these are necessary and which can be eliminated. They will try to reschedule some events to the less crowded weeks. With the effort that Larry and the Executive Committee are putting into this program, we hope we will be able to report in future articles that the Zeta Delta has greatly improved its scholarship standing.

Our Homecoming Dinner Dance was held at the Shell Chateau in Willimantic. The buffet dinner was prepared by our cook, Bob Callahan, under the supervision of Steward Larry Gallagher. We also invited a number of rushees to the affair, as an extension of our "personal rush" program. Bill Hall, Ron Larcheveque, and Brian Simmons were serenaded during the evening for their recent pinnings. Back on campus, Alumni Bob Sokel and Henry Gai were also serenaded. During the day the traditional Homecoming displays were judged. Zeta Delta had two stand-up figures, one of the Maine Bear in long-johns, the other was the Uconn Husky standing near a rack with a bear skin on it. The man responsible for the display was Dave Gorke.

Our most recent initiates: Robert Pivenis, pledge captain; Raymond Bailey, Peter Corrette, and John Saulys introduced their Pledge Queen, Mary Beth Frohlich, to the Brotherhood at their Pledge Party given prior to their initiation. Also the traditional presenting of the paddles to the "Big Brothers" and a humorous pledge skit were given at the party. This class was directed by Pledge Master David Reed.

Thanks to the efforts of Rush Chairman Jim Wheeland and his rush committee, Zeta Delta has had the most successful fall rush season that it has had in several years. This fall we had two periods to rush: the upperclass and the freshmen. We received 12 men during the first period and 17 during the second. Emphasis was placed on the personal rushing technique, i.e., certain Brothers would spend as much time as they could spare with a certain rushee and get to know him as well as they could. During formal rush parties these

Zeta Delta's newest pledge class of 15 is under the direction of Pledge Master Albert Palmer

Brothers would introduce the rushee to Brothers who had similar interests, thus the strained atmosphere usually found in the formal parties could be reduced sooner. As a result of this and the increased effort of the Brotherhood, as a whole, we were able to obtain one of the largest pledge class in the freshman rush period here at Uconn. Also our older pledge class's grades are well above the fraternity and all-men's average. The Chapter is also planning another rush period in the spring, since we will have a large number graduating.

On Nov. 23, the Brothers held a tea in honor of their Faculty Adviser and past Grand Alpha, Carl J. Gladfelter, and his wife. More than 150 guests were in attendance, representing the administration of the University as well as faculty, resident counselors from various dormitories, and student representatives of the fraternity and sorority groups on campus. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Gladfelter, "Skip" Dayton, our Alpha, and Larry Doyle, our Beta. Much of the credit for the success of the tea is due to the guidance and planning of our housemother, Mrs. Estelle Robbins.

The Annual Winter Formal was held at the Willimantic Country Club, on December 12, 1958. Present were Brother and Mrs. Carl J. Gladfelter and past Alpha Richard Kallio. The music was provided by the Keytones. The following night our oldest pledge class held their Pledge Party and presented their Pledge Queen, Diana Grimm, IIBΦ. February initiates are Pledge Captain Francis Arnold, Richard Pignone, William Farnen, Edward Cullen, Larry Herzog, Frank Accurso, Richard Fenton, Nick Fanelli, William Purcell, Brian Cronin, and Walt Ryder. Their pledge master is Robert Schick.

Our newest pledge class, directed by Pledge Master Albert Palmer, is the largest freshman pledge class that Zeta Delta has seen in a long time: Pledge Captain Charles Glendon, Robert Bedell, Brad Borland, James Chapman, Peter Crooks, Patrick Donnelly, Larry Dupuis, John Ellard, William Elliot, Fred Kuhr, Fred Larson, Kenneth Myers, Peter Pendergast, Bud Peterson, Thomas Schwager, Robert Valentine and Norm Zareski.

The University soccer team was chosen by coaches and referees as the best team in New England. Among the players were three Chi Phis—Co-captain Pete Reckert, Bob Gai, and Ed Cullen. Pete was chosen to the All-New England first team and Bob Gai, who is next year's co-captain, was given an honorable mention. John Zinser was selected "Line-man of the Day" at the Uconn-New Hampshire game. Another Brother capturing sports headlines at Uconn is Wrestling Captain Brian Simmons, who is still undefeated. Uconn's pitching ace, Brad Leach, who has remained active in the Chapter though living off campus, is looking forward to another successful season. Zeta Delta's intramural basketball teams are doing well again this year. Both of the teams are undefeated and the first team, last year's champions, has been chosen the best team in its league so far.

Every Christmas the Greeks at Uconn give Christmas parties for underprivileged children. This year, as usual, we entertained 20 children from the Willimantic area and treated them to all the trimmings, candy, cake and presents. Most of the Brothers had as much fun watching the kids open their presents as the children did themselves.

Just before the Christmas vacation there is time to stop and look over the semester which is almost over. We did this by having our annual Christmas banquet for the Brothers and pledges. The dinner was about half hour longer and the place was really full since we had many of the freshman pledges, who usually eat at the University dining halls. During this extra time each table discusses our accomplishments and things yet to be done. Then home for a short two weeks of holiday work and play.—REX KLOPFENSTEIN.

Eta Delta Pops Corn for Carnival

BILL HARE, Alpha
University of Southern California

WE entered Homecoming house decorations and won first place for humor. During the Homecoming activities, we participated in the first annual Troyland Carnival with a cotton candy- and popcorn-making machine.

Brothers Le Coates, Bill Hare, Ron Anderson, and Ron Loomis were elected to the Blue Key, and Skull and Dagger organizations, which are the two top honor groups on campus. In sports this year we have entered I.F.C. football and received third place. In the future we plan on entering basketball and, with Ken Starbird's help, swimming. Frank McConnell, S.C.'s great hurdler, plans to have another outstanding year on the cinder paths. Norm Corlett, on the S.C. varsity crew, has hopes for a successful session. Senior Le Coates is again appearing on S.C.'s N.C.A.A. championship varsity baseball team as one of the starting pitchers. Last season he had a 7-win, 1-loss record. He is also one of the Chapter's outstanding scholars. Bill Hare, our Alpha, is planning to go out for the varsity football team next semester for the position of center.

The Chapter's alumni relations, headed by Norm Corlett, and Le Coates, were put into full swing with a party after the Notre Dame-U.S.C. game. The Brothers had a party for the Alumni at the beautiful home of Alumnus Elmer Hoffman. Over 75 Chi Phis, their dates and wives attended.

One of the Brothers, Bob Van Horst, has been elected chief justice of the I.F.C. judicial committee. Also in school activities are Marshall Dowd, John Grey, Richard Pickering, Bill Hare, Ron Anderson, Gene Stubbie, Bob Kastigar, Doug Norwood, Jim Krause, Frank McConnell, Ron Lane, and Ken Von Rohr. These Brothers have had an active part in school activities in the past year, and will continue so in this year.

We had elections for the coming semester. The new officers are: Bill Hare, Alpha; Le Coates, Beta, and Bruce Anderson, Gamma.

The Chapter's activities this last semester were highlighted by the 25th anniversary of the service to this Chapter by our housemother, Miss Sue Brannan. Outstanding personalities from the campus joined in the celebration. The members of the Chapter presented to her a television set. Our Mothers' Club coordinated this successful function. The Chapter also played host to 20 Brothers from the Lambda Chapter. These men were here to witness the traditional New Year's Rose Bowl Game.

Theta Delta Wins House Decorations

LEW MAVIGLIA, Alpha
University of Florida

WITH informal rush officially over Theta Delta has 36 fine men wearing the Chakett. Under the leadership of Ron Arcuri, the pledge class has plans underway for obtaining a new hi-fi set for the house.

The newly elected officers are: Alpha, Lew Maviglia; Beta, Brace Bateman; Gamma, Gordon Morefield; Delta, Harry Albrecht; Epsilon, Bill Karst; Zeta, Brian Ellis.

Chi Phi won first place in Homecoming house decorations for the first time in the Chapter's history. Thanks to Ferd Mitchell and Skip Pratt, in particular, and the whole Chapter in general, our depiction of a Westernized alligator shooting down a Vanderbilt Commodore, complete with moving parts, was the best house decoration on campus. After this even our usual fabulous party, with a Western theme and music by the Torridtones from Jacksonville, was almost an anti-climax. The Florida Chi Phi Assn. held its annual meeting at the house during Homecoming. Newly elected officers are: Bob Cody, ΘΔ '40, president; Steve Stacklin, vice president; Ned Scott, treasurer; Thomas Fleming, ΘΔ '38, secretary. The Chapter would like to express its deepest appreciation to Howard Weems, past president of the Alumni Assn., for the fine job he did during his two successive terms in office. The prime item of interest at this meeting was the bond issue which the Association is floating in hopes of building a new house in the near future.

Brace Bateman is currently serving as secretary of religion on the president's cabinet. Another one of Brother Bate-man's many activities is that of assistant business manager of The Alligator, student newspaper. Frank Blodgett, a Sparks Memorial Award winner, added two more activities to his already long list. Brother Blodgett was recently initiated into AEP, National radio and television honorary fraternity, and Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity. Brother Blodgett is also a member of ΦΨΣ, freshman scholastic fraternity, and Florida Players, a highly regarded acting group here on campus. Eddie Donn is also a member of ΦΨΣ and was recently elected secretary. Pledge Ken Fischer made quite a hit with his cartoons in The Orange Peel, campus humor magazine. Our intramurals' leader, Harry Albrecht, made all-campus in football for the second straight year. Brother Albrecht was also the subject of a feature column in The Alligator, "Athlete of the Week." Brothers Fred Polhemus and Mike Young were recently elected to the Benton Engineering council. Brother Polhemus is also serving on the staff of The Florida Engineer.

Fall Frolics, another big weekend here, has come and gone. We had a party with a "Streets of Paris" theme Friday night with the Torridtones returning for a repeat performance. Saturday afternoon we watched Florida trounce FSU in the first game of what promises to be a long rivalry. Saturday evening we had an open house at the house and that night closed out the weekend with a formal dance in the gym, dancing to the music of Johnny Long and June Christy.

The Chakett Club of Jacksonville held a formal dance at the Ponte Vedra Country Club which was attended and enjoyed by most of the Chapter. In order to celebrate the Christmas season, Theta Delta held a Christmas Weekend, Dec. 11-14. Thursday night we sang Christmas carols, led by Steve Hager. Even a quick burst of rain failed to dampen Brother Hager's spirits, and, much to the chagrin of a few sleeping Brothers, the caroling was a great success. Friday night a quiet fireside party was held with low lights and soft music from the hi-fi set. Saturday night we had a semi-formal dance at the house with music provided by the Collegians. Sunday we gave a Christmas party for the underprivileged children at the Sunnlyland Training Center and then returned to the house for a spaghetti dinner, courtesy of the pledge class. The final party of 1958 was the 21st annual Christmas formal held by the Chakett Club of Miami at the Miami Shores Country Club.

If visitors should note a quiet air of apprehension around the usually lively Chi Phi house it is because final examinations are almost upon us here at the University of Florida. Theta Delta is aiming to raise its scholastic standing even further and, if we work and succeed at this as we have at everything else, we should come through on top.—
