RUSHING IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

You can do no greater service for your Fraternity than recommend desirable candidates for membership.

Chi Phi's continued strength and growth are dependent upon the coordinated rush efforts of both the alumnus and the undergraduate.

You can help Chi Phi by sending the names of prospective members from your home community. Do it now. Receipt of information on prospective candidates by the chapters, prior to the closing of school in June, enables the chapter to establish summer contact in many instances.

The alumnus can do more than furnish leads. He can talk to the candidate and his parents on the merits of fraternity affiliation, show him copies of the Chakett, and in other ways generally encourage him towards CHI PHI.

Use the recommendation form below. Send it to the Office of the Council, Room 550 - 3330 Peachtree Rd., N.E., Atlanta 5, Georgia, or to the chapter. The chapter addresses are listed on page 20. Between June 1st and August 31st send all leads to the Council's office and they will be forwarded to the appropriate rushing chairman.

The Chi Phi Chakett is published in September, December, February, and April by The Chi Phi Fraternity, 3330 Peachtree Road, N.E., Rm. 550, Atlanta 5, Georgia. Second class postage paid at Atlanta, Georgia. Subscription rate, $5.00 per year. Single copies $1.50.

LET'S TALK
IT OVER . . .

NOMINATIONS FOR GRAND ALPHA

The Committee to nominate the Grand Alpha is comprised of two former Grand Alphas and three former Grand officers. The committee members are: A. H. Hutchinson, Xi '09, Frederick W. Krebs, Xi '12, Eugene Benham, Iota '11, Charles T. Winship, Gamma '26 and John T. Porter, Kappa '39. Mail recommendations to the Chairman of the Committee to Nominate Grand Alpha, c/o Chi Phi Fraternity, 3330 Peachtree Rd., N.E., Rm. No. 550, Atlanta 5, Georgia.

THE INCREASED COST OF MAILING

The Chakett subsists on a tight budget and the budget gets tighter with each passing year as costs continue to rise. The amount set aside to pay for the magazine's delivery has shown a steady increase over the past ten years.

Recently the postal department issued a new regulation that increased the amount the Fraternity pays for the correct address of members who have moved between issues and failed to inform us. "Nixies" or incorrect addresses, now cost ten cents per name compared to the former six cents. Considering two thousand Chi Phis change their address annually, our budget would be eased considerably if members would notify the Council when they change addresses. From now on, each issue will contain a blank form "Notice of Address Change" similar to the one on inside back cover. Your cooperation in keeping our address file current will assure your receiving the Chakett and help our budget.

On the subject of mail, P.R. 7927, passed by the House of Representatives and now before the Senate, would increase the mailing cost of the Chakett approximately $170 per issue. U.S. Steel ain't alone, Brother.

ALUMNI MEET GRAND OFFICERS

This year Council is widely traveled and certainly more alumni have had an opportunity to meet and discuss the affairs of our Fraternity with Council members than at any time since World War II.

The Grand Alpha, John Oliver, has attended

Tau Delta Chapter Installed

SATURDAY, APRIL 7TH, ended the 17 year effort of Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, AOX'05, ED'47, past National Scholarship Chairman of the Chi Phi Fraternity, Elwood McKnight, ED'33, Merritt Truax, ED'33, both officers of the Oregon State Chi Phi Association, and many other Chi Phi alumni, to bring Chi Phi to the University of Oregon Campus.

At the formal chartering banquet Dr. Hunter expounded before 162 members, alumni, sorority and fraternity presidents and guests, the role of voluntary association in a classless society. Inherent in the equality of mankind is a demand for selectiveness based on natural virtue. "No better place to exercise this selectiveness exists than in a college fraternity."

John E. Oliver, Grand Alpha, presented the charter to 25 charter members and 6 honorary members on behalf of the national fraternity. The charter was accepted for the members by Gilbert E. Sobie, Alpha of the new chapter, who reviewed briefly the work done by the honorary charter members.

Dr. William C. Jones, Dean of Administration, and Dr. Ray Hawk, Dean of Men, welcomed the chapter with enthusiasm, reaffirming that even in the face of largely bad publicity, the University still has confidence in the fraternity system and is looking for great accomplishments from its newest member.

Richard A. Sorenson, President of the University of Oregon Inter-Fraternity Council, reviewed the accomplishments of the fraternity for the group, citing them for leading all University of Oregon fraternities in scholarship during their year of colonization. He noted that the 3.09GPA of the pledge class for that winter term was unequaled by any University of Oregon group. Chi Phi has never brought discredit to "that intangible we try to sell every day of our lives." The fraternity has never even been mentioned before Tribunal, the disciplinary body of the fraternity system.

Carl J. Gladfelter, National Director,

Jim Limbaugh, ED '62, leader of installation team took a moment to express the challenge of the work that lies ahead for Tau Delta of Chi Phi. The really hard work is not over, but it has been a great beginning.

Charles H. Mack, ED'31, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the Chartering Banquet which was held in the King Cole room of the Eugene Hotel and followed by a formal dance.

The chapter name, Tau Delta, was taken from the local fraternity at Oregon State College which became Epsilon Delta of Chi Phi in 1931.

The formal installation of Tau Delta took place prior to the banquet. Fritz Holt, TD'62 was in charge of all installation arrangements.

The chartering services and candlelight ceremony was conducted in a most distinguished and memorable manner by the following officers of Epsilon-Delta: James E. Limbaugh, Alpha, John W. Harris, Beta, David K. Richardson, Gamma, Dexter L. Anderson, Delta and David Byrns, Zeta.

It should be noted that Tau Delta received its lodge room equipment from the "old" Beta Delta chapter at the University of Washington. The equipment had been stored in the home of Brother Ken Wise, BD'52 in Seattle since September, 1959. Brother Lewis P. Kelley BD'25 assisted Brother Wise in storing and forwarding the historical equipment to Eugene.

Chairman Wurster Reports

Plans Announced for 1962 Cincy Congress

Chairman Wurster, and Chi Phi Club of Cincinnati president, Bernard Brockhage, I '54, have been busy with preparations for the 1962 Congress since last September. The Club emphatically states that this is going to be bigger and better than the 1952 Cincy Congress and cordially invites all alumni from near and far to plan to be there for a delightful reunion.

The social events commence with a Smoker on Tuesday evening, September 4th at the Wiedemann Roof Garden, which will afford everyone an evening of good fellowship with a beautiful view of the Cincinnati skyline from the Kentucky side of the River for the background.

The Awards Banquet will be held Wednesday noon, September 5th, at the Restaurant Continental of the Netherland Hilton — headquarters for the convention, and will be the occasion for the presentation of the Chi Phi of the Year and the chapter scholarship awards. To provide an evening of entertainment for the delegates, on Wednesday, a block of tickets have been reserved for the twilight double-header at Crossley Field, where the 1961 National League Champion Cincinnati Reds will meet (and, we presume, beat) the Chicago Cubs. Ball game tickets and transportation to the game will be included in the Congress package price.

The climactic event of the Congress will be the dinner dance on Thursday night, September 6th, at the Queen City Club.

Congress will convene for official business at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, September 5th, at the Netherland Hilton. Business and leadership training sessions will be the order of the day, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Alumni will be particularly interested in the beautiful Memorial Service, which is always one of the highlights of the closing session, to be held on Friday, September 7th. Alumni and non-delegate undergraduate Brothers are wel-

Federal Income Tax Aspects of Contributions to College Fraternity Funds

By William Alfred Kern, Omi '55

The high federal income tax rates on upper-bracket incomes make it imperative that many taxpayers keep tax consequences, and possible tax savings, ever in sight when engaging in important financial transactions. So it is when gifts to college fraternity organizations are contemplated. What follows is not, of course, intended to be a substitute for individual legal advice. It is, however, intended to outline a few of the main guidelines associated with the tax benefits that can be obtained from donations to fraternity associations.

Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 is the statutory basis for the deductibility of contributions to charitable organizations. It provides generally for a deduction of up to 20 percent of adjusted gross income—gross income less income-producing expenses—for contributions to charitable activities actually made within the taxable year. The limitation on amounts deductible is raised to 30 percent in case a specified portion of the gifts are made to schools, hospitals and churches. The so-called Philadelphia Nun clause, Section 170(b)(1)(B), allowing unlimited charitable deductions, will be of interest to comparatively few taxpayers. To qualify, the taxpayer's taxes and charitable contributions must have exceeded 90 percent of income during eight of the preceding ten years.

If it were clear that gifts to college fraternities qualified as "charitable contributions" under Section 170 (c), then

*WILLIAM ALFRED KERN, Omi '55, an attorney serving on the staff of the Chief Counsel of Internal Revenue Service, was graduated from Yale. He married Joan Kathryn Perkins of West Hartford, Connecticut in October '55, has two children, a son Edward, 2½ and a daughter, Jenifer, 6 months. Upon graduation he entered the service of the U. S. Navy and completed Jet training in December '56. Served remainder of active duty as flight instructor at Pensacola, Florida. Upon release from active duty, returned to Yale Law School and received law degree in June '61, after which he commenced work with I.R.S. He resides at 3505 Toledo Terrace, Apt. application of the foregoing limitations on the amounts deductible by a given donor would, in most instances be a relatively simple matter. Donors whose incomes were taxable at maximum rates—91 percent—could be satisfied that contributions within the specified limits were being made at an after-tax cost of nine cents on the dollar. That is, such a donor would be giving only nine cents—the amount by which his dollar would not otherwise be depleted by the 91 percent tax rate—whereas the object of his bounty would, of course, be receiving a whole dollar, undepleted by income tax. While taxpayers subject to the 91 percent rate may fairly be said to be limited to the tycoon class—married taxpayers with taxable income in excess of $400,000; single taxpayers with taxable income in excess of $200,000—even moderately fixed alumni—taxpayers may find that they can buy the satisfaction that comes from benefiting a particular charitable activity at a considerable discount. Thus, a married taxpayer filing a joint return with ordinary taxable income of over $12,000 will find that the Government, in effect, underwrites his charitable contribution to the extent of 30 cents on the dollar. The amount of the Government's subsidy to private charitable contributions raises four percent with each $4,000 increment of taxable income from $12,000 to $32,000. Thus, a married taxpayer with taxable income in excess of $32,000 would find that the Government, in effect, matches his charitable contributions, 50-50.

APPRECIATED SECURITIES DEDUCTIBLE

Taxpayers with appreciated securities would find that a contribution of such securities, as opposed to a sale followed by donation of the proceeds, is twice blessed. Gain on the appreciation of the securities is not taxed, and the value of such securities is wholly deductible. Thus, a taxpayer who intends, for one reason or another, to dispose of substantially appreciated assets may find that a disposition of such assets by gifts yields more after-tax dollars than a sale.

I began the discussion of the benefits that accrue from charitable contributions by noting that they would be obtainable for percent purposes if college fraternities qualify as charitable activities. Actually, there are a number of routes that cash (or other assets) may take in flowing from a donor's pocketbook (or other storage place) to a fraternity or fraternity sponsored project. Some clearly entitle the donor to a tax deduction. Others clearly do not. Some are very much in doubt.

Dues paid to a national or local fraternity association do not qualify for deduction as a contribution to an education institution. A few, precious few, alumni-taxpayers may be able to justify such payments as a business expense, deductible under Section 162 or 212. However, the Internal Revenue Service is taking an increasingly dim view of club dues deductions. Although the Congress did not adopt the Treasury's recent recommendation that such deductions be disallowed, per se, it is nevertheless a fair estimate that it will be the unusual taxpayer (with unusually good records) that will be able to justify such a deduction in the future.

GIFTS TO TRUST DEDUCTIBLE

On the other hand, contributions to fraternity-sponsored funds or organizations that are purely educational in nature, such as the Chi Phi Educational Trust, are clearly deductible. In fact, the Service has issued a specific letter ruling stating that donations to the Chi Phi Educational Trust are deductible, within the limits of Section 170(b).

However, there is another important area, involving the question of the deductibility of contributions to special funds or corporations set up for the specific or indirect purpose of financing house construction which remains in considerable doubt. Since many alumni probably feel a somewhat closer attachment to the particular chapter to which they belonged as undergraduates, and will, therefore, respond more readily and more generously to a specific plea for funds to build or renovate a chapter house than to general pleas for funds for the national organization, this question assumes some importance.

The Service, has, in general, taken the position that fraternities serve a predominantly social rather than an exclusively educational function. Accordingly, the Service has held that gifts in cash or kind to a fraternity for the purpose of acquiring or refurbishing a chapter house are not deductible, however, in Revenue Ruling 60-367, C.B. 1960-2, p. 73, the Service held that the gift of a house to a college gave rise to a deduction to the donor(s), notwithstanding that the house was to be used by a particular fraternity.

The ruling was so qualified, however, that few colleges or fraternities will find any particular comfort in it. Legal title was to remain in the college.

The lease was to be short-term, and a rental fully reflecting the value of the property. Further, the benefit to the particular fraternity was merely that it got a better house sooner than others, since it was settled college policy to renovate all the fraternities, or to relocate them. The ruling rather clearly indicates that if it had not been the policy of the college trustees to renovate all the fraternity properties—all of which were owned by the college—or if legal title and full unrestricted future use of the property had not been in the college, or if the college had contemplated entering a long-term lease with the fraternity at a rental not fully reflecting the value of the property, deduction of the value of the house would not have been allowed the donors. As stated in the ruling: "In order, however, for the gift to be deductible as a gift to the college it must in reality be a gift to the college and must not be a gift to the fraternity by using the college as a conduit." So much for Service policy.

TEXAS COURT RULES

The most recent case which has considered the deductibility of amounts contributed to a fund established for the purpose of building a new chapter house decided that the taxpayer-contributors could deduct their contributions. Daugherty v. Phinney (WD Texas, 1961) 7 AFTR 2d 1245. The facts were these: The Texas Beta Students Aid Fund was established by a group of interested alumni. The fund raised contributions for the purpose of building a house, making scholarship awards to members and pledges of the chapter, hiring tutors, and bringing in professors for discussion and fellowship. The Service disallowed deduction for contributions on the ground that the corporation was established primarily for social reasons. The United States District Court for the Western District of Texas held, however, that the fund was engaged solely in educational activities. It should be noted that this decision was rendered by one federal district court (of which there are 90 odd) and is on appeal and may be reversed. Further, the case was evidently argued by an attorney who was instrumental in organizing the fund, and who was seeking, along with others, to deduct amounts he had contributed. It would appear that local District Directors will continue to disallow as deductions amounts contributed for such house-building purposes. Relief from such rulings will be available, if at all, only from the courts. At this point, it remains conjectural whether such relief will be forthcoming with any degree of regularity. While taxpayers living in West Texas may claim such deductions with a modicum of confidence that the courts will ultimately sustain their contention, the rest of us will, of necessity, approach the problem with more diffidence.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX

To sum up, then; (1) dues paid to either local or national fraternity associations are not deductible except under the very limited circumstances in which they might qualify as a business expense.

This is not a matter of great importance, however, since low-bracket taxpayers would get very little tax relief, and high-bracket taxpayers would scarcely consider the amounts involved worth arguing about; (2) amounts paid to an educational trust such as the Chi Phi Educational Trust are deductible. Amounts paid to it can bring benefits to the trust and its beneficiaries substantially in excess of the after-tax cost to the donor. While the author does not wish to intrude upon the policy question of whether local groups should establish similar scholarship trust funds for the benefit of members and pledges of particular chapters, it is noted that the same benefits that accrue to the national trust could probably be obtained for local chapter funds as well. Of course, alumni who contemplate such action should obtain a favorable ruling from the Internal Revenue Service before launching a fund-raising drive; (3) deductibility of amounts contributed specifically for house construction is extremely doubtful and should only be attempted by those willing to litigate the position, and who are prepared to accept an unfavorable court ruling. The Service will almost certainly continue to resist allowing deductions in such cases.

A final word might be added about the ethics of claiming charitable deductions. The charitable deduction is not, I think most informed observers would agree, a gimmick or a tax loophole. The Congress evidently has felt over an extended period that a tax incentive to private charitable undertakings produces more good to society than would be obtained from Governmental expenditures of tax revenues otherwise obtainable, absent such a deduction. While this is obviously not the place to attempt to assess the wisdom of that congressional decision, it is worth pointing out that the Treasury has never sought to have the charitable deduction provision repealed, and Congress itself has shown no disposition to do so.

(or How to Collect Money)

The following article appeared in The Meteor, the Kappa Alumni Association publication edited by Neil Burmeister, K '60.

SPECIAL COMMENDATION must be paid to Janet Dean MILLAR currently Kappa's No. 1 sweetheart, for whipping out Lew's ('31) checkbook and secretly sending through to the alumni treasury the balance of his Building Fund note obligation. A letter which was dispatched to Lew returning the Building Fund notes marked "Paid" seemingly provoked a domestic crisis in the Millar household and also stirred up some suggestions from Lew as to how to save a few more lost souls who have not seen the error of their ways and who are not yet assured of eternal redemption resulting from paying up their lawful obligations to the old frat club. Lew's letter is priceless and we are setting it forth in full in hopes that the spouses of other non-paying brothers will take courage and follow her noble example:

Dear Brother Porter:

I was shocked to receive your letter advising that my Building Fund note had been paid in full. If you don't recall the signature on the check, it was "Janet Dean Millar." When confronted with your letter, she broke down and sobbed, "I did it, I did it! After receiving those notices for twenty-five years, I couldn't stand it any longer."

Now look, Jackson, you got the wrong kick on this bit. Don't fool around with dead beats like me, but send your pitch direct to the one who counts—the treasurer — The Little Woman. Write them a nice, refined, tactfully phrased letter like this:

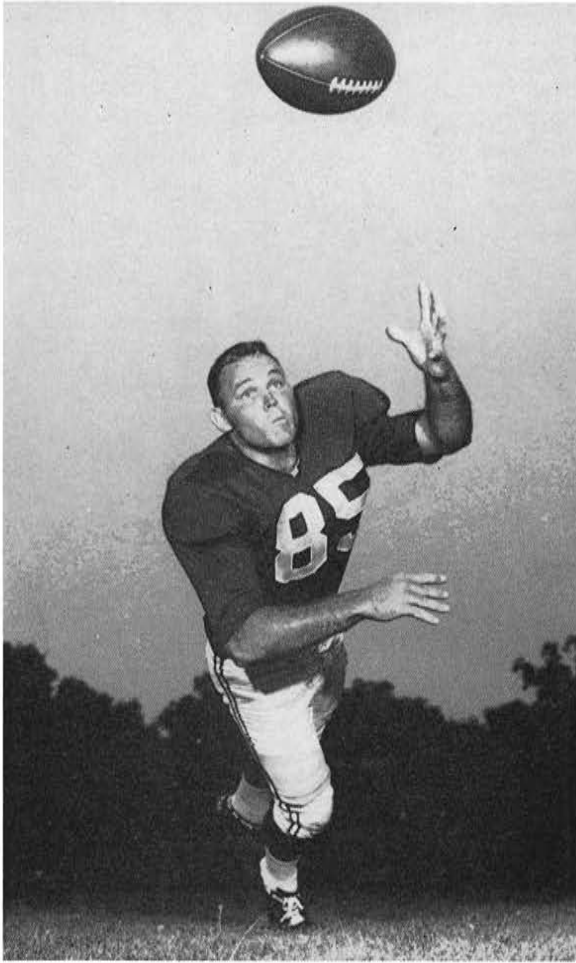

"My Dear Madam: Did you know your husband is a dead beat? Did you know he has owed his frat club $_____ for over 25 years and his credit rating stinks? Since he obviously intends to do nothing about this indebtedness, it is up to YOU to clear his good name and permit him to hold up his head again among his brethren. Do it NOW, without consulting him. Sit down, write a check for $_____ send it to me, and see what happens. Neither the Chi Phi Fraternity nor the Officers and Directors of its Kappa Alumni Association can, in any way, be held responsible for the results of your action. Yours very truly, etc., etc."

We'll be rich in no time. Anyway, send that bent, beat-up old halo to Janet. She's the one who deserves it.

Family? A boy graduated from Beloit College last June — now in the Navy; a girl a junior at U. of W.; two girls in Hinsdale H.S., a boy in third grade, and a spendthrift wife.

Yours in the bond,
LEW MILLAR, K'33

The outlook is bright for St. Louis Cardinal fullback-end

TAZ ANDERSON

Omega '60

VERSATILE TAZ ANDERSON, Omega'60 who was drafted as an end but who played fullback as well in 1961, is being looked on as one of the football Cardinals' top regulars for 1962.

The big, tow-headed Georgia Tech alumnus, who bears a striking resemblance to fighter Ingemar Johansson, earned a starting berth in his first professional season, and was one of the Cards' top performers all year.

Originally drafted by the Cleveland Browns, Taz came to the Big Red last July, along with halfback Prentice Gautt, in a trade for quarterback John Roach.

A friendly, hard-working rookie, he soon won the respect of all the players and the coaching staff, and quickly showed that he would give the veteran Hugh McInnis a tough battle for the No. 1 job at right end.

Playing the right, or "tight" end for the Cardinals, or for any professional football team, is a job that calls for blocking ability as well as pass-catching talent. The right end must be able to block the opposing end or linebacker, who often outweighs him anywhere up to 50 pounds, and then get free for a pass.

Anderson, who has been a halfback and an end at Georgia Tech, won the starting post during the pre-season campaign, then suffered a knee injury and lost the No. 1 job to McInnis for the league opener at New York last Sept. 17, though the rookie did see action.

A week later, with Cardinal fullbacks Mal Hammack and Frank Mestnik on the sidelines with injuries, Taz was pressed into action as a fullback against the Cleveland Browns, and carried the ball twice for 19 yards as the Cards dropped a 20-17 decision.

The following Sunday, Young Taz had his finest game as a professional. With the fullbacks still limping, he started there against the Philadelphia Eagles at Franklin Field.

Early in the game, McInnis was hurt, and Taz moved back to end. During the game, he played both as an end and a fullback as the Cards won, 30-27. Taz caught three passes for 30 yards and carried the ball eight times for 28 yards, scoring his first professional touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Taz was a fullback again in the Big Red's first home game, carrying three times for minus yardage, but was back at end on Oct. 15, snaring a pass for 14 yards in a 20-7 loss to the revenge-minded Eagles.

The Georgian caught his first touchdown pass a week later, reaching over his shoulder for a pitch from Ralph Guglielmi that covered 42 yards and gave the Big Red its first touchdown against the Redskins at Washington.

Taz remained an end for the rest of the season, catching his longest pass of the campaign at home against the Dallas Cowboys, teaming with Sam Etcheverry for a play that covered 78 yards.

For the season, Taz ranked third among Big Red receivers, catching 22 passes for 399 yards and two touchdowns. As a runner, he carried the ball 15 times for 39 yards. Taz is rated one of the fine young ends in the league, with the outlook bright for years of stardom ahead.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

The Alpha Chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity is now approaching the conclusion of a year to which we may look back with considerable pride and a real sense of accomplishment. The House has taken in 17 pledges, all of which we feel will contribute to the well-being and future prosperity of the House. These gentlemen have given unsparingly of their time and effort to the improvement of Alpha's physical plant, while at the same time maintaining their scholastic standing, something we brothers should note.

The chief task at hand for the past months has been the completion of our party room. This haven of delight was completed just prior to our "Mid-winters" parties in February and the admiring glances and kind remarks made all our efforts seem worth while. Special praise should be given to Cabell Fitzpatrick for his work on the stereo cabinet and to our fearless pledgemaster Jack (Dags) Dogherty who was always ready with his orders for the day. Although it may appear condescending, we also acknowledge the members of carpenters local No. 69, our illustrious pledge class, for their unpaid but greatly appreciated assistance.

But I digress. This final report from the pen of that famous, or should I say infamous, master of rhetoric, is dedicated to one who has contributed so much to our chapter, Grayson McNair. Brother McNair took over as president two years ago when our chapter appeared on its very death bed, and from this moment on, he has led his chapter back up the road to glory and prosperity. Brother McNair, together with the support of the Alpha Home Association and the officers of the fraternity, brought about a rejuvenation of our chapter. Although he has devoted considerable time, talent, and a necessarily almost dictatorial approach to his job, for the unquestioned betterment of the House, he has also maintained superior grades during his four years at the University. We of Alpha wish good fortune to our departing president and a hearty thank you for his years of faithful service.

A Fred Hughes, one of our most promising young people, has been elected to the forensic society of Dabney House and will be competing in open debates in the near future. George Murray, one of the older and more mature brothers, has shown initiative by becoming a member of the Crozet Square Dance Society. Where does he get his energy? The House wishes to thank Bob Thornton for planning such good and plentiful meals. It has been such an improvement over past years. Thank you Bob.

With the passing of Easter Weekend, examination time will soon be upon us and then it's time to enroll for summer school. As this will be my last report to the Chakett before graduating, may I wish my worthy successor (whoever he may be) good luck and get them in on time. Now, as I close, I ask only one thing as recognition and that is that I be eternally remembered as the "man with the Golden Ball-point."

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Beta may soon have a sister chapter not too many blocks away. The possibilities of starting a colony at Boston University looks very promising. Up till a year ago, the fraternity system at B.U. was slowly dying. Indeed, the remaining fraternities were sinking so fast that the dean's office had to make a decision whether or not they wanted fraternities at all at B.U. The decision was that fraternities were desirable. Thus, the administration of B.U. has thrown their overwhelming support in favor of the fraternity system. This has gone further than just a tacit approval, financial aid has also been offered. As a result, conditions have become very healthy for the formation of new colonies at B.U.

Brother Gordon MacKay, Iota, '60, has been solely responsible for the work done thus far. He is also council representative of the newly initiated Rho Iota Kappa chapter at the University of Rhode Island. Gordon has organized a club of enthusiastic students at B.U. Indeed, so fraternally minded are these fellows that they have promised to double their number before the end of the term. Although nothing definite has been decided as yet, if all goes well, September may bring about the beginning of a strong new colony.

This year's athletic program has been very energetic with our participation in nearly every intra-mural sport offered (everything from ping-pong to ice hockey).

One of our more noteworthy events has been our annual Cafe Boheme party. Arabian Nights was this year's theme. To simulate a desert scene we covered nearly the entire second floor with sawdust. As a result, Sunday cleanup was nothing to look forward to.

Our initiation banquet was very well attended. Such notables as the distinguished architect, Clark Merrick, Beta '28, were present. Thus, all in all, it's been a fairly successful, active year here at Beta.

Everything seems to be looking up here at Gamma. Scholarship has improved tremendously, and the Chapter expects to win the University award for the greatest improvement in this area. The alumni seem to be taking a greater interest in the Chapter than they have in many years, and this has resulted in better coordination between the activities of the Chapter and Gamma Trust Association.

We are proud to have Brother Paul Westbrook, '56, as our new co-chapter advisor, and glad to welcome Brother Charles Shepard, '17, as our new Council Representative.

Mrs. Myra Preston, who retired last year after sixteen years as our house-mother, is anxious that "her boys" be able to get in touch with her. She is now residing at 65 Sheridan Drive, N.E., Atlanta 5, Georgia.

On March 6, the Chapter was honored by a visit from Brother Gladfelter. We appreciate his sound advice and efforts in stimulating our alumni.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

This year Delta Chapter has increased its membership to a new high. By pledging four men in the Fall and also taking in fourteen Freshmen during the regular Rush in February our total now stands at sixty-three; forty-nine Brothers and fourteen Pledges. Nevertheless, with this increase certain problems are bound to occur. The matter of feeding this many men is, of course, the most immediate problem. The best possible kitchen efficiency, therefore, is most important and necessary. Steps in this direction have been taken by hiring additional help and buying a food freezer in order to improve storage facility. Moreover, plans for the future include a complete renovation of the kitchen itself and now-existing facilities, with the addition of a new dish-washer. We are confident that with the help of our active Alumni these plans will materialize in order to make Delta Chapter even stronger than it now is. In all, by the united effort of our Alumni and expanded Brotherhood, Pinehurst has undergone many other house improvements this year. Notable are a new ceiling in the dining room, a new heating and hot water system, new showers, and a new hi-fi.

In other aspects of Fraternity life Delta has also benefited by increased membership. This year has marked intensive participation in campus intramural athletics. We are now within the top-ten in team standing. We have profited greatly by a strong basketball squad which placed second in play-off competition.

As always, in perhaps the most important aspect of Fraternity life, scholastics, Delta Chapter has proven worthy. We are proud to boast a house average well above the all-men's average set by the college. Nevertheless, we have, at the same time, carried on in the old Chi Phi tradition of being ostensibly one of the most "social" houses on campus. Our parties are rated second to none. This year's social calendar was highlighted by our annual Christmas Formal. A lot of work is necessary to prepare for this party but in the estimation of the Brotherhood it is well worth the effort.

In retrospect, we of Chi Phi here at Rutgers can truly look back on this year as being most successful. It has been proven that by expanding our ranks we have created an even stronger and more unified Brotherhood.

Epsilon held spring initiation ceremonies late this March and 20 new brothers were initiated. We are expecting great things from these new men and we are sure that they will help Epsilon to keep up its fine academic record.

Our Mid-Winter party was very successful and many old brothers were present for the festivities.

In the past two months the brothers have been working diligently improving the appearance of the house. A new water heater has been installed and several repairs on the roof were made under the leadership of Brother Bryant, our house manager. Also most of the brothers have voluntarily painted parts of the house and have laid down carpeting on the steps leading up to the attic.

The alumni is actively engaged in raising money for extensive renovation of the house. Some work is expected to begin this summer.

FRANKLIN & MARSHALL COLLEGE

The second semester at Zeta can be considered successful in every respect. As pledges are necessary for the continued existence of a fraternity, Zeta pledged seventeen top men. Their construction week was held on the sixth, seventh, and eighth of April. The major project was the painting of the entire first floor at Dubbsheim. In addition, many minor improvements were effected, both to the house and to the grounds. The brothers were very pleased with the demonstration of spirit on the part of the pledges throughout their pledge training.

Snowball and I. F. weekends were well attended, and a welcomed relief from academics. The brotherhood is looking forward to spring weekend, the last one of the year. A joint party is planned with one of the other F & M fraternities.

Zeta is very proud of the fact that it has at least one man out for every spring sport. Brother George Hill is captain of the golf team.

Brother/Prof. Harry K. Lane, Z'55, due to the pressing demands of his research, has resigned as Faculty Advisor. A testimonial dinner was held in his honor, at which the brotherhood presented him with an engraved silver tray in appreciation of his many years of service. Although Zeta is saddened at the loss of Prof. Lane, we are very happy to announce that Brother Foster G. Ulrich, Z '56, has been selected as the new Faculty Advisor.

Officers at Zeta for the spring term were: Fred Zehrer, Alpha; Alan Burnaford, Beta; Charles Foresman, Gamma; Robert Wood, Delta; Pete Faust, Epsilon; Neil Murchison, Zeta; and George Danes, Steward. In addition, Brother Chris Staff did a commendable job as Pledgemaster.

Brother John Skinner was elected Rush Chairman for next year. He would appreciate it if you would send him the rushing form if you know of any worthy freshman entering F & M in the class of 1966.

RENSSELAER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

The spring term at Theta has brought to light a new invigorated spirit aimed at preserving the chapter's high position in athletic, scholastic and social activities. With the acquisition of eleven new initiates of outstanding quality, the chapter has acquired new blood in its veins and has the greatest hopes for a bright future in the coming fall. With at least five pledges yet to be initiated, the brothers hope to see the house filled to capacity within the next four months.

In late winter a program was suggested in which the pledges and brothers would work side by side to repair the physical plant of the house. The goals were set, and to the great surprise and pleasure of the whole house, were actually exceeded. The party room, as well as the chapter room, was completely refinished. The living room was carpeted from wall to wall and the brothers hope to refinish the remaining part of the living room in the very near future. The alumni helped with these and other undertakings in a consolidated effort to give the house a new lustre.

Athletically and politically Theta has kept its usual top position. Senior Art Jackson and juniors Fred Kieser and Pete Stambrook have done extremely well. Art with a long list of wrestling wins, Fred as a stalwart on the lacrosse team, and Pete as an inside left on the soccer team. Campus politics are also well within our scope with two freshmen running for class representatives and junior Tom Jefferson aspiring for one of the top offices on campus, President of the Union. The brothers of Theta all stand together in wishing each candidate the best of luck in the coming election.

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Iota has enjoyed improvements in several aspects of chapter performance this year, with every promise of continuing improvements next year. Rushing, scholarship, house maintenance, sports, and above all, spirit are greatly improved.

The rushing program is the primary concern of every brother and pledge and has shown consistently good results under the leadership of Frank Fiori, rush chairman. Another facet of rushing, keeping pledges, has been eminently successful. Iota has been able to initiate ten men this year, of which six were pledged this year, and we still have four pledges and some promising rushees.

House scholarship has been excellent this year. During Fall quarter, Iota moved to thirteenth out of forty-four fraternities with a 2.394 out of a possible 4 points. The All-mens average is 2.323. Unofficial Winter quarter grades show about a 2.5 or 2.6 average.

As a boost to Chapter morale and house maintenance, we have had Saturday morning work sessions for both actives and pledges. The large turnout and the condition of house and grounds attest to the program's effectiveness.

The Chapter has entered intramural touch football, bowling, basketball and now, softball teams with great enthusiasm and some success: the football team scored its first points in four seasons while the basketball team went to the semi-finals. It appears that the softball team may go all the way this year after defeating its most serious rival 12-8.

The Wives and Mothers Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Bleil, house-mother and Mrs. Lingo, president, has worked diligently for Iota in raising money and contributing needed furniture and supplies.

If any Chi Phi's know of good men who are coming to Ohio State this Fall, please let us know now.

Peter T. Sadow, Jr., Pledge Trainer

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Kappa Chapter is now wrapping up another top year with Wisconsin Chi Phi's taking a leading role on campus. For the past year Ray Hamel has served as President of The Wisconsin Student Association, The Student Government, and Bob Schmidt has just finished his term as President of The Wisconsin Union, giving Kappa of Chi Phi leaders in the two most important campus positions for this year. On the political front, Steve Underwood is now running for Treasurer of the senior class. Peder Svare had served as chairman of Varsity Party. The Wisconsin Forensics Union has been chaired by Brother Bill Haberman as its president. The Interfraternity Council has seen numerous brothers active on committees with Foster Freiss serving as treasurer. Dave Asmus chaired the annual convention of the Big-Ten Interfraternity-Pan-Hellenic Conference held in Madison this year and Tom Madland served as its treasurer. Other active brothers have been Bill Lautz on the Varsity Rifle Team and Duane Quale on the Varsity Wrestling Team. Steve Underwood, who played first string guard for the Football Badgers and served as the team's chaplain, has been elected co-captain for next season. Jim McMillan. Jim McCabe, Bob Fremuth, and Duane Stremlau round out the Chi Phi's active on the gridiron. Don Bushnell is wrestling and Lance Melek is on the golf squad this spring. Anders Hellner served as secretary-general of the Model U.N. held on campus this spring.

Kappa Chapter made it twelve years in a row this spring as finalists in the All-Greek Charity Show—Humorology. "Baggin' The Dragon" with the Delta Gamma made Chi Phi the most successful group on campus in making the final show, having been nosed out of finals only twice in 16 years.

The Brothers swept the Home-Coming competition last fall, winning the "Yell Like Hell" contest the second year running, and taking first place in the Greek division decorations, working with the Alpha Chi Omega's we won the Topper Trophy for overall excellence.

Rush again produced a top group of 12 pledges, assuring the chapter of continuing success, as did the initiation of 11 fine men in February. Recipients of Kappa's outstanding pledge award during the past year have been Peder Svare and Duane Quale.

Due to the work of our alumni association, and its secretary, John Porter, K'39, the house is in excellent condition. A "new" kitchen and servery are in use. A new carpet and coat of paint have made the big living room a bright spot all year.

Scholastically, the chapter has ranked 10th and 11th among social fraternities and has brought its overall average up considerably. The scholarship awards the past semester went to Jared Redfield and Dave Nelson for the active with the most improved grade point and the pledge with the highest grades, respectively.

Rushing looms as Lambda's primary concern in the coming months. STEVENS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

The Mu Chapter Executive Council for the spring term is composed of: Don Zielinski, Alpha; Herb Hall, Beta; Dan Dragolic, Gamma; Rudy Haehnel, Delta; Bill Jacocus, Epsilon; and Russell Vanderbeck, Zeta.

We are proud to announce that last term saw the Chapter rise above the All-College and All-Fraternity averages to third place at Stevens. This was due in part to the increased emphasis placed on scholarship by last term's Beta, Tony Mirabella. We're looking forward to even better results this term. A noteworthy achievement by this term's Beta, Herb Hall, is the renovation of the Big Brother-Pledge relationship, making it one of the more important ones in fraternity life.

Last February brought another great Mu rush which was culminated by the pledging of fifteen of the best men out of the Stevens freshman class. Already, they have proved themselves to comprise one of the best and most spirited pledge classes Mu has seen. The House membership now stands at a record 48. We are looking forward to an even better rush next year and, under the able direction of our new rushing chairman, Steve Adik, we're sure of it. Steve would certainly appreciate any rushing recommendations from our Alumni. These can be sent to him at 414 Marshall St., Elizabeth, N. J.

One of the highlights of last term's activities was an orphans' Christmas party held by Mu. We all chipped in to buy a small present for each very appreciative orphan, and showed them one of the few good times they had all year. However, the party turned out to be just as much fun for the brothers as for the children.

This year, with the help of the Mothers' Club, we again held a highly successful Neighborhood Tea, which has done much to foster better relations with our neighbors here in Hoboken. Also scheduled is the traditional Parent-Faculty Tea. This is another function which has been highly successful in the past.

A cause for great excitement here at Stevens is the impending completion of the new Students' Center. The highlight of the Spring Sports weekend, the formal dance, is scheduled to be held in the new ballroom of the Center. The Mu Alumni Banquet was held there on April 13 and over 40 alumni were present. We are hopefully anticipating continuation and success of this new annual function since it will initiate a closer relationship between the Actives and the Alumni. Also, on May 19, the annual Alumni Day is being held, and we hope to see as many of our Alumni at this function this year as last. We are planning for a large turnout, so it should be a very enjoyable reunion.

Nu's social program this year has been very successful in that parties have been held throughout the Austin area, as well as in the chapter house. Probably the most successful event was the Christmas formal. One of the outstanding events of the Spring semester will be Round-Up Week. This is one week of University events, which is topped off by a weekend of parties.

Nu also plans to participate in the annual charity Spring Greek Varsity Carnival.

Elections were held last month at Vallamont for all offices. Craig M. Shields, '63, a history honors student, was elected Alpha; T. Clyde Freeland, '63, was elected Beta; Peter Huelsenbeck, '64, Gamma; Spencer Ankeney, '64, Delta; Harry Johnson, '63, Epsilon, and Fred Currie, '63, was re-elected Zeta.

Early this semester Major Willie Pundt, Assistant Professor of Military Science, was elected by the brotherhood as the new chapter advisor. Major Pundt is a graduate of Texas A&M, but he is not a fraternity man.

Vallamont is in fairly good shape this Spring. After rushing we had twenty-three pledges, one of the larger pledge classes at Lafayette. The house membership now stands at 59 active Brothers and pledges.

AMHERST COLLEGE

As usual, much of the activity of the Phi Chapter for this past year was aimed toward our three day rushing period which just precedes spring vacation. Our new sophomore class, almost equalling in numbers the other two classes, pitched in wholeheartedly as the Phis came through with a one hundred per cent effort.

In the process of preparing for rushing, the appearance of the house changed quite radically. The front hall was painted an off-white, and the stairway not only got new paint, but also received new blue rugs, and drapes for the landing windows. In addition, since spring vacation, the floor of the front porch has been resurfaced with flagstones, a great improvement over the old bricks.

This effort was rewarded when, under the leadership of our rushing chairmen, Bob Keith, Frank Poole, and Lew Jacobson, all '63, the men of Phi snared an excellent group of nineteen pledges. They were a unified group to start with, and, in the short time since rushing, have demonstrated a sincere and active interest in the house. This addition pushes our full membership beyond sixty, and has inspired an enthusiastic outlook for the coming year.

In our recent elections, Frank Poole, '63, was elected Alpha. Frank from Union, New Jersey, and an English major, was one of our rushing chairmen for the past semester, and did an excellent job. John Wyman, '63, of Amherst, Massachusetts was chosen Beta; Steve Raymond, '64, of Pittsburgh is Gamma; Scott Feldman, '64, from Roslyn Heights, New York, is Delta, and Dave Lake, Dave Bunting and Joel Miller, all '64, became our new rushing chairmen. The brothers of Phi are confident that they will lead us through another successful year.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

At present Psi is busily engaged in the "cut-throat" business of rushing. Under the able direction of Edwin H. Gott, our rushing chairman, we contacted the freshmen on two days each week, previously designated by I.F.C. for a period of seven weeks. Contacting hours were from 4:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M. On four Saturday afternoons the frosh were allowed to visit fraternities of their choice with the stipulation that they visit at least twelve of the thirty houses at Lehigh. During rush week the freshmen are invited to the house for dinner. Bids are given out April 15 and the pledging period begins.

This past fall Psi acquired a new mascot, a St. Bernard puppy. Baron now is nine months old and weighs one hundred twenty-five pounds. Full grown he is expected to tip the scales at two hundred twenty pounds.

In the race for the All-University Intramural Sports Trophy, which we won last year, Psi presently ranks eleventh among fraternities. Results of the annual intramural wrestling tournament show us placing third and boasting two individual champions, Mikell P. Groover, '62, and Michael A. Greiner, '62. We are also well represented in varsity competition with men on the lacrosse, track, golf, and baseball teams.

The officers for the spring term are: Anthony M. Arcesi, Alpha; Ernest A. Benzien, Beta; George H. Johnson, Gamma; Donald I. Stanton, Delta; Thomas D. Brush, Epsilon, and George S. Hagstoz, Zeta.

With spring vacation and I.F.C. behind us, there is but one bright spot left on the social calendar. Everyone looks forward to the last weekend in April when Lehigh holds its Spring House-party. After that we all dust off our books and start to study for finals.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Spring brings with it three long-anticipated events for the Alpha-Tau Chapter.

The first is the Hawaiian Party which has become known as one of the big social events on the University of Michigan campus. Orchid corsages and orchid leis will be flown in from California for the 60 couples expected to pack into the house.

Mother's Day weekend is Mom's weekend with most of the brothers' mothers arriving on Saturday, May 12, for a big day at the house, a glee-club concert that night, and a big feast on Sunday. Moms will come from several states for the event.

Another big weekend is scheduled when Alpha-Tau holds the spring pledge formal for the 15 spring pledges. The pledge formal dinner will be held this year in Plymouth, Mich., with a dance afterward at the house.

Alpha-Tau is proud of the new pledges. The 15 new men have an average grade point of 3.1 on a four point scale and are all-around men.

In news pertaining to the National, Bunker Clark (A-T, '57), a graduate student in music at the University of Michigan is presently working on a new songbook for Chi Phi. The new songbook will bring together the best songs from all the Chi Phi Chapters.

Under the leadership of Bernie Ladden as Alpha and his executive committee composed of Beta-Bob Haines, Gamma-Bob Sotire, Delta-Ken Stockman, Epsilon-Mike Sledjeski and Zeta-Rick Semels, Zeta Delta has continued to uphold its outstanding position on the UConn campus.

In recent campus-wide elections for the Student Senate Kevin Dunne was elected president of the Associated Student Government and Bernie Ladden was elected to a seat in the Senate as a Senior Senator. Merritt Brown was elected editor-in-chief of Nutmeg, the school's yearbook, while Bob Butler was elected business manager. Bryce Roberts was selected co-captain of the varsity baseball squad. And Jeff Linfert, a newly initiated brother, procured a seat on the Student Union Board of Governors.

Spring Rush, headed by Jim Clabby, was completely successful for us, having taken a class of eleven fine men. Initiation for our Fall pledge class was also held recently. We proudly initiated fifteen new brothers.

All our twenty-odd seniors have been invited to the Alumni Association's Spring Dinnèr-Dance. This annual affair gives the seniors a chance to meet the members of the Association of which they will soon become a part.

Our Social season, even though limited by a shortened semester, has been very enjoyable. Winter Weekend, our annual "C" Party, Greek Week and numerous coffees with sororities are a few of the highlights. The brotherhood is now awaiting the climax of the spring semester — Spring Weekend — which should be the best ever.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Epsilon Delta started the year off in good style by pledging 36 men during formal rush fall term. Having filled the 68 man chapter house to capacity, we made available the house annex to any graduating senior desiring to live there.

Darvel Stutz, who was elected Alpha during 1961 spring elections, led the chapter during fall term. Other officers elected were William Peek, Beta; Frank Schmittroth, Gamma; Dexter Anderson, Delta; Walt Powell, Epsilon; Robert Wassman, Zeta; Leonard Schaber, House Manager; Michael Mulder, athletics chairman; and Dick Demers, social chairman. Appointive offices were filled by Jim Cathey, Scholastic chairman; and John Harris, Rush Chairman.

A fall term project was the homecoming sign. Last year we were judged first in the fraternity division and we hoped to repeat again this year. With the use of wood, some electrical equipment, a little elbow grease, and some very ingenious thinking, the sign depicted Benny Beaver hitting a forlorn Washington State University cougar on the head. The cougar was then sent spinning head over heels finally showing up as a cougar skin when he stopped spinning. Although we won no prize, the pledges obtained an evening workout pulling ropes which caused part of the animation.

The sporting situation winter term was very good. The chapter was represented in varsity sports by Craig Davies, football; Patrick Sherlock, basketball; Dennis Searcy, crew; and Niel Koozer, rifle team. The chapter entered strong intramural teams in basketball, bowling and all-college swimming.

The outlook for sports was looking brighter along with the weather spring term. The softball team returned home victorious from its last two outings. The chapter was also represented in intramural golf, badminton, horseshoes and skiing.

The most important event spring term was the house participation in the installation of the new Tau Delta chapter at the University of Oregon. The installation was held in the Eugene Hotel, Eugene, Oregon, a formal dinner and dance followed the installation. The Grand officers and many prominent school officials from the University of Oregon and Oregon State University attended the installation.

Topping off the social events spring term was the house dance. The house was decorated inside and out in the form of a houseboat. Those not getting dates for the dance were required to blacken their faces and act as waiters for the evening. This dance is expected to become a yearly tradition at the house.

Under the direction of Larry Lew, house manager, our basement has had a complete overhaul. Among the new additions to the basement have been a weight rack, a ski rack, vending machines, and a new washer and dryer combination. Three walls in the party room were covered with Japanese mahogany while caricatures of the members were hung on the fourth wall. To the party room has also been added a built-in stereo system and a bar.

Eta Delta Chapter extends its best wishes for success to the new chapter at the University of Oregon.

Eta Delta scored once again in University politics with the election of Robert Quinn as School of Business President and of Dock Hare as yell king. Brother Hare was elected by an unprecedented margin of over 1500 votes. In chapter balloting, we are proud to have elected former Associated Mens' Students president Gilbert Garcetti as Alpha. Brother Garcetti has been a great asset to the University and the chapter Brothers Nelson, Thomas, and Stephansen are looking forward to graduation from the School of Business while Gene Stubbe joins other Chi Phi brothers by sharing the questionable honor of being drafted.

Scholastically, the chapter is doing very well and the brothers would especially like to congratulate Brother Cain who has earned the Ralph's Grocery Company's full scholarship.

We would also like to extend our appreciation to our housemother, Miss Susan Branan, who has served the house in innumerable ways for over 28 years.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

The Theta Delta house has been a hub of activity ever since the brothers and pledges returned to school early during the semester break to get the house in shape for Spring Rush. Among the more important projects completed were the renovation of the upstairs hall and the over-all cleaning of the house.

The house did very well scholastically the first semester by placing sixth among 27 fraternities on campus. As a result, the size of the brotherhood, which is a critical area, was bolstered by the initiation of seven new men.

Chi Phi has been active in intermural athletics on campus throughout the year. Led by all-campus athletes Jack Thomas and Walt Forehand, Chi Phi marched to a Volleyball trophy this Spring.

The Theta Deltans also participated in Gator Gras. As a result of the hard work of Brothers Lee Bettis and Dick Prior, our booth placed second in both divisions of the judging.

Founders' Weekend was held at the house on March 23 and 24 this year, and in spite of rather poor attendance a great deal was accomplished. Through the efforts of Brothers Elmer Smith, President of the Florida Chi Phi Association; Bob Cody, Th. D'40; Dr. Howard V. Weems, Jr. G'44; and Ned Scott, Th.D'41, significant strides were made towards better Alumni Relations. The house wishes to extend its sincere gratitude for the efforts put forth by these men.

The annual Chi Phi Spring Weekend was held March 30 and 31. At a formal banquet and dance held at the University Inn, the officers for the coming term were installed by the outgoing Alpha Don Bode. The new officers are: Banks Prevatt, Alpha; Jack Thomas, Beta; Kahl McDevitt, Gamma; Doug Ambler, Delta; Tim Johnston, Epsilon; and Gary Simons, Zeta. The evening was highlighted by the presentation of the new Sweetheart, Miss Trudy Poppendieck, to the Chapter and guests. Trudy was presented with a silver vase and a large bouquet of red roses.

This year has thus far been a most successful one in the realm of amassing trophies at Iota Delta, for we have already acquired nine, and are by no means finished yet. The honors represented by these trophies range all the way from "Best Game of Chance" in the gigantic Fall Carnival, to the championship in spring interfraternity bowling. In the bowling championship game, it was Chi Phi against Chi Phi, with our two teams securing both first and second places.

While the chapter has been extremely active in campus endeavors, our grades have not suffered, for our first semester ranking among the fraternities was improved by six places over our performance for the second semester of last year. Special academic honors for James

Judd L. Hanna '59 to Mary Ann Hurlimann, Aug. 26, 1961.

S. Russ, Canton, Ohio, came early in December when he was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa. Shortly before this, Jim was named "Senior of the Month" by the Sphinx Club.

At Indiana, rush seems to be a year-round job, and the challenge which this presents has been well met by rush chairman Richard L. Gribble, Plainfield. Long before our outstanding second-semester pledge class had been completed, Dick had begun making preparations for spring rush of high school seniors. Dick prepared a most attractive and successful off-set rush brochure and, through effective planning and organization, the chapter reaped the benefits of three very profitable rush weekends for high school seniors.

Although at press time it is too early to give final results of the Little 500 bicycle race, known as the "World's Greatest Collegiate Weekend," we feel sure that the next issue will report another victory for Chi Phi. Our riders have been training for months, and they have been on a specially prepared diet. Their performance on the road and on the track indicates to us, and to all observers, that Chi Phi has what it takes.

March 25th marked the initiation of several new men into the Brotherhood. The new sons of blue and scarlet are already well-adjusted into the active body, showing the characteristic spirit and enthusiasm.

On the weekend of April 6, 7 and 8, Indiana University was the site of a national Greek Letter Conference. Chi Phi was represented at various workshops and meetings by Alpha Jack L. Hawkins '62; Grand Zeta David W. Fairfield S '28; Arthur G. Wupper S '27; Prof. Taulman A. Miller I '31; Chm., Dept. of Economics, Donald G. Coffey S '59, ID '59, President, Indiana Chi Phi Alumni Association, and Thomas A. Gehring A-X '60, ID '60, Secretary of the same body. Numerous fraternity and sorority dignitaries attended. The weekend was climaxed with a testimonial dinner in honor of Herman B. Wells, retiring President of the University and a member of Sigma Nu, in recognition of his long service and support to the fraternity system. Brother Wupper, the same weekend, presented his tentative plans for our new chapter house. He has spent much time in travel and research, in order to incorporate the very latest architectural ideas into the new house. Several days later, Brother Hawkins presented to the University two checks, totaling $11,500.00, in com-

Marshall M. Harris, Theta Delta '29, was elected President of the C. J. Harris Lumber Company, St. Louis, Mo., March 17, 1962. Brother Harris serves on the Board of the Third National Bank, Sedalia, Mo., and the St. Louis Fire and Marine Insurance Company. Marshall's two sons attended schools outside the circle of Chi Phi chapters, thus, along with their Uncle and Grandfather, the family claims affiliation with five fraternities.

William F. Morgan, Gamma '57, was recently elected a Baker Scholar at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. A Baker scholar represents the top 5th of the class.

RHO ALUMNI REORGANIZE Plan House Improvements

For many years Rho's alumni have been organized too loosely to achieve any real goals. The local alumni have always had to carry the brunt of the chapter's financial problems and maintain the chapter house. Alumni donations were rather sporadic, so the local alumni were perennially short of money.

In June of 1961 the alumni met at Vallamont and decided to organize themselves. They established the Rho Chapter Association, and proceeded to establish the necessary committees to run the organization. On November 9, 1961 the State of Pennsylvania granted the association a charter as a non-profit organization. Also in June the alumni decided to establish an annual alumni dues of $10 as a requisite of membership. Surprisingly enough, the returns for the first year were very encouraging.

Charles Siebert, '18 is President of the Association. The Directors are: Andrew J. Bisset, '15; Joseph S. Cornell, '36; W. Bruce Drinkhouse, '50; Max A. Grulich, '39; James E. Hartsel, '62; G. Harris Heck, '50; Richard E. Kuhn, '44; John D. Rumbough, '38; Robert T. Schaller, '40; J. Sheldon Schmolze, '33; and Harold J. Stable, '51.

The Association has decided to improve Rho's chapter house. There are several plans under consideration, ranging from complete renovation to the building of a new addition. In enlarging the house the alumni hope to be able to sleep at least ten more undergraduates. They also want to refurbish where it is needed and redecorate. The association has already installed a fire alarm system and has fireproofed the furnace room.

An architect has been engaged to formulate the needed plans and decide which will be best for the needs of the fraternity. A report is expected in the near future, and the alumni will continue their work on the suggestions of the architect.

LET'S TALK IT OVER...

alumni gatherings in New York City, Atlanta, Eugene, Oregon; and Los Angeles, and visited chapters at Corvallis and Eugene, Oregon; Kingston, Rhode Island and Athens, Georgia. The Grand Zeta, Dave Fairfield, represented Chi Phi at Indiana University on May 7 on the occasion of an interfraternity celebration for President Herman Wells. He, along with the Grand Beta, Robert Lesch, the Grand Eta, Bates Block, and the Grand Epsilon, Bert Meek, attended the February meeting of the Chi Phi Club of New York, and the next day installed Rho Iota Kappa at the University of Rhode Island. Dave also visited Pi and Sigma chapters and attended the last Chi Phi Club of Chicago dinner.

Two Council members, Bill Jeckell and Morey Thomas, Grand Delta and Grand Gamma, attended the installation of Tau Delta at the University of Oregon on April 7, and visited Epsilon Delta the day following. Bill spent a day with Lambda, University of California, and along with the National Director also attended a luncheon meeting of the Chi Phi Club of Northern California. Bill has made numerous visits to Iota at Ohio State, and is now working closely with the 1962 Congress Committee to make the Cincinnati affairs a success.

Brother Thomas attended a meeting of Riverside, California alumni, and along with the Grand Alpha, represented the Council at Eta Delta Founders' Day celebration in Los Angeles.

At the point of overdoing, it might be mentioned that since February, I have met with alumni groups in New York City; Detroit and Saginaw, Michigan; Toledo, Ohio; Riverside and San Francisco, California; Eugene, Oregon; Denver, Colorado; Omaha, Nebraska; and Atlanta.

EXPANSION DEVELOPMENT

Everywhere there is a tremendous interest in the condition of the chapters and a real eagerness to assist, particularly with regard to expansion. I recently discussed the possibility of re-establishing our University of Nebraska chapter with various members of the University administration and officers of the IFC. The same evening, the pros and cons of the situation were aired at a dinner meeting of Omaha Chi Phis. Several days earlier I called at the Dean of Men's office at Colorado State University, a follow-up based upon a recommendation made by an inspection committee set up by the Chi Phi Club of Colorado. A similar investigation of the fraternity system at the University of California-Davis, has been made and reported to Northern California Chi Phis.

At Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts, a club has been established which eventually hopes to petition Chi Phi for colony status. Gordon MacKay, Iota '59, has been working with the group and the Beta Chapter has taken an active interest in the project. (See their chapter newsletter).

CARL J. GLADFELTER,
National Director.

Books and Authors

A Surgeon Thinks It Over by LEON HERMAN, M.D., Sc.D., Zeta '06, University of Pennsylvania Press, publishers, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Brother Herman was born on a farm in Lancaster, Pennsylvania and took a premedical course at Franklin and Marshall College, from which he graduated in 1916, fourteen years after enrolling. When he finally received his B.S. degree, he had completed his medical studies at the University of Pennsylvania, his internship at what was known in 1909 as the German Hospital and has since been renamed Lankenau Hospital, and his first steps toward the achievement of "an honorable, if not exalted, estate in the ultraconservative atmosphere of Philadelphia surgery." How he came to get his college degree at this late date is only one of the many delightful anecdotes recalled from his life and times.

During the course of his career as one of Philadelphia's leading surgeons, Dr. Herman became established as a specialist in the field of urology, where he contributed much as Professor of Urology at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School, as a member of the staff of both the Pennsylvania Hospital and the Bryn Mawr Hospital, and as the author of many articles and several books on the subject of urology.

Now retired, Dr. Herman has put down his recollections of a half century of medical practice. In so doing, he has made a valuable contribution to the history of the development of surgical and, especially, urological practice during that period. But most of all, he has shared with his readers the vivid and entertaining memory of many acquaintances and personal experiences, bringing to each of them a measure of his own warmth, dignity and sense of humor.

"Frankly autobiographical" is how Dr. Leon Herman describes his book, and it is the good fortune of the reader that it is. For Dr. Herman has lived a productive and colorful life, and he has recalled it with wit, brevity, and taste.
